Iraqi Rebellion War of Words

Varied Claims Fill Air

Rebel Chieftain Reported Taken

Who Is This Man Abdel Shawaf? Page 7A

BEIRUT, Lebanon —(UPI) — Anti-Communist army rebels and the Leftist Iraqi government both claimed military successes Monday in a spreading civil war.

The government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in Baghdad sent warplanes to bomb the stronghold of Rebel Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf in the northern city of Mosul. But it backed down on repeated claims that Shawaf had been killed and announced without any confirmation, that the 35-year-old rebel leader had been arrested.

The rebel radio continued to broadcast appeals for support and threats to march on Baghdad. It said the rebels had "wiped out" a government ground force sent to smash it.

Shawaf identified himself on the radio as the leader of the rebel forces, denied the claim he was killed, and denounced Kassem as a "Red leader" filling his people with "lies."

Even Moscow picked up the claim that Shawaf had been killed and reported it in Arabic-language broadcasts.

But Baghdad radio Monday night abruptly switched a broadcast a "cable from a number of Mosul personalities" saying pro-government forces had arrested Shawaf. It said "the masses" had the situation under control.

The reversal by Baghdad cast enormous doubts on the government claim that the two-day-old revolt had been smashed. But the only main sources of information were the rival radios.

There were no casualty announcements, although it appeared that the city of Mosul was strafed as well as bombed by government fighter-bombers.

The rebels said they were consolidating their grip on the oil-rich north.

Demonstrations for and against Kassem occurred in the capital of Baghdad where all Westerners, including numerous Americans, were warned to stay off the streets. Diplomatic dispatches said troops ringed the city and took over police functions.

There was danger of fresh East-West involvement in the turbulent Middle East. Moscow Radio charged that the U. S. may have stirred up the revolt by Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, a tough Kurdish tribesman, to bolster the pro-Western nations bordering Iraq. In London there, were fears of Soviet intervention in the country where the Communists gained a strong voice under Kassem. Britain was ready to evacuate its nationals if necessary.

'Killer-for-Hire' Nails Plotting Wife

Detective Metcalf

. . . he played killer

Detective Jack Metcalf, who played the professional killer, arrested Mrs. Beatrice Gurley of 3702 NW 23rd Ave., after she handed him $100 as a down payment on the murder of her third husband, Hugh Ernest Gurley, 45.

The installment-plan murder drama was played out in the self-styled preacher's car while a hidden tape recorder and movie camera recorded the entire bizarre affair.

Later, Metcalf and his unseen partner, Detective Morris Rowe, arrested handsome, blue-eyed John A. Walker, 25, the self-styled minister who had literally taken over the operation of the Gurleys' home during the past three years.

Although Walker denied any connection with the murder plot, both he and Mrs. Gurley were booked and jailed for investigation of conspiracy to commit first-degree murder.

Police said Mrs. Gurley broke down after ten minutes of questioning and admitted she had also approached two other men with her murder-for-pay offer.

The two men, a Miami cab driver and a 19-year-old youth, had both informed police of the plot and a meeting between Metcalf and Mrs. Gurley was arranged.

Ironically, both the frightened informants are now in jail on minor charges that arose after they revealed the plot.

Metcalf, posing as a convict from Raiford Prison, met with Mrs. Gurley three times Monday before she gave him the $100. She had borrowed the money only minutes before from a loan company — on her husband's account.

Ike Visits Dulles Again

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower paid a 35-minute call on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in Walter Reed Army Medical Center Monday.

The president's visit followed Dulles' 25-minute discussion of "international developments" by telephone with his assistant in the department Joseph N. Greene Jr.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the 71-year-old secretary's doctors reported "nothing new" on his case of abdominal cancer except that Dulles' progress continued to be satisfactory.

White said it no longer was necessary for visitors to avoid coming too close to Dulles because of radiation effects from a radioactive gold treatment he received a week ago.

'Join Us In Berlin' —Nikita

Bid Receives Mixed Reaction

By Herald Wire Services

BERLIN — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev came up with a new plan Monday to make West Berlin a "free city" and insure its status by installing U.S., British, French and Russian troops there.

Others viewed it more cautiously since it would give Russian troops a toehold in West Berlin, now controlled by the West.

Khrushchev said the Big Four's troops should be kept to a "minimum" and should not interfere in any way with the internal affairs of the city.

But high American officials in Washington made it clear they were not interested in Khrushchev's offer.

They said the Western allies flatly rejected the "free city" demand advanced by Khrushchev last November, and that they have absolutely no intention of changing their stand.

These officials said the U.S. and its allies will continue to insist that the Berlin issue can be settled only as a part of the broader problem of German reunification.

The Allies insist that the four major powers which conquered Nazi Germany have obligations with respect to Berlin wich cannot be canceled by the action of any one of them.

There has been no formal comment by the Foreign Office. This probably will be forthcoming today.

However, the feeling in London is that the Soviet premier is trying, however awkwardly, to take the explosive quality out of the Berlin situation.

It was the first time that Khrushchev had indicated he would be willing for the West to keep troops here to guarantee West Berlin's status as a free city. Earlier, he had insisted that Western allied garrisons must leave Berlin after conclusion of a German peace treaty.

The Kremlin's original proposal would create a completely demilitarized free city, leaving West Berlin defenseless before the 400,000-man Russian garrison in East Germany.

Hoarsely shouting "peace and friendship" in Russian and German, Khrushchev made his new proposals for West Berlin in a 35-minute speech before a cheering mass rally in East Berlin.

The visiting Soviet leader also declared that West Berlin would be guaranteed complete independence if the West accepted the free city proposal. He said also that the East German Communists, who would take over control of lifelines to the isolated city, had agreed to guarantee its connections "with the outside world."

"There would be no objection," Khrushchev declared, "if the U.S., Britain, France, the Soviet Union or neutral states station a minimum of troops in West Berlin to guarantee the maintenance of its status as a free city.

"However," he said, "they should not interfere in any way in its internal affairs."

Johnson Orders Hearings

Military Gripes Spur Action

Johnson announced his Senate preparedness subcommittee would open hearings Wednesday to "get the truth" and determine whether the President's 41 billion dollar military budget was adequate in view of the Berlin impasse and other foreign policy rows.

The subcommittee's investiagtion grew out of reservations expressed to the group by military chiefs of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines. Some were concerned over funds allotted to their forces by the President's fiscal 1959 budget.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, Marine Corps commandant, protested their forces were being cut too deeply. Taylor said he would not have enough men to carry out the Army's assigned missions.

The President has maintained his budget would provide adequate military forces. Republican senators, replying to Democratic critics, cited the President's position and said the Democratic attacks bordered on the political.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee countered that Congress had constitutional responsibility for dealing with military matters and "raising armies."

In an apparent reference to the President, Russell also said he had as much faith in the military judgment of Gens. Taylor and Pate as in "that of any other military man."

The President told a recent news conference that, with all due modesty, he felt his long military experience qualified him better than any single military chief to determine the adequacy of the nation's defenses.

The shadow of the deadlocked Berlin crisis with Russia hung over the sometimes spirited Senate debate. Russell said he was more concerned about the possibility of a limited ground clash in Berlin than the threat of all-out atomic war. Ground fighting would call for Army or Marine troops, the forces cut in the new budget.

Sen. John C. Stennis (D., Miss.) told the Senate that failure to reverse budget cuts trimming the Army and Marines would be a "tragic error" in view of the Berlin situation.

'It Takes Experience'

HST Backs Out At Playing Editor

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. — (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman has declined an offer from The Middletown Record here to be editor of the paper "for a brief period."

The offer was made by David Bernstein, editor and publisher of The Record, after the former president's remarks about "free press" last week. He had been a speaker at the Press Congress of the World at the University of Missouri.

Truman said he had never seen a "free press" and wanted "to be telegraph editor or one of those blue pencil men. Then I could get what I wanted in the paper."

TRUMAN

In declining the offer, Truman said he did not believe himself "qualified to edit a newspaper. It takes experience," he continued, "to do anything really well. Unfortunately, many newspaper editors never worry about experience and believe themselves capable of running the government and any other business as well as their own."

In an editorial to be published today, The Record said it was sorry the former president declined the offer because "it repudiates his statements."

"We are sorry for another reason, too. Our readers — had he accepted the temporary editorship of The Record—would no doubt have been treated to a 'give-em-hell' kind of newspaper they would not soon have forgotten."

Despite Herds

Beef Prices To Stay Up

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Agriculture Department indicated Monday that there will be little, if any, decline in retail beef prices in the next year or two.

The department said that the record number of cattle on farms on Jan. 1 is not likely to bring any great changes in cattle prices. This likewise means no significant changes at the butcher counter.

Cattle marketings are not likely to rise because farmers still are building up their herds which were depleted during the drought years, the department said in its publication, "The Livestock and Meat Situation."

Rocket Plane Test Today

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — (AP) — The X15 rocket plane designed to take man to the fringe of space, is scheduled to go aloft for the first time today, locked under the wing of an eight-jet B52 bomber.

It will not be cut loose, although this may happen before the week ends.

Today's "captive flight," if it comes off, will test the air stability of the needle-nosed 50-foot-long craft and the strength of the yoke-like pylon which holds the X15 under the bomber's wing.

Gen. Taylor Due To Quit June 30

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor plans to retire June 30 unless the administration has additional active duty in mind for the Army chief of staff.

Within a few weeks this summer two members of the joint chiefs of staff will complete their second two-year terms as military heads of their respective services. Taylor's term expires June 30. Adm. Arleigh Burke will complete his fourth year as chief of naval operations on Aug. 17. Taylor and Burke both are 57 years old.

Old Abe Unveiled In Nightie

Cooper, chairman of the Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission, was enthusiastic.

"The painting," he said, "has captured the simple dignity, the solemn earnestness and determination of President Lincoln just before the battle of Antietam."

"What's the night-shirt bit?" inquired one tourist. "They're not trying to make out Lincoln was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, are they?"

An official hastily explained that artist Schlaikjer was only trying to be historically accurate — that, in addition to the nightshirt and brocaded slippers, the pictures includes the stovepipe hat in which Lincoln used to stash notes.

Johnson Defended As Proxmire Attacks

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire (D., Wis.) fired another critical round at Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas Monday and promptly bumped into a strong defense of Johnson's leadership and policies.

Proxmire accused Johnson of making party policy in the Senate chamber "entirely on an ad lib, off-the-cuff basis." He also charged that Johnson — not the Democratic Policy Committee — actually set party guidelines.

As Johnson looked on from his seat, Monroney told Proxmire he had never seen a time when party policy "was so easily identified, so well known to the public, so clearly expressed" as under the present Democratic leader.

Seeks Support on His Cold War Strategy

Macmillan to Confer With De Gaulle

PARIS — (AP) — Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan — fresh from a trip to Moscow — Monday began a tour of major western capitals to win backing for his views on cold war strategy.

Macmillan's primary target was French President Charles de Gaulle. Macmillan began with a long exploratory talk — apparently not without disagreements — with Premier Michel Debre.

Macmillan will meet with De Gaulle today along the diplomatic road that will carry him later to Bonn, Ottawa an Washington. He talked in Moscow last week with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

In Macmillan's brief case was a proposal — apparently only vaguely formulated thus far — for a thinning out of military forces in Germany and her iron curtain neighbors.

A British spokesman, talking to newsmen after Macmillan met Debre, was asked if the subject came up under the topic "disengagement."

"The British are definitely not in favor of disengagement as that term is used in some quarters to mean a complete withdrawal of forces," he said.

The French spokesman said: "This aspect of the problem did not come up today. However, the British are as much opposed to the ideas of disengagement recently raised in the press as are the other allies."

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano said in a speech at Bonn his government rejects any plans for a military disengagement that do not provide for a solution of political problems, such as German unification.

Macmillan himself, speaking at the airport after his arrival, referred to his Moscow trip as a "voyage of discovery" and said he was convinced the Russians "are ready to discuss and negotiate" the German crisis.

"In view of this, it is all the more necessary for the West to take council together," he added. "I hope that our visit to Paris will help to confirm our common policy and purpose."

Strike-Curbing Law Proposed by Mundt

He Assails Kennedy's Labor Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Workers or their union leaders could not rush into a strike under a law proposed Monday by Sen. Karl Mundt (R., S.D.).

Mundt, a member of the Senate Rackets Committee which has looked into various labor-management troubles, proposed that:

Any strike vote would have to be conducted by mail by a committee which would include a representative of the employer.

A strike, even if approved, could not begin for 20 days after approval, to permit additional bargaining.

What if unions didn't want to take these time-consuming steps? Mundt's bill says unions which refused to go along would lose their rights to take complaints to the National Labor Relations Board, and would lose their exemption from federal income tax.

Mundt proposed his strike-delaying plan to a Senate labor subcommittee as part of the moves he wants taken to close what he called gaping holes in the labor control bill presented by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) and Sam Ervin Jr. (D., N.C.).

The Kennedy-Ervin bill, in Mundt's opinion, would permit many abuses "by conniving and corrupt union officials."

Another important part of the legislation proposed by Mundt would tighten up procedures for election of union officers.

N.Y. Faces New Snow Off Lakes

United Press International

Winter flexed its muscles again Monday with snow squalls swirling across the already overburdened Great Lakes region and a warning of heavy snow in upper New York state.

South of the snow, rain fell during the night from Mississippi north to Illinois, the Ohio Valley and the lower Great Lakes.

The storm last Thursday and Friday dumped up to 20 inches of snow across north-east Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan's upper peninsula. At least 46 deaths were blamed on the storm.

Many secondary roads in the storm area remained blocked by giant drifts, but most main arteries were open at least to one-way traffic.

At Cascade, Wis., a snow-laden tavern roof collapsed after 200 persons attending a 50th wedding anniversary celebration filed out the building unhurt. Witnesses said a rumbling overheard gave warning to evacuate the Sheboygan County building.

The heaviest snow Monday occurred in upper New York near Lake Ontario, where both Buffalo and Rochester reported two inches of new snow.

Herald Column Tells Why

There's a Right Time In Love or Business

Not only the moon but the stars too, have a relation to man's love life, according to astrologists.

There is a right time to love, they believe, just as there is a right time to go into a business deal or make other important decisions.

Astrology is a controversial subject, but its converts couldn't start a day without checking the stars.

Now Cullen Moore, a young woman as educated as she is pretty, has a new message from the stars to be brought to Herald readers every Sunday, starting March 15.

Her advice column—which will tell you the right time for you to make love or close a business deal—combines modern psychology with ancient Zodiac lore.

For the past 10 years Mrs. Moore has been studying the relationship between the stars and romance. Her research has taken her to many foreign lands, where she acquired much of the information she will pass on to Herald readers.

Her column, Stars and Lovers, will include a Mating Tip of the Week. Also, there will be a zodiac guide for the entire week.

Mrs. Moore feels strongly that astrology should never conflict with religion.

It is in the field of human relations that she believes astrology can help us all.

Louisiana Refineries Target

Oil Union Brass Set To Blunt Hoffa Pitch

BATON ROUGE, LA. —(AP)— Leaders of an independent oil union Monday set up a meeting of 4,000 refinery workers to hear Teamsters President James Hoffa invite them to join him.

While the Hoffa personal appearance was being booked for Thursday, Louisiana's AFL-CIO chief appealed to the workers to stay away from Hoffa.

"Our weapons of battle" against the Hoffa invasion, said Victor Bussie, president of the Louisiana State Labor Council AFL-CIO, "will be public opinion, prayer and an appeal to members of the Independent Industrial Workers Association (IIWA) to remember their responsibility to this community of which they are a part."

President Marvin Holley Jr. of the IIWA, without a contract at the big Esso Standard Oil refinery here since last summer, said Hoffa will speak at the Thursday meeting.

Esso General Manager H. J. Vookries already has indicated he doubted the IIWA members wanted Hoffa as their bargaining agent.

Bussie said: "Thank God that George Meany and other national leaders have spoken out against Hoffa and are doing everything possible to prevent him from making any further inroads in labor."

Hoffa, in Detroit during the weekend, scoffed at Bussie's warnings, and said if Esso wanted to join the Teamsters, "we'll take them in."

Unchanged Draft Law Approved

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee Monday approved a four-year extension of the military draft without change.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.) said that because of the current Berlin crisis the committee decided to defer action on proposed amendments designed to correct what he has termed injustices and inequalities in the military reserve program.

"There is an inequality," he said, "but a time of crisis is not a very good time to deal with this."

Russell said some committee members reserved the right to offer amendments when the measure is called up for Senate consideration, perhaps Wednesday.

"I hope they will decide not to," he added.

He said the vote to approve the House-passed draft extension bill was unanimous, by a count of hands, with only one amendment.

He said this amendment would extend extra incentive pay allowances of $100 to $250 a month for doctors and dentists and $100 a month for veterinarians who enter the armed forces after July 1. Without the amendment the incentives would expire this year.

Vanguard II Spoke With Shaky Voice

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Vanguard II wobbled so much in its whirl around the earth that it is difficult to interpret what it said.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Monday the job of interpreting the decoded signals from the satellite "has become something of a detective story."

As a result, it will take weeks or perhaps months to interpret the picture of the earth's cloud covering — a main objective of the experiment.

The satellite was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Feb. 17. It broadcast information on the earth's cloud cover until 9:37 p.m. last Saturday, when its batteries died.

NASA said the transmitter batteries operated about four days longer than their expected life of two weeks.

The 30-inch satellite was expected to remain in orbit for at least 10 years.

Nuclear Space Craft Spurred

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — A Republican congressman urged the government Monday to draft Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, father of the atomic submarine, to rush development of a nuclear-powered space craft.

The lawmaker, Rep. James G. Fulton (R., Pa.) told the House Space Committee that a practical nuclear-powered rocket would put the U.S. "a million miles ahead of the Russians."

A number of top scientists have said an atomic rocket is the key to interplanetary travel. Fulton, a top member of the space committee, said work should start at once under Rickover.

Beach Man Says Cuba Held Him

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

Charges that he was taken off a Miami-bound plane and detained six hours by Cuba's secret police were phoned to Congressman Dante Fascell Rep. Dante Fascell Monday by an irate local businessman.

"The Havana business men who are telling Americans it is now safe to come down there again better get together with their secret police," he said.

Kalmanson said he does a car and road building machine exporting business with many Latin American countries. Not having done any business with Cuba, he said he decided to go down over the week-end "to see how it looked under the new regime."

He said he took a Spanish-speaking male friend with him as an interpreter. He refused to identify the friend "because he goes to Cuba frequently and they might make trouble for him." They stayed at the Hotel Capri.

"I was on the Pan American plane that was to leave at 10 a.m. Just as they were about to pull the ramp away a policeman who later identified himself as Carlos Rebolla came aboard and called my name.

"When I answered he said I was wanted at DRI (secret police) headquarters. I asked him why, and he only said his orders were to bring me there. They took me there, with my baggage. It was a place in the country club section that had once been a fine home, part of which has now been converted into cell blocks.

"This captain had my baggage searched, and counted the money in my wallet. He said I was suspected of illegally trading in Cuban currency.

"I had no Cuban money at all, but he kept questioning me.

"I was not released until 4 p.m. I was aboard the 5:15 p.m. Pan American plane. Just as the door was about to close the same guard, Rebolla, came aboard again calling my name. I shook in my boots, but it seems he was just checking to make sure I was aboard.

This time he said, "No more trouble. Goodby."

Miami Lensman Still in Custody

Cuban police released two Miamians Monday — and held a third for investigation of "double-crossing the revolution."

They released Richard Jaffe, 2030 NW 175th St., and Robert John Daut, of 1570 NW 120th St., and said both had returned to the U.S.

Moreno told United Press International they were arrested when he landed in Cuba en route to Belize, British Honduras, to sell a four-seater aircraft.

He said questioning indicated they thought he was trying to smuggle out some ex-Batista men.

He labled the Cuban charges "ridiculous." Memphis police said he was fined last June on charges of owning several machineguns, and his family said he was an outspoken Castro supporter.

She Did

Mommy Told Her: 'Hang On!'

LEGRAND, Iowa — (AP) — "Mommy kept telling me to hang on," said the 12-year-old farm girl. "I did."

"I knew somebody would help me out if I just hung on long enough."

That childhood trust in a mother's words and a rusted pipe, which her small fingers grimly clutched for 30 minutes, were what stood between Barbara Lawson and possible death at the bottom of a water-filled well Monday.

"My hands were cold and my arms ached. I heard Mommy yelling at me to hang on—help was coming soon."

Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Lawson, broke through the board covering of an unused well on her parents' farm near here. She and her four brothers were waiting for a school bus outside their home at the time.

"After I fell," Barbara said, "I was completely under water. Then I came to the surface and grabbed at anything. My hand hit the pipe and I hung on."

The 30-foot-deep well had about nine feet of water.

Barbara's feet dangled in the water while Legrand volunteer firemen lowered Fuhrman Parks into the well. Parks tied a rope around the girl and other firemen pulled her to safety. She suffered only a scratched leg and slight exposure from the 35-degree temperature outside.

Mrs. Lawson said Barbara had started to return to the house when she stepped on the well cover to avoid a mud puddle. The two-year-old cover gave way.

Duncan Case Defense Rests

VENTURA — (AP) — Frank Duncan Monday supported his mother's story that she was being blackmailed by two men who say she hired them to kill her daughter-in-law.

The young attorney's testimony completed the defense case for Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, charged with arranging the murder of Frank's 30-year-old pregnant bride, Olga.

The prosecution says she did it because she was so intensely jealous she couldn't stand seeing her son living with another woman.

Frank finished his testimony as the trial went into its fourth week.

"Four or five months ago I could have believed it, but she — she's been so good to me lately," he said.

Gurley said he and his wife, who has three grown children from previous marriages, quarreled last October "when I caught her in Walker's bedroom one morning — with her arms around him."

Walker confronted with Gurley's accusation, smiled wanly and said, "It's true, good buddy, there's no denying that."

"Wherever he went, she went," Gurley told detectives in a matter-of-fact tone that showed no trace of bitterness.

Mrs. Gurley met Walker three years ago at a tent rally held by Evangelist Jack Coe.

Three months later, Walker, who had been driving a truck while trying to found his own church, moved in with the Gurleys.

As the only one of the three who can read and write, he soon took over all their affairs — handling their money and paying the bills.

"I'd just take my pay envelope home to John and he'd take care of everything," said Gurley. "Where'd I get my spending money? Well, he'd let me keep my overtime pay."

Although Mrs. Gurley claimed she wanted her husband murdered because "he wouldn't let me go to church with John," Gurley said his wife and Walker went to church and prayer meeting "about three or four times a week."

Mrs. Gurley and Walker said they are members of the Pentacostal Holiness Assembly.

But Walker's own "church meetings" were conducted in various Hialeah homes in the name of "The Assemblies of the Lord Jesus Christ."

Walker, who addresses everyone as "good buddy" said Mrs. Gurley had asked him for $100 Monday but had not said what the money was to be used for.

"I told her we didn't have it because we (the Gurleys and Walker) are already in debt," Walker told police. They are paying $108 monthly on a 36-month installment plan for a flashy 1959 Buick "owned" by Walker but registered to Gurley.

"The new car is Walker's — I drive the old one," Gurley said

It was in Walker's car, festooned with religious mottoes, that Mrs. Gurley made her final plotters' rendezvous at 3 p.m. on the corner of NW 36th Ave. and 22nd St.

These 2 Detectives Are Quite a Team . . .

Jack Metcalf and Morris Rowe, the two Miami detectives who played the biggest part in cracking a bizzare murder-for-hire case Monday, have been working partners for 13 years.

In fact, they joined the Miami police force on the same day — July 1, 1946—after returning from World War II service in the South Pacific.

ROWE

And both of them worked before on a case with a murder-for-hire angle. In July of 1957, they arrested Alfred Corradi on an assault charge shortly after Corradi informed police that two men had hired him to kill a Washington contractor.

They also worked together on several big burglary cases. Last year they broke a TV-and-furniture theft ring in which $22,000 in merchandise was recovered.

But it was Metcalf alone who looked down the barrel of a desperado's pistol seven years ago and heard him say, "Copper, I've got nothing to lose, I might as well kill you now."

It happened on Dec. 30, 1951 when Metcalf was disarmed and bound by Donald Walker, a fugitive from the FBI. Metcalf had traced Walker and a woman companion to a downtown hotel.

Metcalf escaped by using the same weapon with which he trapped Mrs. Beatrice Gurley in her murder-for-hire plot Monday. The weapon? Talk.

Metcalf told Walker that his partner was waiting downstairs and would hear the shot. Actually, it was his partner's day off and Metcalf was working alone.

Two weeks later, Walker shot and critically wounded himself in Auburn, N.Y., to climax a gun battle with more than 100 policemen.

National Summary

An area of high pressure pushing across the lower Mississippi Valley was associated with a broad pattern of fair skies across the south at mid-day. Low pressure over the Ohio Valley supported precipitation across much of the northeast. Temperatures in the 70s warmed Southern Texas and most of Florida and a flow of southwesterly breezes carried readings in the 50s to the mid-Atlantic coast. Patches of rain were scattered near a cold front from Georgia northward across the Ohio Valley with a combination of rain or snow over Pennsylvania. Rain dampened southern New England. Snow prevailed across the colder pattern over the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley eastward across upper New England.

Sunny skies from the central plains across the southwest found temperatures pushing into the mid 50s in Kansas and reaching the 70s in Southern California before noon. Behind a cold front stretching from the Dakotas into central Kansas however, colder northwesterly winds held temperatures below the freezing mark from Wyoming into portions of the northern plains.

Did Killer Make Mistake?

'Good Guy' Is Gunned Down in His Tampa Yard

Bennie Lazzara

TAMPA — (AP) — A wealthy 51-year-old wholesale grocer, described as "a good guy who would help anyone," died Monday in a gangland type shotgun murder in the yard of his home.

Investigators said they found no motive for the slaying of Bennie Lazzara or leads to the killer.

The triggerman fired on Lazzara with a 12-gauge shotgun when the businessman and his wife stepped from their car in the driveway of their home shortly after midnight.

Officers said they found no connection between Lazzara and racketeer elements in Tampa. They said Lazzara was not related and apparently had no dealings with two other men named Lazzara who have police records.

Lazzara's murder resembled in many respects several of the 19 unsolved gangland slayings in Tampa since 1931.

The latest unsolved killing at Tampa which is attributed to the underworld came on a dark street the morning of July 3, 1958. Joe (Pelusa) Diaz, convicted three days earlier in a Polk County numbers racket case, died of three blasts from a shotgun.

T. J. Valenti, Lazzara's partner in a wholesale produce firm, said the victim never had any dealings with undercover activity in his life.

Valenti advanced the theory that the killer got the wrong man. "That's the only solution I can see," he said.

State Attorney James M. McEwen said the killer apparently waited in ambush behind a hedge bordering an alley alongside Lazzara's two-story home. He said the shot, fired from a distance of about 50 feet, sent buckshot into Lazzara's brain and heart.

Mrs. Lazzara, sister of Circuit Judge I. C. Spoto of Tampa, escaped injury. She told officers the shot came as she closed the door on the right hand side of the car.

"I went around the car and found my husband crawling on the ground," she said.

In Washington, U. S. Rep. William C. Cramer of St. Petersburg said he had alerted the Justice Department to the murder. Cramer said he asked the federal agency to reconsider its previous position of refusing to help Hillsborough County law enforcement agencies in solving such crimes.

Cramer said in a television interview at St. Petersburg that the shooting had "all the earmarks of a typical brutal gangland murder."

"Regardless of the motive behind this brutal killing," Cramer said, "I trust that the Tampa Tribune and Tampa Times will now stop their drumbeat of opposition to my efforts to make available federal help if needed in this instance or in the future.

"If the murder remains unsolved, certainly FBI help would be invaluable, particularly if the killer were shipped in and out hurriedly in interstate commerce."

The state attorney said, "we have no theory for the murder. We are continuing to question those who worked for Lazzara."

Gloomy-Faced Gromyko Gets No Bouquets from His Boss

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

LONDON — Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet foreign minister, is having a tough time of it.

GROMYKO

Nikita S. Khrushchev has developed a habit of belittling the gloomy faced diplomat in the presence of foreigners.

During the recent 10-day visit of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to the Soviet Union, the Soviet strongman ridiculed the idea of having an East-West foreign ministers' conference.

He said the foreign ministers didn't have the capacity or the authority to decide anything. Gromyko was present when he made the remark.

But the prize insult was reserved for another occasion on which several foreign diplomats and Gromyko were present.

"When I tell Gromyko to take off his pants and sit on a cake of ice he does it," Khrushchev wisecracked to the visitors. "And he keeps on sitting there until I tell him to get up."

"Don't mind Molotov," he once told a visitor who obviously resented Molotov's hostile attitude. "He is just made that way."

Actor Downs Beer And Stuns Aussies

ERNIE BORGNINE has returned from an Australian movie-making venture after having impressed the folks "down under" with his beer drinking.

"We were on the set one day and the script called for me to drink this big glass of beer, about a pint's worth," Borgnine explained.

"Well, before I started watching my weight, I used to drink beer so I just picked up this big glass and finished it without putting it down.

No. 2 Burns No. 1s House

BOSTON, Mass. —(P)— Joseph J. Shimbrus, 45, was charged with suspicion of arson after Police Sgt. Stanley Gore quoted him as saying "I got sick and tired of hearing my wife talk about her first husband and decided to set his house on fire."

EVERY DAY, Mrs. Sherife Chelik carries her crippled daughter to school in Istanbul, Turkey. The youngster, 11-year-old Murruvet, lost her right leg in a railroad accident last August. Since then, Mrs. Chelik has walked the mile and a half from their home to school with her daughter in her arms. She stays at school until classes are over, then carries Murruvet back home.

Ailing Boy Found To Have 4 Kidneys

A CHRONICALLY ill six-month-old boy, admitted recently to Pottstown, Pa., Hospital, has been found to have four kidneys.

Dr. Aureliano Rivas, hospital urologist, said Monday the baby's two kidneys on the left side function independently and those on the right side function as one.

Dr. Rivas said the child, J. Thomas Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Koch of Pottstown, will be readmitted to the hospital to undergo a series of examinations which will determine whether surgical removal of the extra organs is necessary and practical.

Stewardess Keeps Vow to Fly Again

Joan Zeller, 21, American Airlines stewardess who vowed, while recovering from plane crash injuries, that she would fly again, made good on her word Monday.

Miss Zeller's Chicago-to-New York flight, carrying 73 persons crashed into the East River on Feb. 4, killing 65. Discharged from Flushing Hospital where she has been under treatment, she flew from New York to Providence in company with her mother.

Joan said she talked shop with the two stewardesses on her flight.

Help Us to Live Daily by Faith

By JIM BISHOP

Go With God

Henry J. Kaiser was born at Sprout Brook, N.Y., in 1882. He obtained a practical education in work, and engaged in construction of highways, pipe lines, dams and increasingly large projects until, in 1931, he became chairman of the Six Companies, Inc. That was the group organized to build the Hoover Dam in Nevada, one of the greatest engineering feats in the world, which impounds waters of the upper Colorado for power and irrigation. Mr. Kaiser subsequently became the directing head of a group of industries which during World War II built everything from ships to "Jeeps." He also is widely known for his participation in civic and philanthropic projects, including his establishment with his wife of the Kaiser Foundation.

O God, help us find the spark of soul
Thou hast dropped in every human being.
Help us live each day by faith—
Faith in our fellow men and our highest aspirations,
Faith that brings us fellowship with Thee
And gives us eyes to see
God in everything. Amen.

Manage Nixon? News to Hall

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Former Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said a report that he would manage vice president Richard M. Nixon's campaign for the GOP presidential nomination "is all news to me."

"It's the first I ever heard of it," Hall said when reached by telephone at his Oyster Bay, N.Y., home.

Nixon's only potential opponent for the nomination now appears to be Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, who defeated Hall last year for the nomination for governor of New York.

How can I meet my daily needs?

THE TRUTH IN THIS GREAT BOOK CAN SUPPLY THEM

You need not experience lack and limitation in your daily life, if you will but turn to the truth contained in this great book, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, and read it with an unprejudiced, receptive thought.

Science and Health explains that God is Love, a tender, loving Father who imparts to His children the ideas which bring them daily supplies. It also teaches that this all-loving God does not give to one and withhold from another, but impartially bestows blessings upon all alike. Holding to these truths has brought abundance and plenty to many students of Christian Science who have proved the truth contained in their textbook, Science and Health.

Find this out for yourself! Read, buy,* or borrow this book at the Christian Science Reading Room nearest you. There you can read it, together with the King James Version of the Bible, in an atmosphere of quiet and rest. You can also borrow Science and Health without charge to take home and read at leisure.

COME . . . YOUR NEEDS CAN BE MET!

*Science and Health can be purchased in red, green, or blue binding at $3 and will be sent postpaid by the Reading Room on receipt of check or money order.

Iraq, In Revolt, Touches Home

So, Here We Go Again?

OUT ON the modern edge of nowhere, in the Texas-tiny oil country of Iraq where man began, a revolution is in progress against the dictatorship of Maj. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem.

General Kassem holds the title of premier of Iraq, or ancient Mesopotamia, but he got it through subversion and violence with a quick assist from the Communists.

It was he who caused the gory murder of pro-Western Prince Faisal, Crown Prince Abdullah, and the popular statesman, Nuri Said, only last July. As Iraq erupted, the United States sent troops to Lebanon and the British occupied Jordan.

So, here we go again in the Middle East—but with a difference.

IRAQ has common borders with Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Syria, Turkey and Iran. The Soviet Union is only about 200 miles to the north.

With some of its neighbors, Britain and Pakistan, Iraq is a member of the Baghdad Pact, a defense buffer deliberately created to keep Russia out of the Middle East. Ever since the tripartite (France, Britain and us) agreement in 1950, the United States has concerned itself closely with the sovereignty of Iraq. Our own position is very clear: President Eisenhower has said not once but twice that any threat to these countries would immediately concern the United States. With Iraq technically out of the pact since the Kassem revolution, any counter-revolutionary and friendly group supposedly would get our aid, possibly "including the use of force" as promised the other pact members only last week.

So Iraq is very near and perhaps dear to the hearths from which young Americans have marched to "contain" the spread of Communism.

IN ALL probability the revolution now being led by the customary army colonel is one more evidence of the Middle East's nationalist temper.

Somewhere behind the scene, of a certainty, is Egypt's Colonel Nasser, for whom the rebels profess friendship even as they promise to square Iraq with the West. Thus at some point a diplomatic choice between the two evils — Nasserism and Communism — may be indicated. In this era of accepting the lesser evil and reacting to situations rather than attempting to create them, there is not much doubt about our choice.

Perhaps, indeed, the revolt along the Tigris and Euphrates and the new trouble in the Garden of Eden only underscores the weakness of Western policy. It has discovered no positive, salable counter-weight to the ceaseless agitation of Communist Russia in the backward areas of the world where men seem to yearn — for what, they know not.

Welcome Visitor From The South

PRESIDENT Jose Maria Lemus of El Salvador was a guest of Miami yesterday on his way to Washington, where he is paying an official visit. His cordial welcome here, we know, will be repeated elsewhere.

El Salvador is a tiny democracy (about the size of the Gold Coast counties from Palm Beach to Key West) morticed into western Central America. It is the smallest of these six countries but it is no less proud than its neighbors. It grows coffee, which is hurting just now, and there's some gold in those beautiful hills. Textiles, shoes and other small manufacturers round out an economy which is mostly agricultural. El Salvador usually enjoys a favorable balance of trade with the United States.

Visits from Central American presidents are few and far between. Too few, we'd say in the case of President Lemus, who had just completed his third year in office. Miami, at the head of the receiving line, makes him its best manners.

More Safety, Less Commotion

PARLEYS in Washington tomorrow should advance the cause of more safety and less noise at Miami International Airport.

Spokesmen for the community will be four members of the Metro Commission, which doubles as the Dade County Port Authority. They will be reinforced by James Pyle, deputy administrator of the new Federal Aviation Agency.

Their mission is to convince the Defense Department on two points. One is that the Air Reserve flying center at the airport should move to Homestead with its 60,000 yearly takeoffs and landings. The other is that federal airfields at Opa-locka and Richmond should be turned over promptly to the Port Authority.

These steps, if taken, will start an effective attack on traffic congestion and airplane noise at Greater Miami's big airport. The strategy was mapped at conferences held here by Mr. Pyle with the Port Authority committee and airline representatives.

OPENING the Richmond and Opa-locka fields would lead to closing Tamiami Airport, now used by private and corporation pilots despite its obvious shortcomings.

Besides, the conferees agreed to set up a committee to work on the problem of training flights at Miami International.

All these are practical approaches to a situation which should be solved before it becomes acute.

Air safety is the primary concern of the FAA. What Mr. Pyle is doing to improve it here suggests that the FAA has rolled up its sleeves and is on the job.

White Housework Suggests Broom

A QUAINT LITTLE legend has it that many years ago if you 'phoned the White House of a quiet Sunday afternoon, like as not you'd be answered in person by President Grover Cleveland.

All the help was off.

We don't think that Presidents should answer telephones, or not until a brace of secretaries answers first, but the legend freshens in view of a report by The Herald's Drew Pearson.

According to Mr. Pearson, a congressional committee has ordered an audit of White House spending. It costs $5,013,750 a year to operate the executive mansion and offices. This is "more than double the $2,467,000 ex-President Truman spent during his last and most expensive year."

Higher than "High Cost Harry?" Hmm.

Administration leaders reportedly are considering a program — commendable in itself — to deal with the human problems involved in continued substantial unemployment. One thing is sure: the White House isn't creating any of it.

Operation Coffer-Filling

WE SPECULATED the other day that an underlying reason for the campaign to eliminate Metro's non-partisan elections was not to build up the two-party system but to build up the party treasury.

This was confirmed over the weekend by Johnson Davis, Dade County Democratic Committee Chairman.

He told a group of local party leaders and state committeemen that party contributions from Metro candidates dropped to "zero" under the Home Rule charter. This is because candidates do not have to pay the party "assessment" of two per cent of the job's annual salary to qualify. In big primary fields that's a sizable amount for the party treasury.

But the non-partisan feature of Metro elections was written into the charter and approved by the voters. It has withstood attack through the Florida Supreme Court.

Non-partisan election of officials closest to the people — those on the local level of government — is supposed to work best for all. That is the theory, and it's supported by a deal of practical experience.

Like all ideals, it could go sour. Possibly there might be reasons in the future to change the system. But one of the reasons could not be simply to build up party treasuries at the expense of the candidates and a system demonstrably workable thus far in Metro's experience.

Florida Advertising: The Payoff

Its purpose is to prove that the $600,000 spent by the state for direct advertising in 1957 was a good investment. It does that.

To check up, the commission sent questionnaires to a cross-section of the 261,958 persons whose mailed inquiries were directly traceable, through keyed addresses, to its 1957 tourist advertising.

Nearly half of the 15,000 persons who were queried sent replies, and 62 per cent of these said they had visited Florida since making their inquiry. Using the statistical average of 3.11 persons per party, these 62 per cent of the 261,958 inquirers brought more than 500,000 visitors, who spent nearly $74 million in Florida. Of this, the state government received more than $4 million in taxes—or about $7 for every $1 appropriated for advertising.

THIS is the most conservative basis for figuring the return. All told, more than eight million out-of-state tourists vacationed in Florida in 1957. They spent $1,323,000,000, of which the state's tax cut was more than $73 million.

At that rate, the return to the state on the $600,000 advertising budget was $122 to $1.

The Development Commission doesn't claim credit for all the eight million visitors, of course. It notes, realistically, that hotels, motels, airlines, attractions and many Florida communities also advertise for tourists.

Only In---?

A YOUTH publication the other day carried a letter from a reader citing cases of otherwise upright citizens who had gone wrong because the horses they followed—followed horses, as Joe E. Lewis used to say.

The journal demanded an end of horse race betting to prevent the corruption of young people.

The campaign, even though backed by the Ministry of Culture, isn't going to get anywhere. It seems that the Ministry of Agriculture owns all of the horses and the Ministry of Finance gets a take from the mutuels.

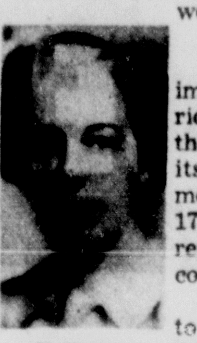
Editorial Background - - Metro Law Department

Davis Keeps Costs Down, Verdicts Up

By JEANNE BELLAMY
Herald Editorial Writer

DON'T BE fooled by the mild manner of County Attorney Darrey A. Davis. His fellow lawyers aren't. They know his soft words are shaped by an electronic-type mind with virtually no margin for error.



Bellamy

Not a comma is misplaced nor a word misspelled in the 18 typewritten pages. Of course, Davis himself didn't do the typing, but you get the idea: he requires first-class workmanship.

* * *

WHAT THE report says is impressive. It covers the period from July 29, 1957, when the Metro Commission set up its own full-time Law Department, to last Dec. 31. In those 17 months, Davis and his staff represented the county in 131 court cases.

"Of the 96 cases completed to date, one was settled and compromised with the approval of the County Commission, two decisions involving zoning and tax matters were adverse to the county, and in the remaining 93 cases the county prevailed."

* * *

FIVE of these cases involved Metro's constitution — the Home Rule Charter adopted by the voters here May 21, 1957. In every challenge fought out so far, the Florida Supreme Court has ruled that the people knew what they were voting for and can have it.

In 13 other appeals, "important principles of law were settled which will govern the daily operations of the county government."

* * *

AFTER SETTING up the Law Department, the Metro Commission dropped the custom of hiring special counsel to acquire rights-of-way for roads.

"This policy has resulted in savings to the county of approximately $26,700 in attorney fees alone during the period covered by this report."

In the last six months of 1958, the Law Department finished three condemnation cases covering 118 parcels of land which cost $609,141. Owners of 50 of these parcels wanted a total of $290,814 instead of the $192,233 set by county appraisers. The jury verdicts for these 50 parcels added up to $201,585, "or within 5 per cent of the county appraisals."

"If the property owners had been successful, these rights-of-way would have cost the county an additional $89,230."

* * *

BESIDES, Davis and his staff gave county officials 327 written opinions, drafted or revised the 78 ordinances and 2,577 resolutions adopted by the Metro Commission, wrote or examined and approved 1,465 contracts.

Each month, they answered an average of 764 incoming phone calls and had 304 visitors.

Davis himself attended the 121 regular or special meetings held by the Metro Commission during 1958 as legal advisor and parliamentarian. And Davis or one of his assistants attended all other sessions of the commission, other Metro bodies and daily conferences with Metro administrators.

No wonder Davis reports: "Frequently, the county attorney and assistants are required to maintain a six-day, 60-hour, weekly work schedule."

* * *

THE MOST interesting part of the report to taxpayers here is a section beginning: "Since the objectives of Metropolitan Government are efficiency and economy, it is appropriate that some consideration be given the cost of the Law Department."

Its budget for the current year is $170,871. Davis is allowed six assistants but has only five — Thomas C. Britton, St. Julien P. Rosemond, Carlos L. Edwards, William W. Gibbs and William G. Dreisbach. Six legal secretaries and a receptionist round out the staff in modernized offices on the 16th floor of the courthouse.

By the end of this year, Davis expects to spend little more than $140,000 — $30,000 less than his budget.

* * *

"THE COST of the county's full-time Law Department compares favorably with the cost of the City of Miami Law Department for its current fiscal year — $172,876, and also with the cost paid by the county for legal counsel prior to 1957 — $168,834."

Thus Davis foresees "an immediate saving to the county of not less than $25,000, or 15 per cent of the previous cost for legal services."

This is the kind of efficiency and economy people want from Metro.

Sacking Of Evans A Mistake?

Editor The Herald: The firing of City Manager Evans may be a mistake. His opposition to Metro could well have been the check and balance system needed to stop Metro from over-stepping its boundaries.

The Metro charter does not oppose autonomy. Its intent was to create an efficient government in which city and county functions did not overlap. The jobs best handled by the cities were to be left in their hands.

Apparently Mr. Evans, who originally favored the theoretically sound policies underlying Metro, feels that these policies will not be maintained. His fight for autonomy may have been the balance needed to prevent Metro enthusiasts from engulfing what home rule is left by the original provisions. WILLIAM H. DREW

Fade Away

Editor The Herald: Thousands of words have been written and spoken on the rise and fall of Gen. Arthur Evans. Yet Mayor Robert High was able to sum it up in just three words: "No more generals."

Let's hope the rest of the country takes up that refrain, "No more generals." It sounds good to me.

Males Will Hear From The Boss

Editor The Herald: Enjoyed Mike Morgan's story about the tailor who says a man needs four suits a year. But I think this is unfair to the ladies.

If the average man began to buy four suits a year, the average housewife would find her own clothes budget severely cut.

IS THAT ANOTHER NEW SUIT?

Obviously the men's clothing people are trying to spur business by using the women's fashion techniques . . . frequent style changes. It'll be interesting to see if it works.

Behind The Front Page

'There Are Too Many of Us'

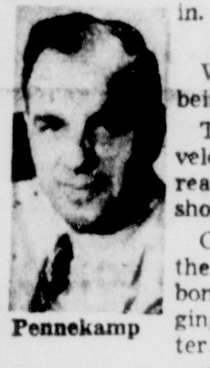
By JOHN PENNEKAMP

INSIDE METRO:

Just about all of the members of the county commission agree that 11 is too many; that public office usually makes a "prima donna" here and there; that the opportunity to make speeches to impress anybody who'll listen is ever-present and that jockeying for public acclaim or approval always is a temptation.

"When you have an eleven member board, with at least several always ready to sound off you get very little done," said one member.

So, among a majority it is agreed that the public's business could be better served if the board had fewer members with seven in most general favor.



Pennekamp

Two or three are ready to pledge not to run for reelection in the interest of a smaller board.

* * *

HOW TO BRING it about? The commission could put a resolution on the ballot, but at that point there is strong disagreement.

Most of the new men won't go for election from districts but by the voters in the county at large, which is favored by the older members of the board. The newer members want to run in districts and be elected by voters of their district.

That is one of the hampering influences now standing in the way of Metro commission action — some of the district members are showing an inclination to think in local instead of county-wide terms.

Best guess, as of now:

A resolution may be offered in which the voters can decide whether they want to elect a smaller board county-wide or by districts. There's a chance, though, that a salary clause may be included.

The newer commissioners are chafing under the $6,000 salary which they receive under the charter while older members are getting $15,000. That, too, is scheduled to be cut to $6,000 at the end of their terms in 22 months, but nearly all agree that $6,000 is not enough for the time they put in.

* * *

WOULD YOU say that I'm being spoofed?

The following came in an envelope from Paris. I couldn't read the signature, so it is shown in the engraving below.

Contractors and officials at the airport assure me no such bones were found in their "diggings." Anyway, here's the letter translated from French.

"Our correspondents of the International Sportswriters Association and the Guild of Pachyderms of Central and South America have had part in the discovery during their diggings in the vicinity of your airbase of bones which are thought to be from giant prehistoric pachyderms. It is with the most lively interest that we have learned of the discovery of ivories in a state of perfect preservation.

"We regret, however, that the local authorities have thought proper to throw a veil over this important discovery. Such practices can only retard the progress of our studies and inhibit the dissemination of our knowledge concerning this gracious as well as magnificent animal.

"We can hardly convey to you our consternation at the news that certain individuals at the airbase, devoid of sentiment, intend to use heavy-caliber guns to hunt the pachyderms in the surrounding Everglades; their intent can only be to chase and annihilate these poor inoffensive beasts.

"Also, we propose to send a representative of the industrial museum to conduct an inquest upon these inhumane acts.

"We count absolutely upon you and the prestige you enjoy in the region to see that this hunt, as cruel as it is useless, doesn't take place."

Look This Way! Say, 'Cheese'

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

WHILE I was addressing a medical convention last month, a newspaper photographer stopped in to take pictures of the great men. He posed several of the doctors around a chart they had been studying, and commanded them, "Now, let's all have a big smile on our faces!"

Harris

There is a wonderfully sardonic moral in this picture of the doctors beaming ruddily about the newborn babies who had died in Illinois hospitals last year — and the moral is: "Don't Keep Smiling."

Each profession has its own cliches, and the newspaper business is no exception. People in pictures are supposed to be smiling, unless they are "bowed by grief." What they are smiling about doesn't matter, as long as the "stiffness" is taken out of the picture.

* * *

BUT WHAT is the point of replacing the stiffness of a solemn face with the stiffness of an artificial smile? Why should men be grinning while they point at a chart, any more than two contesting candidates should be grinning while they shake hands and privately wish each other were dead?

The next day I saw another picture in the paper. A department store had opened a new bank of elevators and several of the officers were "operating" one of the elevators, with enormous smiles and ecstatic hand-wavings.

It looked like the phoniest picture of all time, because none of the men was behaving as he normally would. Elevators are run by operators or by push-buttons, not by presidents and vice-presidents; just as tractors are run by farmers and not by senatorial candidates.

* * *

BUT ONE of the most entrenched cliches of journalism is that people in pictures have to be "doing something," even if it is only smiling at a chart about dead babies. It is true that, in a photo, action is better than inaction; but inaction is better than false action.

What a photographer wants is a "natural" shot, and I don't see how you get this by creating an artificial pose. A strained smile is worse than an honest scowl; it is not without reason that the finest personality photograph in recent years was one of Callas, the opera singer, baring her fangs at a summons-server. An ordinary photographer would have waited until she had given him a dazzling operatic smile.

Shawaf Heads Revolt

Northern Iraq Is Tough For Kassem to Reclaim

A few days ago Miami Herald-Chicago News Middle East correspondent George Weller entered Mosul, previously barred to western newsmen. There, at the revolutionary headquarters from which a brigade commander, Col. Al Shawaf, has just launched an army revolt against the pro-Communist regime of Maj. Gen. Karim Kassem, Weller was granted what was "probably the only interview Al Shawaf has ever given."

By GEORGE WELLER
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

NICOSIA, CYPRUS — Col. Abdul Wahab Al Shawaf, a short, hard-headed officer about 45, has touched the match to the most combustible corner of the Middle East — the oilfields of northern Iraq.

WELLER

Shawaf struck to prevent the pro-Communist clique dominating Baghdad, 400 miles to the south, from breaking him and brother officers of the northern garrisons.

Ten days ago the Communists demanded publicly that Premier Abdel Karim Kassem fire them all.

* * *

COL. SHAWAF chose the moment when United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser is visiting adjacent Syria. Nasser has his first chance to support — or let die — the anti-Communist revolution in Iraq.

A few days ago in Mosul I spent half an hour with Col. Shawaf.

I was the first foreign correspondent to reach Mosul, busy progressive, partly Christian metropolis which Kassem's authorities have previously kept tightly closed to western newsmen.

Although I was under day and night surveillance by police detectives, Col. Shawaf allowed me to enter his headquarters, now the center of the revolt.

* * *

THE REVOLUTIONARY headquarters are a long, whitewashed group of buildings on a knoll about 100 feet high overlooking Mosul's airfield.

From this position Col. Shawaf's 5th brigade numbering about 3,000 men dominates both the airfield and main highway southward to Baghdad.

NASSER

KASSEM

IN THE REBELLION Col. Shawaf has gambled heavily on northern Iraq's inaccessibility to the heavy forces of new Soviet tanks — about 200 in all — which Premier Kassem has concentrated around Baghdad.

In our talk Shawaf pointed up this remoteness of the northern command by reminding me that Hitler's air force was able to maintain its farthest eastward outpost at Mosul during the war.

"Right on that airfield down there," Shawaf said, pointing out the window.

Shawaf is hard for Kassem to hit. Nasser's armored cars and tanks holding Syria's eastern airfields and border are actually nearer by 300 miles to the Mosul revolt than Kassem's Russian tank columns in the south.

* * *

SHAWAF'S TALK was free of bluster or anti-western challenges and was aimed at convincing me that Iraq's army was still basically sound despite rifts.

"We clean out our colonels' ranks at 48 and get rid of deadwood," he said energetically. "By giving them monthly pensions of about $300 we settle them down and keep them outside politics."

* * *

KASSEM UNMISTAKABLY wants to retire Shawaf quickly, if necessary by gunshot. The premier offered 10,000 pounds (nearly $30,000) as the price for Col. Shawaf's arrest. This reward is evidently meant to tempt the cash-hungry tribesmen who inhabit the lonely lunar landscape of the Upper Tigris depression between Mosul and the Syrian border.

Bargaining Table Needs Objective Research Data

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — It is more than ever evident that when labor and management sit down to the bargaining table, the public has a tremendous stake in the outcome.

During the next nine months the stake will be unusually great because the bargaining table will be unusually busy.

DRUMMOND

The reason is that during this period 154 wage contracts and the wage clauses of 62 other labor-management contracts covering 4,174,000 workers come up for re-negotiation.

At the same time deferred pay raises or automatic cost-of-living adjustments fall due for 1,444,000 other workers.

1959 will thus see mounting pressure for wage increases, mounting pressure for price increases, and the prospect of a further rise in the cost of living.

I am not suggesting that wage increases are undesirable either from the standpoint of management or the public. I am not suggesting that wage increases automatically have to bring price increases.

I am suggesting that the public has a valid and pocket-book interest in checking the wage-price spiral and in bringing inflationary pressures under control.

* * *

THIS IS WHY most economists agree that it is in the national interest to see that new wage increases are kept within the bounds of the increases in productivity in each industry.

This is why President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor Mitchell and Secretary of the Treasury Anderson and others have been counseling labor and management to use enough self-discipline to halt voluntarily wage-increase - price - increase inflation so as not to bring on a cure worse than the disease—namely, government controls of both wages and prices.

The major 1959 test of whether wage increases are going to plough through the ceiling of increased productivity will be in the steel industry whose three-year contract with the 1,104,000 workers of the United Steelworkers Union expires on June 30.

At the moment the ex parte spokesmen of both sides are forecasting the worst — massive union demands and massive management resistance with the possibility of a prolonged strike.

* * *

IT IS, OF COURSE, extremely difficult for the public to judge the conflicting claims between labor and management.

Labor says all its demands can be met out of profits and management claims that few of them can be met without corresponding price rises.

It seems to me that we are at a point in the self-management of our economy when we must have an agreed method of measuring productivity.

How can the government expect labor and management to come near to keeping wage increases inside the boundary increases in productivity if there is no agreed measure of productivity?

Since labor and management are not prepared to accept each other's figures, why shouldn't they join in employing an objective research body, like the Brookings Institution, to show how it can be done?

Public opinion cannot be brought effectively to bear on this problem without a body of objective fact.

Why Michigan Is Broke!

By JACK MABLEY
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

CHICAGO — I think I can offer some light on why Michigan is broke.

There arrived in this office last week a paperbound book from Michigan State University, called the quarterly bulletin.

It apparently is distributed free. It is printed on an expensive glossy paper.

It contains articles on agriculture. The article is entitled "Some Economic Aspects of Pie Consumption."

The slick paper contains an astoundingly detailed analysis of the age, economic status, family size and vocations of people who eat apple, blueberry, cherry, pineapple, berry, pumpkin, mince, cream and custard and other pies.

Thousands of man hours must have gone into this study, which one presumes is intended as a service to people who grow the makings for the interiors of pies.

Whether this is an essential or necessary or even advisable service from a government that is on the verge of bankruptcy might be debated.

* * *

And that isn't a typographical error you just read.

The study relates instances of pecks, fights, and threats by chickens in a controllable group.

A peck was defined as a peck on the head or neck of another bird. A fight was two birds flying together and pecking at the same time.

The nastiest age of chickens was found to be about 17 months, when they constantly threatened other chickens.

I suppose all this has some value to the agricultural communities.

But if the state is looking for some way to economize, it doesn't seem it looked very far.

These studies were made in the very shadow of the Michigan state capitol.

Dulles to Return By End of Month?

By DREW PEARSON

JOHN FOSTER DULLES is so cheered over his medical progress that he has told friends he expects to remain definitely as Secretary of State.

His doctors have told him the cancer is not only growing slowly because of his advanced age, but is responding to X-ray treatments. Dulles hopes to be back at his desk by the end of the month, barring complications.

Meanwhile, he is dictating major State Department policy from his hospital bed.

Within an hour after the latest Soviet note on Berlin was received, Dulles telephoned for a copy to be delivered to him at the hospital.

DICTATOR FRANCO'S government in Spain is doing a land-office business in U.S. cotton which it gets free, then sells to Spaniards at double the American price.

FRANCO

This was revealed by Congressman Jamie Whitten of Mississippi in cross-examining Agriculture Department officials.

"My attention has been called to the fact that in Spain they are selling this cotton to their people for double the U. S. price," said the congressman from Mississippi where cotton is king.

Marvin McLain, an assistant secretary of agriculture, didn't know the answer but later admitted Whitten was right.

"Strenuous efforts have been made to get the Spanish government to change its practice of selling cotton to Spanish mills at a significantly higher price than the Spanish government pays us for it," McLain replied.

GRUENING

"We have repeatedly remonstrated with the Spanish government. We have done this at the time of negotiation and have sent special messages to Spain. This and diplomatic pressure have been unavailing."

In brief, Secretary Benson's boys found that you can't argue with a dictator.

Contradictory Lands Fill Central America

A Cracker Viewpoint by Nixon Smiley

NEWSPAPER STORIES about economic strife and political upheavals in Central America attract few readers beyond the headlines.

And yet Central America is one of the most interesting parts of the world, no matter from which viewpoint you might look at the six little countries that make up the area.

What this area is like politically and economically is ably told in a new book, CENTRAL AMERICA, the Crisis and the Challenge, by John D. Martz (University of North Carolina Press, Chapel Hill, $7.50).

One who knows nothing about Latin America, and who "cares less," might find Martz' book dull and uninteresting.

But anyone who has traveled through Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama will find this book rewarding.

* * *

PERHAPS IT TAKES some guidance for one to get to know and to like these countries and their people. I was fortunate to have the guidance of Dr. Wilson Popenoe, that admirable "Gringo" who has spent over half of his life in Latin America.

First a plant explorer for the Agriculture Department, then for years head research for the United Fruit Co., Popenoe got to know these countries and their people — and he got to love them so well that he has chosen to spend his retirement in Central America,

Popenoe lives in Antigua, Guatemala, in a 17th century house which he remodeled and which became widely known through a book by Louis Adamic, "The House in Antigua."

When I became acquainted with Popenoe he was head of the Pan American Agricultural School, a college in Honduras supported by the fruit company.

"You must get acquainted with these people if you want to know them," he said. "And be wary of the professional Gringos — as wary of them as you would a flatwoods gallinipper," he added.

(A "flatwoods gallinipper" is a large mosquito that is found in wet lowlands of North Florida and South Georgia where I was raised.)

* * *

WHEN YOU GET to know the common people of Central America, you wonder how they could be so violent at times.

Not one of these countries has escaped violent upheavals during the present decade.

Presidents have been assassinated within the past five years — in Panama, Nicaragua and Guatemala. Governments are being continually overthrown, and usually with considerable bloodshed.

Guides are always ready to show you the latest bullet scars on the buildings that stood in the midst of the last revolution.

When you travel in these countries you find the scenery so different and the people different, too.

And, yet, as Martz points out, there is an underlying similarity in their political and economic problems.

* * *

THE SIMILARITY that every tourist is likely to notice is the widespread poverty.

"Why doesn't the government do something for these poor people?" the naive tourist is likely to ask upon seeing the ragged peons trudging down a dusty road, bent under heavy loads of stuff they hope to sell at the city market.

It's a good question. Martz has done a first-rate job of explaining why it is a hard question to answer.

Such questions are easier to answer if one stays in a Central American country for 48 hours. But if he stays a week or longer such questions become increasingly difficult to answer.

These countries are not without resources, and yet the average income is barely over $200 a year. The adage about work making wealth doesn't apply here, where people must work hard year in and year out in order to survive.

(The Communists explain this last contradition by pointing to the exploitation of the people by the United Fruit Co. Yet, the best paid workers in Central America are those who work for the United Fruit Co. and other foreign firms.)

* * *

BOTANICALLY Central America is one of the richest areas of the world. Costa Rica alone has over 9,000 species of plants.

These countries also boast rich soils that are capable of fantastic production when scientifically managed.

The climate is variable ranging from the steaming jungles of the lowlands, where rainfall may top 100 inches a year, to the cool highlands where one can enjoy year-round comfort.

And the scenery can be unforgettable.

This interesting, beautiful, violent, rich and poor, tremendously contradictory area is of great importance to the United States. The Panama Canal crosses it.

The political importance of Central America to the United States was brought into focus five years ago when the Communist government of Guatemala received a shipload of arms from Communist Poland.

Guatemala's Communists were toppled by forces led by Lt. Col. Carlos Castillo, who was hailed as a national hero and elevated to president.

But the hero was assassinated by one of his palace guards two years later.

But we are as contradictory to them as they are to us. Maybe that's what makes the situation so interesting.

Salvador's Chief Will Give Ike Some 'Tips'

By JOHN B. McDERMOTT
Herald Foreign Affairs Writer

President Jose Maria Lemus of El Salvador said in Miami Monday he will offer suggestions to President Eisenhower aimed at improving U.S. relations with Latin America.

Jose Maria Lemus
. . . passing through

The Central American chief executive spent only one hour in Miami en route to Monticello, Va., and Washington on a 10-day state visit to this country.

He indicated that anti-American demonstrations in Bolivia, coupled with overall cool feeling in Latin America toward the U.S. would play an important part in his Washington discussions.

President Lemus declined to be specific in his talks with newsmen who met his Taca airliner at the military section of Miami International Airport.

He was here only long enough to change planes, boarding a special U.S. Military Air Transport for Charlottesville.

Today, in Washington, he will be accorded a formal welcome by President Eisenhower.

President Lemus said inter-American relations would be included both in his discussions with President Eisenhower and in his address to a joint session of Congress Wednesday.

As for the purpose of his visit, the 47-year-old El Salvadoran said it resulted from an invitation issued by President Eisenhower.

"Will you be seeking a loan?" he was asked.

"I feel it is not in good taste for a guest to ask for a loan from his host," the President replied with a smile.

However, he said he had several of El Salvador's business leaders with him and it was possible they might try to work out a better economic pact between the two countries.

El Salvador, a tiny republic the size of Massachusetts, depends largely on its coffee exports for its foreign trade. Most of the coffee is sent to this country.

President Lemus said that Communist infiltration in Central America continues to be "a chronic problem."

However, he did not feel that it has reached alarming proportions.

Asked if the Communist threat had increased during the past year in Central America, he countered with:

"Has it increased here in your country?"

Then he added that he felt the penetrations both in North and Central America were about the same proportionally.

President Lemus was met here by U.S. Ambassador and Mrs. Wiley Buchanan, chief of protocol for the State Department; El Salvador Ambassador to Washington, Hector David Castro; Consul General G. Cabrales of the Miami office; Metro Commission Chairman Walter Weiss and Hugo Whitehouse, Austrian consul who represented the Miami consular corps.

The president's tour will take him to New York, Springfield, Ill., Houston and New Orleans.

As one of Latin America's chief proponents of democracy, he had particularly asked to visit the historic home of President Thomas Jefferson in Monticello — he saw it late Monday — and the tomb of President Abraham Lincoln in Springfield.

Argentine Labor Aide Sees Doom of Reds and Peronists

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

A top Argentine labor attorney says Communist and Peronist strength will be eliminated in his country when it becomes a true democracy.

Carlos A. Gonzalez-Fernandez is spending a year in the U.S. on a U.S. government grant given in the name of President Eisenhower. He says there are not many Communists in the Argentine labor movement, "but they are very active."

"We have a grave economic situation in Argentina now," he said, "and the Communists try to profit by this and stir up trouble. They will join the followers of Peron or anyone else if they think it is to their advantage."

The 40-year-old attorney pointed out that his people spent 10 years without liberty under Dictator Juan Peron "and the road to a true democracy is a slow process of evolution."

Gonzalez-Fernandez is general counselor of Argentina's Inter-Trade Unions Organization for Laborers' Housing and legal counselor for Commerce Employees Union, Food Industry Work Union, Paper Industry Union, Clothing Industry Union and several others.

He is visiting factories, universities and unions in the U.S. and studying economic and social factors in unionism and the degree of government intervention in labor and union strife.

"I like the way unions can have collective bargaining with management in the U.S. without interference from government," he said. "That is one of the things wrong in my country, where the government has the right to take part when there are differences between management and the unions."

Gonzalez-Fernandez
. . . grave situation

Gonzalez-Fernandez said that before Peron came to power the unions were completely free, but not very powerful.

"Peron concentrated all the labor power in Buenos Aires," the labor attorney said. "One by one, he took control of all the unions.

"If he couldn't buy the unions by offering money or position, he used the pretext that they contained undesirable elements and put some of the leaders in prison.

"Peron passed a labor law that gave the government absolute control over the unions. He created unions of his own and destroyed the democratic unions.

"When the revolutionary government ousted Peron in 1955, his labor law was thrown out and unions again were given freedom to organize without interference from government."

Gonzalez-Fernandez admits that Peron still has many followers in his country, but says Peronism will die when Argentina has a true democracy.

He said there were two classes of Peronistas: Those who believed in the democratic programs and doctrines that he announced and the blind followers who believe only in him "and some of these were fanatics."

"I believe that Latin America — and especially Argentina — is a field of reserve for the U.S. in their fight for democracy in the world against communism," he said. "I also think that the U. S. must work toward greater cooperation with the nations of Latin America."

Discovery Aids Infants

Cell Tests Only Sure Way to Tell Sexes Apart

By JOY REESE SHAW
Herald Staff Writer

There's one sure way to tell boys from girls. By a study of cell structure.

The discovery is of monumental importance to a goodly number of women who think they are men.

Couched in medical terminology, it was the subject here Monday of an address entitled "Management of Adrenal Hyperfunction."

It was delivered by Dr. Olof Pearson, associate professor of medicine, Cornell University Medical College, New York, at the 27th Southeastern Surgical Congress which opened a four-day session at the Deauville Hotel.

Male cells are different from female cells. They have a lot of dark pigment in the cell nucleus. The discovery of this by a Canadian doctor has brought dramatic results in recent treatment of infants and confused unhappy adults, the doctor declared.

All of this has nothing to do with homosexuality or the converting of sex to comply with personality.

It is a disorder of the two small adrenal glands above the kidney, the professor explained. In this particular disorder, there is a lack of enzyme which prevents the gland from manufacturing cortisone and an overabundance of the male hormone.

"The disorder should be recognized at birth," the doctor said. If treated with cortisone, the infant will develop properly.

The ailment is often congenital and in the past babies have been mistaken for males when actually they are females.

A cell scraping from the mouth can determine the difference in the nucleus, and corrective treatment administered.

Some patients go through life believing themselves to be male when they are female, he reported. He described one patient, a minister, who believes himself to be male but actually is female, married and living a satisfactory life.

Although cortisone could bring forth feminine characteristics, the shock and pyschological adjustment in this patient's life would be too sever, the doctor said.

He told of another muscular patient, 30, however, who was believed to be a boy as a child, but later was reared as a girl.

"She spent hours upon hours sandpapering her face to eradicate the hair," the speaker reported. The patient was placed on cortisone.

Her hips and bosom rounded out, muscles receded, facial hair diminished and she became a feminine, curvaceous female, who is the mother of two young children, he reported.

Stout Stuff

Lots Needed To Make a Good Doctor

What are basic requirements for the man who elects the medical path? Here are some of them as sized up by the prexy:

Physical dexterity as coupled with an innate fascination for artisanship. A driving force and an investigative bent for resolving obscure pictures. Willingness to assume responsibility for positive action. Compassion — the appeal to succor humanity when in physical and mental distress.

Intellectual curiosity in broadening man's knowledge of human discorders and to discover clues for correcting them. Intellectual honesty — an honest appraisal of mistakes, a willingess to discover one's limitations as well as one's deeper endowments.

"Nothing," said the doctor, "shrivels a man's soul and mind more quickly than creating about one a chilly fog of dishonest representations."

Equanimity — coolness and presence of mind, imperturbability and serenity of demeanor. And faith . . . in God, in oneself, in the best of the past and in hope for the future.

Surgery, summed up the president, is a fascinating profession. But for the men in white, all is not glamor, like in the movies.

DOES MORE THAN JUST "SHRINK" PILE TISSUES!

No Surgery Needed to Stop Pain of Swollen Pile Tissues While They Heal!

Pain, itching of swollen piles are torture. You may think there's no relief without an operation. Yet...thousands have discovered how to stop this nagging discomfort in minutes — and without surgery! A remarkable compound you use at home makes you feel worlds better, right away! Not only reduces swelling but stops pain at once, promotes healing of inflamed tissues too!

Preparations that just act to "shrink" piles can't offer complete symptomatic relief. For real comfort, fast, you need this more complete medication, called Stainless Pazo. In doctors' tests, patients reported immediate relief of discomfort. That's because Stainless Pazo combines the most effective ingredients known for piles. Thus works 3 ways at once: 1. Anesthetic action stops pain, itching in minutes ... puts rectal nerves to sleep, thus relaxing muscle spasms that cause discomfort. 2. Reduces tissue swelling, congestion ... protruding parts shrink. 3. Promotes healing of raw tissues. You get immediate new comfort while Nature's own healing magic goes to work.

Don't suffer needlessly one more day. To sit, stand, walk without pain again, get Stainless Pazo Suppositories or Ointment at druggists. Get glorious relief without surgery or money back!

Into Series of Wars

First Shot Could Erupt Caribbean

By Frank H. Bartholomew
United Press International
Copyright, 1959, by UPI

The Caribbean area today represents all three Americas — North, South and Central — with another Balkans on their doorstep that could erupt in warfare.

Tensions appear to be mounting steadily in the potentially explosive military-political situations involving the island republics. If the first gun is fired in invasion attempts against the probably initial targets of the Dominican Republic or Haiti, it seems equally probable a whole series of wars may start in chain reaction around the Spanish Main.

The decision appears to rest on the dramatic person of Fidel Castro who ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista from Cuba and who is committed to supporting revolutions in the Dominican Republic, Haiti, and Nicaragua in the Caribbean and Paraguay in South America. His argument is that their presidents are as dictatorial as Batista was.

Catching his zeal, revolutionaries from these target nations have been holding meetings in Cuba, many of them public and well advertised, to formulate their own plans.

A typical incident was observed by this correspondent in a crowded suburban restaurant outside Havana. Multi-colored handbills distributed at the tables called for "liberation of Santo Domingo (the Dominican Republic)" and concluded "down with the tyranny of Trujillo."

An excited Dominican leaped on a table, called for silence and addressed himself to the Cubans present:

"As you fought in the jungles of Oriente (Province), so will we soon fight in the forests of the Dominican Republic."

Haiti, under President Francois Duvalier, seems to be regarded as the ripest target at the moment with an invasion unit under former Haitian Sen. Louis de Joie announcing itself ready to take off this month.

Responding to the mounting pressure, Trujillo has announced formation of an "anti-Communist legion" of 25,000 men armed with new machineguns to supplement his regular army.

Ex-Miami Pastor Dies

Services are being arranged for the Rev. Robert B. Giffen, 51, former executive secretary of the Greater Miami Council of Churches, who was killed by an auto Saturday in Broward County.

He was visiting his father, the Rev. Bruce J. Giffen, there. He was director of the Chatham-Savannah Mental Health Association in Georgia at the time of his death.

He organized the Protestant Service Bureau here.

University of Miami law professor David S. Stern Monday received a State Department grant covering a two-month series of lectures at the National University of Mexico.

Commissioner Has Stomach Trouble

Medical Tests of Shiver Are Begun at Johns Hopkins

Miami City Commissioner Otis Shiver, who has been troubled with a stomach disorder, underwent the first of a series of physical tests at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore Monday.

In a telephone conversation with The Herald, Shiver said he expects to be released later this week.

"I wasn't opposed to getting away while Miami's political waters are being muddied," he added.

Shiver apparently was referring to the recent wholesale shakeup at City Hall in which he and other commission members forced the release of City Manager E. A. Evans and other municipal officer holders.

Fumes Kill 2

Two persons died accidentally Monday from carbon monoxide fumes from a gas water heater in a two-room apartment at 337 NW 12th Ave.

City homicide investigators said that the vent from the water heater might have been faulty. The apartment windows had been closed, apparently against chilly weather, detectives said.

Bay Harbor Woe

Crime was the thing in normally peaceful Bay Harbor Islands Monday as:

Thieves broke into Tony Sweet's high-priced restaurant at 9561 E. Bay Harbor Dr., peeled a safe and made off with $5,000 in cash some time between 2:30 a.m. and 5 a.m.

A lone bandit, wielding a sand-filled sock and working in broad daylight, knocked out Peter Giglia, a 20-year-old messenger for Florence Lustig's an exclusive dress shop at 1019 Kane Concourse, and escaped with the week's recipts of $22,000 in cash and checks.

The Plot Thins

They told her it was an "effortless" way to reduce, but she wound up with aches and pains, a Miami woman charged Monday in a Circuit Court suit.

But $5,000 or more in damages will ease the pain, Mrs. Rose Bloom, of 1400 SW 15th St., indicated.

Astor Probing

John Astor of Miami Beach, down to his last 70 million dollars, asked Monday for a legal probe into his half-brother's will — which left nothing to him.

Vincent Astor, who died last year, left the bulk of his 200 million dollars to charity — and John thinks there must have been some mistake.

He has hired an expert on forgery to examine the will and asked a New York court for a probe of the document.

Bus Vote Today

Metro may be in the bus business by the end of the week —if commissioners agree today.

They'll vote on a proposal to buy three bus lines — including Miami Transit—from William Pawley for 8.5 million dollars.

Crash Injures 2

A Miami police accident investigator was injured Monday night when a car ran a stop sign and hit him broadside at NW Third St. and 13th Ave.

Officer Richard N. Huss, 37, of 2275 SW 28th St., and the other driver, David Cashvan, 69, of 845 SW 13th St., were taken to Jackson Memorial Hospital where their conditions were listed as fair.

Cashvan was charged with causing the accident.

Britain Is Icy to Turncoat

LONDON —(AP)— A government spokesman confirmed Monday that Guy Burgess, the British diplomat who fled to Moscow eight years ago, wants to come home for a vacation.

But the spokesman added Britain declined to promise Burgess he would be permitted to return to the Soviet Union after the visit.

"Burgess sent a message to our delegation in Moscow saying he wished to visit the United Kingdom, but feared that the British authorities would seize his passport. He, therefore, asked the prime minister for an undertaking that he would be free to return to Moscow.

"No reply was sent to this message as the government have, of course, no power to give Burgess the undertaking for which he asked. Nor are they prepared to give him any travel facilities."

Dive Over the Atlantic

Jet's 'Incident' Now an Accident

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has reclassified the 29,000-foot dive of a jet airliner as an accident, and has ordered an inquiry into its cause.

The Pan American World Airways plane, 35,000 feet over the north Atlantic 500 miles east of Gander, Nfld., Feb. 3, dropped within seconds to 6,000 feet.

The Boeing 707, en route from Paris to New York with 114 passengers, pulled out of the dive and made an unscheduled landing at Gander.

Initially classified as an incident, it was redesignated by the CAB as an accident, because some minor damage resulted and some passengers were injured slightly.

A CAB hearing officer will take depositions from the flight crew and maintenance personnel at the board's office at New York's Idlewild airport Wednesday and Thursday.

JAMES CROW—Historians credit him as the first man to make a modern bourbon . . . the man who invented the sour mash process, the first to use scientific methods in distilling.
Why Old Crow should be your bourbon
The day James Crow's bourbon appeared, 124 years ago in Kentucky, real bourbon was made for the first time. The people and the leading figures of the era instantly knew it.
HENRY CLAY ordered Old Crow for his home. DANIEL WEBSTER called Old Crow "the finest in the world." It towered over the hit-and-miss bourbons of its day.
Today, although there are now hundreds of other bourbons on the market, Kentucky's Old Crow is still by far America's favorite.
Why? Because this is the perfect formula for bourbon. You can taste its inborn Kentucky mellowness, its surprising lightness, its clean flavor. Others can come close to it, but the inimitable, authentic bourbon stamp of Old Crow makes it the master today as it was the day it first appeared to delight the world. Have you tried it?

LONDON — (UPI) — A clock so large that eight men are needed to lift its minute hand is scheduled to go into operation here March 17 at an electrical and engineering exhibition.

The manufacturer, the Synchrome Co. at Wembley, claims it is the biggest timepiece in the world. The face measures 60 feet across and its minute hand is 35 feet long. The minute hands on four-faced Big Ben, Britain's most famous clock, are only 14 feet long.

USE YOUR OLD REFRIGERATOR FOR THE DOWN PAYMENT

So Flexible!

No figuring, no fumbling, no forgetting. Ten fabric bars control 10 cycles—give you complete mastery of any washing situation. Simply press the fabric bar, and the washer will automatically change its action to suit your wash. Changes washing action, water temperature. Changes agitator speed. Changes the number and type of rinses, even the spin speed and time.

See how it does wash 'n' wears. Ordinary washers set wrinkles. In the RCA WHIRLPOOL, the water is gradually cooled so that wrinkles can't form. Result: clean clothes—wrinkle-free clothes, and no more drip-drying.

So you want to add rinse conditioner? This RCA WHIRLPOOL does it for you, automatically, during the first deep rinse. Leaves clothes fresher and softer, takes out every trace of detergent, makes clothes easier to iron.

So Many Features!

Built-in lint filter screens as it cleans—automatically. No objectionable lint, not a speck of sand or soap scum will remain on your clothes. Works full-time, even on partial loads.

Famous Surgilator* Agitator gets clothes cleaner with 17 over-and-under currents, has 2 wash speeds, 2 spin speeds for normal or delicate fabrics.

Exclusive Suds-Miser* automatically (and economically) saves clean, filtered suds for another 10-pound load. (Optional, small cost.)

Plus many more great features such as the top-loading door (so much more convenient), the safety spin-stop, fluorescent console lighting, infinite water-level control, Free-Flow* draining and many, many more. Ask your dealer to demonstrate all these great features.

So Much Value!

You get famous RCA WHIRLPOOL quality and exclusive features at no more than the cost of an ordinary washer. And you save more when you get washer and dryer. Matching dryer is self-setting, too—sets its own heat to suit the fabric, cools wrinkles out of wash 'n' wears, shuts itself off at "dry enough." Available in gas, electric, in white, yellow, pink or white porcelain enamel. See the Imperial Mark 12 washer and dryer pair.

McAlpin Changes Provisions of His 'Last Ditch' Law

TALLAHASSEE — Rep. J. W. McAlpin of Hamilton County said Monday he has taken a cue from Jacksonville Attorney Fred Kent in deciding to call his "last resort" school closing bill the "local option" bill.

Kent said in a speech at St. Augustine that a local option closing bill appears to be the only way to avoid a state wide shutdown of public schools to prevent integration.

He pointed out that the Legislature should not pass a bill closing all schools in the state if one is integrated because "that is exactly the type of law that brought integration to Virginia."

McAlpin said he would revise his plan to allow voters of any area to hold a referendum on the issue of closing schools to escape integration.

Scholarship Funds Asked

TAMPA — State Sen. Tom Adams urged Monday spending state funds on scholarships for pupils to attend some of Florida's 75 private secondary schools.

Adams, chairman of the Senate's Finance and Taxation Committee, said such action would stimulate private schools and provide safeguards against future financial or integration troubles in public schools.

Coughing Baby Saves Family

JACKSONVILLE — A coughing baby saved four persons early Monday in a rooming house fire that took one life.

Barbara Kay, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pitts, awoke her parents with her coughing. Mrs. Pitts, 18 and pregnant, said she smelled smoke when she got out of bed to give the infant some cough medicine. She, the baby and a two-year-old brother Rickey, carried by her husband, made their escape.

Legislators Urged to Cut Costs

Rep. W. C. Herrell of Dade County, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Monday asked freshmen legislators' support in keeping expenditures next biennium within the present tax structure.

Herrell told the new lawmakers, in Tallahassee for a two-day orientation session, not to expect their individual appropriation acts to be approved by the committee until it completes work on the general state money bill.

He said members of the powerful committee had pledged not to either approve or disapprove separate acts calling for expenditures until the general bill was okayed. But he said some of the separate bills might find their way into the general bill.

Herrell also asked the legislators not to ask any member of the committee to introduce or co-introduce money bills. He said the members agreed not to do so in order that they could give a fairer consideration to overall expenditures.

The Dade legislator said estimates of state needs for the next two years have been between 700 and 726 million dollars. He said the House and Senate committees would try to hold the general bill to 700 million, with a five per cent cushion.

"I'm confident we can do so," he said.

Other "professors" at the session were Rep. Richard O. Mitchell of Leon, chairman of the House Administration Committee, and Speaker-Designate Thomas D. Beasley of Walton.

Red Star Shines in Elections

Communist Gains End De Gaulle 'Honeymoon'

PARIS — (UPI) — Communist gains in local elections indicated Monday that the "honeymoon is over" for President Charles de Gaulle.

The need for runoff elections in many communities blurred the results of the voting, but there appeared to be little doubt that the Reds are once again France's strongest party.

Of the first 3,058,663 votes counted, the Communists polled 829,493 against 555,068 for the pro-De Gaulle UNR Party which swept last year's parliamentary election, 459,196 for the Conservative Independents and 445,881 for the Socialists.

The results indicated that the wave of popularity which swept De Gaulle to power last year has begun to ebb, probably because of the "austerity" program which has boosted prices five to 10 per cent in two months and more than quadrupled unemployment.

I'm Alive, 'Dead' Vet Yells Back

CAGLIARI, Italy — (UPI) — Mario Mameli, officially a dear war hero, tried in vain this month to get an identity card instead of a gold medal.

Mameli, a 37-year-old shoestring vendor, has alternately been listed as alive and dead, as a hero and as a deserter by various government departments over the past 16 years. The prevalent view right now, the registrar's office told him in rejecting his application for an identity card, is that he is gloriously dead.

It all started in 1943 when Mameli went on leave from the Italian navy to visit his mother, who had been seriously injured in a bombing. The torpedo boat Perseo in which he served was sunk during his leave.

Italy's armistice with the Allies followed soon afterward and Mameli went home to Cagliari without reporting to navy authorities.

After the war, Mameli was charged with desertion and freed under an amnesty.

Record of his leave and desertion somehow got lost. In 1955, a navy commission, working on the theory that Mameli was on the ship when it sank, informed his family that he was "dead at sea" and that they were awarding him a posthumous gold medal.

Mameli has been trying ever since to prove that he is alive.

Juke Boxes Have Reds In a Stew

BUDAPEST—(UPI)—An influx of American juke boxes, complete with rock 'n' roll records, is giving headaches to Hungarian Communist officials.

But the music machines are bringing crowds of teenagers and prosperity to Budapest coffee houses.

Hungarian authorities are struggling with the problem of whether to ban the juke boxes for the sake of socialism or whether to tolerate them for profit reasons.

Not only do they object to the jazz and rock 'n' roll music blaring from the machines but they also strongly oppose the boxes as symbols of Capitalist enterprise.

A large number of the juke boxes entered Hungary in the past year. The machines have been vigorously attacked by Communist newspapers as "cultural capitalism" and as containing the contagious germs of a "Wurlitzer epidemic."

The juke boxes also offer classical records and even some Russian songs. But you seldom hear them played. The teenagers prefer American jazz, big-band dance music and rock 'n' roll.

Workers Need Not End Their Careers at 65

Financial prospects for aged persons are becoming increasingly brighter. This article, third in a series condensed from the Public Affairs Committee pamphlet, "Making the Most of Your Years," tells how persons approaching life's late years may best build financial security.

By EVELYN HART
Herald Special Writer

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" is a valid warning through the middle years of life. But, after the age of 65, "no work and vanishing income makes Jack a frightened old person."

In the later years, when medical attention is essential, when special housing arrangements are desirable, when sound eating habits are vital, the major source of income is abruptly turned off. No wonder so many have been echoing the words of the King of Siam: "Is a puzzlement!"

It is indeed. And in federal, state and local conference rooms, countless commissions and committees have been pondering this illogical situation in recent years . . . and the "puzzlement" is beginning to clear up.

In 1958, the Social Security Act was amended. Today, nine out of 10 Americans (nearly 95 per cent of the working population) look forward to receiving social security benefits in retirement, with maximum monthly payments of $127 for single persons and $190.50 for retired couples.

A beneficiary is now allowed to earn as much as $1,200 annually "on the side" without forfeiting any part of his benefits. Disabled workers may start drawing benefits at the age of 50 for themselves and their dependents.

Obviously, this is not the whole answer. There is still a substantial gap between social security benefits and the cost of maintaining a modest but adquate standard of living during the later years.

A large section of that gap will be filled ultimately for workers who currently are participants in employer-pension plans. These plans, financed jointly by employer and employee, have grown tremendously in the past 25 years. Today 12 million workers are building future incomes for themselves in this manner.

Then, of course, there is the old-age public assistance program provided through the federal government. The number of recipients of public assistance has decreased markedly as more and more workers are being covered by social security.

* * *

Being Pushed Out Can Be Galling

You who are still employed and are participating in social security and a pension plan will fare far better financially in your retirement days when do many who are now retired. If you can afford a planned savings program and can make other sound investments that will pay off in later years, so much the better.

However, there is still another, equally important, retirement problem that you should begin now to think about, to prepare for — and, perhaps, to do something about.

Does the concern where you are employed have an automatic retirement plan? Is there a ruling which demands that, when you reach the age of 65, you must pack up your pencils or whatever your tools and go home?

The Riches of Old Age

The majority of industrial plants and business firms do have such automatic rules although many have modified them.

There's something about this life of ours in a democracy that makes us resent being pushed out of our jobs at 65, regardless of whether our work is good, bad, or indifferent — regardless of whether we're tired and burned out or physically fit and still "rarin' to go."

* * *

Survey Applauds Older Workers

Employers, too, are beginning to acknowledge that automatic retirement represents a tremendous loss to business and industry in terms of experience and skill.

A survey conducted several years ago by the Bureau of Employment Security revealed that, in the opinion of employers, older workers have great stability, waste less time, are more reliable, responsible, and loyal, are absent less frequently, and need less supervision.

A number of studies have revealed that aging people do not lose the ability to learn, only the ability to learn fast. They need more time and stronger incentive, but very often reduction of speed is compensated for by skill and experience. In some types of modern jobs, the record of older workers is superior to that of younger ones.

The New Jersey Old Age Study Commission, in a summary of its findings in 1957, reported that "new and timely research on techniques of vocational retraining, job counseling, and placement of older workers is demonstrating that increasing numbers can be returned to productive employment through community referral centers, utilizing both public and private personnel and employment facilities."

* * *

"We believe," the commission declared, "that both the individual and the economy will gain as retirement policies are made more flexible and as job reclassification, retraining, vocational counseling, and other personnel policies are adjusted to make it possible for older people to find useful employment as long as they are interested and able."

Every American who has not yet been judged "too old for employment or re-employment" has a large stake in our changing employment practices because, ultimately, he will be affected by them. It behooves all of us to help create an atmosphere in which we can function to our fullest physical and mental capacities.

NEXT: A home can become a trap for the aged.

She Hedges on Her Age But Stands on Own Feet

By JUANITA GREENE
Herald Staff Writer

When you've lived as long as Mrs. Elaine Bohnen you can fudge a few years on your age.

Especially if you still buy dresses from a size 13 rack and keep regular appointments at the beauty parlor.

Is she 70? Or just 60? Or maybe even as young as 55?

Nobody can say for sure except Mrs. Bohnen. And she's not saying.

The truth would cost her the $104 a month she makes at a parttime job. It would leave her just $75 a month to live on.

And that, she well knows, is impossible to do, even on Miami Beach, where she lives, eats and does all her own laundry in a tiny one room apartment.

Mrs. Bohnen is one of the thousands of Greater Miamians who gets a regular monthly Social Security check, and works parttime to supplement it.

She doesn't like the job, but she's grateful for it.

"I like to be independent," she said, with an almost fiercely proud look in her bright eyes.

From 4 to 9 p.m., six days a week, the little lady hustles on stout, specially padded shoes from counter to counter in a local variety store.

For the 30 hours she puts in as a saleslady, she gets $24, minus deductions.

The 80 cents an hour wage is considerably less than she made in Detroit, where she worked 35 years as a saleslady. But it's not the salary that she complains about.

"It's just that I get so tired," she explained. "We are on our feet the whole time, and are not allowed coffee breaks."

Then the night hours cut her off from much social activity.

"The paper is always announcing free concerts, free dances and things like that," she said. "But I can't get to them."

Mrs. Bohnen took the job because it was the only one she could find after two months of looking.

"I must have filled out at least 30 applications at different places," she sighed.

The age limit for the job was supposed to be 50. When she told them she was 55, they made an exception for her.

"I'm really a very good saleslady," she explained.

She also admitted that she would have to be at least 62, because she qualifies for Social Security. Only her employer doesn't know that.

Mrs. Bohnen
. . . icebox is small, too

If she wanted to, Mrs. Bohnen could be living in Toronto with either one of her two children.

"I tried it for a few months," she said, "but it was too quiet, too lonely. I have to be doing something. If I'm not working I feel too old, too unhappy."

"I wrote that if she sent anymore," said the little lady, "I'd send them back."

"I can make it on my own," she insisted.

And up to now she's made it.

Her biggest expense is rent. For the season she pays $90 for a room and private shower stall. In one corner is a small refrigerator, the old kind with a globe on the top. A single bed and two much repainted chests take up most of the room. There's a small table, and a stand where a hot plate would be if the law allowed one.

Mrs. Bohnen (whose name really is something else) prepares and eats almost all her meals at home. She doesn't know exactly what the grocery bill runs.

"I go out about once a week to a restaurant," she added, "but I never buy a meal that costs more than $1.25."

What about clothes?

"I bought a dress the other day on sale, for $1.59," she said, pulling it out of the closet. It was a good buy. She brought a good wardrobe with her from Detroit, and expects it to last for years.

Other expenses are kept to a bare minimum.

"Of course," she added, "we all splurge occasionally. I went to the movies Sunday night. It cost 25 cents."

Jones Heads Civil Service

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Roger W. Jones was sworn in Monday as a member of the Civil Service Commission. President Eisenhower then designated him formally as chairman.

Jones, 51, formerly served as executive deputy director of the budget bureau. He is a native of Hartford, Conn.

Engineer Named To AF Position

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Eisenhower nominated Philip B. Taylor of Montclair, N. J., Monday to be assistant secretary of the Air Force in charge of materiel.

Taylor, an engineer with the American Turbine Corp. would succeed Dudley C. Sharp who resigned in January. The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation.

Ex-Nazi Sentenced to Death; Accused in Killing of 232,000

WARSAW —(AP)— Erich Koch was sentenced to death Monday for atrocities committed while he was Nazi leader of East Poland and Western Russia in World War II.

The 64-year-old Nazi who held cabinet rank during the days of Adolf Hitler, had been on trial since last October. He denied his guilt and said he was not responsible for any of the 232,000 deaths charged against him by the prosecution.

Throngs tried to fight their way into the Warsaw provincial court to hear the verdict.

The prosecutor also accused him of causing the deaths of four million persons in Western Russia, but he was not specifically tried here on that charge.

Koch was sentenced under terms of a decree of August, 1944, dealing with war crimes and crimes against humanity. The death penalty is mandatory for persons found guilty under this decree.

The former gauleiter, intimate collaborator of Hitler, is the last of the Nazi leaders to be tried.

Koch went underground after the Allied victory and was discovered in West Germany by British searchers in 1949. Following an extradition hearing, he was handed over to the Poles for trial.

Because of health problems the trial was delayed almost 10 years.

British Tactics Help de Valera

DUBLIN, Ireland — (AP) — Thanks to the British, Eamon de Valera emerged over the weekend as an almost certain winner in the forthcoming election to choose a third president of the Irish Republic.

A formal British protest against de Valera's order releasing 21 Irish Republican Army (RA) detainees from the prison camp at Curragh appears to have clinched victory in the June elections for the 77-year-old, nearly blind prime minister.

The British protest was disclosed by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in the course of a political speech in Belfast, capital of the six counties of Northern Ireland which still are part of the United Kingdom.

Macmillan's speech set off a weekend of vehement indignation in independent Southern Ireland. De Valera called the speech "ill-advised and uncalled for," commenting: "The use or non-use of the powers of detention . . . is a matter for the Irish government alone to decide."

Court Speedup Funds Sought

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate Judiciary Committee asked the Senate Monday to authorize a $60,000 study of methods for speeding justice in the federal courts.

The resolution, approved by voice vote at a closed-door meeting, now goes to the Senate which is expected to send the measure to its rules committee for another look at the amount requested.

Lay Down Arms Cypriots Told

NICOSIA, Cyprus—(AP)—Col. George Grivas, the leader of the Greek Cypriot underground, finally told his followers Monday to lay down their arms and help Archbishop Makarios build the new republic of Cyprus.

The announcement set off jubilant celebrations by thousands of Greek Cypriot students. They poured into the streets of the capital, and formed into parades with drums pounding and bugles blaring.

Grivas issued a mimeographed leaflet from his secret hideout.

"I am obliged to order the cessation of the struggle," he said. He expressed disappointment that Cyprus had not won union with Greece but said independence is "preferable to national disruption." Union with Greece was the original aim of EOKA, the underground army.

British Jail 60 In Nyasaland

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland—(AP)—Security forces arrested 60 Africans in the tea-growing Mlanje district of Southern Nyasaland Monday in an effort to break up looting and sabotage.

Tea estates remained the chief seat of trouble on the seventh day of the state of emergency, declared to stamp out Nationalist African violence.

Except for reports of arson and intimidation in the Karong district to the far north, the protectorate was largely quiet.

Officials said the arrests followed looting and disorder in the Limbuli trading center, a small cluster of Indian stores which cater to tea workers in the district.

The Indians themselves evacuated the stores Saturday when crowds of menacing Africans descended on them. They are now under protection in a neighboring village.

The 1,500-acre Lujeri tea estate was still being threatened, police reported, by a crowd of 200 or more Africans. Security forces lined up against them.

High Court 'Instability' Attacked

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D., Ark.) charged Monday night that "instability" of the U.S. Supreme court "threatens the very foundations of our republic."

McClellan, chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee, said the court had made "more than a dozen decisions that warrant severest criticism" in the last four years.

He made his attack on the high court in a speech before a dinner of the Economic Club of New York at the Hotel Astor.

"Among other things, in these decisions it has usurped legislative powers vested in Congress; tended to favor the Communist and criminal elements of this country; glibly overruled and set aside decisions made and precedents established at a time when the court was composed of justices learned in the law and schooled in the rudiments of American jurisprudence," McClellan said.

The Arkansas Democrat said the court has "ignored and nullified" the 10th Amendment to the Constitution, which reserves to the states all powers not delegated to the federal government.

"The inevitable consequences of such decisions are frightening to comtemplate," he said. "Unless these trends can be checked, the usurpation of legislative powers stopped, state sovereignty will be destroyed, and a centralized government enthroned by judicial fiat and decree.

"Although the powers of Congress to apply remedies in this area may be limited, in my opinion the situation is of such gravity that it calls for the exercise of all legislative authority that the Congress can exert."

McClellan said he was "unwilling to stand silently by, acquiesce in, and see the sovereign states of this union reduced to a provincial status. I must protest."

He said the actions of the court constituted one of four "grave dangers" facing this country. The others, he said, were "instability" in international affairs, U. S. fiscal affairs and labor-management relations.

A Lighter Mamie Is Back Home

WASHINGTON —(P— Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower came home Monday from a three-week Arizona vacation, smilingly reporting she again had lost a little weight and had had a good rest.

The presidential plane Columbine III touched down at Washington National Airport after a flight of about five hours in fine weather from Denver, Colo.

They both bade goodby to Mrs. Eisenhower's sister, Mrs. G. Gordon Moore, who had vacationed with the first lady at Main Chance Beauty and Health Resort in Phoenix, Ariz., since Feb. 15.

Asked by a reporter if she had lost weight again, Mrs. Eisenhower smiled and when pressed to say if it was as much as the five pounds she lost on last year's visit, the first lady said "about."

"What I really had was a good rest . . . what I needed," she added.

Continuous SAC Alert Promised

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — America's atomic bombers will be placed on continuous airborne alert — regardless of cost — as soon as the Russian missile threat requires it, a high administration source said Monday.

He said it might not be needed for a year or more. But the Strategic Air Command probably will be authorized to carry on extensive tests of the alert now. For one thing, such tests would indicate how many more men SAC would need.

It now has 1.6 crews per jet bomber, not enough for the amount of flying required for a large airborne alert.

On a continuous alert, a certain number of bombers, armed with nuclear weapons and guided missiles, would be in the air at all times, ready to counter-attack if Russia launched its missiles at the free world.

The purpose would be to prevent the planes from being destroyed on the ground and to put them in the best position to react to an attack, thus increasing the deterrent to war.

At present, SAC keeps about one-third of its 2,000 airplanes on runways with their crews standing by, ready to take off in 15 minutes.

Gen. Thomas Power, SAC commander, touched off a controversy when he told the Senate preparedness subcommittee in January that he would like to start an airborn alert as soon as possible. The Defense Department denied that Power had been turned down to save money.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) and Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D., Pa.) later demanded that SAC keep some of its planes in the air at all times.

Grim Warning Issued

A-Fallout Could Kill Millions

LAFAYETTE, Ind. —(UPI) — Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby said Monday that the radioactive fallout of a nuclear attack could endanger the life of a man thousands of miles away who stayed outdoors for more than an hour.

In 1954, after the explosion of a hydrogen bomb at Bikini, the commission said the fallout had poisoned a seven thousand square mile area. A person exposed to the fallout for more than 36 hours might have died, the AEC said then.

Monday, however, Libby said the fallout, spreading over several thousand square miles, would be so intense "that it would be hazardous to life to stay out in the open for more than an hour."

"The density would be high enough so that farm land in this area would be ruined for something like 40 years for anything except the culture of feed for beef cattle or possibly swine," Libby added.

Despite the deadly fallout menace, Libby said, adequate civil defense preparations could provide an effective protection against it.

He called for prompt action to guard against fallout. Otherwise, he warned, "tens of millions of people in this nation might lose their lives because they were ignorant of the effects of radioactive fallout."

STOMACH PAINS GIVE YOU ulcer scare?

Druggists, doctors will tell you — VON'S TABLETS are one of America's most respected formulas for relief of gnawing, ulcer-like pain, burniness, bloatiness, heartburn, sour, gassy stomach, after-eating distress, due to too much acid. In 3 minutes, painful ulcer-like symptoms subside. It's true, like doctor's prescription — VON'S TABLETS absorb excess acid, soothe and insulate irritated stomach walls. Wonderful comfort or money back. Only $1.25. —Adv.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere. —Adv.

Integration Battle Enters New Phase

By DON OBERDORFER
Of Our Washington Bureau

Oberdorfer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The Southern school integration struggle has entered a new cycle of activity after grinding to a near-stop a few months ago.

That is the conclusion of seasoned observers here, including those on the well-respected and impartial Southern Education Reporting Service.

Virtually no new activity was reported on the school front while the spotlight was on Virginia and Arkansas in the months since September's school opening.

Almost co-incident with the "fall of Richmond," however, new pressures for school integration made news in at least five Southern states.

During the last month, Negroes made efforts to enter white schools in Birmingham, Ala., Wayne County, N.C., and Richmond, Va. New court actions for integration were launched in Pine Bluff, Ark., and in Greensboro and Mecklenburg County, N. C. The school board in Dade County (Miami), Florida, announced a plan of token integration.

The flurry of activity was reported by SERS, where researchers have just compiled figures showing the dramatic slowdown in integration activity over the nearly five years since the Supreme Court tossed out segregation in schools.

The court's decision came May 17, 1954. Here are the facts on the number of school districts opening some white schools to Negro children in the four periods since the historic decision:

Period Ending	Districts
June, 1956	450
June, 1957	270 more
June, 1958	60 more
Feb., 1959	20 more

This indicates that the job has largely been done in the areas where integration can come painlessly.

The total of 800 school districts where there has been some integration represents about 28 per cent of the 2,896 school districts in the South and border areas where both whites and Negroes are present.

Rising tensions on the school front hint that movement toward integration in this newest cycle of activity will be painful.

Several educators from border states at last week's conference of school integration experience here said they were lucky to have integrated when they did.

"We were' fortunate that steps were taken in 1954," said Ward I. Miller, Wilmington, Del., school superintendent. There is more tenseness now, due to some recent racial incidents, he said.

"Were we to face the situation at present perhaps we'd have to do it a little differently," Miller said.

Poison 'Jag' Dead Now 24

MONTERREY, Mexico — (UPI) — The death toll of last week's paint-thinner "jag" rose over the weekend to 24 soldiers and migrant workers dead and 41 hospitalized in serious condition.

The victims took drinks from a drum of denatured alcohol, intended for thinning paint, which fell off a truck passing through Monterrey last week. Local authorities left the drum on a lot between an army post and a recruiting center for migrant farm workers.

New Laxative By-Passes Swollen Piles Without Pain

Softly, smoothly, gently unlocks bowel blocks. Promotes regularity without strain, pain or gripe. No more "putting it off."

Doctors know that piles can cause constipation . . . and that constipation, in turn, can further aggravate piles. It is an extremely painful and vicious cycle.

Now comes a medical discovery that works 3 wonderful ways to break this cycle! (1) Moisturizes waste for easy passage from your body without strain or pain. (2) Brings soft bulk to exercise inactive colon muscles. (3) Stimulates reflexes to give you a natural urge to purge. No more "putting it off."

This discovery is new COLONAID. Only COLONAID has its amazing moisturizing capacity, plus its exercising bulk and reflex stimulation. Superior to old-style bulks, salts or drugs, COLONAID is so effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight . . . yet is hospital-proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

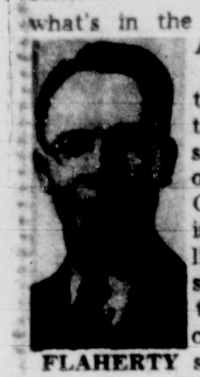
Exploration Due

Canadians To Hunt Arctic Oil

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

OTTAWA, Ont. — The Canadian government is putting scientists to work to find out what's in the bottom of the Arctic Ocean.



FLAHERTY

Some think there is oil on the continental shelf spreading out from the Canadian Arctic islands. This belief has been strong enough to prompt oil companies and speculators to apply for exploration rights on millions of acres of offshore Arctic acreage.

Up to now, although it has vigorously asserted its sovereignty over the wedge-shaped slice of land and water extending from the northern fringe of the continent to the North Pole, Canada has done comparatively little to explore the seas in the area.

The government has been somewhat embarrassed to find that Russian and American expeditions have learned more about some parts of the area than have Canadian.

The Russians have had expeditions off their own territory which sometimes have moved over into the Canadian sector. The U.S. Navy has sent atomic submarines under the Arctic ice.

This month a party of 15 men heads northward for Isacheen on Ellef Ringnes Island to start explorations extending 100 miles out to sea to the north and west of that spot. They will hop around the frozen surface of the ocean by plane, drill holes, test water depth, chemical characteristics and temperature and dig into the ocean bottom to take sample of the underlying rock.

Starting in 1960 the party will be increased to 35 or 40 and another base will be established at Mould Bay on Prince Patrick Island. The parties will work the year round traveling by ski plane in winter and float plane in summer until they complete a series of maps and charts showing the shape and resources of the shelf.

Meanwhile, interested oil companies look to the petroleum potential of the Canadian Arctic as a possible source of easily handled oil comparable to the Middle East. If they succeed in finding oil on the lands they are leasing and proceed to develop it, they might put some Canadian and American continental oil producers in the shade, costwise.

The Arctic oil fields if they mature would permit of easy loading direct from oil wells into ocean tankers for shipment anywhere in the world. Thus they would have some but not all of the transportation advantages of other near-sea oil fields such as those of Middle East.

New Mexico Senate Votes Spanking

SANTA FE, N. M.—(AP)—The New Mexico senate has passed a spanking bill. It would give teachers a firmer hand over discipline of children in public schools.

The teachers' control would not only be while the child is at school but also on the way to and from school.

The bill passed 25-6. One change was made—the addition of an emergency clause—which would make the bill effective the moment it is signed by the governor. The house must concur on the emergency amendment.

Sen. M. P. Carr said the lack of a law of this kind "is what is the matter right here in Santa Fe now, because the parents don't take care of their children."

That was a reference to an incident last week, when a 16-year-old high school sophomore fired a pistol at Porfirio Leyva, Santa Fe high school teacher, in a classroom, and grazed his skull.

Kids Miss TV Commercials

Fifth grade pupils in a Kansas City school were asked to write their comments on a daily 30-minute educational television program, undertaken here this year for the first time.

The kids loved the TV, but they had this complaint: "Thirty minutes is too long to set still."

A school official said the programs may be cut to 15 minutes next year.

A DOWNTOWN ADDRESS at low cost is one of the advantages offered by the Heiss Arcade Bldg., above.

Heiss Arcade Building Has Space Available

"This change is name was necessary because most of the offices now are occupied by watchmakers, material suppliers, diamond setters, engravers and allied industries connected with the trade," says H. K. Heiss manager.

"More than 50 per cent of the building houses the jewelry trade," he said, "because of the easy accessibility to downtown traffic and the proximity to retail jewelry stores which require the technical services of these trained craftsmen."

Conveniently located at 127 NE First Ave., just one short block north of Flagler St., this building features a self-service elevator and offers the convenience and freedom not available at most downtown buildings. "Rents are reasonable," Heiss stated, "and this is a logical location for those businesses which benefit from pedestrian traffic.

"In addition to the many jewelry trades, the upper floors house such businesses as handbag makers, violin maker, a diamond merchant, accountants, real estate brokers, commercial artists, and employment agencies.

"The third floor was occupied until recently by a large life insurance company. This leaves 4,300 square feet of office space available for rent. Still located on the third floor are the offices of a large distributor for optical supplies.

"The fourth floor is devoted to a mail and telephone service, which is operated by the Heiss management. Also on the same floor are the offices of a business management consultant, a business opportunties sales organization and an income tax consultant. The service mentioned above is very unique in its scope. This organization offers the facilities of a complete Miami office without unnecessary expenses. For amazingly low monthly rates, this service will act as your office . . . taking phone messages on a 24 hour basis and forwarding or readdressing mail.

"This service is valuable to part-time businessmen, as well as out-of-town sales or service organizations.

"It provides a Miami address at minimum cost. This, too, is an office that clients can visit in person, not just a room number or cubbyhole. In addition, individually partitioned offices in this busy downtown location are available as low as $18 per month, which includes 24-hour phone message service.

"These individual office spaces are especially useful to firms that need display space in downtown Miami or temporary offices for their traveling salesmen. At the same time, a permanent Miami address and telephone number are established easily.

"For those companies and their traveling representatives, the Heiss organization can arrange for rooms in a conveniently located hotel which they manage.

"The low rentals in The Jewelers Arcade Building make it a logical place to store excess records and files that are a problem for downtown businessmen and professions. It is uneconomical for a company to use its expensive office space for this material, and our building solves this problem.

"We also cater to trades not acceptable to many newer downtown buildings because of their light manufacturing or storage needs.

"Two office spaces on the ground floor now are available. This area was occupied by a jewelry repair organization. This would be an ideal location for any type of business associated with the jewelry trade, or a barber shop.

"Another advantage The Jewelers Arcade offers is the fact that the management speaks, reads and writes Spanish with a fair degree of fluency. This is an important factor here in Miami, 'the gateway to Latin America.'

"Considering all of the advantages of this high-traffic, low-cost location, as well as the prestige of a downtown address and the cooperative service offered by the management, any businessman will be doing himself a favor by calling us at FRanklin 1-6023 for further information."

Economical Do-It-Yourself Roof Cleaning, Coating Kits Available

ECONOMICAL roof cleaning and coating are possible when a special do-it-yourself kit is used. The roof on the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brady, 1500 NW 133rd St., shown above, was cleaned and coated with an Everwhite Products do-it-yourself kit. Everwhite cleaning compound also is available.

Complete do-it-yourself roof coating kits now are available for the low price of $24.50, at Everwhite Products, 3577 W. Flagler St.

"These kits contain all the materials needed to clean and coat the roof of an average size home," says M. J. Spellman, owner of the firm. "It also is fortified with a pint jar of pure plastic additive which makes the coating more durable."

Developed for the do-it-yourself home owner, each roof coating kit contains Everwhite cleaning compound, two brushes, and a specially prepared roof coating.

"This is a gleaming white roof coating," Spellman said, "that last longer, repels water better, resists mildew and mold, and costs less than many other products.

"For more than a year, we have been testing this coating on roofs throughout South Florida. We are satisfied that we have as nearly perfect a combination of ingredients as it is possible to find.

"The present coating, as a result of experimentation, is heavy with cement and lacking completely in sand. It is strengthened with titanium and a waterproofing compound. It also contains a powerful fungicide to ward off the formation of unsightly mold and mildew.

"Another item featured at Everwhite Products is Everwhite cleaning compound. It works miracles on tile, terrazzo, porcelain and other similar surfaces.

"And what a timesaver it is in tile bathrooms! You just rub it over the tile, let it stand a few minutes and then wipe it off. All mildew and mold are removed, and your bathroom looks spotless."

Further information and delivery of Everwhite roof coating kits may be obtained by calling Spellman at HIghland 5-2727.

His Legislative Ace-in-Hole

Collins May Appoint 30 to Circuit Judgeships

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. LeRoy Collins has an ace-in-the-hole going into next month's session of the Legislature.

The Legislature is top-heavy with lawyers — and Collins may have nearly 30 additional circuit judgeships to appoint before his term expires in 1961.

BOYLES

Collins already holds the record for judicial appointments having named 37 of the 78 circuit judges in Florida, two members of the Supreme Court, nine judges to the Court of Appeals.

Usually, a lame-duck governor has trouble with the Legislature in the final session before his term is up. Already, Collins looks to be headed for a stormy session.

But with the possibility of a judgeship appointment, more than one attorney-legislator is likely to try to cooperate with the chief executive rather than fight him on some of his key proposals.

New circuit judgeships are created for each 50,000 population or "major fraction thereof," although some counties require special enabling laws to call for a survey to determine whether additional judges shall be appointed.

If the Legislature adopts recommendations of the Florida Judicial Council, Collins may be able to add still more names to his list of judicial appointments.

The Judicial Council urges removal of the constitutional limitation of three District Courts of Appeal of three judges each, allowing more districts and more judges if needed. Collins could conceivably have the privilege of naming more appellate judges in 1960.

Florida's estimated population of 4,848,000 is expected to be close to five million by 1960. Dade County, which now has 14 Circuit Judges — more than any other circuit—might get a half dozen more by the end of 1960, depending on how close its population moves to the million mark.

The state now pays Circuit Judges $13,500 a year and counties supplement the salaries. Many, including those in Dade County, are paid more than justices of the State Supreme Court.

Dade and Monroe County also supplement salaries of the Third District Court of Appeals judges, who receive $16,500 a year from the state.

The Dade County Bar Association has recommended pay raises, boosting Supreme Court justices from $17,500 to $25,000, District Court of Appeals (Miami), from $21,500 to $23,000, and Circuit Judges from $19,000 to $22,000.

But Rep. Cliff Herrell of Miami already announced he will strongly oppose the proposal.

Since the incoming Legislature seems economy-bent, the question may arise as to whether the state has, or will soon reach the point, where it can slow down for a while on the creation of new judgeships.

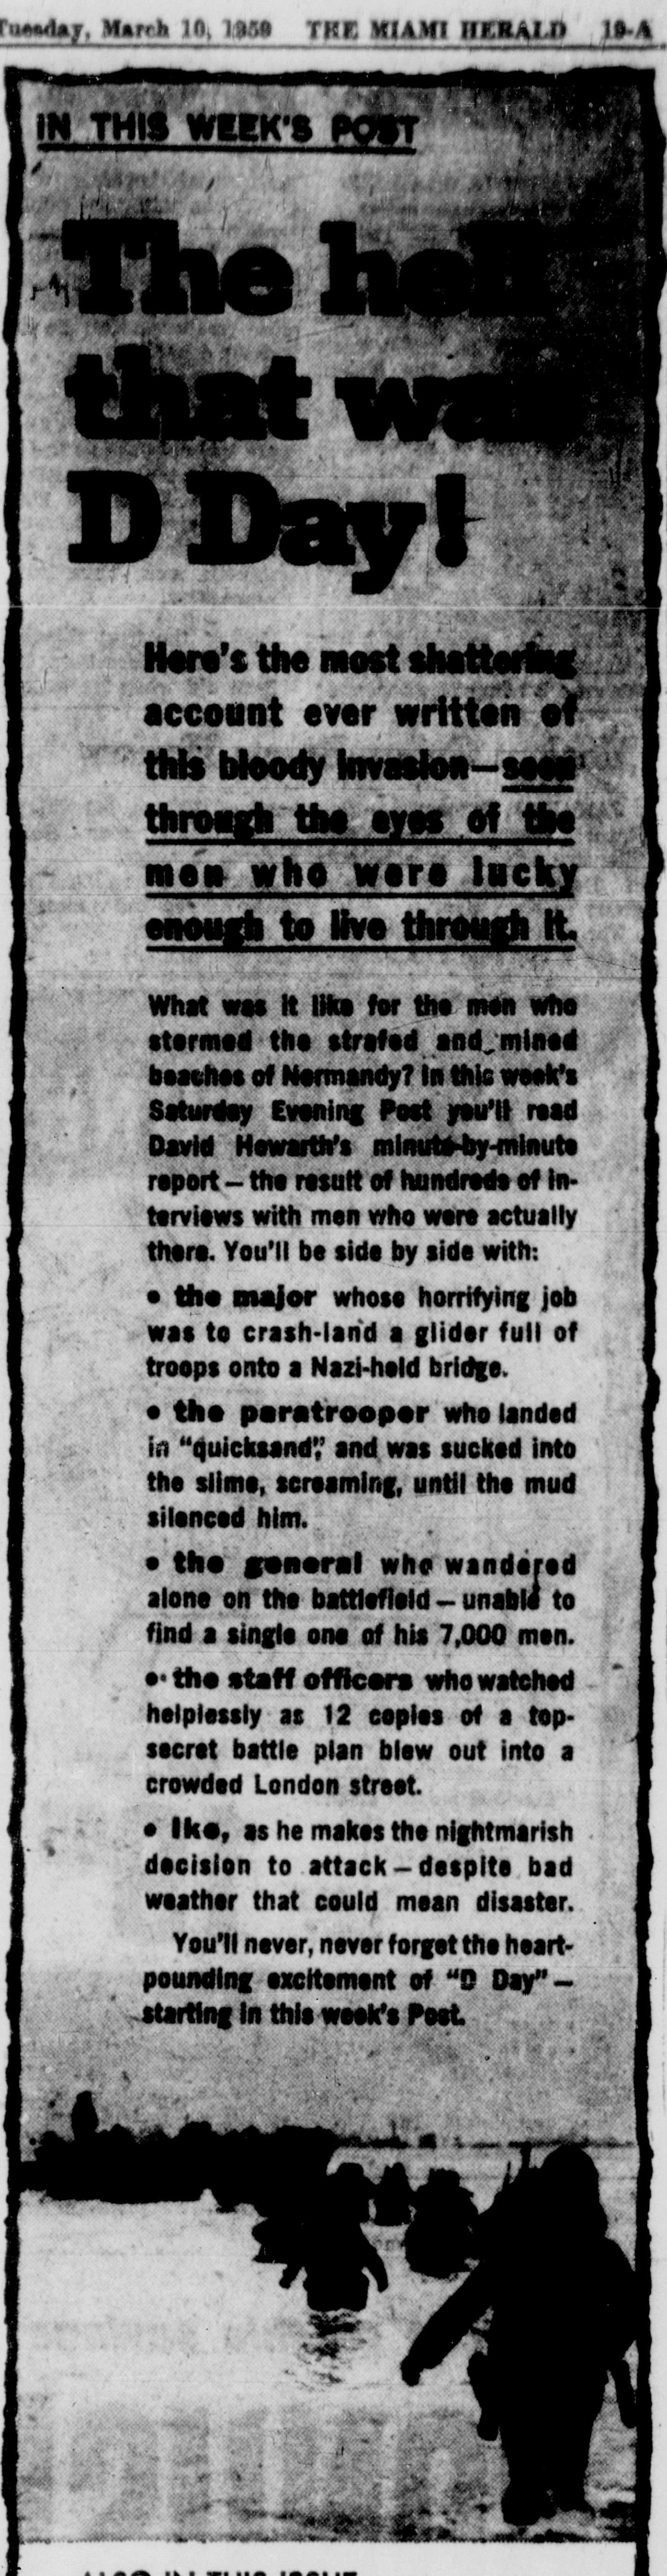
IN THIS WEEK'S POST



The hell that was D Day!

Here's the most shattering account ever written of this bloody invasion—seen through the eyes of the men who were lucky enough to live through it.

What was it like for the men who stormed the strafed and mined beaches of Normandy? In this week's Saturday Evening Post you'll read David Howarth's minute-by-minute report—the result of hundreds of interviews with men who were actually there. You'll be side by side with:

- the major whose horrifying job was to crash-land a glider full of troops onto a Nazi-held bridge.
- the paratrooper who landed in "quicksand," and was sucked into the slime, screaming, until the mud silenced him.
- the general who wandered alone on the battlefield—unable to find a single one of his 7,000 men.
- the staff officers who watched helplessly as 12 copies of a top-secret battle plan blew out into a crowded London street.
- Ike, as he makes the nightmarish decision to attack—despite bad weather that could mean disaster.

ALSO IN THIS ISSUE:

Our blood-bank scandal!

Why do some hospitals make money on the blood you donate? Demand five pints for every one they administer? Refuse to honor membership in "competing" blood clubs? Here's the appalling story of how your blood has become a weapon in the struggle between two powerful groups. Read "What's Wrong With Our Blood Banks?"

The "boss" who helps pick Presidents

He was key man in nominating FDR, Truman, Stevenson. And again Democratic hopefuls look to David Lawrence, governor of Pennsylvania, for the nod. Here's whom he favors . . . and why!

My fight against paralysis

From the hospital, Maurice Stokes, Cincinnati Royals' courageous star, tells of his vow to play basketball again.

Big revival on the Ohio

Once again cargo-laden river barges are busy plying the Ohio. The old-time color and excitement are there—but with a difference!

McElroy to Stick Around for Berlin

By JAMES M. HASWELL
By Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Despite rumors to the contrary, Defense Secretary Neil McElroy is expected to stay on the job—the Berlin crisis and the budget crisis.

McELROY

Command at the Pentagon isn't likely to change until fall—or later.

Top civilians at the Pentagon say they don't know what will happen in the closing days of President Eisenhower's administration when presidential hopefuls will be openly competing for public attention.

They hope the perennial Air Force, Army and Navy competition for more money and more weapons won't be drawn into the debating.

It scares the public and is likely to create false values.

Everybody admits those were bad old days at the close of the Truman administration when the Air Froce blocked Navy carrier construction, and the Navy used a secret publicity task force to denounce B36s.

One of the first things former Defense Secretary Charles Wilson did when he took over in 1953 was to bring Pentagon budget quarrels back into the Pentagon.

So far, McElroy, with the firm backing of President Eisenhower, has pretty well kept them there.

The Berlin crisis has again stirred up congressional anxiety about the needs — and the hopes — of the separate services, however.

McElroy has been having a rough time convincing senators and representatives he's buying the right kind of missiles and keeping enough men in uniform. Talk of his coming retirement hasn't helped him any.

Friends say McElroy has got to leave — for personal financial reasons — by the end of the year, unless we are at war.

This probably means that somebody like Deputy Defense Secretary Donald Quarles or Interior Secretary Fred Seaton will take the job for the rest of the Eisenhower administration. Few think that another outsider will be brought in.

The Miami Herald
For and about WOMEN

TAKE IT EASY AT FIRST

Exercise Routine

By ELEANOR HART
Herald Glamour Clinic Editor

(This is the third in a series of articles on Police Matrons Dorothy, age 42, and Mary, 40, who lost weight and inches, improved their posture and changed the color of their hair with the help of The Miami Herald Glamor Clinic).

Your waist line is your life line, but alas, you have to stretch for it!

Glamor Clinic

For the woman on a diet, exercise is a must, to keep muscles firm and take up the slack as the surplus flesh begins to melt away.

Go easy at first, however, until your body becomes accustomed to this new regime of twisting and turning.

Mary, a solidly built athletic type, was accustomed to doing calisthenics at home. Therefore, she was more limber than Dorothy at the beginning of their Glamor Clinic course.

For example, she could easily bend down and touch the floor, keeping her knees straight, while Dorothy had to stretch, and stretch hard.

But Dorothy was game and stuck with her exercise program — 30 minutes a day.

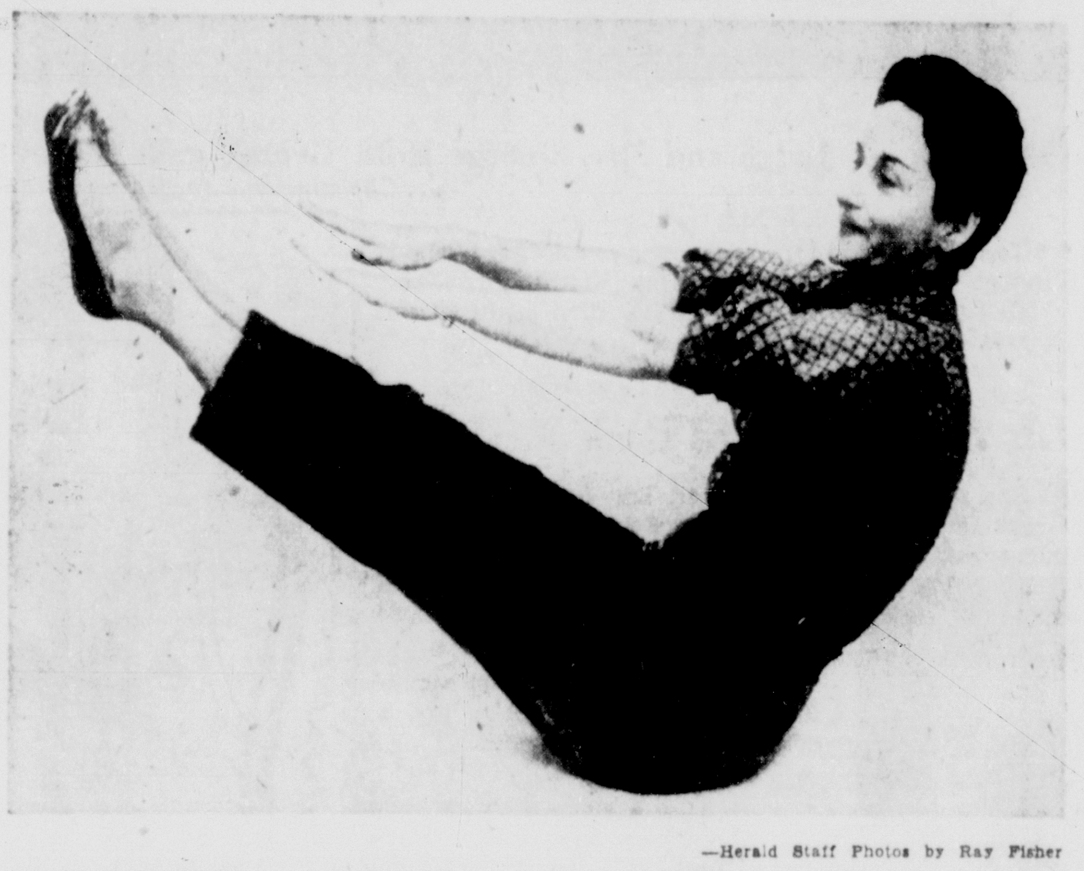
Now that she's lost those excess pounds, does she still exercise — regularly?

"No," she confesses, "I don't — just when I think about it. But I know," she hastens to add, "that I should — and maybe I will — tomorrow!"

Mary, on the other hand, is still at it.

NEXT: Hip and Thigh Exercises.

Don't YOU wait until tomorrow! Send for your copy of Glamor Clinic exercises for major figure faults, also the Mayo Clinic diet. Send a stamped, addressed envelope with your request to the Glamor Clinic, Miami Herald, Miami, Fla.



—Herald Staff Photos by Ray Fisher

V FOR VICTORY, in waist and tummy trimming. Lie flat on floor, legs straight, toes pointed, arms extended above head. Lift legs and arms simultaneously off floor, keeping them straight, as Mary does, and touch hands to toes. This is a toughie for it's all done in one movement. Return to starting position. 5 times.

Gen. Bradley Wins Again

By REGRET
Herald Columnist

Winners' Circle

Five-star Gen. Omar Bradley, USA, needn't worry about being forgotten by posterity. War records and history books bristle with his name.

Now it looks like the general, long a turf fan, might go down in racing history too. Robert Lytle, California owner-breeder, has named one of his yearling colts Omar Bradley.

Gen. Bradley and his wife are vacationing here, currently the guests of Leo D'Orsey at Kenilworth House. They stopped by Gulfstream Park last week and wouldn't you know — the General displayed his talent for victory by picking a $62.50 winner.

No one seems quite as fond of busman's holidays as racetrack officials. You can almost be sure of finding one at home away from home.

The early days of Gulfstream Park's meeting found president Matt Winn Williamson of the new Latonia track near Louisville, Ky., looking over the place. He's a grandson of the late, great Col. Matt Winn of Churchill Downs who, it might be said "made" the Kentucky Derby.

Mr. Williamson is also a director of Churchill Downs.

Williamson's pretty blond wife, Dorothy left Thursday to get back to their four children ages 16, 10, 8 and two-and-a-half. They may very well be down again since Latonia, which has its offices in Louisville, doesn't open until Aug. 27.

New Englanders See Our Track

Another top man in his professional element as a visitor is Charles A. Connors of Boston, chairman of the board at Narragansett Race Track in Pawtucket, R.I. He and his pert wife spend the winter season here at the Pan American, making sure they're home for Narragansett's split season in July and November when they close the New England racing season.

With the Connorses in their box at Gulfstream Saturday were their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Connors Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John Welch from Wellesley, Mass. The senior Connors family plans to go home to Boston for Easter.

Still Another Visiting Fireman

And still another visiting fireman is Albert J. Horan who has stock in Chicago's Washington and Arlington Parks. A semi-retired insurance man from Chicago he has a farm in southern Illinois where he keeps a few brood mares.

Mr. Horan and his wife have been vacationing in Miami ever since 1924 when they came here on their honeymoon.

"That was the year the Roney Plaza opened, and we paid $30 a day to stay there then," he quipped Saturday at Gulfstream.

Now he and his wife almost qualify as residents. They own a home in Bal Harbour, and Mr. Horan is a director and trustee of St. Francis Hospital.

Candles Outshine One Race Horse

Steven "Laddie" Sanford and his vivacious blonde wife Mary went to the races Saturday. They had a horse in the fifth race, Tribes Hill, but Mary was far more talkative about the Candlelight Ball in Palm Beach Thursday for which she is entertainment chairman.

"Candles everywhere, no light anywhere except candlelight," she said excitedly, "and Prince Aly Kahn will be there."

Dr. Regina Gabler—A Surgeon and a Homemaker

By JEAN WARDLOW
Herald Staff Writer

Women doctors are taken in stride by the American public these days. But a woman surgeon is still a rarity.

Dr. Regina Gabler of Atlanta, for example, is one of only four women among nearly 2,000 members of the Southeastern Surgical Congress.

And according to registration Monday, she was the only woman surgeon to attend the 27th annual assembly at the Dauville Hotel...

"She's not only a fine surgeon, but is very interested in being a mama and a homemaker," said her surgeon husband Dr. Irving L. Greenberg, who won his county's honor of being this year's outstanding citizen. "I wouldn't have had any honors without her," he said.

Dr. Gabler is a modest, quiet-spoken woman with short brown hair, blue eyes and a willingness to praise her husband rather than talk about her own work. So her husband filled in—happily, too.

"She was my junior interne in surgery," said Dr. Greenberg, speaking of their meeting in a Harlem hospital. Pretty Dr. Gabler had just graduated from New York Medical College.

They were married in New York. "And we decided on three things before we were married," Dr. Greenberg said:

"One, we'd go back to Atlanta to practice.

"Two, if she ever quit the profession it would be her decision, not mine.

"Three, that neither of us would permit ourselves to get fat. We feel very strongly about that," he said piercing a fork full of chef's salad which both he and Dr. Gabler had ordered for lunch. "Obesity kills more people than most of the surgical problems you can think of."

Dr. Gabler is the mother of two children — Leonard David, 11, and Ira Alan, almost 6. Because of them she has cut down her practice to half time. "I try to stay away from the office two days a week." But she doesn't usually succeed, she said.

She and her husband share a suite of offices, often consult about the same patients. And Dr. Gabler thinks that "after the children are older, I'll probably return to a full-time practice, rather than retire."

But in spite of her full schedule as surgeon (gynecologist) and mother she has time for community activities too. She's on the boards of Atlanta's Family Service and Jewish Federation of Social Service, is active in Hadassah, Jewish Welfare and in drives for Red Cross and Heart Association.

Did she have a hard time becoming established as a woman surgeon "Not at all," she replied. "I think mainly because my husband was so well known in the community."

2 Benefits for Hospital

Women's chapters of the National Children's Cardiac Hospital are holding fund raising events for the hospital this month.

Miami Beach Chapter will hold its annual pledge luncheon Wednesday in the Eden Roc Hotel. Sammy Davis Jr. is expected to entertain and there'll be a fashion show by Barker's of 71st St. Kenneth Oka, mayor of Miami Beach will be master of ceremonies. Mrs. Edward Feinstein is taking reservations.

Miami Chapter will hold its annual luncheon March 17 in the Saxony Hotel. Mrs. William Weintraub is in charge of this event.

Gold Rush Lives Again at Surf Club

By HELEN WELLS
Herald Society Editor

"A bunch of the boys were whoopin' it up in the Malamute Saloon . . . back of the bar, in a solo game, sat Dangerous Dan McGrew, and watching his luck, was his light-o'-love, the lady that's known as Lou . . ."

Robert Service who wrote The Shooting of Dan McGrew, would have been right in his element Saturday at the Surf Club's only costume ball of the gala season. Dangerous Dans, ladies known as Lou and other Yukon characters were all over the place.

Alfred Barton

Man and Boy, you've never seen the likes of the pretty legs, so well showed off under can-can skirts; decolletages, down to here . . .; two-inch-long false eyelashes waving in the breeze. And don't think the men weren't having themselves a time playing cowboy and gambler.

Person-to-Person

Only unhappy ones at the party were the poor judges . . . Clay Aldridge, director of Lowe Gallery, Midge Acer, Alan Howard, who donated the 14 handsome silver prizes and 14 bottles of the bubbly, and little ole me. When each costume was better than the next, how to choose??

First prize went to Charlie Moon whose mule skinner's costume was wonderful, but Joe Douglass, who was late arriving, would have been a strong contender. Joe was a full-fledged miner leading his real live burro. It was hard to recognize Gen. Omar Bradley behind his mustache.

Gen. Bradley

I'll be willing to bet that the sourdoughs in Alaska never saw anything like Zoe Armstrong! She walked away with first prize in her almost-not-there-white-spangled dance hall girl's regalia with tall white ostrich plumes on her red head. She's got what it takes to wear this get-up!

Mr. Aldridge watched a certain can-can girl anxiously as she walked past the band stand in the grand march. "What would happen if she sneezed?" he wondered.

Celeste and Charlie Moon
. . . mule skinner Charlie won first prize

The rhinestone heels on Helen Berry's shoes under her can-can skirt lighted up when she walked. She and Loren entertained at the largest party of the evening.

Christine and Judge George Holt, Audrey and George Salley looked simply marvelous in their gay 90s rigs . . . the "girls" had made their stunning dresses; Suzanne and Frank Tenzer were unrecognizable in their Japanese get-ups; Kay Marshall was a can-can Diamond Lil . . . "Real diamonds from the neck down," she volunteered.

Authentic panner for gold, Bill Pattison brought along his big gold nugget. Under short gold satin balloon dress and sprinkled gold dust, was Marcia Pawley!

Cowboys and can-can girls served dinner and cocktails; the sets were superb with signs such as "Wanted, Soapy Matthews, wife stealer" and provocative figures of "Light-o'-loves" sitting on the railing of a log house.

What made this party so much fun was that everyone entered into the spirit of the gold rush days. Those who weren't in costume were in the large minority.

Never thought to see the day when the svelte Alfred I. Barton, executive v.p. of the club, would appear in dungarees. But there he was, a combination of gold miner and cowboy.

Among the sirens were Marge (Mrs. Joe) Hendry in a slinky gold sequined sheath and Janet (Mrs. Huston) St. Clair in a huge black picture hat smothered in ostrich plumes and red sequin sheath. Janet remarked that there were four things she couldn't do, "Sneeze, sit down, eat or drink!"

Gambler Steve Quade handed out cards which read, "Have feet, will dance . . . Yancy P. Masterson . . . alias, Stephen Quade." He and Dorothy were cutting a mean rug.

Seven Kennedys

EXTRA ADDED ATTRACTION at the Bath Club's fashion show dinner dance on March 19 will be the appearance of Ethel Kennedy in the fashion parade with her and George's six little Ks, Karen, Kathy, Kimberly, Bill, Wayne and blonde baby Kendel.

Houseguest From New York

Blown in with the March winds was Caroline O'Brien of Scarsdale, N.Y. She is the houseguest of the Alvin Petersons at their home, Marpete, in South Miami.

Until a year ago Mrs. O'Brien had a winter home in South Miami. She claims she still has that proverbial sand in her shoes.

* * *

Zooming in from New York by jet was Eleanor Lyons Williams who is visiting her sister, Terri Strickland and husband Ed at their N Waterway Drive home. Eleanor and Terri took the Stricklands' young son, Edward, who is Eleanor's godchild to his first circus at the Surf Club.

The Blackmons Are Back

She deserted us last winter, but Johnny Blackmon is back this year and has joined Fred in their Bal Harbour apartment. But they may not be there for long. They are hunting for a house which you might say they need like a hole in the head!

Hostess Muriel

Festive dinner party at La Bastille on Thursday evening was given by Muriel Hirsch Pick.

Baked Potato in Fancy Dress

Lavish Way with Baked Potatoes—Mashed and Stuffed ... sour cream and finely snipped chives are blended

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Homemaking Editor

Daily Food Guide

Boil it, broil it, mash it, hash it, saute it, souffle it, dice, slice or rice it. Or bake it.

Plain baked potatoes are good. But to get super compliments scoop out the steaming pulp, mash with sour cream, chives and seasonings and stuff back into the potato shell for broiling.

FAMILY DINNER

Braised Pork Chops
Chive Stuffed Baked Potatoes
Buttered Broccoli
Tossed Green Salad
Heated French Bread
Chocolate Pudding

Potatoes can be baked at a lower temperature, but it shortens cooking time to bake them at 400 degrees.

CHIVE STUFFED BAKED POTATOES

6 medium-size baking potatoes
½ cup sour cream
1½ tablespoons finely snipped chives
1½ teaspoons salt (or to taste)
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 teaspoons butter or margarine
More snipped chives

Wash and dry potatoes. Bake in a preheated hot oven (400 degrees) 1 hour or until tender. To test, press sides of potatoes gently with fingers wrapped with a towel.

Cut off a slice from the top of each potato. Scoop out centers, being careful not to break skins. Mash until fluffy. Add sour cream, chives, salt and pepper. Mix well. Pile into shells. Dot each with 1 teaspoon butter. Place on baking pan. Brown under broiler, having oven control set to broil. Garnish with more chives. Makes 6 servings.

Quick Dessert

A busy-day dessert is made by blending 1 cup applesauce with ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon bottled fig juice and 1 stiffly beaten egg white. Serves 4.

Wanted-- Efficient Help For Cleaning Terrazzo Floors

By JEAN WARDLOW
Herald Staff Writer

READERS' EXCHANGE

One good floor query deserves another, believes Mrs. M. D. of Miami. She saw the response for cleaning tile. She's hoping for some of the same in answer to her problem.

Concerns terrazzo.

Wants to know what will take a sealer off terrazzo. "The hardware man said lacquer thinner will, but it will also crack the cement." She wants none of that, of course.

And Mrs. S. S. of Miami Beach wants to know "the easiest and most efficient way to clean terrazzo floors." She's about to move into what she calls "a used home," and wants to be prepared.

Drip-Drip That Pleated Skirt

JUST IN CASE you were losing sleep over wash and wear fabrics: The Cleanliness Bureau says that machine washing and drying is safe for all wash-and-wear except—except, mind you — permanent pleats. They should be dripped dry.

* * *

What's YOUR Pet Dressing Recipe?

Nothing like jumping the gun. But when Mrs. E. W. of Miami Springs wrote in to ask for a recipe for roquefort cheese dressing, we knew Herald Homemaking Editor Jeanne Voltz had some good ones, so thought we'd pass them along, THEN ask if readers have any good ones to add to it.

ROQUEFORT DRESSING

CREAMY ROQUEFORT DRESSING

Combine 1 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, and 1 cup light cream. Crumble ½ pound Roquefort cheese into the mixture. Mix well and serve with tomatoes, greens.

Makes about 3 cups of dressing.

* * *

Can anyone add another roquefort recipe?

* * *

Which Dress Goes With What

All of which brings up a small "do" about what kind of dressing to use with what. Here are a few helps:

FRENCH — toss with greens, marinate vegetables, use either tart or sweet ones for fruit.

MAYONNAISE (or combination thereof) — meat, seafood, egg and all molded salads.

SOUR CREAM — fruit and vegetable salads.

Vary dressings a bit and maybe the men in your family won't twitch their pink noses and call salads bunny food.

How To Stop That Drip

"Stop that," writes Mrs. F.B. of Miami. She's talking about milk pitchers that drip. Add nothing to the tablecloth, you know, except extra work to get the stains out.

"Rub a bit of butter along the edge of the pouring spout. That will solve your problem," she says.

'We Want a Library' Is Cry

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Club Editor

These women have been working for a library since May, 1956, when the women's division was organized, and now they're only one step from their goal.

All three communities have made a place in their budgets for support of a branch library—$15,000 split among the three. And the Miami Public Library, under contract with the City of Miami, will open the library extension with a librarian, an assistant and more than 1,000 books.

The women's division has furnished a place for the library in the chamber building, bought the shelves, laid the flooring, and taken care of other details. It plans to give the tables and chairs and take care of the cleaning when the library opens.

Everything is all set, except. . .

The residents of the three towns must vote their approval of the library in referendums. Surfside votes on the question March 17; the other two towns vote in April.

This evening the women are sponsoring an open forum and panel discussion on the benefits of a public library. Meeting is at 8 p.m. in the Surfside town hall, 9290 Harding Ave. It is free and open to the public.

Panelists will be Dr. Frank Sessa, director of Miami Public Library; Dr. Archie L. McNeal, president of the Florida State Library Association; Dr. John L. Yenches from Church-by-the-Sea; Alex Gordon, commissioner from district five. Mrs. Max Dobrin will be moderator and the mayors of the three towns also will give short talks.

In the past few weeks, the women's division has given several coffees to acquaint residents with the need for a library. On election days, members will furnish transportation and babysitters for voters.

Some of the members are now working in the campaign headquarters at 9457 Harding Ave., distributing information and urging residents to vote yes.

In addition, the women's division arranged for the formation of the Surf-Bal-Bay Library Association, a non-profit organization to receive contributions to the library. Mrs. Rhea Cashman Gladwin is chairman of this association.

Dads' Clubs Will Hear UM's Dr. Mark Murfin

Dr. Mark Murfin, chairman of the University of Miami's elementary education department, is a popular speaker in school circles.

He'll speak at 8 p.m. tonight for Flagami Elementary PTA's "daddies night," on "Parents and Teachers Thinking Together." The men teachers and fathers on the PTA board will conduct the meeting.

The oldest Daddies Club in Miami — Coral Way Elementary School Daddies Club — will hear Dr. Murfin speak at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the school cafetorium. Program honors parents and teachers. Dr. Murfin's topic then will be "Parents' Responsibility in a Changing World."

* * *

Which Plants Are Poisonous?

You are invited to learn about the poisonous plants of South Florida along with members of Comstock PTA and Daddies Club. Mrs. Julia Morton will speak on this subject tonight at an 8 p.m. meeting in the school cafetorium, 2420 NW 18th Ave.

Mrs. Morton is director of the Morton Collectanea at the University of Miami. She will illustrate her talk with color slides of toxic fruits and plants. Refreshments will follow.

How Healthy Is School Child?

Central Beach Elementary PTA has invited a surgeon, psychiatrist, pediatrician and orthodontist to discuss the health of a school age child at 8 p.m. tonight in the school auditorium, 1420 Washington Ave., Miami Beach.

"Recent Advances in Medicine and Surgery Affecting the School Age Child," is the topic of this symposium, to be moderated by Dr. David Crane, director of maternal and child health of the Dade County Public Health department.

Science Fair Opens Today

Science fair at Benjamin Franklin Elementary School will be opened at the PTA meeting at 3 p.m. today.

To emphasize the scientific achievements of the school's namesake, the students will be flying kites to commemorate Benjamin Franklin's kite experiment with electricity.

Exhibits in the fair will include a scale model house wired for electricity, craters and shadows of the moon and Florida industries.

Luncheon Has Alaskan Theme

DECORATIONS and gifts for the guests will have an Alaskan theme at the luncheon, fashion show and card party to be given today by the Women's Society of Church-by-the-Sea in Bal Harbour. Party starts at noon in the Americana Hotel and 900 guests are expected.

Fashions from Martha of the Americana will be shown. Proceeds will be used for the women's society's welfare work and to support the church's medical missionaries, Dr. and Mrs. Ed Riggs in the Ramnad district of South India.

New Powder Kills Roaches

Up until now one of the main problems with developing an effective method to kill roaches has been the fact that as soon as science develops new chemicals to combat it, the roach develops a tolerance to the insecticides.

This new powder comes in a squeeze can and one can — 1¼ ounces — is adequate to rid an average house of roaches. Its manufacturers, a local company, say that the residual action last indefinitely.

The product also is non-toxic to both human beings and animals, so can be used freely without worry regarding children or pets.

The roach powder contains silica aerogel, which dries the insect to death by penetrating normal oily or waxy covering on the insect and causing loss of moisture from the insects' body.

It's because the action of the powder is physical, rather than chemical that resistance or tolerance to the product cannot occur as with chemicals which kill by interference with biochemical pathways.

The company says that the product also is effective against the house fly, honey ant, drywood termite, bed bugs, the cat flea and various kinds of beetles, among others.

Where To Buy?

Grown-Ups' Styles Aren't for Junior

NEW YORK —(WNS)— The newest rage among the playground set — miniature minks and pseudo-minks for moppets, high-heeled plastic play slippers, fur doll-carriage covers, dolls dressed like grown-ups, kiddie cars designed like Cadillacs and little boys' gray flannels and fedoras cut like Daddy's — has stirred up a storm of protest among child care experts and psychiatrists.

'My Little Girl Is Happy But She Talks Too Much'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I have the opposite problem of Puzzled — my 6-year-old is a chatterbox, and I would like suggestions from the readers on how to "control" her.

She is in the first grade and her teacher says she talks too much, interrupts too often and doesn't pay attention when lessons are explained.

The child is happy, well adjusted, plays equally well with boys and girls. We have never spanked her for the behavior but have kept her in the yard and threatened physical punishment "next time."

She has a great fear of being spanked, having had one spanking in the past. At home she is kind, helpful, but talks more than she should.

Our older child is a boy who does his share of conversing at home and at school. Since he was our first, we often spanked him for wrong doing, and it accomplished nothing — made him more rebellious, if anything.

My husband and I were quiet, respectful children, and that's a fact we haven't forgotten. We were terribly afraid to speak unless we were spoken to.

PERPLEXED

If I had to choose between a child who feared everything and one who feared nothing, I'd take the latter. But quite frankly, I don't believe such a person exists.

Sometimes, you know, the louder we shout, the more frightened we are!

Your little girl sounds lively, healthy and happy. So instead of worrying about her exuberance, thank Heaven she has it.

As for her "problem" in school — could it be that when she interrupts she does so because she doesn't understand, and if her query is ignored, she reacts by ignoring the teacher later on?

But more often it's the shy, diffident, unsure child who tries to find himself and bolsters up his ego by calling attention to himself in any way he can.

There is, of course, no overall answer. But in general, as in most child behavior problems, it is more effective to try to find out why the child behaves as he does rather than punishing him simply for disapproved behavior.

* * *

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

Although I am a mother young in years, I too am "ancient" and "old-fashioned" in the raising of my two little ones, 2½ and 1 year.

My husband and I began training them from the time they were born, with regular sleeping and feeding schedules at first, then gentle but firm discipline as they began to be active enough to get into things.

Both are in bed by 6 o'clock each night, and we never hear a peep until 7 the next morning. They take good naps each afternoon, but you would be amazed at the number of parents who put young children to bed as late as 10 p.m. and think nothing of it.

When mine are old enough, you can be sure they will never be allowed to see movies that contain violence and filth.

I believe the main reason children are exposed to these terrible movies is that the parents don't want to miss them. So rather than get a sitter, they drag the children along.

New 'Art'--Mosaics From Egg Shells

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Staff Writer

Friends and neighbors of Julius Kohn don't throw out their egg shells. They give them to Mr. Kohn who makes intricate mosaics with egg shells.

Julius Kohn

Mr. Kohn says he's probably the only person with this hobby, which started when a niece of his was trying to find a mosaic to hang over her piano.

She couldn't find what she wanted, so Mr. Kohn, who had been doing "ordinary shell work" volunteered to make a mosaic for her.

Mr. Kohn says his hobby is inexpensive and "to some extent therapeutic." He is a watchmaker from New York City who retired after an operation which affected the use of his right arm.

"If you have some kind of physical trouble, a hobby like this helps you not to think about it," he says.

And he would be willing to teach his hobby to people who do rehabilitation work.

HERE IS HOW he makes the mosaics.

He prepares the egg shells by removing all membrane (this must be done by hand) and tinting them with all-purpose dye, the kind used for clothing. White egg shells take colors best, he says. Brown shells can be used if you're dying them black.

The design of the mosaic is traced on masonite or other stiff backing. For some of his designs, Mr. Kohn outlines the figure in extra thin gold braid. Then he marks each segment with the color he plans to put in it.

The tiny pieces of colored egg shell are then placed in their proper sections and glued to the backing with a waterproof cement.

This is the step which takes the most time — putting the little pieces in place. One mosaic with a toreador has 1,736 pieces of shell in the toreador figure. It is about 12 inches wide, 24 inches tall.

Backgrounds of Mr. Kohn's mosaics resemble coarse sand, but they're also made of shells. He crushes the tinted shells through a food strainer, then sifts out the too-fine pieces to get just the right consistency.

This material can be sprinkled on a large glued portion of the background in a short time. Some of his mosaics are made entirely of the sandy material. He has an Oriental landscape with the shades of night intricately worked out in the crushed shells.

His pair of calypso dancers, done in coral and a rich brown with a sandy beige background, took around 100 hours to make. Mr. Kohn admits that he copies some of his designs and some are original.

He has no previous art experience and says he "sees things now in a different light. I look for forms and I see things I never noticed before."

Mr. Kohn isn't interested in selling his mosaics. He explains practically that $150 would barely pay for the time he put into the two calypso dancers. "I'd rather give them to my relatives and friends," he says.

His mosaics will be displayed Monday through Wednesday in the art exhibit at Oceanfront Auditorium, sponsored by the Miami Beach Recreation Department and today he'll give a demonstration of how to make the mosaics.

Buying a Vacuum Cleaner? Better Consult an Expert

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The variety of vacuum cleaners on the market is designed to help the housewife, but she'll be confused without professional advice.

Some homes have a combination of area rugs, bare floors, fine carpeting and carpeted stairs.

This set up requires a versatile cleaner, such as a wedge-shaped canister model which can glide along a floor or stand upright on stairs.

A college girl or teen-ager who cleans her own room might use a hand vacuum cleaner. They are easily stored, weigh only about three and a half pounds, and also are useful in cars, boats, summer cottages and porches.

Bobbies To the Rescue

LONDON — (WNS) — A London mother, off for a day of shopping, instructed her son to call the police in case of serious trouble.

Soon after she left, the youngster took her advice and put in the phone call.

When the police arrived, he explained that he was having trouble with his arithmetic homework and hoped they would help him.

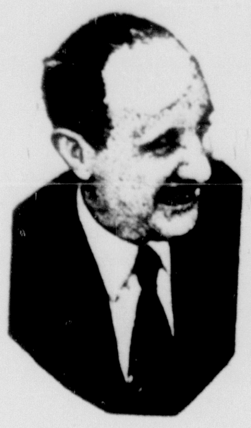
Club Offers Sinatra $20,000 but He Can't if He 'Can---Cans'



FONTAINEBLEAU's Ben Novack isn't the only one wishing Frank Sinatra were twins or triplets so he could be performing in two supper clubs at the same time, the better to handle the crowds. Pressure of his commitments — the latest of which is to star in the film version of "Can Can"—forced Frank to turn down a $20,000 offer to do a week at a Havana casino while he was in the neighborhood. And the Chez Paree in Chicago wasn't able to book him for a split week he had open because it was feared the short date would damage good will of regular patrons who couldn't be accommodated. Havana Capri, Riviera and Nacional operators are beginning to loosen the purse strings in their talent hunts.

The Buck Rays, of Silver Springs., are hosts to Gary Merrill, Chester Morris, Pat Henning and Victor Jory, who are working in "I, the Hunter," Henning has the juicy role of a sadistic killer . . .

With Sammy Davis, Jr., playing to turn-away business at the Eden Roc Cafe Pompeii, an extra opportunity for a look-see at the talented performer pops up Wednesday, we are reminded by Dolly Reiner Feinstein, when the Miami chapter of the Miami National Children's Cardiac hospital stages its pledge luncheon at the Eden Roc Hotel. Davis and Miami Beach Mayor Kenneth Oka have "pledged" to be on hand for the very worthy event.

Five Girls Play 10 Instruments

SHELLY ROSENSTEIN has organized an all-girl musical group called The Quintones. The five lasses can double up for a total of 10 instruments . . . Hollywood Little Theater has a unique gimmick for letting lovers of the drama "get a foot in the theater." For $10 patrons of the dramatic arts can finance a "foot" of construction on the playhouse under construction.

Comedian Joey Adams will be guest at a "Man of the Year" testimonial on April 19 at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel — for his long term work for March of Dimes.

Did you know that the one at the Coconut Grove Playhouse with the "Toni" is Jessica Tandy? She won the Antoinette Perry Award, the Toni, for her portrayal of Blanche in Broadway's "Streetcar Named Desire."

You'll be seeing Nat Heiken, the TV creative genius, and attorney Art Hershkowitz, around the Thunderbird for a spell now that Nat's new TV project is ready to roll . . . The controversial "I Want to Live" movie version of the Barbara Graham case is to get an "answer." This version will show she was guilty, its producers promise, and will be shot "either from the point of view of Mabel Monahan, the murder victim, or of the District Attorney's point of view."

LaRosa, Quartet Click at Cristal

JULIUS LA ROSA tells this one on himself. He came alone to the Diplomat Hotel, where he is headlined in the Cafe Cristal, because his wife thought she'd be needed to supervise the painting and furnishing of their new New York apartment. But now she's anxious to get down here. She learned a singer named Frank Sinatra is at the Fontainebleau, he insists.

Incidentally, La Rosa is blowing up a fine song on his own at Cafe Cristal. The good-looking young balladier has acquired a winning personality in the supper club format and enchants with his confident "humility" as much as with his song. The latter category includes such varied titles and tempo as "Fine Romance," "Dancing Cheek to Cheek," "Aren't You Glad You're You," "When I Fall in Love," and "Compari," the last with a chorus in Yiddish!

The Kirby Stone Quartet is co-featured in a package of music and mirth. The music has the same distinctive beat that it had back in the Clover Club days but the rest of the act has become more adult, in the sense that frequent use of the word "broad" and the like indicates adultness. Tops in the musical department are wonderful renditions of "Birth of the Blues" and middleman Larry Foster's fine visual and vocal caricature impressions of show greats.

Opening the bill are Brascia and Typee, a smart dancing duo with a repertory ranging from modern dance of a pseudo-beatnik style to highly stylized and exciting flamenco.

Hope Gave 562 Benefits In Two Years

BOB HOPE has always worn the cap-and-bells like a crown. Despite the gravity of his illness, he remains jaunty and continues making with the flip cracks. There is genuine courage in Bob's ability to retain his sensayuma in time of crisis. Nothing has ever impaired his gift for laughter. During the bombings in North Africa (in World War II) Hope continued giving shows between diving into foxholes. At one time he was caught between two targets — an airport and an ammunition dump. One member of his troupe commented: "We did a show and ran for our lives." Bob promptly cracked: "I've never done anything else."

Bob Hope . . . iron

Several years ago the star won an Oscar "for humanity." He was responsible for an incredible record-breaking 562 benefits in two years. As we have noted before: Where there is faith and charity—there is Hope.

* * *

LIFE IS FULL of cruel jokes. Pat Hingle, who reached a pinnacle in the "JB" click, was the victim of a serious accident in peaceful New York. During World War II he served aboard a destroyer for almost three years. He was involved in the hell of the Pacific strife — from the Marshall Islands to Okinawa. His ship was bombed, strafed and whipped by a typhoon. Hingle emerged from the war without a scratch.

Pat Hingle . . . irony

MAXWELL ANDERSON the distinguished playwright who passed, was aware of a single constant fact about the creative process: It is always hard work. He once observed: "With a play, the only fun of writing is with the first draft. The rewriting just becomes drudgery. By the time you get to the opening night, you don't ever want to see it or think of it again. I never reread the plays or see them when they may be revived."

Elia Kazan . . . new hit?

Although Anderson was crowned by the Pulitzer pickers and the Critics' Circle, he was never really satisfied with his efforts. Several weeks ago, he informed an interviewer: "I'm still hoping to write just one good play."

* * *

ALTHOUGH some members of the administration are engaged in skirmishes with the press, the President's relations with correspondents have been generally cordial. No man ever displayed a deeper trust in newspapermen than Gen. Eisenhower. About 30 days before the conquest of Sicily, Eisenhower stunned a routine news conference by disclosing the top military secret. His trust was rewarded—the correspondents kept the secret.

* * *

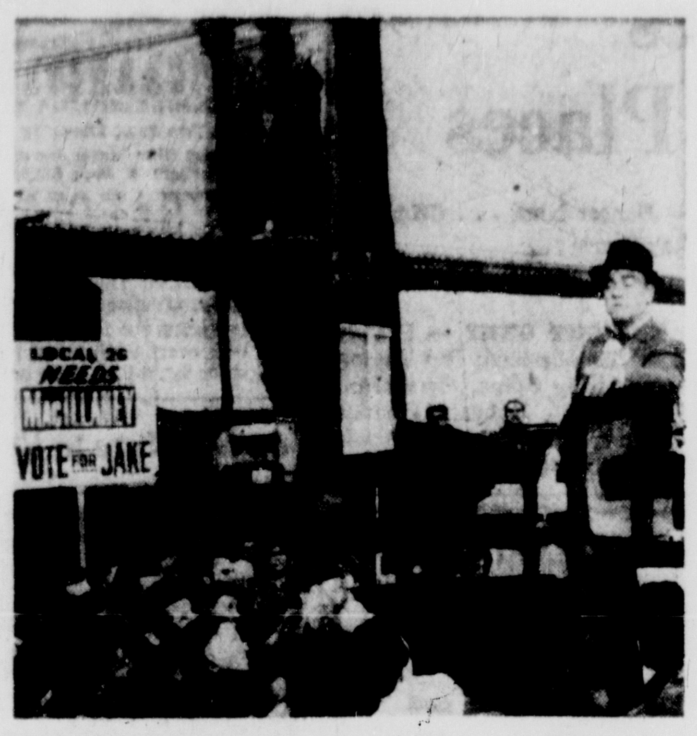
"SWEET BIRD of Youth," which has been collecting happy notices beyond Broadway's borders, opens this week. It is directed by Elia Kazan, who has a remarkable batting average. He masterminded the "JB" hit and last season's click, "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs." Kazan, who was once an actor, has the greatest respect for performers. His ability to orchestrate superior performances is probably best analyzed by Kazan: "All that matters is the actor. That little human being you want to get at—that little moisture in the girl's eye, the way she lifts her hand, or the funny kind of laugh she's got in her throat—that's what matters."

* * *

Noel Coward, whose "Look After Lulu" disappointed the critics, once declared that he forgets bad reviews in 48 hours. He's mighty fortunate—most creative artists brood about harsh notices for years. Coward, incidentally, is his own toughest critic. In Cosmopolitan mag some months ago he offered this self-description: "I am now an aging playboy, still witty, still brittle, still sophisticated. It is a depressing thought to be a shrill relic, but there is still some time left and I may yet snap out of it."

* * *

AFTER IGNITING welcoming bonfires in the tryout-towns, "A Raisin in the Sun" will light up a Broadway marquee this week. It is written by 28-year-old Lorraine Hansberry . . . The journey to the Main Stem was neither easy nor swift. It took over a year just to raise the coin for the drama. Miss Hansberry began writing plays five years ago. During that period she wrote three—and then tossed them all in the wastebasket—because she believed her efforts were inadequate. Nevertheless, her mistakes taught her an important fact about writing: "If you think you have something worth saying—write, write, write."



THE BROOKLYN BRIDGE could well be the subject of the title "Never Steal Anything Small," comedy starring James Cagney and scheduled to open today at the Carib, Miami and Miracle Theaters. Its locale is the New York waterfront and its unions.

Munsel, Family Enjoy Cuba

Castro's Soldiers Behave Beautifully, Says Star

By JOE FINNEGAN
UPI Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Opera and TV star Patrice Munsel's son could well be a candidate for a medal for bravery after pulling the beards of Fidel Castro's soldiers on a recent visit to Havana.

Patrice

Miss Munsel, her husband, Bob Schuler, and their three children, spent almost a month in Cuba and for a time were quartered in the same hotel with rebel soldiers.

"The soldiers were beautifully behaved, you can't imagine," the pretty singer declared. "They'd come out to the pool and play with the children.

"Our three-and-a-half year-old boy Rhett would even pull the soldiers' beards," she laughed. "When the troops found out the children could speak some Spanish, they were delighted.

"Rhett wanted to play with their machine guns and pistols but the revolutionists wouldn't let him, saying guns were not safe for children."

"It's silly for tourists to stay away," she said. "Where else can you find a well-organized revolution and bearded men, with pony tails yet?"

A home she rented has 200 peacocks on the grounds!

"They're gorgeous, but they start screaming at 6 a. m." Patrice complained. "Then they parade and the males perform for the females. Fortunately we leave them in a month."

O'Neill Drama Going to Dublin

NEW YORK — (AP) — Anew McMaster, co-star with Fay Bainter on the national tour of "Long Day's Journey Into Night," is going to present the drama next in Dublin.

McMaster has obtained the Irish rights to the Eugene O'Neill play. Elizabeth Bergner is to do the feminine lead.

Beauty Played Much in Florida

'Rolls-Royces Flew for Me In Palm Beach,' Says Eva

By RICK Du BROW
UPI Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Eva Gabor, who looks like Zsa Zsa, sounds like Zsa Zsa and talks like Zsa Zsa, says she really isn't like her sister at all.

"Two eggs are not alike, and neither are two sisters," said the blonde Hungarian beauty, whose latest film is "Gigi." "I am known as an actress, and that's all that counts."

Nevertheless, said Eva, she enjoys some of the same things Zsa Zsa does — good times, for instance.

"I like to play," she said, sitting on the soft white couch of her Westwood home in a pink satin dressing gown with white fur collar.

"When I play, I play hard — parties, dancing, the whole thing. And I like to flirt. After all, I think that's what men are here for."

"I have some friends there," she said, "and you should have seen the Rolls-Royces flying here and there to pick me up. One day, when someone sent a Cadillac, I said, 'What is this?'

"I met the Spanish ambassador, and I told him I was going to Spain soon to make my next picture. He told me he would arrange an introduction with Franco, and I said, 'Naturally—who else?' "

Eva also has dogs in common with Zsa Zsa. Eva's Yorkshire terrier, Sunny, who has a heart condition and takes pills, married Zsa Zsa's Yorkshire terrier, Susie.

"They had a son named Mr. Magoo," said Eva, "but now we're in trouble. Mr. Magoo married his mother and they had two kids."

Eva lamented that life as a Gabor isn't all moonlight and diamonds. She wishes more people would take her seriously as an actress.

"I always have to prove myself," she said. "Recently I did the play 'Private Lives' for Noel Coward, and I could feel the cast saying, 'All right, let's see what you can do.' "

Eva, youngest of the Gabors, lives a few minutes' drive from Zsa Zsa's hilltop Bel Air home and apparently has decided to live here as permanently as possible.

The third sister, Magda, is married and a society matron in New York. Mama Jolie shuttles between her jewelry shops in New York and Palm Springs, Calif.

"It took me a long time to arrive," Eva said. "I worked hard at acting ever since I was 16. I learned that most of the time it's easier to make it if you're unattractive. But I also learned that pride brings you closer to glamor than beauty."

Eva Gabor
. . . 'I like to play'

Hay Scene Shot Between Sneezes

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — How soft can a job get? Tony Randall spent one whole day hitting the hay at MGM, and got paid for it — but he hopes he'll never have to do it again.

The actor spent five hours in the studio's photo gallery diving into two truckloads of hay to re-enact one of the comedy highlights of "The Mating Game," also starring Debbie Reynolds. And Tony has an allergy to hay.

Cincinnati Symphony Wins Spontaneous Ovation Here

By DORIS RENO
Herald Music Editor

A Music Review

Miami dotes on its visiting orchestras.

Monday night the Cincinnati Symphony, under the sensitive direction of Max Rudolf, got a big spontaneous ovation for its second concert here in two days — this one played for members of Miami Civic Music Association in Dade County Auditorium.

Everything worked together to make the concert more successful than the one the orchestra played in Miami Beach Auditorium Saturday night. The men weren't tired; it wasn't so hot as Saturday; the shell was being used to push the music out into the auditorium (a hundred per cent improvement in the listening experience.)

The program was one of the best that's been played here by any traveling orchestra; and the audience was in responsive mood. It all added up to a buoyant evening of beautifully played orchestral music.

The big work was Beethoven's Pastorale Symphony in F major, which we haven't heard here in a good while. And though there are many veteran gray heads in this orchestra, it was a very youthful Pastorale, with all its essential freshness and sweetness emphasized and its lyric merriment uppermost.

The textures were fine-spun, the tonal shadings delicately handled, the tempos even. Mr. Rudolf's aim, evidently, was to make the instruments stand out, to emphasize separation rather than blending, and in achieving this he may perhaps have insisted upon a little too much separation, a little too much reining-in of forces. But it was a delightful Sixth, and different, and it was highly appreciated.

The Civic audience also evidenced strong approval of the contemporary work programmed, the set of Four Sea Interludes from Benjamin Britten's opera, "Peter Grimes."

This is graphic music, moody, vivid and energetic, and it was masterfully handled. It's music, too, that is improved by seeing — as opposed to just hearing — it played, for in the last section, The Storm, everybody works violently to keep it piling up, and the effect is striking.

The Weber Oberon Overture was charmingly done, the "Menuet des Feux-Follets" and "Dance des Sylphes" from Berlioz' "Damnation de Faust" were properly light and airy, and the three dances from Falla's "Three-Cornered Hat" ballet went like a breeze. For the Final Dance, as for the Britten "Storm," the orchestra was unleashed completely, and a lovely noise it makes when allowed full steam ahead! Perhaps Mr. Rudolf should arrange to have this happen more often.

Two encores were demanded, and they were exactly the right ones — first, the overture to Strauss' "Fledermaus" given a wonderful reading, and then the "Tritsch-Tratsch Polka" by the same composer.

Miami Soprano Giving Recital

Local soprano Elsbeth Ellis will be presented in a recital at 8:30 on Wednesday evening at the home of her teacher, Frances Tarboux, at 269 NE 100th St.

She will sing a group of lieder, and works by Handel, Haydn, Spohr, and Mana-Zucca, among others.

Fragrant Role

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — (UPI) — Michael Todd Jr., has pacted Paul Lukas to star in "Scent of Mystery" to be filmed in Spain later ths month.

ACTOR playing an actor provokes laughter in "Fernandel, the Magnificent," opening Wednesday at the Mayfair and Sunset Theaters. Fernandel stars, of course.

They Focus On Guild

Lawrence Langner and his wife, Armina Marshall, now visiting in Miami, are giving up a long-time summer theater project in order to concentrate more upon the activities of Broadway's Theater Guild.

The Langners have turned over operation of the Westport, Conn., Country Playhouse to Henry T. Weinstein, a business associate, and Laurence Feldman, an attorney. The couple had directed the Playhouse for 28 years.

Let's Go to the Movies . . .

Clarke to Talk On Piano Book

Edward Clarke of the UM music faculty will review H. E. Krebiel's "Story of the Piano" at 10:45 a.m. Thursday in Miami Womans Club auditorium.

Soloist will be the young Cuban pianist Jose Mariscal, who will play compositions by Scarlatti and Brahms.

Jap Girl Troupe Going to Canada

VANCOUVER, B.C. — (AP) — The second annual International Festival here next summer is to include a 40-girl ensemble from an unusual town in Japan.

The troupe comes from Takarazuka, a community that is a training center for all forms of theatrical entertainment.

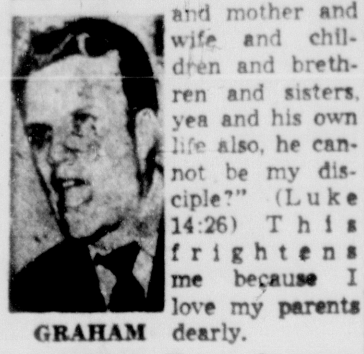
Deny Self, Take Up The Cross

By BILLY GRAHAM



GRAHAM

QUESTION: What does the Bible mean when Jesus says, "If any man cometh unto me, and hateth not his own father and mother and wife and children and brethren and sisters, yea and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple?" (Luke 14:26) This frightens me because I love my parents dearly.

ANSWER: Human language is always impoverished when we attempt to define and decribe our relationships to Christ. This is one instance. The demand is not that we hate people, but rather that our love for Christ be so much higher and deeper and broader then the love we have for our dearest ones on earth that we would in any situation make all others second to Him.

My Answer

Our love for Him should be so unqualified that any other love, by contrast, would almost seem like hatred.

You will notice that Jesus even included denial of self. People usually are lovers of themselves above other persons, but there is something so wonderful and so exclusive about our love for Christ that self must be denied. Jesus also said, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me."

The Bible exhorts, love your parents and friends, but let your love for Christ be so far beyond human loves that they may by contrast appear to be far less than your love for Him.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) If you will simply forget that dollar sign constantly before your eyes, you can now get invaluable suggestions and advice from an influential acquaintance. Do so. P.M. start ball rolling properly. Budget more wisely, too.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) One who has power over your affairs could ruin your position materially if you are not able to take criticism today. P.M. seek what you most desire with determination.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You are aware of many opportunities all about you, but since there are so many details that need to be cleared first, it is best to concentrate on them during A.M. Work.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Ill-advised as to actual state of affairs, a good and dynamic friend today speaks up in your behalf unnecessarily. Be grateful nonetheless. Work methodically.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Inability to settle that public affair today should not deter you from having a profitable day. Go along with those who are properly attuned astrologically.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't endeavor to get into those new enterprises today, since there is much to be done of a mundane and routine nature. By early P.M. you will have cleared the decks for your desired action.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) In A.M. it would not be wise to spend or invest beyond your means. Let a smile dissolve any embarrassment with bookkeepers or authorities.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Associates and close ties endeavor to push you into things which you know are not to your best interests. Express yourself clearly. In P.M. be with associates who understand your needs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Do not enter into any argument with fellow workers to the exclusion of important work that must be done. Complete this, then set up appointments for following day wisely. FOR YOUR COPY of Carroll Righter's individual 16-page Forecast for April send your birth date and 50c in coin (No stamps) to Carroll Righter Forecast, Miami Herald, Box 1895, Grand Central Sta., N.Y. 17, N.Y.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do not permit personal or intimate friends to keep you from important business appointments or labors. Never waste working hours and become a slave to them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Steer clear of all household worries and arguments today and get your health and appearance toned up religiously and properly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Worrying unnecessarily over longtime anxiety can keep you from accomplishing much of anything today, if you permit. Look at matters objectively, solve them with alacrity.

Soap Disappearing

UNITED NATIONS —(AP)— U.N. agencies estimate that by 1975 the world will use twice as much synthetic detergent as soap.

Holdup Is OK, Getaway a Flop

LONDON —(UPI)— Police booked James McMahon, 35, on suspicion of being the holdup man who calmly walked into a downtown club waving what looked like a gun, held up the doorman, scooped $476 from a safe and tripped head over heels on the steps outside as he tried to get away.

ED BEATTIE a young professional fighter with a fantastic story. He migrated from Scotland to Canada, began boxing and represented Canada in the Olympics at Melbourne, Australia. He went to the semi-finals.

Beattie came to Miami and boxed five times as a professional. Then he discovered he had a leaky heart. He was taken to Jackson Memorial hospital. His heart was exposed, and the new amazing "heart pump" did the work while his heart underwent surgery. That was in November, 1957.

On Jan. 22 Beattie boxed again. He entered the ring again Feb. 10. And March 16 at Bayfront auditorium you'll see him in action for the third time since the heart operation. This of course is with permission of the doctor, who said "You can do anything you want to."

On Job

Lend-a-Hand wants the sewing circle ladies back on the job. Mrs. Faye Newalk has the materials and is ready to start the '59 dress making program. She has a goal: 3,000 dresses for children, from infants through high school. Past experience has shown this isn't too many.

Anybody who can make a nice dress is welcome. You may pick up the material at 225 SW Second Ave. and sew at home, or sew in the big workshop there.

Nigh Perfect

"Tom Fool? He was well nigh perfect." The speaker was Ted Atkinson, to Frank Eck, writing for Horseman's Journal. Ted, who recently retired from the saddle because of a sacroiliac condition, rode Tom Fool in all his races, 30 starts. He won 21 races and never was worse than fourth. "He could make the pace, or follow it," Ted said. "In 1953 as a four-year-old he started and won 10 races. His last four starts were run with closed mutuel windows, so far was he above opposition: twice at Saratoga, once at Belmont, and his last race, the Pimlico Special." He was so far in front that Atkinson can't quite figure what was second best. And he rode a lot of great horses.

Rusting

Dear Mr. City Commissioners: Outside the police station rotting and rusting in the sun and rain are some 200 bicycles. They've been lost, police picked them up and if the owners don't claim them in a certain period they'll be sold at auction.

Y'know what happens? Kids who really love and need bikes — poor kids whose parents can't buy them — cannot buy those lost bikes either. Bicycle dealers and repair shop operators can outbid the kids.

Why don't you change the ordinance so Lend-a-Hand, an official charity, can take those bikes, fix them up when necessary, and get them into the hands of boys who need them?

Know Bob?

Baseball fans, especially players of his era, will be interested to know that Bob Shawkey, once-great Yankee pitcher, will be in town. He underwent an operation in a Syracuse, N.Y. hospital and will be here to recuperate. He'll be with relatives at 8900 Harding Ave., Miami Beach. If you knew Bob and want to call, it's UN 6-2582.

For Taxes

No Foolin', April Fool Is Deadline

Dade County home-owners are three weeks away from April 1 and two tax deadlines.

Dade's 1958 property taxes become delinquent and subject to penalty on that date. And applications for 1959 homestead tax exemptions must be filed by midnight that date.

Deputy assessors will be on duty:

DAILY: At county tax assessor's office, 104 NW First Ave., Miami; Miami Beach City Hall, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

MONDAY: At Perrine at Lovell Irwin Agency. Hialeah and Homestead city halls, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

TUESDAY: At city halls, Opa-locka, 8:30 a.m. to noon; Miami Shores 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and Hialeah 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

WEDNESDAY: At city halls, West Miami 9 — noon; South Miami 1—4:30; Bay Harbor Islands 2—4:30; Coral Gables 8:30—4:30.

TUESDAY through Saturday at Perrine Insurance Agency and South Miami Shopping Center, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

She Gave Will to Live, Then Lost Own Battle

They Knew She Was Dying--Never Told Her
. . . John Gibson with sons, Christian, 8, Candis, 12 and Creigh, 7

Mrs. Ruby Gibson, 35, died Monday morning.

She knew she was going to die. She was disturbed about it only because of her husband and three children.

Somehow, in the night as she tossed in pain-wracked sleep, she knew she would die, but she looked death in the face and in the daylight she calmly discussed the details of her funeral service, even the dress which she would wear in death.

For a year, her husband and children and their neighbors and friends and relatives had known that Mrs. Gibson was doomed to die. When the doctors found that she had leukemia, they held no hope for her.

But they did not tell her. Although hundreds of people knew it, her condition was a well-kept secret. It was a conspiracy of mercy in which even children cooperated.

During that final year of her life, Mrs. Gibson was taken to the hospital 10 times, at first only for short visits. She received more than 100 pints of blood, given by the people who knew how she had kept her family together when her husband was crippled by polio.

She went to the hospital for the last time nearly a month ago. As her condition became more painful, she began to suspect that it was critical. She spoke of death fearfully, but was reassured.

On Friday morning, John N. Gibson, Metropolitan development director, was driving to his office when his wife asked another patient to call him and leave a message.

The message was on his desk when he arrived. It read:

"I am dying. Come to the hospital immediately."

When he arrived, his wife had not, as he feared, taken a sudden turn for the worse. Instead, she seemed to be in better spirits than at any time since she entered the hospital. She had been under continual heavy sedation, but now she was bright-eyed, and she spoke clearly.

"Don't feel sorry for me," she told her husband. "I know I am dying. It is beautiful."

She held out an emaciated arm and he clasped her hand. She smiled at him.

"I will miss you and the children," she said.

And then she spoke of what must be done. She debated about whether she should wear the champagne-colored dress with the rhinestone clip she won when they appeared on a TV program in New York a year ago, or whether the brown dress would be better.

"It was almost as if she were making plans for a date," her husband said.

And then Ruby Gibson closed her eyes and slept.

The next morning, in her sleep, she suffered a cerebral hemorrhage, which hastened her death. She never regained consciousness.

When she died, at 8 a.m. Monday, her husband still sat by her bedside. But in this crisis, Ruby Gibson had given him strength, just as she had years before when he was helpless and discouraged.

That was a period that started in July, 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson and their three small children moved into a home in Miami Beach on a Wednesday. The next Sunday he was in a hospital with polio. His case was complicated by a simultaneous attack of typhoid fever.

He was in the hospital for five months, and Mrs. Gibson cared for the children and visited him regularly. On his return home, she nursed him and looked after the children and then, when funds were exhausted, she took a job as a waitress.

"She was understanding, but practical," recalled an intimate friend. "She was sympathetic, but cheerful. She never let John feel sorry for himself or for her."

With her encouragement, Gibson, paralyzed from the waist down and confined to a wheelchair, enrolled in business administration classes at the University of Miami. He continued until he earned his degree, but once times got so bad that he advertised he would sell one eye in order to buy a motor for his wheelchair.

His big break came in 1955, when he was appointed manager of the economic development and research department of the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce. He had demonstrated that his wife's faith was not misplaced. In July, 1957, he was appointed head of the Dade County Development Department, now under Metro.

Mrs. Gibson was able to devote full time in those years to her duties as mother and housekeeper, wife and active worker in the Bryan Memorial Methodist Church.

Then came the illness and the diagnosis.

During the past month, Gibson has filled the triple role which she once filled. He has worked at his job, visited the hospital, cared for the children.

Mrs. Ruby Gibson
. . . she knew

At first, Mrs. Gibson thought of going home, to their wide-doored house at 2624 Lincoln Ave., Coconut Grove. Then she began to suspect the secret that had been kept from her.

Then came the note in Gibson's office and he was at her side and she knew she was dying, but she was not afraid.

Rather, she was consoling him.

"It was just as if she were telling me she had to go home and that she was sorry to leave me and the children but knew she would see us later," Gibson says. "And she was not afraid or worried. She said it was beautiful."

Mrs. Gibson's Rites Will Be Thursday

The body of Mrs. John N. Gibson will be at Bryan Memorial Methodist Church, 3713 Main Hwy., Coconut Grove, from 11 to 4 p.m. Thursday. Memorial services will be conducted in the church by the Rev. Stewart Austin at 4 p.m., followed by calcination. Lithgow's Coral Way Center is in charge.

Mrs. Gibson is survived by her husband and three children; her father, Edward R. Cox, Buffalo; a sister and three brothers.

For '59 Convention

Legion 'Definitely' Eyes Miami Beach

By PHIL FORTMAN
Herald Staff Writer

Miami Beach is "definitely being considered" for the American Legion national convention late in September or early in October this year, Preston J. Moore, national Legion commander, said Monday.

MOORE

Moore, a 39-year-old Stillwater, Okla., attorney, flew here to confer at the Roney Plaza Hotel with Beach Convention Director Tom F. Smith and state Legion leaders on the possibility of a last minute switch to the Beach from Minneapolis-St. Paul, "where housing facilities may not be adequate for the 1959 convention."

The final decision will be announced "within the next 10 days" from national Legion headquarters in Indianapolis, Moore said.

The national commander said he "will review the room situation" in Minneapolis-St. Paul today after flying there.

"They've asked us to reconsider, and from there we'll go to Las Vegas, which has just completed a new convention hall," Moore said. "Indianapolis, never before the site of a Legion convention, is also being considered."

The Beach had already been picked for next year's Legion convention. Coming here this year would eliminate the possibility of the Beach as a convention site "for the next three or four years, since we like to move around," Moore said.

This year's convention is expected to attract 50,000 visitors regardless of where it's held. That means about nine million dollars will be spent during the week-long event, Smith said.

The last time the Legion convened here was in 1955. Prior conventions were held here in 1952 and 1948.

Judge Named

District Judge Emett C. Choate of the Southern Florida district was designated Monday to act as a judge of the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati between April 13 and April 25.

But Some 'Gestapo' Attackers Have Records

Petition Cost Him His Beat

By EDDIE GONG
Herald Staff Writer

Miami Police Officer Al Schiffauer, 30, had compiled a good record since he joined the force in 1956.

His beat was the intersection of NE Second Ave. and E. Flagler St. and the immediate area. His record is full of top ratings — "exceptionally meritorious."

But last Wednesday, he was moved from his beat to one nearby because of a petition signed by 41 persons. Four of the names matched those of men with criminal records. About half of the signers listed northern cities as their only addresses.

The petition, sent to former City Manager E. A. Evans, called Schiffauer "the Gestapo of Flagler Street" and said he stopped people waiting or talking on his beat.

Schiffauer was moved to a beat at NE Second Ave. and First St.

One member of the group had the same name as a former fugitive from Kalamazoo, Mich. That fugitive was wanted for "gross indecency," a morals charge

Another signer's name was the same as a man who had a long FBI record of breaking and entering, larceny, disorderly conduct, housebreaking and vagrancy

Still another signer's name matched that of a man who had a record of operating a gambling house, vagrancy and passing worthless checks.

Evans had no comment to make. He only said: "I am no longer with the City of Miami — you'd better call the chief of police."

Officer Schiffauer
. . . transferred

Assistant Police Chief J. A. Youell told The Herald that Evans requested that Schiffauer be switched to another beat because of "complaints."

"I ordered the shift," Youell said, "and I don't think it's anything to get excited about."

But businessmen on Schiffauer's beat had a different view.

"Al's a fine police officer and I very much regret he was transferred," said Tim Tyler, Manager of the Miami Theater.

"Our locality used to be a favorite hangout of bums and characters until Al came along," said Alex Poulos, manager of the Paramount Theater.

Howard DeBold, manager of the Town Theater said the businessmen on East Flagler were pretty "shook up," and wanted to do something about it.

Schiffauer had no comment to make except to say: "It was an unusual transfer."

Willard Appoints 2 Aides

Both Positions Are Trial Run

By JUANITA GREENE
Herald Staff Writer

Woodrow Hampton, who went to work as City Planning Board secretary eight months ago, was named acting assistant city manager Monday.

He is a former school teacher who taught City Commissioner Otis Shiver when he took special classes to get his high school diploma in 1957.

In another appointment, new City Manager Ira (Dutch) Willard made S. Travis Phillips his acting administrative assistant. Phillips became director of the Off-street Parking Department last October after he ran unsuccessfully for the Metro Commission in September.

Asked if any of the commissioners had put pressure on him to hire Hampton, Willard replied:

"There is no politics involved in these appointments," said Willard. "I informed the City Commission after I had made up my mind as to whom I was going to appoint so they could have the information."

Both men will continue at their present salaries of $7,500 a year. They also will continue filling their present posts.

The new appointments, said Willard, are for 60 days.

"After that time, we'll see if they like me and I like them," he explained. "If we are getting along all right, then we'll make a more permanent arrangement."

Hampton's appointment to the planning job last July drew protests from some of the Planning and Zoning board members.

Joseph X. DuMond, Coconut Grove attorney, said at the time that board members had been pressured by a city commission majority to give Hampton the job. He complained that Hampton, then serving as a board member, was "inexperienced."

Road Repair Bills Upheld

Property Owners Lose Case

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Miami property owners must continue to shell out millions of dollars in special assessments for street improvements because of an order issued Monday by the U.S. Supreme Court.

In action favorable to the City of Miami, the court refused to rule on a suit filed by Miami homeowners who sought to get rid of the special assessments.

The appeal was the last court of resort for hundreds of Miami property owners.

For years they bitterly objected to being separately billed for repaving of streets adjoining their property. The improvements, they claimed, benefited the entire public and the cost should be borne by all residents.

"I'm afraid this is the end of it," commented Herbert L. Nadeau, attorney for the protesting property owners.

Mrs. Thomas B. Hamilton, of 1403 S. Miami Ave., one of the complainants, said:

"It's unfair. South Miami Avenue is a main artery and assessments on it should be spread throughout the city.

"But it looks as if nothing can be done about it and we'll have to drop it."

In their suit in the state court the homeowners asked that assessments be declared void because street projects did not benefit their properties, the assessments were made without proper notice, and resulting liens violated the U.S. Constitution's guarantee of due process and equal protection of laws.

But upon appeal to overturn the state court's ruling, the U.S. Supreme Court maintained the property owners had not shown that a constitutional question was at issue.

At the root of the homeowners' protest was the manner in which they were notified of the special assessments.

Under the city charter the city is only required to post notice of street improvement programs through "small type" advertising in a newspaper of general circulation.

After repeated complaints the city commission ordered that special notices be mailed to affected homeowners as a matter of courtesy.

Property owners listed in the Supreme Court appeal included Norton R. Ganger, L. C. Bethart, Hunter Lyons, Inc., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Hamilton.

Strike Is On Again

Hotel Pickets Will Resume March Today

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Revival of the economically-painful 1955-57 Greater Miami hotel strike has been scheduled for today by the Hotel Employes Union.

Local 255 President Dave Herman reported that picket lines will be thrown up at "more than one Miami Beach oceanfront hotel."

He declined to name the union's strike targets other than to say they were among 12 Greater Miami hotels that lost a U.S. Supreme Court suit to the union on Jan. 12.

In its decision the high court lifted a long picketing ban at the hotels, thereby opening the door for future strike action by the union.

After the ruling, Herman said picket lines will parade as soon as possible at the Saxony, Sans Souci, Versailles and Sherry Frontenac.

Of the four hotels named by Herman, the Saxony is owned by George Sax and the Sans Souci, Versailles and Sherry Frontenac by Morris Lansburgh.

Both Sax and Lansburgh are considered the two biggest obstacles in Herman's drive to organize the Gold Coast hotel industry.

They were successful in bucking the union when it launched its battle in April 1955 to organize the more than 15,000 hotel workers in the Greater Miami area.

During the next 20 months, 23 Miami and Miami Beach hotels were struck, dealing a severe economic jolt to the Gold Coast. Publicity concerning the dispute was believed responsible for detouring thousands of tourists to the Caribbean and other resort spots.

Injunctions issued by Dade Circuit Courts which prohibited hotel picketing — later upheld by the Florida Supreme Court — put the brakes on the union's campaign.

An uneasy truce was called in December 1957 when a master agreement between the union and a segment of the Miami Beach Hotel Association was signed.

Quick, Watson! Whodunit?

FACT NO. 1: Leonard E. Gray, 2786 NW 56th St. reported to police at midnight he shot at a prowler with a .22 rifle as the man fled from his house.

FACT NO. 2: Robert Yates, 35, of 1800 NW 45th St., turned up at Jackson Memorial Hospital at 1:30 a.m. with a .22 bullet in his back.

What would you do if you were a policeman?

SOLUTION: Miami police found (a) that the bullet in Yates' back was fired from Gray's rifle and (b) that Yates had a police record. They arrested Yates.

He Didn't Buy Kitchen

County Manager O. W. Campbell said Monday he didn't order the kitchen unit that is part of his office suite.

It came with the other office furnishings when his present 16th floor quarters were remodeled, he said.

It is being moved to his new offices on the ninth floor as part of a $4,500 project that includes partitioning of separate offices, air conditioning and flooring.

The unit consists of a sink, electric stove and electric refrigerator. It is to be installed in a specially partitioned room apart from the offices, with shelves for dishes, and exhaust fan to carry off cooking odors.

Campbell said the stove is just for coffee.

Suh, Beatniks to Get Clipped

Trouble is — only Beatniks know about it.

What's more — only Beatniks care.

Their mystifying purpose: To promote "brotherly love and fraternalism" — everywhere.

Their equally mystifying method: sprouting beards.

"We want to give everybody — and I mean everybody, Suh," says mystifying Beatnik leader Joseph Rojas, "ease and casualness."

The case, promises SAE spokesman Richard Pieper, will be the way the 100 hairy Beatniks—"Brothers of the Brush" — get "theirs" cut off in weird beard-snipping rites.

Why?

"We feel we have already created an air of ease and casualness on the campus by our beard-growing antics," says the serious-spoken Rojas.

"We can do no more."

To which University deans echoed: Amen.

WINTER: The season of the year when you always decide that you like summer

Big Comeback for Miami Bea

'They're Sleeping in the Cabanas' Again

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

In these typical statistics of winter, 1959, lies the reason why the Gold Coast of Florida has come back from the most calamitous tourist season in memory to one of the "best years ever."

SYLVIA

For in contrast to the chills and freezes, the rains and winds of 1958, week after week so far this year, Florida has had superb WEATHER. And as the reports of an almost uninterrupted string of warm, sunny, dry days have flashed across the nation, once again the tourists have been pouring into this most fabulous beach resort in the world by the hundreds of thousands.

Once again the show hotels are jammed and, "They're sleeping in the cabanas." Once again, during the evenings, you can see the incredible spectacle of mink-clothed women and money-loaded men standing in line to eat, drink, dance. Once again the supper clubs are jumping, racetrack intake is on the rise.

* * *

GARBAGE COLLECTIONS—a provocatively dependable barometer of economic conditions in a resort city — are running 10 to 15 per cent above this time a year ago.

FIRST AID treatments on the beaches — another fascinating indicator of tourism in an ocean resort — are ranging over 150 a week against less than 50 a week in the 1958 season.

PARKING METER revenues are up 10 to 13 per cent. Water and electricity consumption is higher.

And although the big-time spenders who made worldwide Miami Beach seasons appear less conspicuous, it is only because they are obscured by the increasing multitudes of middle-income vacationers.

OKA

WEINTRAUB

In the colorful words of Hank Meyer, dubbed "Mr. Miami Beach" in the last issue of "Newsweek" and head of a nationwide industrial public relations firm bearing his name headquartered here, "The big spenders in Miami today are like a pitcher of cream poured into a bottle of milk. The same amount of cream is in the bottle but it doesn't taste as rich because it has been diluted. The cream is there, though, and the big spenders are here."

* * *

BUT GLITTERING as it all appears, the memory of the devastating 1958 season remains. Operators of at least a dozen hotels went bankrupt or lost their properties last year. Many restaurants and stores sank. Despite this year's revival, a lot of others are still in precarious shape.

It's freely admitted by insiders that had this season been another cold one, half the hotels on the beach might have gone under by now! The nearness of catastrophe has torn the rose-tinted glasses off the eyes of shrewd operators and they're determined to use some of the lessons.

"Last year separated the men from the boys here," says Joseph Weintraub, chairman of the American Title & Insurance Co. and the Mercantile National Bank of Miami Beach, "and we're going to keep it that way. We're lending more than ever, but we're much more prudent about to whom and for what. The greatest weather in the world isn't going to solve the problems of shoddy financing, marginal speculation. We want no more of these."

"No amount of filled hotels can justify the mistakes of the past," adds Miami Beach's Mayor, Kenneth Oka. "And hopefully, fly-by-night manufacturers putting out inferior products have been discouraged. For what we want to attract are quality manufacturers who will produce products giving stature to the 'Made In Miami' label."

* * *

"WE WOULD have been able to withstand the blows of a few poor seasons much better if we had developed more convention business and trade shows," emphasizes Saul Cohen, former head of the Miami Beach Hotel Owners' Assn. "Developing these activities is a key objective now."

From last year's shattering shocks, bankruptcies and foul weather, Miamians are recovering. But their returning confidence does appear more sober, more solid.

Regardless, though, with "78" in the shade, the glow now is on the cash registers as well as the tourists. And as I fly home to my "35," I can understand why when even conservatives here are discussing Miami Beach, they point to the stars not just to dramatize the day's beauty, but also their forecast of Florida's future.

New Guide for Selling

Let's Call Halt To Unfair Sales, Chamber Urges

By JAMES RUSSELL
Herald Business Editor

Artificial mark-ups and sales that aren't really sales were attacked by the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce Monday in a new "guide" to fair selling and advertising.

"We are trying to do away with a fringe element among merchants who are tearing down legitimate business with misleading and unfair advertising and retailing practices," said Charles R. Craig, head of the chamber's Better Business Division.

Craig said that if the retailers don't regulate themselves the Federal Trade Commission is likely to step in and do it.

Here are some of the "principles" set forth by the Better Business Division, "based primarily on the FTC guides":

A SAVINGS CLAIM should not be indicated or implied unless there is a reduction in the regular retail price of the item in the trade area where it is publicized.

A PRICE REDUCTION claim should not be indicated or implied if it is based on an artificial mark-up or "infrequent or isolated sales."

SPECIAL SALES should be exactly what they say they are—an offer to sell at a price concession.

TWO FOR ONE SALES should be advertised only when the retailer does not raise the regular selling price and does not reduce the quality, quantity or size of the item.

HALF-PRICE and one-cent sales should disclose exactly and conspicuously the conditions under which the items or services are offered.

'FACTORY OR WHOLESALE' prices should not be offered unless they are, in effect, the actual prices charged at the wholesale level.

A SELLING PRICE should be the full purchase price, including all charges except taxes levied at the consumer level.

"We've had a considerable number of complaints from people who found that the way some products were advertised were not the way they were sold," Craig said. "Extra charges were often tacked on, raising the prices above what they were advertised."

The Better Business Bureau, charging that such practices are "channeling money away from ethical businessmen," said it is trying to clean up unfair selling practices through persuasion.

"But if that doesn't work," said Craig, "we have state and local laws against these things and we will refer violators to the proper authorities."

NAM Urges Changes In Labor Laws

HOLLYWOOD — A six-point program of "labor reform" legislation was outlined Monday at the National Association of Manufacturers' 31st Institute on industrial relations.

Mrs. Sybyl S. Patterson, director of the institute, told a group of 176 management representatives at the Hollywood Beach Hotel, that the NAM will support legislation with these goals:

HOPE

to the members rightful authority to run their own organizations;

"RESTORE and protect the rights of each individual to decide for himself whether or not he wishes to join a labor organization;

"PROHIBIT organizational picketing to force recognition of a union; forbid violence, coercion, boycotts,

"RESTORE to local unions their rights in collective bargaining.

"BAN the use of union funds and union staff manpower for political activities in behalf of particular parties or candidates."

Earlier, NAM President Stanley C. Hope, said he hopes "that this can become the 'age of reasonableness' in labormanagement relations and, further, in the conduct of affairs between nations."

Hope, president of Sound-Scriber Corp., said it would be a mistake to assume that the demand for labor reform means that management is anti-union.

"What we need is a reasonable approach to labor law reform. What we need to do is to make sure that no labor leaders, good or bad, and no employer, good or bad, can violate the principles of honest and fair play or the rights of individuals," he declared.

Truck Rate Hearing Set March 25

The Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission has set a hearing for March 25 at Miami to take additional testimony on a rate increase petition of major Florida trucking lines.

An 8.72 per cent increase granted by the commission in June, 1957, was recently knocked out by the State Supreme Court on grounds the commission had based the hike on testimony it had itself called unreliable.

In setting the date for taking of more testimony, the commission rejected a request by the major truck lines for temporary authority to charge the 8.72 per cent increase kicked out by the court.

The commission's order that granted the rate hike was challenged in court by the Florida Rate Conference, the Traffic and Rate Bureau of St. Petersburg, the Tampa Chamber of Commerce, the Broward County Traffic Assn., the Greater Miami Traffic Assn. and the Jacksonville Traffic Bureau.

Vaccine Prices Drop

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

A 15 per cent reduction in polio vaccine prices was announced Monday by three leading manufacturers.

However, a spokesman for the Dade County Medical Assn. said it is unlikely the price cuts will have any effect on the $3 fee most local physicians charge for polio shots.

"The present fee is a 'bargain rate' suggested by the American Medical Association. It covers the doctor's time, but not the cost of the injectables," the spokesman explained.

The reductions were made by Parke Davis & Co., Eli Lilly & Co., and Merck & Co. They would bring the wholesale price of a 9 cc. vial of vaccine to about $6.50.

'Down with Funeral Garb'

Suit Yourself Lightly

LONDON —(UPI)— The traditional uniform of the British businessman—striped trousers, heavy waistcoat and jacket—has made the nation's tailors hot under the collar.

"There is really no need for this funeral garb today since quite formal and conservative clothes are available now in lightweight suitings," declared the Wholesale Clothing Manufacturers Federation.

The federation made an optimistic forecast that British men will wear more lightweight two-piece suits this summer and forsake their starched collars.

But it admits those who do will have to be "dignified and strong-willed" to show up for work in anything but the traditional attire.

THIOKOL CHEMICAL CORP. has been awarded a 77 million dollar contract for research and development of three stages of the Minute Man solid propellant rocket propulsion system. Thiokol President Joseph Crosby said 61 per cent of the work would be subcontracted.

NATIONAL THEATRES Inc. has announced it will go ahead with plans to buy 160,500 shares of stock from the management of National Telefilm Associates, giving it control of radio stations in Newark, N.J., and Minneapolis.

Brand Names Bring Honors

Two Miami business firms and a new home builder in the area have been given certificates of distinction in the annual competition sponsored by Brand Names Foundation, Inc.

Marco Shoes, 7212 Red Rd.; Creager Pianos, 2264 Coral Way, and Willard Woodrow, Carol City builder, were honored for their effective use of brand name products.

ATTENTION ENGINEERS

A prominent northern electronics company engaged in development and manufacture of military electronic equipment including radar, computors, indicators, navigation aids, etc., is planning the establishment of a Research and Development Center in Broward County to be staffed by residents of this area.

The feasibility of establishing such an enterprise depends upon the availability in substantial numbers of the following high caliber personnel:

1. Research Physicists
2. Mathematicians
3. Electronic Development and Design Engineers
4. Mechanical Development and Design Engineers
5. Electro-Mechanical Design and Development Engineers
6. Electronics Technicians
7. Draftsmen and Drafting Checkers
8. Modelmakers

If your experience and training qualify you for any of the above positions and you are interested in exploring this matter further, kindly prepare a detailed outline of your qualifications and background experience and forward to Box R-154, Herald. All responses will be held in confidence.

25th ANNIVERSARY CHASE

IN 1934
CHASE FEDERAL OPENED

. . . AND THAT SAME YEAR
WALL STREET BROKERS
SOLD APPLES

1934—a troublesome year. Some 21 million people on relief rolls. Unemployment stalked the land. Fear had jabbed its chilly fingers into the heart of America. This was a year in the Great Depression which many of our present generation know only through hearsay.

Miami was just emerging from the effects of the frenzied real estate boom and collapse. One bank after another had closed its doors. And the national crisis came like a dark cloud to further blanket Miami's sun.

But from the Depression came economic reforms. In 1934 the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation was established. For the first time, an agency of the United States Government insured the funds of each saver up to $2,500. Later the insured amount was increased to $5,000 and then to its current $10,000.

This was the year—1934—when Chase opened its doors on Miami Beach.

It required courage and faith to envisage Greater Miami's bright future. Chase Federal's sound management provided confidence and filled a need for a safety-insured savings institution.

Twenty-five years of consistent growth and expansion have strengthened our primary purpose of promoting thrift, debt-free home ownership, and making Greater Miami a better place to live and raise your family.

Market Advances Slightly

The 1½-cent boost in the price of copper by major producers gave the share of this industry a solid boost.

Oils retreated on news of the turmoil in oil-rich Iran. Steels were mostly lower despite news of an all-time peak for production in a single week. Motors were unchanged to lower.

While the list as a whole showed gains and losses generally within a one-point range, a handful of issues made multi-point advances because of rumors, recommendations or special news.

Du Pont, ahead more than 14 at one time, scored a net gain of 9. Thiokol rose 8 7-8, Philadelphia and Reading 6, Polaroid 7 5-8 and Litton Industries 5½.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed on volume of 2,060,000 shares compared with 2,150,000 on Friday.

Corporate bonds declined as volume increased.

IS NOW THE TIME TO SPECULATE
IN WARRANTS?

A well-timed speculation in warrants at very low prices can offer you big profits — even a small fortune — in a short time. Here are two examples of 'leverage' gains offered by warrants while $100 in Tri-Continental's stock was growing to $1,623 in 48 months, $100 in Tri-Continental's warrants grew to $17,200 — or 10.6 times as much. And while $100 in Hoffman Electronics stock was growing to $2,267 in 2[illegible] months, $100 in Hoffman Electronics warrants grew to $50,000 — or 22.[illegible] times as much. As you can see, $100 in warrants (especially at low prices) can do the work of $1000 or even $2000 in growth stocks. Now many warrants are low-priced once again. And our Editors in a new Special Report select for you "8 Very Low-Priced Warrants That Can Make You Big 'Leverage' Profits". A copy of this new Warrant Report is yours as a special bonus now when you send just $1 (new readers only) to try our unique advisory service 'The Growth Stock Letter' for the next two weeks. Mail this ad with your name and address and $1 today. Send to Dept. ST-185.

Like sending
down the road

It's that easy to wing merchandise to world markets with the Pan Am Profit Lift!

Now it's easy to turn overseas countries into overnight customers.

And it's easy to slash many so-called normal marketing costs.

Example: On any Pan Am flight, your goods travel first-class — are delivered in showcase condition.

But the world's most modern air fleet is only one reason why Clipper* Cargo pays off in the long run. There are others:

FASTEST DELIVERY TO ALL THE WORLD. No other airline can match Pan Am's number of direct flights to and from all 6 continents. Result: you can eliminate expensive overseas warehousing, cut inventories.

WORLD'S FASTEST, SUREST RESERVATIONS. You know when your shipments leave. You know when they arrive. You know they are expedited. Result: you can smooth out production by gearing manufacture directly to demand.

WORLD'S MOST EXPERIENCED AIR CARGO CARRIER. Pan Am experts kid-glove your cargo every step of the way. Result: hidden shipping costs, like expensive crating, are eliminated!

DOORSTEP SERVICE FROM ANYWHERE IN THE U. S. A call to PAA, your cargo agent, forwarder or local airline is all it takes to put you in business overseas. Result: new markets can be as close as your telephone.

It all adds up to the most complete, convenient and cost-saving shipping package ever offered by any overseas cargo carrier.

So give your overseas business a big lift — the Pan Am Profit Lift. Call your local cargo agent, freight forwarder or Pan Am in Miami, NEwton 3-2491 today!

IN JUST A FEW MONTHS THE HUGE JET MARKET CAN BE YOURS!

Soon, cargo-carrying Jet Clippers will put Europe's 295 million customers only 415 minutes away.

The time was never better, for right now — thanks to Jets — Pan Am Clipper Cargo offers more "lift," more service than ever before!

Will your retirement income be enough?

Figure it out. You may be in for quite a surprise. Many have thought that their Pension Plan plus Social Security would be sufficient, only to find out too late, that with living costs what they are, additional income would be necessary for comfortable retirement.

Today, while you are still earning, is the time to do something about building up your retirement income. By starting a consistent investment program now, you should be able to develop a "second income" that could be of great help when you stop working; an income that could make the difference between pinching pennies and really enjoying your days of freedom.

NBC Seeking Fabray For a Long Contract

The New York Times News Service

NEW YORK—The National Broadcasting Co. has started negotiations with Nanette Fabray in the hope of concluding a long-term contract.

NANETTE

Miss Fabray, who once portrayed the wife of Sid Caesar on the comedian's television show, has not appeared regularly on television since she left that series.

On several occasions she and NBC have entered contract discussions but without result.

One source indicated that the new discussions between the network and the actress may lead to a contract.

How NBC would utilize her services has not been determined, but at least she would appear special shows several times a year.

A SENATE committee's investigation of the juke box industry has inspired a drama idea for a television program.

"Armstrong Circle Theater" is preparing a play titled "The Sound of Violence," which will relate to the inquiry into coin-machine operations being conducted by the Senate committee on improper activities in the labor or management field.

Art Wallace has been assigned to write a script. "The Sound of Violence" will be televised over the Columbia Broadcasting system on April 29 from 10 to 11 p.m. The play has not been cast.

★ ★ ★

IT APPEARS that Arthur Godfrey's Tuesday evening television program on CBS will be discontinued after he completes his season the latter part of May. Next fall he will become the host on "Person to Person."

One Man Eliminated

'Naked City' Gets New Cop

NEW YORK —(AP)— Horace McMahon, a character actor who can play anything, enjoys the game of cops and robbers.

Sometimes a cop, sometimes a thug, he joins the forces of law and order in "Naked City" (ABC-TV, next Tuesday, 9:30 p.m.,) as Lt. Mike Parker of the New York city police department.

This comes about because Lt. Muldoon is bumped off, rubbed out — in short, eliminated — in a show appropriately called "The Bumper."

A hired killer rams his car into Muldoon, knocking him onto an oil truck which bursts into flames. Which is one way to remove a character from a television series.

Muldoon was eliminated because John McIntire, who has played the role since the series' inception, wanted to withdraw and spend full time working his Montana ranch.

Horace McMahon

McMahon, taking over as a new character, Parker, expects to be a less paternal type of policeman than McIntire was. "I expect I'll act a little tougher — at least tough on the outside," says McMahon.

McMahon's extensive experience in the theater, television and movies has not been confined to cops and robbers.

But for one six-year stretch in Hollywood he played nothing but heavies, killers and stooges. Then he switched from lawbreaker to lawman in "Detective Story" on Broadway.

What, from an actor's viewpoint, is the difference between playing a lawbreaker and a lawman?

"The difference is mainly in furtiveness," says McMahon. "The hoodlum is trying to be obscure. The peace officer, who is entitled to carry the gun, is not trying to be obscure. He is frankly what he is."

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 NT.	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Two of ♠.

Failure to pay attention to the spots in the heart suit proved very costly to declarer today.

The bidding was fairly normal, although North's raise to three hearts was somewhat aggressive inasmuch as South's response to the no trump opening showed an unbalanced hand with less than eight points.

West chose the two of spades as an opening lead. While the opening underlead of an ace at a suit contract is irregular, North's strong bidding very likely marks him with the king of spades. If declarer is lacking the queen he will almost surely misguess the holding. Declarer played low from the dummy, and East played the nine. Technically, this is the sound play, but practically, East should realize that unless West has chosen this moment to underlead the ace there is no spade trick for the defense, since the club suit will provide discard. South won with the ten and returned the jack of clubs. West lost no time in winning the trick and again underled the ace of spades. The jack was played from dummy, lost to the queen, and a spade came back to the ace. With book in, West then led a diamond and it went queen, king, ace.

Declarer led the three of hearts to dummy, a choice which in a monent he was to regret. On the second lead the queen fell, and dummy proceeded to lead clubs, declarer discarding two diamonds. On the next club East ruffed in with the ten of hearts, and South over-ruffed. Now, had declarer access to dummy, he could discard the remaining diamond on dummy's good club. Retention of the three of hearts would have permitted him to enter dummy at this time by means of the five.

Persons And Programs

Chances are that Rin Tin Tin won't return to ABC-TV next season in a nighttime spot.

The CBS-TV Ray Milland series, Markham, has had its debut postponed from April 25 to May 2.

Frank Busseri, one of the Four Lads singing group, has bought the Leonia, N.J., home of Pat Boone. Boone has moved his family to a larger house in Teaneck, N.J.

April 5 is the date of the last CBS-TV Small World show this season.

Helen Hayes has joined Lloyd Nolan as co-star of "Ah Wilderness" to be seen on NBC-TV's Hallmark Hall of Fame April 28.

Seven - year - old David Francis got the nod for the role of "Ulysses" in William Saroyan's "The Human Comedy," set for CBS-TV's Du Pont Show of the Month March 28.

Last Word

By DR. BERGEN EVANS

QUESTION: Is there such a word as hist, meaning to steal?—L. A. S.

ANSWER: Yes. It is merely an archaic or dialectal pronunciation of hoist, to lift.

The sound oi was frequently pronounced like the i in line. When Alexander Pope wrote (in 1711):

> Good nature and good sense must ever join;
> To err is human, to forgive divine

—his rime made it plain that "jine" was then the pronunciation of join. And this was the pronunciation heard in rural America up until fifty years ago.

So also with hoist. Mark Twain's famous jumping frog Dan'l "hysted up his shoulders" (1865). Cows were ordered to "hist," meaning to lift their hind leg out of the milker's way. A hip-hist was a throw in wrestling. In central Pennsylvania a heister is a jack for lifting wagons. And in the deep South to "hist the rhyme" is, or until recently was, to lead the singing.

To lift (or hoist or hist) is a common term for stealing. One has only to think of shoplifting.

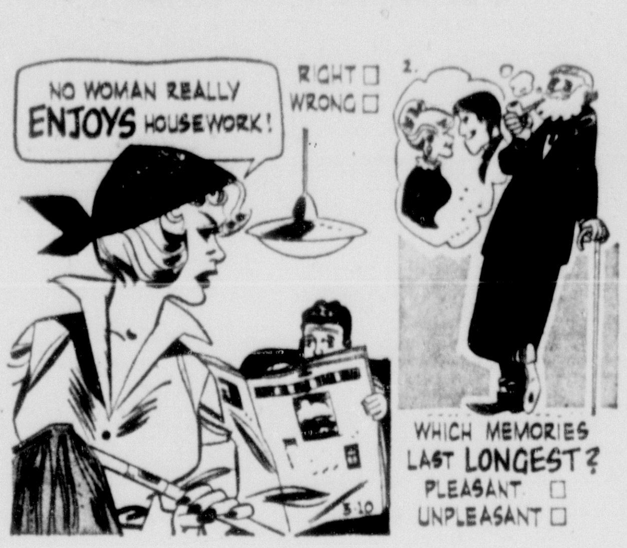
Housework???



NO WOMAN REALLY ENJOYS HOUSEWORK!
RIGHT ☐ WRONG ☐
2.
WHICH MEMORIES LAST LONGEST?
PLEASANT ☐ UNPLEASANT ☐
3-10

By S. M. DUVALL and EVELAN M. DUVALL, Ph.Ds

WRONG. NO ONE, man or woman, enjoys anything all the time. Probably no woman likes everything about housekeeping. But some women, especially when newly married, just revel in establishing a home, buying furniture, perhaps making drapes, or slip covers, and even the cooking and cleaning that go with it. Some women who could afford servants, prefer to do their own work themselves because "it is so much fun." For those who like it (and some women do), housework isn't any harder than playing tennis or golf.

2. Pleasant ones, if you are yourself a pleasant person. Unpleasant ones, if you are an unhappy, disturbed person yourself. The memories you cherish are often a good index of your mental health. The person with good mental health doesn't brood over setbacks and defeats; but if he falls, he gets up, brushes himself off and goes on. Those with poor mental health harbor and cherish their resentments and defeats. The kinds of memories you preserve tell a great deal about your personality.

W. FLAGLER ST.
PROBABLY the largest advertising potential of any building on W. Flagler St. This large building is close to downtown Miami. Improvements consist of large 3 story masonry and steel building. Has 32 large well furnished apartments and 12 stores. Apartments easily converted to 90 hotel rooms which should possibly more than triple the income. Faces on 3 streets. Cost of reproduction today would probably be upward of $400,000. Due to illness of owner the price has recently been reduced $70,000 from real asking price. Today $150,000 can purchase this property. At this price the property is one of the best buys in Florida. Investigate. For details call S. Oliver O'Bryan at FR 1-3592

1957 English Ford Station Wagon

HERE is your chance to own America's most popular imported station wagon. It's our 1957 ESCORT English Ford Station Wagon and at the special sale price of only $1,095. It's an absolute "Bargin." The Herford Green finish is in Showroom condition. And the completely factory original interior including the washable Naugahyde seats, doorpanels, and headliner is like new, and can be kept that way with just a damp cloth wiping. Of course the Firestone "gum dipped" tubeless tires are in A-1 condition including the spare because at this writing there's only 13,911 miles on this beauty.

OF COURSE you'll be getting that famous English Ford up to 35 miles per gallon of gas economy to help you make the payments on the automobile that put the fun back into driving. It's guaranteed in writing for 90 days by Grentner Bros. and there's no cash needed — Just trade in your 1952 model for the down payment. Stock No 4664.

ATTENTION
Packard Owners

HERE in all its' Majestic Glory is a beautiful triple tone Dover white and Metalic Forest Green. 1955 PACKARD PATRICIAN 4-DOOR SEDAN for you and of course it has all the equipment in the books. There's POWER STEERING and BRAKES, the big SELEC-T-RONIC radio with dual front and rear seat speakers that finds its own stations — automatically — TWIN ULTRAMATIC automatic transmission POWER WINDOWS and 4 WAY POWER SEAT, dual thermostat controlled heaters, A-1 white wall tires, Safety padded dash board and EZ eye Solex tinted glass.

THE interior is beautiful and of course, factory original including the doorpanels, headliner and thick pile floor carpeting. You'll find a very expensive set of custom tailor made to order seat covers that are color blended to match the gorgeous interior.

NOW — here's the best part. We're putting this beauty on

But Males Shy Away From 'For-Ladies-Only' Labels

Women Delight in Barging Into Man's Realm

George Brandenburg brings out a vital point regarding sex differences in newspaper reading habits. Study this case carefully for it gives some original data on a controversial point in modern journalism. It is wiser to go "with" the normal laws than "against" them.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

We dine together occasionally in Chicago and at one of our luncheons, Brandenburg asked:

"In some newspapers I notice your column appears on the editorial page, while in others it is placed in the women's section.

"Which spot produces the most mail?"

The placing of the column makes a difference in letters received. And the mail is an indirect barometer of readership.

My mail decreases when my column is placed in the women's section of a newspaper.

"How do you explain that fact?" Brandenburg asked.

I replied with a counter question, namely, do young men relish invading the lingerie section of a department store, as much as young women enjoy invading the men's department?

In general, even older men shy away from invading any region which is labeled "For Women."

The older males may do so for timidity reasons, but the younger males also have a subconscious idea that it is "sissy" for a man to read features which are called "women's features."

★ ★ ★

EVER SINCE earliest childhood boys have been ashamed to be called "sissy," so they veer away from women's apparel, women's interests, and even the "women's section" of a newspaper.

In fact, on airplanes, the usual male will not even accept a copy of a woman's magazine when the stewardess is passing out reading material to patrons, for he fears it may label him as effeminate.

Women, however, take delight in barging into the man's realm. That's one reason why they gleefully accepted cigarets and slacks.

Because of this entrenched sex difference, this column loses a certain percentage of male readership the moment it is placed in the "women's section" of a newspaper.

In fact, I'd suggest that the advice columns and other "human relations" items be bunched under a section headed "for men only."

THEN ALL the men would avidly sift through those pages. And hardly a girl or woman could resist the temptation to devour that section, too.

Women's editors are vitally necessary to a successful newspaper, and they often have a superior "sixth sense" which enables them to select top-notch features, but it penalizes the women's editor to drive away potential male readers by having her features labeled "For Women."

Success in life depends on working "with" the physical and psychological laws.

So newspapers will offer more competition to TV and radio by steering greater male readership into the vital "advice" features.

How About Smart Pills?

NEW HAVEN, Conn. —(AP)— Science may soon develop a tranquilizer-type drug which will relieve mental depression, Yale psychiatrists say — but don't look for a drug which will alleviate human grief.

Dr. Daniel Freedman, assistant professor of psychiatry, said while there is no drug at present which is entirely proven as a depression-killer, there are many new drugs which show great promise.

"I would like very much to see one which would help learning," he added.

Spotlighting Sports

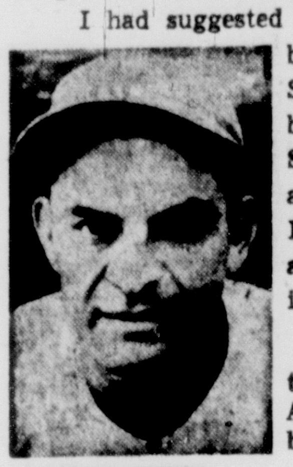
JIMMY BURNS

Herald Sports Editor

Here's Tip: Don't Ask Cookie Why He's Playing Rookies

LAKELAND—With no intention of offending, your reporter wound up in Washington Manager Cookie Lavagetto's doghouse here Sunday.

I had suggested the Senators might enhance their box-office appeal at tonight's Miami Stadium exhibition with the Orioles by using Albie Pearson and Roy Sievers. The former became Miami's favorite by winning the 1958 Baseball Players Golf tournament and went on to become the American League rookie-of-the-year.



LAVAGETTO

ALBIE PEARSON

Sievers in the guy who was third in home run production in the American last year with 39 circuit blows.

"I'd like to use 'em," said Cookie. "But Pearson has pulled a groin muscle and I'm afraid he might aggravate the injury. Sievers has been in camp only three days and he'd risk injury by playing now."

This prompted the innocent observation that Lavagetto was "using a lot of rookies in his exhibitions."

Lavagetto's eyes flashed fire! He chilled me with the rejoinder, "Whatta you mean rookies? The guys I'm using have a chance of making the club."

* * *

'Got to Protect Good Players'

LATER, I had a chance to see what Cookie meant, when Bill Allison smashed Jim Bunning's first pitch 340 feet over the left field fence in the exhibition with Detroit. You'll see Allison in left field tonight.

Actually, I think Lavagetto thought that I was a representative of the Miami club, which shares in the exhibition game receipts, instead of a reporter. Lavagetto, so far as I am concerned, is not the most co-operative of the managers on this Grapefruit Circuit tour.

Please, do not misunderstand. I do not hold testiness against anyone managing the Senators. And, Cookie did come up with one redeeming quote.

"I've got so few good ball players, that I've got to take care of them," he said. "Last year Sievers played early and pulled a muscle."

* * *

You'll See a Good Pitcher

WHEN IT dawned upon Lavegetto that he was talking to a reporter—not a Marlin representative—he became more co-operative.

"We are using one of our better pitchers at Miami in Pedro Ramos (14-18)," Cookie said.

In continuing a frank discussion of his prospects, which at best are not too bright, Cookie added, "After all, I know what Sievers and Pearson can do. The only chance I have to judge the others is to watch them play now."

Frankly some of the things Cookie sees are enough to sour him. I do not intend adding to his troubles. He has enough—having to watch his Senators in 154 games.

* * *

A More Optimistic View

MOST OBSERVERS think the only improvement the Senators can show is to finish a better eighth than in 1958, when their record was W-63, L-91, or 31 games behind the pennant winning Yankees.

President Calvin Griffith takes a different view. He says, "I think we can move up a couple of notches—finishing ahead of Kansas City and Baltimore."

Griffith made one good point, allowing, "We must have pretty good pitching, because other clubs are always trying to get Ramos, Camilo Pasual (8-12) Dick Hyde (10-3), or Russ Kemmerer (6-15)."

Calvin agreed there were plenty of offers for Sievers, but he added the sobering thought, "They're always offering players on the fringe side—not ones who would really help us."

Griffith astounded me with the revelation that in the past few years, Washington has sunk $800,000 into its farm system and he thinks it is about to pay off.

And, Cal got in a final lick with the reminder that Washington last year was second in beating the Yankees, 10-12, and knocked off the Tigers 13 of 22 games. Just what this proves, I don't know.

Senators at a Glance

Outlook — Could be improved defensively, have better pitching and might finish eighth with a better last place club than in 1958.

Pitchers — Pedro Ramos (14-18), Dick Hyde (10-3), Camilo Pascuad (8-12), Dick Fischer, Chicago-Detroit (4-7), Washington (0-3), Hal Griggs (3-11), Angel Oliva, Chattanooga (4-7), Chuck Stobbs (2-6), Truman Clevenger (9-9).

Race Won, Bob Ussery Prepares to Pull Up Missile

Missile Orbits

3-4 Choice Vertex 3rd In Sprint

By RUSS HARRIS
Herald Turf Writer

'CALIFORNIA Here I Come,' was the song Jockey Bobby Ussery was singing Monday as he left Gulfstream. Bobby will ride Tudor Era in Santa Anita's San Juan Capistrano Handicap Wednesday, then return after the race.

Most of Gulfstream Park's 16,889 customers thought Vertex was too good to lose his 1959 debut Monday, but the five-year-old handicap star was beaten by Missile and Encore in a six-furlong sprint.

Missile, ridden by Bobby Ussery, ran the dash in 1:10 2-5 and was a length better than Encore at the wire. Vertex was another half-length back in third place.

A second choice in the field of nine, Missile returned $8, $3.80 and $2.50. Encore paid $4.70 and $2.80, while Vertex was $2.40 show.

Vertex had been idle since last November and was getting a tuneup for the $100,000-added Gulfstream Park Handicap on March 21, yet the public made him a 3-to-4 choice in the wagering.

Jockey Sam Boulmetis broke Vertex fourth and kept him along the rail while Encore cut out the early pace. As the field turned for home, Ussery made a winning move with Missile while Boulmetis took Vertex to the outside of the leaders.

Vertex closed well in the stretch, but was not whipped, Boulmetis merely shaking his stick beside the horse's head.

Vertex was withdrawn from last Saturday's Magic City Handicap. Judging by the way he ran Monday, that was a wise move.

Monday's 16,889 patrons bet a total of $1,699,036. On Gulfstream's first Monday of 1958, a crowd of 17,446 wagered $1,678,990.

CLAIBORNE Farm's Dunce, rated by Moody Jolley as the best horse he has ever trained, makes his seasonal debut in today's eighth race. Bill Hartack is slated to ride the colt in his 1959 engagements, which include the Florida Derby April 4 as well as the Triple Crown events.

Briton Gets First Shot At Patterson?

LONDON — (AP) — British Fight Promoter Harry Levene Monday insisted world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson's first defense this year will be against a Briton.

The challengers Levene has in mind are Brian London and Joe Erskine, both former British champions.

"This will be confirmed in a statement from New York on Wednesday." Levene is D'Amato's agent in Britain.

In New York, D'Amato said "I have no comment to make at this time."

Pinson Drives Home 5 Runs as Reds Roll

SARASOTA — (AP) — Rookie Vauda Pinson drove in five runs Monday sparking Cincinnati's Reds in a 7-2 spring exhibition victory over Los Angeles' Dodgers.

Pinson's homer, triple and single headed an 11-hit Cincinnati attack. The Dodgers threw in five hurlers with Danny McDevitt collecting the defeat.

Brooks Lawrence, who steamed through the first three innings with little trouble, picked up the victory.

Anderson Homer Downs Senators

ORLANDO — (AP) — Harry Anderson belted a three-run homer in the first inning and propelled the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-1 victory over Washington here Monday. It was the Phils' first win in three Grapefruit League games.

Curt Simmons pitched no-hit ball over the first three innings, allowing no walks, and received credit for the triumph. Ed Keegan, 19-year-old rookie righthander from Kresson, N.J., held the Senators hitless for 2 2-3 more innings before J. W. Porter broke the spell with a clean single to left.

Washington, with only three hits, lost its second in three starts.

Detroit Hands Cards 3rd Loss

ST. PETERSBURG — (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals suffered their third straight Grapefruit League defeat under new manager Solly Hemus, bowing Monday to Detroit, 4-0.

Hitless for three innings against Southpaw Billy Hoeft, the Redbirds managed only four hits off righthanders Tom Morgan and Jim Raugh.

Detroit collected nine hits, scoring three times in the fourth off Larry Jackson on doubles by Harvey Kuenn, Al Kaline and Steve Demeter, and Neil Chrisley's single.

Baseball's Wanted Man

O's Face Ramos

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Nats Here Tonight

Pete Ramos
. . . a wanted man

Miami baseball fans will get a glimpse of one of baseball's most sought-after pitchers when Washington's Pete Ramos faces Baltimore tonight at 8 at the Stadium.

With a stronger hitting club, the 24-year-old undoubtedly would have gained the coveted 20-game circle. In seven of his defeats, the Nats scored no more than one run behind him.

That's the main reason such clubs as the New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers already have made substantial offers for Ramos.

Rookies Angel Oliva (up from Chattanooga) and Pete Mesa (Sacramento) will follow Ramos to the mound.

Baltimore's Paul Richards plans to take a look at two pitchers he's counting on heavily this year, Connie Johnson and George Bamberger.

Johnson, a 14-game winner for the Orioles in 1957, fell off to a 6-9 record last season. However, the 37-year-old right-hander feels he's ready to bounce back into the big-winner category.

The 34-year-old Bamberger was one of the Pacific Coast League's top moundsmen in 1958. Control was Bamberger's strong point (only 26 walks in 184 innings) as he posted a 15-11 record with a 2.45 earned run average.

Slugger Roy Sievers and Rookie-of-the-Year Albie Pearson won't make the trip here with the Senators. However, such regulars as Infielder Ken Aspromonte, Catcher Clint Courtney and Outfielder Fay Throneberry are expected to be in the starting lineup.

Athletics Stop Baltimore, 4-1

By DEL STUART
Herald Correspondent

WEST PALM BEACH — The Kansas City A's ended Baltimore's spring winning streak at two games Monday with a 4-1 victory despite fine pitching performances by the Orioles' Jack Harshman and Hoyt Wilhelm.

The A's in winning their first game of the pre-season campaign, collected only four hits off the Baltimore veterans, but Harry Chiti's single in the seventh inning was the only blow that didn't produce a run.

The Orioles' bats were busier, but the scoring punch missing as Rookie Leo Burke's fourth inning homer off Bob Grim netted their lone run.

Kansas City got their first run when Bob Cerv, making his appearance of the spring drew a walk, stole second and went to third when Myron Ginsberg's throw went into center field. The A's No. 1 slugger last season was plated on Chiti's two-bagger.

Rookie Charley Seacrest lifted one of Wilhelm's knuckle balls over the right field fence, 355-feet away in the eighth inning to complete the A's scoring.

Harshman, who gave up only two safeties in his four inning stint, was charged with three runs. (two unearned) walked two and struckout one.

Norton Sights on 100-Yard Dash Mark

Yogi, Ted Roughest in Clutch, Figures Toughie-Tamer Hyde

By Herald Wire Services

DICK HYDEN, Washington's sensational relief hurler who usually pitches only when the chips are down, rates the clutch hitters of the American League this way:

"I'd have to start with Yogi Berra. He's a tough man to get out when one hit means a ball game. And there's the big fellow (Ted Williams) in Boston.

"Me, I can't get Nellie Fox out anytime, clutch or no clutch. And Frank House of Kansas City gives me a bad time. For the clutch, I'd have to say Berra and Williams," said Hyde.

RAY NORTON, whose coach believes he can be the "greatest sprinter of all time," is confident he can run the 100-yard dash in 9.2 seconds this year with the right conditions.

If the blazing fast San Jose State senior accomplishes this, he will crack the recognized record of 9.3 which he already shares with several others.

BILL GRAN of Akron rolled into third place in the singles of the American Bowling Congress tournament with a 708 series, the best individual record since Detroit's Ed Lubanski vaulted into the lead with 764.

Johnson Beats Slade

Judge Joe Angello had Johnson ahead 10-0, Referee Barney Felxi, 8-1-1; and Judge Fred Brunelli, 9-1.

Park to Open New Courts

Top pro tennis players in the area will stage an exhibition Sunday to highlight the opening of the new courts and clubhouse at Victory Park in North Miami Beach. First match is at 1 p.m.

Crack Quintets Hunt NCAA Berths Tonight

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ten of the nation's top college basketball teams lead off the 22nd National Collegiate Championships tonight and by the end of this week almost every team with any claim to fame will have had a crack at tournament competition.

Three first round games in New York and two in Lexington, Ky., will qualify the five winners for NCAA regional tournaments Friday and Saturday. One early starter, De Paul of Chicago, qualified for the Midwest regional last Saturday by nipping Portland, 57-56, in a first round game.

Cincinnati gained a spot in the NCAA tournament with a 66-59 victory over St. Louis Monday night. The triumph gave Cincinnati the Missouri Valley title.

Cincy's victory also sent Bradley, runner-up in the Missouri Valley, into the National Invitational Tournament as the 12th and final team.

New Mexico State also bounced into the NCAA meet Monday night, defeating Arizona State, 78-57, to earn the Border Conference slot.

As a result of the Border deadlock, the first round of the Far West regionals will be played tonight with Idaho State's Rocky Mountain Conference champions visiting the Border champion.

The NIT, oldest of the post-season college tournaments, opens Thursday in Madison Square Garden and continues through March 21. Seeded teams in the 12-team tournament are St. Louis, St. Bonaventure, Oklahoma City and the Missouri Valley runnerup.

In brief, here's how the tournaments shape up:

NCAA (University Division)

First round tonight at New York: Connecticut vs. Boston University, West Virginia vs. Dartmouth, North Carolina vs. Navy. Winners qualify for eastern regional tournament March 13-14 at Charlotte, N. C. St. Joseph's (Pa.) drew bye into regional.

First round tonight at Lexington: Eastern Kentucky vs. Louisville, Bowling Green vs. Marquette. Winners meet defending champion Kentucky and Big Ten champ Michigan State in Mideast regional at Evanston, Ill., March 13-14.

Farwest regional at San Francisco March 13-14: California vs. Utah and St. Mary's, Calif., vs Border-Rocky Mountain playoff winner.

'Don't Hit Him in Stomach'

Moore TKO's 'Wrestler'

ODESSA, Tex. —(AP)— Archie Moore, the world's light heavyweight champion, made a punching bag out of Sterling (Dizzy) Davis, the wrestler turned boxer, Monday night and stopped him on a technical knockout in the third round.

Moore took the offensive at the start, never gave the bulky wrestler a chance to get in a solid blow and knocked him down three times in the second round. In the third, Referee Paava Ketonen stopped the fight with one minute gone when Moore opened deep cuts over each of Davis' eyes.

The slim crowd estimated at 2,000 showed little enthusiasm and the only sentiment expressed was, "Don't hit him in the stomach." Davis, a 212-pounder only 5 feet 9 inches tall, was in wrestling trunks and his stomach spilled out over the top.

Davis got in three blows during the time he was in the ring but they were glancing and did no damage.

Padron Whips Estepa in LW

Special To The Herald

LAKE WORTH — Tony Padron of Caracas, Venezuela, displaying faster hand speed, won a unanimous 10-round decision over Miami's Ray Estepa here Monday night.

BOATER — Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's boxer-business tycoon who'll try to lift Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson's crown this summer, Monday said he had purchased a fishing boat for $100,000. Unbeaten in the ring, Johansson also has a highly successful construction business in Sweden.

HONORED—Oscar Robertson of the University of Cincinnati Monday was named by New York Basketball Writers as the outstanding visiting player to appear in the area this season. Alan Seldon of St. John's University was named the best player in the New York area.

Rookie Drives In 5

Maye's Homer Lifts Braves Past Yankees

BRADENTON — (AP) — A three-run homer by Rookie Outfielder Lee Maye was the big blow as the Milwaukee Braves punched out a 9-6 exhibition victory over the New York Yankees Monday.

Maye's homer in the fourth gave the Braves an 8-5 lead they never lost. The former Austin, Tex., slugger also drove in two other runs with a first inning single. The triumph was Milwaukee's first in three exhibition games this season.

Bob Hartman, Kenosha, Wis., left-hander, was the most effective Milwaukee pitcher. Working the last four innings, he allowed one run, four hits and struck out four. He followed Don Nottebart and Bill Hamilton to the mound.

The Yankee pitchers were Johnny Kucks, Mark Freeman and Murry Dickson.

Braves' Third Baseman Eddie Mathews was hit on the forearm by a pitched ball in a pregame workout and sat out the contest.

Homers Help Chisox Win, 7-5

TAMPA — (AP) — Two-run homers by rookies John Romano and John Callison plus some shoddy fielding by the Pittsburgh Pirates helped the Chicago White Sox gain a 7-5 exhibition baseball victory Monday.

Romano's two-run homer in the first inning put the Sox ahead 2-0 only to have Pittsburgh work its way into a 3-2 lead with a run in the second and two in the third.

Mays, 3 More Go 'Overtime'

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — Four San Francisco Giant regulars — Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Daryl Spencer and Jimmy Davenport — were given special batting practice Monday.

Delany Wins Again

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Ireland's Ron Delany, after setting a new world indoor record of 4:01.4 only 48 hours ago, won the Journal Mile in 4:05.4 Monday night with a last-turn kick that left Istvan Rozsavolgyi four yards behind at the tape.

Little Max Truex of Los Angeles turned in the second fastest two-mile race on record a few minutes earlier, blasting out a half-lap victory over World Record Holder Al Lawrence of Houston in 8:47.2.

Indiana's Willie Mays, who won the Big Ten 70-yard high hurdles championship Saturday, took the 50-yard highs in 6.4 seconds.

Among the late scratches was Bob Gutowski in the pole vault.

The Perfectly Balanced Whiskey

Distilling alone could never produce the perfect balance in Carstairs. It takes masterful blending . . . precise balancing of just the right whiskies with choicest grain neutral spirits to give Carstairs its perfect lightness, perfect taste. Try Carstairs . . . a fine whiskey at a price you can afford.

OBC Renames Kussrow Head Of Scheduling

Van C. Kussrow was renamed chairman of the all-important Orange Bowl schedule committee Monday at a general meeting of the OB group.

Monday's gathering was a routine affair which saw all committees for the 1960 game being named. Oklahoma's threat to boycott any future Orange Bowl games was not discussed.

"We plan," said Kussrow, "to sit back at our next meeting (probably Monday) and let the whole committee discuss that situation."

Other members of the scheduling committee are W. G. Ward, vice chairman; Edgar Jones, A. F. Kasper, W. Bruce MacIntosh, Sam H. McCormick, Stuart W. Patton and Will M. Preston.

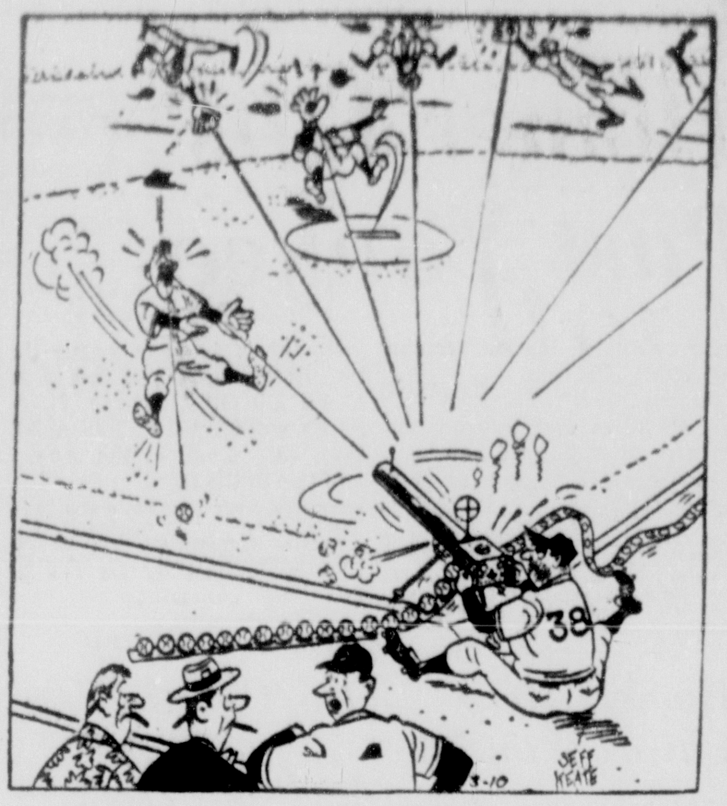
Hialeah Golfers Drop South Dade

Herald Service

HOMESTEAD — Gerald Hamrick of South Dade High took medalist honors with a 39 Monday as Hialeah's golf team defeated the Rebels, 3½ to 1½ at the Redlands Country Club.



"Go ahead and laugh but by opening day he's got a darned alert infield!"

Jockey Cleared By Commission

The Florida Racing Commission found Jockey Charles Richmond not guilty Monday of using an electrical device to "awaken" horses during races. The device was found in Richmond's parked car last Feb. 21 at Tropical Race Park. The track's stewards lifted the jockey's license for 60 days.

St. Pete Pair Take Pin Lead

TAMPA —(AP)— A St. Petersburg pair, Helen Cannello and Rose Beck, rolled 1,313 Sunday night and moved into the doubles lead in the state women's bowling tournament's fifth weekend of activity. The meet ends next Sunday.

Only other leadership shifts occurred in the scratch events. The team scratch lead was taken by the Derby Lanes of the St. Petersburg Kennel club with 2,558.

The top five in each division:

TEAM — General Tire, Miami, 2,983; Jimmie's Bar and Package, Jacksonville, 2,979; Coca-Cola, Tampa, 2,968; Martin's Kingpins and St. Petersburg Kennel, 2,963.

DOUBLES — Cannello-Beck, 1,313; Lois Ritter-Dottie Ulmer, Fort Myers, 1,258; Margie Myhra-Pat Ackroyd, Indian River, 1,249; P. Christianson-Sue McAftee, Miami, 1,246; Betty Kenny-Norma Admire, Hollywood, 1,245.

ALL EVENTS — Ruth Wheeler, Fort Myers, 1,654; Irene Richards, St. Petersburg, 1,653; Bonnie Willis, Tampa, 1,649; Marie Urda, St. Petersburg, 1,641; Esta Wegner, Hollywood, 1,618.

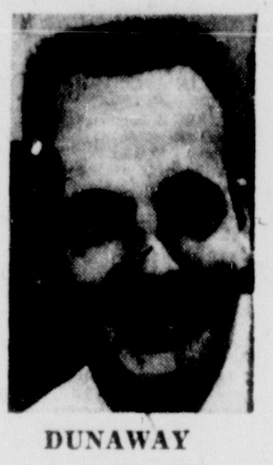
Fishing ★ ★ ★ With Vic Dunaway

When Bonefish Strikes, Don't Set Hook Instantly

Once a bonefish is sighted, the problem arises of getting your bait in front of him without flushing him clear off the flat.

If he's feeding in a steady direction your task is easier. Toss the shrimp out 20 feet or more ahead of him, let it settle to the bottom, then watch and wait. Hold steady if he keeps his course, but if it appears he will miss the bait, move it off the bottom gently and retrieve a few inches of line. Bonefish can spot movement at surprising distances. Chances are the fish will streak for your bait at once.



DUNAWAY

When a bonefish takes, you will not feel a strong strike, merely a gentle nudge. Don't try to set the hook immediately. In a moment he will inhale the shrimp deep in his mouth where bone-crushing teeth go to work. Wait a few seconds before delivering your strike.

Once the hook drives home, all plans and strategy are over. Now you just hang on and hope. The fish will rocket away in the fastest run you ever saw. Hold your rod as high as possible, both to provide the greatest possible flex to whip the fish, and to help keep the line free of obstacles.

Never try to slow the run by snubbing line or tightening the drag. But when line stops melting, pump and retrieve as fast as possible in an effort to get him close to the boat and thus minimize the dangers of his succeeding runs, which will surely come.

Revive Fish, Then Release It

FEW ANGLING EXPERIENCES are as satisfying as slipping the net under your first bonefish. Nobody will blame you for keeping the first one, even if you can't afford to have him mounted. There will be pictures to take, and an entry to be made in the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament. It might be a citation fish.

Succeeding catches will be easier, and you'll release all but the potential prize winners. Bonefish fight so hard you probably will have to administer artificial respiration before releasing them. Hold the fish by the tail and work him back and forth gently in the water until he "catches his breath."

Here Are Some Key Locations

ALL THE ADVICE in the world is of little help unless you know where to practice it. Following are some proven spots that you can reach without trouble or expense. There are many others, of course, but these will keep the beginning bonefisherman right busy.

In Greater Miami, Norris Cut between Fisher Island and Key Biscayne is available to several good boat rental places. Here, drifting can pay off handsomely even though visibility may be poor. Boaters also do well along a string of banks and shoals directly south of Virginia Key and Key Biscayne, approached via Rickenbacker Causeway.

Virtually the entire ocean coast of Key Largo is a vast bonefish flat. Waders find especially good territory by turning left on the North Key Largo road (turn is plainly marked a short distance past the Jewfish Creek Bridge), and approaching the ocean shore at any of several access points.

Rental boats are available most anywhere on Key Largo. Take one and work along the shore—close in at high water, farther out at low.

In the Keys, Just Ask Around

SIMILAR CONDITIONS are found all along the Overseas Highway, but you might pay particular attention to the ocean shore of Plantation Key, Upper Matecumbe, Grassy Key and Vaca Key. At Vaca Key (Marathon) follow the sign to Sombrero Beach, skirt the deep swimming section, and wade for bonefish on surrounding flats.

More specific information can be obtained where you buy bait on the Keys. Often the bait salesman can simply point a finger and say "Wade there." People who rent skiffs are only too glad to give accurate directions to the nearest bonefish territory.

NOTE: This ends a three-part series on how to fish for bonefish without a guide and at a minimum of expense. For those who came in late,, the first two parts appeared Sunday and Monday.)

Terrang Wins As Bug Brush Finishes Third

ARCADIA, Calif. — (AP) — Bug Brush, C. V. Whitney's filly star, ran third to Terrang in a three-way blanket finish in the $52,350 San Bernardino Handicap at Santa Anita Monday. How Now was second.

It took a long look at the photo to separate Terrang from How Now, as Bug Brush, the odds-on betting favorite with the crowd of 24,235, was clearly third. Terrang won by a nose and How Now was a neck in front of Bug Brush.

Jockey Bill Hormatz, on George Newell's How Now, lodged a claim of four against Terrang, ridden by Bill Boland, but it was disallowed.

Terrang, winner of the $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap Feb. 28, is owned by Lawrence Pollock and Roland Bond of Dallas, Tex. The 6-year-old veteran was second choice to Bug Brush in the betting.

It was Bug Brush's first defeat in five starts at the Santa Anita meeting. She defeated Terrang handily in the San Antonio Handicap Feb. 14.

Only five horses went to the post as Social Climber, Ying And Yang and Royal Clove were declared out of the race.

DeMarco Ready For Monroe

BOSTON — (AP) — Former Welterweight Champion Tony De Marco finished heavy training Monday for the fight he figures will determine his boxing future.

De Marco meets former New England lightweight Champion George (Curley) Monroe Wednesday night in a ten-rounder at the Boston Garden.

"This is the big one — all the others don't count now," the 27-year-old Boston slugger said. "I'm just 27 and I have to find out whether I still have it. I'll know after the fight. If I have, there'll be a lot more big pay nights."

It's Really Easy

Soviets Top U.S. on Ice

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (AP) — Russia's rugged, hard-checking ice hockey team trounced the United States, 5-1, Monday in the opening round of the final series for the World Amateur Championship.

In another game, Canada's defending champions shut out Finland 6-0 ina bitter battle which produced gashed heads and complaints of unnecessary roughness.

The Russians and Canadians thus take the temporary lead in the six-team round robin which will continue through Saturday. The two favorites clash Wednesday, with the United States playing Canada in the clamactic match Saturday.

NOBLE SEL unhurried for first half mile, moved along outside gradually thereafter and wore down JAVELIN in final strides. Latter displaced SUNNY STREET with a rush in run down backstretch, drew well clear and just failed to last in a stiff drive. MONTE CRISTO went evenly. HERMOD was unprepared for start.

SCRATCHES: David O'Joe, El Choclo, Withstand, I Am Cientifico, Goshen Relic, Sphinxlike.

REFUGEE assumed command when ready after going three-quarters, drew clear at once and won as if much the best. POINT D'HONNEUR improved his racing position steadily following a sluggish beginning and was clearly best of others. LEAVE IT ALONE was never a serious factor. MIKE's DUKE went lame during the running.

SCRATCHES: None.

Tudor Era Drills Well

ARCADIA, Calif. — (AP) — Tudor Era, Eastern handicap star, ran a sharp 47 3-5 half mile Monday in his first workout at Santa Anita.

The English-bred horse arrived from Florida over the weekend. Mrs. Herbert Herff's 6-year-old grass specialist ran five furlongs down the slope of Santa Anita's turf course. He coasted the last furlong to finish in 1:00 2-5.

Tudor Era is entered in the San Juan Capistrano Handicap Wednesday at a mile and three quarter.

Sports Car Week

Cav Natators Sight on 85th Win in Row

Two swimming meets, two track events and a pair of baseball games dot the high school sports calendar today.

Coral Gables High's swimmers shoot for their 85th consecutive dual swimming meet victory at the Curtis Park Pool. Southwest is the foe. The other swimming action finds Pompano playing host to North Miami.

Collins Golf Victor

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — Blasting Bill Collins of Baltimore stole a page from the putting masters Monday and thundered in with a two-under-par 70 to win the $20,000 New Orleans Open golf tournament.

The 30-year-old Collins finished with a birdie four on the 485-yard 18th hole to cap a four round total of 280, three strokes better than his nearest rivals. His card showed 68-72-70-70—280.

It was the first major triumph for Collins, who was ready to call it quits on the tour this week because of his poor play in recent tournaments. Collins said he still might take a week off "to get my nerves back in shape."

580	13	Fort Surprise	F. Sheppard	x110	15-1

794—SECOND—Purse $3,000, 4-year-olds, claiming $4,000, 6 furlongs. Post 2:20.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
(304)	18	Revara	No Boy	115	8-5

758	13	Jean's Pride	No Boy	110	15-1
289	17	Bell's Well	J. Gilbert	x110	20-1

REVARA was consistent winner at Tropical, figures on top today; PENSIVE GIGI has plenty of early speed; NIGHT MISSION is a stout factor with these; PLEASANT TIME has chance if gets off "also" list.

795—THIRD—Purse $3,000, 2-year-old maiden, fillies, 3 furlongs. Post 2:50.

797—FIFTH—Purse $3,400, 4-year-olds and up, claiming $8,500-$8,000, 6 furlongs. Post 3:50.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
741	8	Leather Button	N. Cruz	x111	3-1

	11	Little Skip	L. C. Cook	116	20-1

LEATHER BUTTON should be able to handle this; LAND O'PEACE figures to be the contender here; GETTHERE JACK is a "speedy" to be reckoned with; TILE SON is always dangerous.

798—SIXTH—Purse $3,800, 4-year-olds and up, allowances, 1 1-16 miles. Post 4:20.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
754	1	Day Court	I. Valenzuela	113	2-1
673	6	Air Pilot	J. Leonard	116	3-1

	10	Noureddin	C. Rogers	113	20-1
	12	Tru Blu Lu	No Boy	108	20-1

DAY COURT is the one to beat; AIR PILOT should be right there; INSWEPT has a chance if he goes; BIG EFFORT is another on the also eligible list with a big chance.

799—SEVENTH—Purse $3,800, 4-year-olds and up, allowances, 1 1-16 miles. Post 4:50.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
512	13	Oligarchy	S. Boulmetis	113	8-5
718	12	Grand Fiesta	J. Sellers	113	3-1
512	1	Nasco	J. Ruane	116	6-1

756	9	Gleeful 2nd	No Boy	113	20-1

OLIGARCHY won the 1958 Widener, must string along today; GRAND FIESTA is in a position to make trouble; NASCO figures a good chance; BING BANG won last, must be considered.

800—EIGHTH—Purse $3,600, 3-year-olds, allowances, 6½ furlongs. Post 5:20.

Ind	PP	Horse,	Jockey	Wt.	Odds
	7	Dunce	W. Hartack	110	6-5

	10	Glorious Fleet	C. Rogers	110	15-1
	3	Starry Flight	J. Leonard	105	15-1

DUNCE was one of best 2-year-olds of 1958, getting ready for Florida Derby; BIM BOUT won his last, will push the top one; ACCOMPLISH figures to be close; REVOLUTIONIST's last was a good race and may surprise at a price.

801—NINTH—Purse $3,100, 4-year-olds and up, claiming $4,500, 1 1-16 miles. Post 5:50.

b—A. & G. Stable & J. Stelle entry.

POSTIN gets the nod in nightcap; ACES EVEN will be arguing at the finish; ROMANY RYE should be close up; BILLY BRIER is back in top form.

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

Who'll Pass the Salt?

IT DOESN'T look as if we'll ever settle the salt question in our house.

I think that salt should be put on food after it is on your plate. My wife thinks that the food should be salted while it is being cooked.

I don't mean that salt shouldn't be used at all during the cooking. I simply think that each person should add salt to individual taste after the food is served.

It seems to me that putting salt on your food just before you eat it is the natural thing to do. That's why salt shakers were invented.

For the years of our marriage I have been trying to establish this point, with little success. For several years, at every meal I would ask for the salt and my wife would ask why I wanted it.

"I want to put it on my potatoes," I would say, if I happened to have potatoes in front of me.

"Didn't I put enough salt in them?"

"I don't know, I haven't tasted them yet."

"Then how do you know they need more salt?"

"I always put salt on my potatoes," I would say, after which she would bring in the salt shaker with an expression indicating she had an idiot in the house.

In recent years I have changed my tactics. Instead of asking for the salt I made a big display of searching for something on the table. Then I heave a big sigh of resignation and disgust and with much scraping of feet, to make sure I'm noticed, get up and start for the kitchen.

"What do you want?" my wife will ask.

"Never mind. I'll get it."

"What is it? I'll bring it in."

"No, no, never mind. All I want is a little to put on my stewed tomatoes. Just a little salt, that's all. Don't bother yourself. I'll get it."

I say this in the whining voice of a suffering martyr. My wife will leap up and bring the salt.

But I never win the war with these battles. The next meal the salt still is missing.

My wife interprets my desire for salt as a reflection on her cooking. Actually it is no such thing. Even if I eat in a restaurant with the best chef in the world, I still want to add my own salt.

Lately, she has tried a new system. She is putting so much salt in the food you nearly need a chaser after every bite.

But I have refused to be intimidated by this unfair practice. I still insist on adding more salt.

It makes the food taste awful, but I'm fighting for a principle.

THE COMMENTS in this column about the Montanari Clinical School for retarded children, which may be closed because of zoning troubles, brought some heart-warming letters.

This was from Paul V. Hohmann, Fort Lauderdale:

"We are lucky and fortunate parents to have two adorable, healthy, normal children and another expected momentarily. Our hearts have always been saddened for those not so blessed, and we want to help in this sorrowful situation.

"Enclosed is our check, made out to the Montanari Clinical School Moving Fund. Maybe all parents who have healthy children will come forward and assist in this worthy cause."

Madelynne Richer, 927 Viera Ave., Coral Gables, wrote: "Up to now, Hialeah has been famous for two things: One of the most beautiful race tracks and one of the finest schools for retarded children. I am sure something can be done to keep this record."

And Mrs. James McKinnell, 90 W. 56th St., Hialeah, who says she is blessed with two healthy, normal children, adds:

"If Mr. Montanari is willing to give of his time and talent, he should certainly be given every opportunity to do so. Schools of this kind are needed so desperately they should be helped, and certainly not hindered."

AFTER A SEPARATION of 45 years, two sisters are enjoying a visit together. Mrs. Ruth H. Jones, from North Carolina, is spending the winter with Mrs. Annie Brandon, 6621 SW 63rd Ave., South Miami.

Mrs. Jones says that in her home state there are towns called Rabbit Shuffle, Frogsborough, Killquick and Hell's Half Acre.

And Mrs. Ben Jenkins, Melbourne, was born in Ynysybwl, in South Wales. That isn't a typographical error, but I'd like to hear Mrs. Jenks pronounce it.

Incidentally, she chided me for using the word "reoccur," saying I should have used "recur." My dictionary says that both words are correct. Reoccur means recur and vice versa.

Jack Kofoed Says

Subject Is Not One To Be Kicked Around

FRED SPARKS has stirred up a whopping storm among the ladies by a piece he did recently. Mr. Sparks said there is no such a thing as love.

It is a figment of the imagination, compounded of passion, loneliness, and sundry other emotions; in short a gossamer dream peddled by novelists, movie makers, and others slightly on the whacky side.

Sparks insists he never has been in love . . . and that's proof there's nothing to the silly idea.

According to this columnist, husbands and wives don't love each other; they just get used to being together. Able reporter, Sparks, apparently has let a phobia blind him to facts. There is love. As a matter of fact, there are many kinds. Love between a man and woman ideally mated, has a sounder foundation than passion, even though Fred has never experienced it.

He has missed one of the great joys of life in never having a child of his own, run to him, wrap chubby arms around his neck, and kiss him ecstatically.

Did he never sense the love of a mother, who suffered and toiled and would gladly have died for him had the occasion required?

Maybe Sparks was kidding. I hope so, though the subject is not one to be kicked around with jibes and laughter. If he meant what he wrote, he is in a most unhappy state. A man, who has never loved or been loved, is only a shell of what he might have been.

NOTES ON A SHABBY CUFF:

Men at the Deep Lake state road camp will get soft ball equipment. A sporting goods dealer sent a dozen balls. Several small checks rolled in. Then, Nat Potamkin, Beach Chevrolet dealer, came up with 100 bucks, so convicts who are being rehabilitated, can play.

Jerry Lewis, opening at the Deauville Friday, has an odd superstition. When working on stage, his pockets are empty, except for pictures of his family. Jerry forgot the photos twice, and each time suffered a bad fall.

That's the way it is in the movies: "The Hanging Tree" is a story about Montana. It was filmed near Yakima, Washington, because the producers didn't think Montana would look like Montana on the screen.

According to Los Angeles columnist Gene Sherman, Rev. Michael O'Connor, who has a church in Woodland Hills, doesn't mind stretching the truth a bit. O'Connor told his congregation: "America is made up of three classes of people, those who live in California, those on the way, and those who wish they were." What about the thousands who move to Florida every year?

They're having cocktails under canvas at ground breaking ceremonies for the Central Shopping Plaza at NW 37th Ave. and Seventh St.

Reggie Smith, British guiding light of the Sebring endurance races, owns a foreign car place in Fort Lauderdale.

Some citizens of Our Town are steamed up over the idea of promoting a World's Fair in Miami in 1964. Remembering the flop of the Sesqui-Centennial in Philadelphia, and headaches of extravaganzas in New York, Chicago and San Francisco, I wonder why.

To villagers in Miami Shores: Don't forget the chicken barbecue at the country club Thursday. Sponsoring Kiwanians use the money to do an enormous amount of good for under-privileged youngsters.

Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy telecasting their show at Cypress Gardens. Wish Pete would get to Miami. He'd make a fine golf match with our Bill, who shot a 74 at Miami Shores Saturday.

Bob Mernit will handle publicity for the Greater Miami Association of Advertising Agencies . . . Coral Gables has a new park, donated by Emil Gould, the Sunrise Harbor developer . . . Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy, starring in "Triple Play" at the Coconut Grove Playhouse, are recognized successors to Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne.

Philadelphia Casanova, architect William F. B. Koelle, organized a Widow and Widowers' Club in his home town. It meets on Fridays which fall on the 13th of the month. This seems like a long time between drinks, but the idea has worked out well.

Now, Bill has set up a club in Miami, with a dinner scheduled for next Friday. Don't call me about it. Call Mr. Koelle at the Urmey hotel.

'Don't Look Back, Don't Think Back'

By ANN LANDERS

ANN

DEAR ANN: Everyone who writes to you thinks his problem is worse than anyone else's. I know mine is! I would kill myself if I didn't have a small child who needs me. Please give me some advice right away.

My husband and I have been married five years. He's a wonderful man, but very quiet and the stay-at-home type.

Don't ask me how it happened, but his younger brother (also married) suddenly fell for me. We met secretly and I must admit it was very exciting. It lasted three months. We both decided there was no future in it and to cut it out before we got caught.

Now I find I am pregnant. this child COULD belong to my husband, but chances are good it's his brother's. The guilt is driving me crazy. My brother-in-law says to keep quiet or I'll wreck his marriage as well as my own. He says since we have both come back to our senses, and the affair is finished, I'd be foolish to bring it out into the open.

Don't preach, Ann. I've learned my lesson. What I need now is advice. — RAGGED EDGE

Dear Ragged Edge: I can say nothing to you that you haven't already said to yourself at least five dozen times, so here's the straight advice:

Legally, your husband is the baby's father. Since the affair is finished, don't look back — or think back.

You'll pay the Big Price for this out-of-bounds fling. The uncertainty will be with you forever. But don't take a chance on destroying two marriages and breaking hearts all around you just to relieve your guilt.

* * *

DEAR ANN: I chuckled when I read Paddy's letter. She was the young girl who wanted to wear slacks when bicycling, boating and so on. Her father said slacks were not proper attire for ladies. She wanted help from you.

This took me back almost half a century when gym bloomers were becoming the rage for girl's basketball teams. My mother was dead set against me wearing gym bloomers. She said girls should wear skirts in public. I felt like a freak, but she was immovable.

One night a respected family friend dropped in. We were arguing this question (as usual) and my mother thought since he was such a proper gentleman surely he'd agree with her and the matter would be closed for all time. She she asked Uncle Dan what he thought of young ladies wearing "those horrible gym bloomers."

He said "I don't like them at all. When a girl in skirts used to fall down during a game it was a great deal more interesting for the spectators!"

I got my gym bloomers the next afternoon! — MRS. W.E.A

DEAR ANN: I'm going to be married in a few months. My fiance has told me his mother must live with us as she is a widow and besides himself there is just his married sister.

I like his mother and feel she will not be difficult to live with. Jim is a wonderful fellow and assures me it will work out well.

The question is this: Would I be starting off on the wrong foot if I asked Jim to discuss with his sister the possibility of inviting his mother to stay with her for the first few weeks of our marriage? We can't afford much of a honeymoon, and the idea of starting married life with a third party in the house, disturbs me. — MONICA

Dear Monica: It would not be unreasonable for Jim to suggest to his sister that she invite Mom to spend a month with her while you two lovebirds become settled in your nest. His mother will probably be more relaxed, too. It's a fine idea.

Two to Study Panama Animals

CHICAGO — (AP) — Two scientists from the Chicago Natural History Museum are visiting the Isthmus of Panama to study the 'melting pot' of animals from North and South America.

Henry S. Dybas and Dr. Alan Solem will spend 2½ months in the Isthmus exploring the Chiriqui highlands and the humid jungles between the Panama Canal and Colombia.

"It is an area of particular interest to biologists because there one finds living side by side creatures that everywhere else in the world are isolated from each other," said Solem.

Iraqi Planes Blast Rebels As War Grows

Who Is This Man Abdel Shawaf? Page 7A

BEIRUT, Lebanon —(UPI)— Iraqi government warplanes bombed an army rebel stronghold in Northern Iraq Monday, and the rebels claimed victory over ground forces in the spreading civil war between anti-Communist army men and the leftist Baghdad regime.

The rebels said they were consolidating their grip on the oil-rich north.

Demonstrations for and against Premier Abdel Karim Kassem occurred in the capital of Baghdad where all Westerners, including numerous Americans, were warned to stay off the streets. Diplomatic dispatches said troops ringed the city and took over police functions.

There was danger of fresh East-West involvement in the turbulent Middle East. Moscow Radio charged that the U. S. may have stirred up the revolt by Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, a tough Kurdish tribesman, to bolster the pro-Western nations bordering Iraq. In London, there were fears of Soviet intervention in the country where the Communists gained a strong voice under Kassem. Britain was ready to evacuate its nationals if necessary.

Government fighter-bombers droned over the rebel city of Mosul, third largest in Iraq, and bombarded it. There were no details of the attack.

Brig. Nazem Tabakjali

... backs revolt

Mosul is a major oil center 220 miles northeast of Baghdad. The Middle East News Agency, semi-official organ of Nasser's government, reported that the rebels had the support of Brig. Nazem Tabakjali, commander of the Iraqi army's 2nd Division at Kirkuk.

That city, 90 miles southeast of Mosul, is the country's chief oil center, the headquarters of the British Iraq Petroleum Co. and the starting point of the oil pipeline to the Mediterranean.

Both the Rebel Mosul Radio and Baghdad Radio, voice of the government, reported the bombings by the heavily pro-Communist air force. A Kassem-appointed commander of Shawaf's brigade proclaimed defeat "at the hands of the people" for the rebels.

But the rebel radio, a powerful transmitter which some experts believe may be located in neighboring Syria, said rebel forces led directly by Shawaf smashed a "small force" sent by Kassem to crush the revolt proclaimed Sunday. It was "wiped out completely," the rebels said.

Thus far all details of the revolt came from the radios and diplomatic dispatches. Censorship was stringent on cables from Baghdad where the government closed the airport to night time flights and cancelled the daily Taurus express train to Istanbul.

(In Washington, American officials kept a sharp eye on the revolt, but said they have no plans for any immediate evacuation of the 1,000 U.S. citizens in that country.)

The Baghdad Radio touched off wild street demonstrations in favor of Kassem when it announced that Shawaf had been shot by one of his own men. It continued to make this announcement throughout the day.

But the Mosul Radio denied it. A voice identified as Shawaf's said he was alive and well and denounced Kassem as a "Red leader."

At the same time, more Iraqis rushed to the support of the rebels. The radio at Suleimanieh, 200 miles east of Mosul, called on "all patriotic Kurds" to join him on ousting the leftists.

The rebels again proclaimed a march on Baghdad to topple those who adhere to a "specific foreign belief." This was an obvious reference to the rise of the Communists and the downfall of the pro-Nasser Iraqis who helped Kassem overthrow the pro-Western monarchy of King Faisal in a bloody, one-day revolt in Baghdad last July 14.

Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic was strangely quiet. Nasser was in Damascus only 400 miles from Mosul, following the revolt closely. He had everything to gain from a rebel victory.

He pledged the rebels to neutrality and said western oil companies could operate unhampered.

'Join Us In Berlin' --Nikita

Bid Receives Mixed Reaction

Nikita's Tricky, Page 12A

By Herald Wire Services

BERLIN — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev came up with a new plan Monday to make West Berlin a "free city" and insure its status by installing U.S., British, French and Russian troops there.

Some observers interpreted Khrushchev's latest offer as a concession to the Western allies.

Others viewed it more cautiously since it would give Russian troops a toehold in West Berlin, now controlled by the West.

Khrushchev said the Big Four's troops should be kept to a "minimum" and should not interfere in any way with the internal affairs of the city.

It was the first time that Khrushchev had indicated he would be willing for the West to keep troops here to guarantee West Berlin's status as a free city. Earlier, he had insisted that Western allied garrisons must leave Berlin after conclusion of a German peace treaty.

The Kremlin's original proposal would create a completely demilitarized free city, leaving West Berlin defenseless before the 400,000-man Russian garrison in East Germany.

The initial reaction in Washington was one of caution. U.S. State Department Press Chief Lincoln White said there have been so many conflicting statements the past few days "it is difficult to differentiate between one and the other." There have been a whole flock of statements from Khrushchev on the Berlin crisis during his current tour of East Germany.

Hoarsely shouting "peace and friendship" in Russian and German, Khrushchev made his new proposals for West Berlin in a 35-minute speech before a cheering mass rally in East Berlin.

The visiting Soviet leader also declared that West Berlin would be guaranteed complete independence if the West accepted the free city proposal. He said also that the East German Communists, who would take over control of lifelines to the isolated city, had agreed to guarantee its connections "with the outside world."

"There would be no objection," Khrushchev declared, "if the U.S., Britain, France, the Soviet Union or neutral states station a minimum of troops in West Berlin to guarantee the maintenance of its status as a free city.

"However," he said, "they should not interfere in any way in its internal affairs."

Khrushchev's surprise switch was welcomed by West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, who commented: "This is fine — we are coming somewhat closer to each other."

It was disclosed earlier that Khrushchev had invited Brandt to meet with him today. German sources said Brandt was consulting with the West Berlin city government and the three Western allied commanders before replying.

Khrushchev also had a two-hour talk Monday with West German Socialist opposition leader Erich Ollenhauer in a move that appeared to be aimed at undermining the position of pro-Western Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Ike's Military Judgment Challenged

Senate Wants 'Truth,' Orders Defense Probe

A New Lincoln

Action Spurred By Complaints of Military Chiefs

Johnson announced his Senate preparedness subcommittee would open hearings Wednesday to "get the truth" and determine whether the President's 41 billion dollar military budget was adequate in view of the Berlin impasse and other foreign policy rows.

The subcommittee's investiagtion grew out of reservations expressed to the group by military chiefs of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines. Some were concerned over funds allotted to their forces by the President's fiscal 1959 budget.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph Mcc. Pate Marine Corps commandant, protested their forces were being cut too deeply. Taylor said he would not have enough men to carry out the Army's assigned missions.

The President has maintained his budget would provide adequate military forces. Republican senators, replying to Democratic critics, cited the President's position and said the Democratic attacks bordered on the political.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee countered that Congress had constitutional responsibility for dealing with military matters and "raising armies."

In an apparent reference to the President, Russell also said he had as much faith in the military judgment of Gens. Taylor and Pate as in "that of any other military man."

The President told a recent news conference that, with all due modesty, he felt his long military experience qualified him better than any single military chief to determine the adequacy of the nation's defenses.

The shadow of the deadlocked Berlin crisis with Russia hung over the sometimes spirited Senate debate. Russell said he was more concerned about the possibility of a limited ground clash in Berlin than the threat of all-out atomic war. Ground fighting would call for Army or Marine troops, the forces cut in the new budget.

Sen. John C. Stennis (D., Miss.) told the Senate that failure to reverse budget cuts trimming the Army and Marines would be a "tragic error" in view of the Berlin situation.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) a long-time critic of administration defense policies, said it appeared to some that the President was giving higher priority to a balanced budget than to the Communist threat.

Symington said "Everybody appears to favor standing firm in Berlin," and added:

"What is becoming hard to understand is 'how' and 'with what?' "

Macmillan, De Gaulle To Confer

PARIS — (AP) — Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan — fresh from a trip to Moscow — Monday began a tour of major western capitals to win backing for his views on cold war strategy.

Macmillan's primary target was French President Charles de Gaulle. Macmillan began with a long exploratory talk — apparently not without disagreements — with Premier Michel Debre.

Macmillan will meet with De Gaulle today along the diplomatic road that will carry him later to Bonn, Ottawa an Washington. He talked in Moscow last week with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

In Macmillan's brief case was a proposal — apparently only vaguely formulated thus far — for a thinning out of military forces in Germany and her iron curtain neighbors.

A British spokesman, talking to newsmen after Macmillan met Debre, was asked if the subject came up under the topic "disengagement."

"The British are definitely not in favor of disengagement as that term is used in some quarters to mean a complete withdrawal of forces," he said.

The French spokesman said: "This aspect of the problem did not come up today. However, the British are as much opposed to the ideas of disengagement recently raised in the press as are the other allies."

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano said in a speech at Bonn his government rejects any plans for a military disengagement that do not provide for a solution of political problems, such as German unification.

Macmillan himself, speaking at the airport after his arrival, referred to his Moscow trip as a "voyage of discovery" and said he was convinced the Russians "are ready to discuss and negotiate" the German crisis.

"In view of this, it is all the more necessary for the West to take council together," he added. "I hope that our visit to Paris will help to confirm our common policy and purpose."

Assails Kennedy-Ervin Bill

Mundt Proposes Curb on Strikes

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Workers or their union leaders could not rush into a strike under a law proposed Monday by Sen. Karl Mundt (R., S.D.).

Mundt, a member of the Senate Rackets Committee which has looked into various labor-management troubles, proposed that:

Any strike vote would have to be conducted by mail by a committee which would include a representative of the employer.

A strike, even if approved, could not begin for 20 days after approval, to permit additional bargaining.

What if unions didn't want to take these time-consuming steps? Mundt's bill says unions which refused to go along would lose their rights to take complaints to the National Labor Relations Board, and would lose their exemption from federal income tax.

Mundt proposed his strike-delaying plan to a Senate labor subcommittee as part of the moves he wants taken to close what he called gaping holes in the labor control bill presented by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) and Sam Ervin Jr. (D., N.C.).

The Kennedy-Ervin bill, in Mundt's opinion, would permit many abuses "by conniving and corrupt union officials."

Another important part of the legislation proposed by Mundt would tighten up procedures for election of union officers.

Mundt said the rackets committee had uncovered some bad union-officering conditions and he seeks to "guarantee to every union member the right of unfettered self-expression in the selection of his leaders and in such vital economic matters as strike determinations."

He proposed that nominating petitions be prepared 120 days before an election, and that a special membership committee, representing the candidates, conduct the voting.

This committee would have the sole authority to supervise the election and count the ballots. Contested elections could be taken to the secretary of labor, with decisions to be made by a federal court, which could order a new election.

Cugat Keeps Wolf at Bay

NEW YORK — (UPI) — An overenthusiastic fan called on curvaceous singer Abbe Lane at 4 a.m. Monday and had the door slammed in his face.

The slamming was done by Miss Lane's husband, band leader Cavier Cugat, who then called police. The caller had fled by the time police arrived.

Unchanged Draft Law Approved

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee Monday approved a four-year extension of the military draft without change.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.) said that because of the current Berlin crisis the committee decided to defer action on proposed amendments designed to correct what he has termed injustices and inequalities in the military reserve program.

"There is an inequality," he said, "but a time of crisis is not a very good time to deal with this."

Russell said some committee members reserved the right to offer amendments when the measure is called up for Senate consideration, perhaps Wednesday.

"I hope they will decide not to," he added.

He said the vote to approve the House-passed draft extension bill was unanimous, by a count of hands, with only one amendment.

He said this amendment would extend extra incentive pay allowances of $100 to $250 a month for doctors and dentists and $100 a month for veterinarians who enter the armed forces after July 1. Without the amendment the incentives would expire this year.

Mrs. Gibson Chose a Dress for Death

She Gave Him Will to Live, Then Lost Own Battle

By LAWRENCE THOMPSON
Herald Staff Writer

Mrs. Ruby Gibson, 35, died Monday morning.

She knew she was going to die. She was disturbed about it only because of her husband and three children.

Somehow, in the night as she tossed in pain-wracked sleep, she knew she would die, but she looked death in the face and in the daylight she calmly discussed the details of her funeral service, even the dress which she would wear in death.

For a year, her husband and children and their neighbors and friends and relatives had known that Mrs. Gibson was doomed to die. When the doctors found that she had leukemia, they held no hope for her.

But they did not tell her. Although hundreds of people knew it, her condition was a well-kept secret. It was a conspiracy of mercy in which even children cooperated.

During that final year of her life, Mrs. Gibson was taken to the hospital 10 times, at first only for short visits. She received more than 100 pints of blood, given by the people who knew how she had kept her family together when her husband was crippled by polio.

She was told that she had a blood disease, but not that it was leukemia, a form of cancer, and that it was certain to be fatal.

She went to the hospital for the last time nearly a month ago. As her condition became more painful, she began to suspect that it was critical. She spoke of death fearfully, but was reassured.

On Friday morning, John N. Gibson, Metropolitan development director, was driving to his office when his wife asked another patient to call him and leave a message.

The message was on his desk when he arrived. It read:

"I am dying. Come to the hospital immediately."

When he arrived, his wife had not, as he feared, taken a sudden turn for the worse. Instead, she seemed to be in better spirits than at any time since she entered the hospital. She had been under continual heavy sedation, but now she was bright-eyed, and she spoke clearly.

"Don't feel sorry for me," she told her husband. "I know I am dying. It is beautiful."

She held out an emaciated arm and he clasped her hand. She smiled at him.

"I will miss you and the children," she said.

And then she spoke of what must be done. She debated about whether she should wear the champagne-colored dress with the rhinestone clip she won when they appeared on a TV program in New York a year ago, or whether the brown dress would be better.

Mrs. Ruby Gibson

... the secret was out

"It was almost as if she were making plans for a date," her husband said.

And then Ruby Gibson closed her eyes and slept.

The next morning, in her sleep, she suffered a cerebral hemorrhage which hastened her death. She never regained consciousness.

When she died, at 8 a.m. Monday, her husband still sat by her bedside. But in this crisis, Ruby Gibson had given him strength, just as she had years before when he was helpless and discouraged.

That was a period that started in July, 1952.

Despite Herds

Beef Prices To Stay Up

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Agriculture Department indicated Monday that there will be little, if any, decline in retail beef prices in the next year or two.

The department said that the record number of cattle on farms on Jan. 1 is not likely to bring any great changes in cattle prices. This likewise means no significant changes at the butcher counter.

Cattle marketings are not likely to rise because farmers still are building up their herds which were depleted during the drought years, the department said in its publication, "The Livestock and Meat Situation."

Industrial Leader Dies

NEW YORK — (AP) — Arthur B. Goetze, 57, president of the Western Electric Co., died Monday of a heart attack. He was seeking medical aid when he succumbed.

A spokesman said that Goetze was stricken with a heart seizure at his 15th floor offices of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. building, 195 Broadway, shortly after eating lunch.

He then went, unaided, by elevator to the medical department of the company on the third floor, the spokesman said. An ambulance was summoned, but before it arrived, a second attack took his life.

El Salvadoran Chief To Give Ike 'Tips'

By JOHN B. McDERMOTT
Herald Foreign Affairs Writer

President Jose Maria Lemus of El Salvador said in Miami Monday he will offer suggestions to President Eisenhower aimed at improving U.S. relations with Latin America.

The Central American chief executive spent only one hour in Miami en route to Monticello, Va., and Washington on a 10-day state visit to this country.

He indicated that anti-American demonstrations in Bolivia, coupled with overall cool feeling in Latin America toward the U.S. would play an important part in his Washington discussions.

President Lemus declined to be specific in his talks with newsmen who met his Taca airliner at the military section of Miami International Airport.

He was here only long enough to change planes, boarding a special U.S. Military Air Transport for Charlottesville.

Today, in Washington, he will be accorded a formal welcome by President Eisenhower.

President Lemus said inter-American relations would be included both in his discussions with President Eisenhower and in his address to a joint session of Congress Wednesday.

As for the purpose of his visit, the 47-year-old El Salvadoran said it resulted from an invitation issued by President Eisenhower.

"Will you be seeking a loan?" he was asked.

"I feel it is not in good taste for a guest to ask for a loan from his host," the President replied with a smile.

However, he said he had several of El Salvador's business leaders with him and it was possible they might try to work out a better economic pact between the two countries.

El Salvador, a tiny republic the size of Massachusetts, depends largely on its coffee exports for its foreign trade. Most of the coffee is sent to this country.

President Lemus said that Communist infiltration in Central America continues to be "a chronic problem."

However, he did not feel that it has reached alarming proportions.

Asked if the Communist threat had increased during the past year in Central America, he countered with:

"Has it increased here in your country?"

Then he added that he felt the penetrations both in North and Central America were about the same proportionally.

President Lemus was met here by U.S. Ambassador and Mrs. Wiley Buchanan, chief of protocol for the State Department; El Salvador Ambassador to Washington, Hector David Castro; Consul General G. Cabrales of the Miami office; Metro Commission Chairman Walter Weiss and Hugo Whitehouse, Austrian consul who represented the Miami consular corps.

The President's tour will take him to New York, Springfield, Ill., Houston and New Orleans.

As one of Latin America's chief proponents of democracy, he had particularly asked to visit the historic home of President Thomas Jefferson in Monticello — he saw it late Monday — and the tomb of President Abraham Lincoln in Springfield.

El Salvador At a Glance

EL SALVADOR — in the heart of Central America, is the smallest republic on the North or South American continents.

POPULATION — 2,300,000 or slightly more than the city of Los Angeles.

ECONOMY — Eighty per cent of its exports are coffee, 11 per cent cotton. Imports include fuels and lubricants, cotton textiles, iron and steel, autos and trucks, wheat, meat and pharmaceuticals.

GOVERNMENT — A Republic comprised of 14 departments; language is spanish and the religion is predominantly Catholic.

Skipjack 'Flies' Under the Sea

CROTON, Conn. — (AP) — The atomic submarine Skipjack — supposed to be the world's fastest and most maneuverable — began sea trials Monday.

The skipjack was launched last May 26 and has been at her fitting-outdock here since then.

Herald Column Tells Why

There's a Right Time In Love or Business

Not only the moon but the stars too, have a relation to man's love life, according to astrologists.

There is a right time to love, they believe, just as there is a right time to go into a business deal or make other important decisions.

Astrology is a controversial subject, but its converts couldn't start a day without checking the stars.

Now Cullen Moore, a young woman as educated as she is pretty, has a new message from the stars to be brought to Herald readers every Sunday, starting March 15.

Her advice column—which will tell you the right time for you to make love or close a business deal—combines modern psychology with ancient Zodiac lore.

For the past 10 years Mrs. Moore has been studying the relationship between the stars and romance. Her research has taken her to many foreign lands, where she acquired much of the information she will pass on to Herald readers.

Her column, Stars and Lovers, will include a Mating Tip of the Week. Also, there will be a zodiac guide for the entire week.

Mrs. Moore feels strongly that astrology should never conflict with religion.

It is in the field of human relations that she believes astrology can help us all.

Atom Chairmen Hit By Colds

SAN MARINO, Calif. — (AP) — The chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and the chairman of the United Kingdom Atomic Energy authority are under treatment for bad colds.

AEC Chairman John A. McCone's doctor reported Monday that danger of pneumonia has passed and he should be out of bed in three or four days.

Also under treatment in McCone's home here is Lord Plowden, the British chairman. He had been scheduled to leave for northern California. He now hopes he will be well enough to leave for San Francisco today.

Actress Sheds Film Executive

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — (AP) — Actress Doris Dowling obtained a divorce from a movie executive Monday and said she plans to resume her acting career.

The brunette, who was bandleader Artie Shaw's seventh wife, divorced Robert F. Blumofe, 49, vice president of United Artists Corp. She is 34.

Miss Dowling complained that her husband, frequently failed to come home for dinner and on some occasions when he did he would lock himself in the library. Her assertions of cruelty were corroborated by her sister, actress Constance Dowling.

Duncan Defense Rests Case

VENTURA — (AP) — Frank Duncan Monday supported his mother's story that she was being blackmailed by two men who say she hired them to kill her daughter-in-law.

The young attorney's testimony completed the defense case for Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, charged with arranging the murder of Frank's 30-year-old pregnant bride, Olga.

The prosecution says she did it because she was so intensely jealous she couldn't stand seeing her son living with another woman.

Frank finished his testimony as the trial went into its fourth week.

He said his mother first told him of the purported blackmail last Nov. 22. This was five days after the disappearance of Olga, whose body later was found in a roadside grave.

His mother told him the men were blackmailing her, Duncan said, because they were angry about a $500 legal fee they had paid to Duncan.

Frank said his mother told him she had paid $350 in blackmail and they said they would harm her son unless they got $2,000 more.

Frank told the jury:

"I asked her why she hadn't told me this before. She said it was because she didn't want to endanger my life and because Olga had disappeared.

He added:

"I was extremely angry and told my mother I was going down to the bar where she said these men could be found. Mother insisted I go to the police. I did go to the police. I told the police my mother was being blackmailed."

Frank said he later took his mother to the police station to discuss her blackmail story and to look at pictures in the police file.

On another occasion, he said, he viewed a lineup of men and finally identified Luis Moya, 20, as one of the blackmailers.

Moya and Augustine Baldonado, 26, have confessed that they strangled Olga after Mrs. Duncan promised to pay them $6,000.

Defense Attorney S. Ward Sullivan wound up his questioning of Duncan by asking:

"Has your mother at any time said or done anything that would cause you to believe she contemplated harm to Olga?"

"Certainly not," Duncan snapped.

'Killer' Arrests Woman

A Miami detective, posing as a killer-for-hire, Monday arrested a 41-year-old mother who, according to police, offered him $1,000 to murder her husband so she could cash in on $30,000 worth of life insurance.

The bizarre plot played out on a downtown street as telescopic cameras and tape recorders covered the transaction.

Arrested and charged with conspiracy to commit first-degree murder was Mrs. Beatrice Burley, 41, of 3702 NW 23rd Ave.

Miami Detective Jack Metcalf, who played the part of the professional killer, described the woman as "cold and calculating."

She was arrested at 3 p.m. as she sat in Metcalf's unmarked car at NW 22nd Ct. and 36th St., moments after she allegedly had given him $100 as down payment to kill her husband, Ernest Gurley, a truck driver for Triangle Electric Manufacturing Co., 2150 NW Miami Ct.

Willard Names 2 Top Aides

Woodrow Hampton, a former school teacher who went to work for the city eight months ago, was named assistant city manager Monday.

Both men will continue at their present salaries of $7,500 a year. They also will continue filling their present posts.

Hampton was appointed secretary of the Miami Planning and Zoning Board last July.

Phillips became director of the Offstreet Parking Department last October after he ran unsuccessfully for the Metro Commission in September.

Bandits Active In Bay Harbor

Crime was the thing in normally peaceful Bay Harbor Monday as:

Thieves broke into Tony Sweet's restaurant at 9561 E. Bay Harbor Dr., peeled a safe and made off with $5,000 in cash sometime between 2:30 a.m. and 5 a.m.

A lone bandit, wielding a sand-filled sock and working in broad daylight, knocked out Peter Giglia, 20-year-old messenger for Florence Lustig's, an exclusive dress shop at 1019 Kane Concourse, and escaped with the weekend's receipts of $22,000 in cash and checks.

Both hauls happened within 12 hours and one block of each other.

Said Bay Harbor's hard-pressed Police Chief James T. Kenny: "One more day like this and I'll turn in my badge and open up a little pool hall somewhere."

City in Running For Legion Meet

Moore said a choice will be made in 10 days from among Miami, Indianapolis, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Las Vegas.

Manville's Sister Dies In Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. —(UPI) — Clare Lorraine Manville Baxter, sister of much-married asbestos heir Tommy Manville, died at the Riviera Hotel on the "strip" here Monday, the hotel reported. She was 64.

Hotel manager Richard Chappell said her body was discovered in her room when he went there with one of the hotel's special police officers after she failed to answer a call.

Chappell said an autopsy was scheduled.

Vanguard II Spoke With Shaky Voice

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Vanguard II wobbled so much in its whirl around the earth that it is difficult to interpret what it said.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Monday the job of interpreting the decoded signals from the satellite "has become something of a detective story."

As a result, it will take weeks or perhaps months to interpret the picture of the earth's clouds covering — a main objective of the experiment.

The satellite was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Feb. 17. It broadcast information on the earth's cloud cover until 9:37 p.m. last Saturday, when its batteries died.

NASA said the transmitter batteries operated about four days longer than their expected life of two weeks.

The 30-inch satellite was expected to remain in orbit for at least 10 years.

They were married in 1945 at the Little Church Around the Corner in New York. Later they moved to Florida, and Gibson operated advertising agencies in Jacksonville and Key West before coming to Miami in July, 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson and their three small children moved into a home in Miami Beach on a Wednesday. The next Sunday he was in a hospital with polio. His case was complicated by a simultaneous attack of typhoid fever.

He was in the hospital for five months, and Mrs. Gibson cared for the children and visited him regularly. On his return home, she nursed him and looked after the children and then, when funds were exhausted, she took a job as a waitress.

"She was understanding, but practical," recalled an intimate friend. "She was sympathetic, but cheerful. She never let John feel sorry for himself or for her."

With her encouragement, Gibson, paralyzed from the waist down and confined to a wheelchair, enrolled in business administration classes at the University of Miami. He continued until he earned his degree, but once times got so bad that he advertised he would sell one eye in order to buy a motor for his wheelchair.

His appeal resulted in the donation of a motor scooter. That made going to his classes, to the hospital for therapy, and looking for work much easier. Gibson couldn't become downhearted, his wife wouldn't stand for it.

His big break came in 1955, when he was appointed manager of the economic development and research department of the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce. He had demonstrated that his wife's faith was not misplaced. In July, 1957, he was appointed head of the Dade County Development Department, now under Metro.

Mrs. Gibson was able to devote full time in those years to her duties as mother and housekeeper, wife and active worker in the Bryan Memorial Methodist Church.

Then came the illness and the diagnosis.

During the past month, Gibson has filled the triple role which she once filled. He has worked at his job, visited the hospital, cared for the children.

He has received help from friends and neighbors. For the past week, Mrs. Gibson's sister, Mrs. Gladys Iverson, Buffalo, has been in their home. And the oldest Gibson daughter, 13-year-old Candis, has taken over many of the responsibilities of a mother.

The boys, Christain, eight, and Craig, six, have helped in many small tasks, and each day Gibson was able to report to this wife that all was well in their home at 2624 Lincoln Ave., Coconut Grove, the house with the ramps and wide doors for his wheelchair. She was proud of that house.

At first, Mrs. Gibson thought of going home, and then she began to suspect the secret that had been kept from her.

Then came the note in Gibson's office and he was at her side and she knew she was dying, but she was not afraid.

Rather, she was consoling him.

"It was just as if she were telling me she had to go home and that she was sorry to leave me and the children but knew she would see us later," Gibson says. "And she was not afraid or worried. She said it was beautiful."

Mrs. Gibson's Rites Will Be Thursday

The body of Mrs. John N. Gibson will be at Bryan Memorial Methodist Church, 3713 Main Hwy., Coconut Grove, from 11 to 4 p.m. Thursday. Memorial services will be conducted in the church by the Rev. Stewart Austin at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Gibson is survived by her husband and three children; her father, Edward R. Cox, Buffalo; a sister and three brothers.

Louisiana Refineries Target

Oil Union Brass Set To Blunt Hoffa Pitch

BATON ROUGE, LA. —(AP)— Leaders of an independent oil union Monday set up a meeting of 4,000 refinery workers to hear Teamsters President James Hoffa invite them to join him.

While the Hoffa personal appearance was being booked for Thursday, Louisiana's AFL-CIO chief appealed to the workers to stay away from Hoffa.

"Our weapons of battle" against the Hoffa invasion, said Victor Bussie, president of the Louisiana State Labor Council AFL-CIO, "will be public opinion, prayer and an appeal to members of the Independent Industrial Workers Association (IIWA) to remember their responsibility to this community of which they are a part."

President Marvin Holley Jr. of the IIWA, without a contract at the big Esso Standard Oil refinery here since last summer, said Hoffa will speak at the Thursday meeting.

Esso General Manager H. J. Vookries already has indicated he doubted the IIWA members wanted Hoffa as their bargaining agent.

Bussie said: "Thank God that George Meany and other national leaders have spoken out against Hoffa and are doing everything possible to prevent him from making any further inroads in labor."

Hoffa, in Detroit during the weekend, scoffed at Bussie's warnings, and said if Esso wanted to join the Teamsters, "we'll take them in."

National Summary

An area of high pressure pushing across the lower Mississippi Valley was associated with a broad pattern of fair skies across the south at mid-day. Low pressure over the Ohio Valley supported precipitation across much of the northeast. Temperatures in the 70s warmed Southern Texas and most of Florida and a flow of southwesterly breezes carried readings in the 50s to the mid-Atlantic coast. Patches of rain were scattered near a cold front from Georgia northward across the Ohio Valley with a combination of rain or snow over Pennsylvania. Rain dampened southern New England. Snow prevailed across the colder pattern over the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley eastward across upper New England.

Sunny skies from the central plains across the southwest found temperatures pushing into the mid 50s in Kansas and reaching the 70s in Southern California before noon. Behind a cold front stretching from the Dakotas into central Kansas however, colder northwesterly winds held temperatures below the freezing mark from Wyoming into portions of the northern plains. A few patches of rain accompanied temperatures in the 30s over parts of Nebraska and South Dakota.

A disturbance approaching the northern Pacific coast spread moisture and cloudiness over much of the northwest, with rain along the Washington-Oregon coastal slopes. Snow extended inland to the mountains of Montana. Except for a few showers likely in Southern Texas, fair skies are expected to persist from the midsection of the country across the southwest today. Flurries or scattered snows are likely to extend from the Pacific Northwest into the mountains from Montana into Colorado. Rain or snow is forecast today across the Dakotas into northern Minnesota. Patches of rain or snow are likely to reach Western Nebraska. Scattered snows over the Great Lakes and showers southward into Kentucky are likely to prevail through this morning. But rains from the Carolinas into Virginia and occasional rain or snow over New England should give way to clearing late Tuesday.

Did Killer Make Mistake?

Tampa Grocer Victim Of Gang-Type Ambush

TAMPA — (AP) — A wealthy 51-year-old wholesale grocer, described as "a good guy who would help anyone," died Monday in a gangland type shotgun murder in the yard of his home.

Investigators said they found no motive for the slaying of Bennie Lazzara or leads to the killer.

The triggerman fired on Lazzara with a 12-gauge shotgun when the businessman and his wife stepped from their car in the driveway of their home shortly after midnight.

Officers said they found no connection between Lazzara and racketeer elements in Tampa. They said Lazzara was not related and apparently had no dealings with two other men named Lazzara who have police records.

Lazzara's murder resembled in many respects several of the 19 unsolved gangland slayings in Tampa since 1931.

The latest unsolved killing at Tampa which is attributed to the underworld came on a dark street the morning of July 3, 1958. Joe (Pelusa) Diaz, convicted three days earlier in a Polk County numbers racket case, died of three blasts from a shotgun.

T. J. Valenti, Lazzara's partner in a wholesale produce firm, said the victim never had any dealings with undercover activity in his life.

Valenti advanced the theory that the killer got the wrong man. "That's the only solution I can see," he said.

State Attorney James M. McEwen said the killer apparently waited in ambush behind a hedge bordering an alley alongside Lazzara's two-story home. He said the shot, fired from a distance of about 50 feet, sent buckshot into Lazzara's brain and heart.

Mrs. Lazzara, sister of Circuit Judge I. C. Spoto of Tampa, escaped injury. She told officers the shot came as she closed the door on the right hand side of the car.

"I went around the car and found my husband crawling on the ground," she said.

In Washington, U. S. Rep. William C. Cramer of St. Petersburg said he had alerted the Justice Department to the murder. Cramer said he asked the federal agency to reconsider its previous position of refusing to help Hillsborough County law enforcement agencies in solving such crimes.

Cramer said in a television interview at St. Petersburg that the shooting had "all the earmarks of a typical brutal gangland murder."

"Regardless of the motive behind this brutal killing," Cramer said, "I trust that the Tampa Tribune and Tampa Times will now stop their drumbeat of opposition to my efforts to make available federal help if needed in this instance or in the future.

"If the murder remains unsolved, certainly FBI help would be invaluable, particularly if the killer were shipped in and out hurriedly in interstate commerce."

The state attorney said, "we have no theory for the murder. We are continuing to question those who worked for Lazzara."

He said Inspector Neil Brown and Detective Sgt. Norman Brown went to Bartow, 30 miles east of Tampa, to check out a report of two men being picked up in an automobile resembling the getaway car.

Sheriff Hagan Parrish said at Bartow that the men, 23 and 26 years old, were released. The sheriff said, however, soil samples taken from the car would be sent to the FBI in Washington for a comparison with soil from the alley near the Lazzara home.

McEwen said a two-tone automobile seen by a neighbor in the alley "is about the only lead we have and it's far from a good one."

A son, Bennie Jr., 15, and a boyfriend, were asleep in the house when the murder occurred. They said they heard nothing during the minutes preceding the shooting.

The Lazzara's other children were away at college. Rosalee, 21, attends Rollins College at Winter Park, and Ralph, 25, is a medical student at Tulane University.

Mayor Nick Nuccio and the Tampa newspapers took sharp issue last week with a statement made by Cramer when the congressman introduced a bill in Congress aimed at curbing terrorist conspiracies.

Nuccio cited his record of campaigning "against all types of criminal activity" and said the situation here had improved.

Coughing Tot Saves 4 in Blaze

Douglas H. McAllister, 43, burned to death on the second floor of the two-story frame structure, which was badly damaged.

Fire Marshal O. A. Byrd said first investigation indicated an overturned oil stove in McAllister's room caused the blaze.

McAllister's body was found in a position which indicated he had been trying to crawl from the room.

Barbara Kay, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pitts, began coughing and awoke her parents and two-year-old brother, Rickey. They were also on the second floor.

Mrs. Pitts, 18, and pregnant, said she smelled smoke when me got out of bed to give Barbara some cough medicine.

Pitts picked up Rickey and called for his wife to grab the baby and follow. But smoke and flames barred her way. She rushed back to her room and escaped through a window, down a ladder which roofers had left.

The house's owner Mrs. Emma Grimms was asleep on the first floor but escaped without trouble.

Tax Plan Overhaul Is Needed

JACKSONVILLE — (AP) — Rep. John E. Mathews of Jacksonville Monday said Florida's entire tax structure needs changing.

He told the annual meeting of county tax collectors the tax laws are a hodge podge, created to fit a need of the moment, in each Legislature.

He said, however, he doubted the legislature would make any major revision.

But, he added "now is the time for local government officials to join state forces so when the revisions are made — perhaps two years from now — you will be left with your fair share of tools with which to cope with local tax problems."

Mathews said that, since homestead exemption went into effect in the 1930s, counties have had no base on which to build a fair tax plan. He said

Legislators Keep Eye on New Appointments

Collins Holding 'Ace' In Vacant Judgeships

Collins Not Satisfied

Constitution Draft Due More Study

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Gov. LeRoy Collins isn't completely satisfied with the proposed new state constitution drafted by his special revision committee.

The governor's legal aide, William Killian, said there was "no substantial disagreement" between Collins and the committee.

But, he added, Collins felt there were some things in the committee draft that required further study. Some of the ideas developed by the revision committee are completely new, Killian said.

The committee's thinking does not dovetail exactly with Collins' own ideas in some areas. The governor also questions the phrasing of some provisions in the committee draft.

Killian said Collins was handed the final draft of the special committee's work late Friday and spent the weekend studying it.

The governor plans to confer with William A. McRae, the Bartow lawyer who heads the revision committee, and Douglas Shivers of Tallahassee, the committee counsel, before he puts the proposed new constitution before legislative leaders, Killian said.

But Collins hopes to have all the bugs worked out in time to sit down late this week with Sen. Pres. Dewey M. Johnson, House speaker Thomas D. Beasley and the chairmen of House and Senate constitutional amendments Committees, Rep. Mallory Horne of Leon County and Sen. John Rawls of Marianna.

Collins set up the McRae committee to prepare a new constitution after the Florida Supreme Court threw out the legislative revision program adopted by a special session in October, 1957.

The Supreme Court voided the legislature's program because the revised articles were interlocked into a single package which had to be accepted in its entirety or fail. The court said the daisy chaining of the various articles made the program a general revision, which could be accomplished only by a constitutional convention.

The McRae committee has developed its revision in a series of independent articles which stand by themselves.

Details of the proposals have not been made public. McRae has said that basically the committee had followed the legislative revision. He has said the committee has come up with a proposed solution to the reapportionment deadlock that will appeal to all sections of the state.

In creating the committee, Collins said its proposals would reflect his thinking as to what should be in a new constitution.

The governor is not expected to make public his proposals before he reviews the program with the legislative leaders.

Option Plan In Schools Is Backed

ST. AUGUSTINE — (AP) — A local option school closing plan appears to be the only way to avoid a statewide shutdown because of integration, says Fred Kent, Jacksonville attorney.

He said the Legislature should pass no bill which would close all schools if one is integrated because "that is exactly the type of law which brought integration to Virginia."

Kent is a former member of the Board of Control which administers policies of state institutions and has been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor.

He told the St. Augustine Rotary Club Monday Floridians should ask the Legislature for three things:

"1. A carefully worked out amendment broadening its pupil assignment law at least to the extent of the Alabama law which the U. S. Supreme Court has held to be constitutuional.

"2. A tuition payment law along the lines suggested by Attorney General Ervin but with every restrictive provision which might affect its constitutionality eliminated. We can't gamble on it being held unconstitutional and our having to live without such a law for two more years.

"3 A local option lay which would put the entire administration of the state's public schools and its anti-integration laws on a county basis and vest in the people the power to guarantee their stringent enforcement by the prompt recall of faithless public servants."

Kent said the local option plan is indicated by the federal court in the Virginia case and that it appears the only way to handle the matter.

He said Florida's constitution says the Legislature must provide a uniform public school system and that the Virginia constitution has substantially the same provision.

Therefore any attempt to enforce a school closing bill in Florida would very probably result in the state courts throwing it out just as the Virginia courts did, he said.

Florida's Economy Is Clicking

TALLAHASSEE — (AP) — The State Industrial Commission reported Monday Florida's economy took a giant stride toward normalcy in January, with employment hitting a record high and unemployment dropping off.

Employment soared to 1,262,100 in January with the winter tourist rush and manufacturing sparking the increase. The January figure was 8,100 over December and 65,800 above January, 1958.

A drop of 1,300 in the number of jobless from December to January, reversed the usual seasonal trend, when unemployment and employment rise together. Unemployment, however, remained at 83,200 which was 15,300 more than January, 1958.

May Appoint 30 To Circuit Bench

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. LeRoy Collins has an ace-in-the-hole going into next month's session of the Legislature.

The Legislature is top-heavy with lawyers — and Collins may have nearly 30 additional circuit judgships to appoint before his term expires in 1961.

Collins already holds the record for judicial appointments having named 37 of the 78 circuit judges in Floria, two members of the Supreme Court nine judges to the Court of Appeals.

Usually, a lame-duck governor has trouble with the Legislature in the final session before his term is up. Already, Collins looks to be headed for a stormy session.

But with the possibility of a judgeship appointment, more than one attorney-legislator is likely to try to cooperate with the chief executive rather than fight him on some of his key proposals.

New Circuit Judgships are created for each 50,000 population or "major fraction thereof," although some counties require special enabling laws to call for a survey to determine whether additional judges shall be appointed.

If the Legislature adopts recommendations of the Florida Judicial Council, Collins may be able to add still more names to his list of judicial appoints.

The Judicial Council urges removal of the constitutional limitation of three District Courts of Appeal of three judges each, allowing more districts and more judges if needed. Collins could conceivably have the privilege of naming more appellate judges in 1960.

Florida's estimated population of 4,348,000 is expected to be close to five million by 1960. Dade County, which now has 14 Circuit Judges — more than any other circuit — migh get a half dozen more by the end of 1960, depending on how close its populations moves to the million mark.

The state now pays Circuit Judges $13,500 a year and counties supplement the salaries. Many, including those in Dade County, are paid more than justices of the State Supreme Court.

Dade and Monroe County also supplement salaries of the Third District Court of Appeals judges, who receive $16,500 a year from the state.

The Dade County Bar Association has recommended pay raises, boosting Supreme Court justices from $17,500 to $25,000, District Court of Appeals (Miami), from $21,500 to $23,000, and Circuit Judges from $19,000 to $22,000.

But Rep. Cliff Herrell of Miami already announced he will strongly oppose the proposal.

Since the incoming Legislature seems economy-bent, the question may arise as to whether the tsate has, or will soon reach the point, where it can slow down for a while on the creation of new judgeships.

Gov. Collins has named a population study committee to determine whether additional Circuit Judges are needed in Broward County.

He could do this now in several other growing counties, but it is likely he will wait until after the 1960 federal census, unless those areas petition him to act.

Generally, the governor has been commended, both by members of the bar and laymen, for his appointments to the judiciary.

Bribe Case Plea Cites 41 Counts

BARTOW — (UPI) — Former State Rep. E. B. (Shorty) Jones, convicted last month of trying to bribe Polk County Sheriff Hagan Parrish to overlook a bolita racket, asked for a new trial Monday, listing 41 alleged trial errors.

Polk County Criminal Court Judge Roy H. Amidon set next Monday for arguments on the motion. If he refuses the motion, Amidon will sentence Jones, who could get up to five years in prison.

Jones' attorney, Ellis Rubin of Miami, claimed the Grand Jury which indicted Jones in October included a special deputy sheriff, which, he said, was contrary to Florida law. For this reason, he said the information used in the indictment was unconstitutional.

He also charged he was unable to "thoroughly" cross examine Parrish and two other witnesses and one of the jurors was deaf and could not hear all the testimony.

Jones was convicted of trying to give Parrish money to permit a bolita syndicate to operate in Polk County.

Now a Perry restaurant operator, Jones served in the House of Representatives from Madison County during 1953-55, and was also director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Old Pros Dish Out Tips

Freshmen House Members Briefed

The two-day school, sponsored by the Legislative Council, is designed to help prepare the new lawmakers on the session opening April 7.

The school, which got under way in the house chamber at the capitol Monday afternoon, had an all-star faculty headed by Gov. LeRoy Collins and House Speaker Designate Thomas D. Beasley.

Other professors were: Rep. Cliff Herrell of Dade, chairman of the Legislative Council, and Reps. John E. Mathews Jr., of Duval, Doyle E. Conner of Bradford, William E. Chappell Jr., of Marion and Mallory E. Horne of Leon.

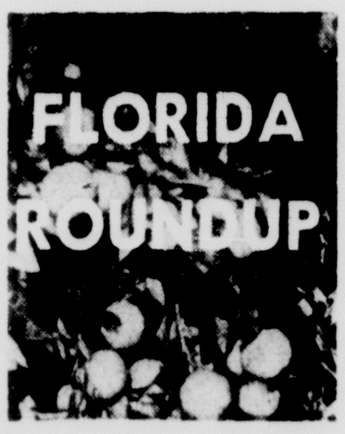
Aspirin Kills 74

JACKSONVILLE —(AP)— Aspirin caused the greatest number of poisoning in children under 5 during 1958, the State Board of Health said Monday.



The board said a large number of children apparently got the aspirin in trash heaps or from rubbish containers. There were 74 aspirin cases out of a total of 574 poisonings which included those caused by insecticides, petroleum products and cleaning agents.

The board said poison control centers in 17 hospitals throughout the state helped save many children's lives.

300 Expected

GAINESVILLE — (UPI) — More than 300 persons are expected to be on hand for the first annual Florida Industrial Conference in Tampa Thursday and Friday.

The State General Extension Division, sponsor of the meeting, said advanced registrations had been received from Texas, California, Illinois and Washington, D.C.

Every major group interested, including private enterprise, higher educational institutions, public utilities, financial institutions and federal, state and local governments.

Board to Meet

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The State Board of Forestry has scheduled a meeting in Tampa March 13 to adopt its legislative program.

President Frank Parker, Panama City, said proposals to be discussed include a model county forest fire protection bill, a request for a two-year appropriation of $5,704,000, and a provision for a working capital fund. The board also will talk over a proposed revision of the law governing timber sales and leases on state forests.

Crane Kills Man

JACKSONVILLE —(UPI)— A veteran State Road Department employe was killed Monday when a huge crane buckled under the weight of a pile-driver and toppled on the victim.

Police Sgt. R. K. Matthew said Lyle E. McGhin, 39, was at a construction job on the Jacksonville Expressway when the accident occurred.

Prowler Slain

JACKSONVILLE —(UPI)— A 26-year-old truck driver whose fingerprints were on police file was shot to death while prowling around a home Sunday.

Officers said Jake Fred Scheiber, alias Fred O'Brine, was shot while caught prowling outside the home of Tillman Aiken Simmons.

Simmons said he saw a figure fumbling with the screen door of his home and ordered the man to "stand where you are."

Simmons said the victim ducked and ran toward the side of the house and Simmons fired three shots, one of them hitting Scheiber in the head.

Big Comeback for Miami Beach...

'They're Sleeping in the Cabanas' Again

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

SYLVIA

In these typical statistics of winter, 1959, lies the reason why the Gold Coast of Florida has come back from the most calamitous tourist season in memory to one of the "best years ever."

For in contrast to the chills and freezes, the rains and winds of 1958, week after week so far this year, Florida has had superb WEATHER. And as the reports of an almost uninterrupted string of warm, sunny, dry days have flashed across the nation, once again the tourists have been pouring into this most fabulous beach resort in the world by the hundreds of thousands.

Once again the show hotels are jammed and, "They're sleeping in the cabanas." Once again, during the evenings, you can see the incredible spectacle of mink-clothed women and money-loaded men standing in line to eat, drink, dance. Once again the supper clubs are jumping, racetrack intake is on the rise.

* * *

GARBAGE COLLECTIONS—a provocatively dependable barometer of economic conditions in a resort city — are running 10 to 15 per cent above this time a year ago.

FIRST AID treatments on the beaches — another fascinating indicator of tourism in an ocean resort — are ranging over 150 a week against less than 50 a week in the 1958 season.

PARKING METER revenues are up 10 to 13 per cent. Water and electricity consumption is higher.

And although the big-time spenders who made worldwide Miami Beach seasons appear less conspicuous, it is only because they are obscured by the increasing multitudes of middle-income vacationers.

OKA

MEYER

WEINTRAUB

In the colorful words of Hank Meyer, dubbed "Mr. Miami Beach" in the last issue of "Newsweek" and head of a nationwide industrial public relations firm bearing his name headquartered here, "The big spenders in Miami today are like a pitcher of cream poured into a bottle of milk. The same amount of cream is in the bottle but it doesn't taste as rich because it has been diluted. The cream is there, though, and the big spenders are here."

* * *

BUT GLITTERING as it all appears, the memory of the devastating 1958 season remains. Operators of at least a dozen hotels went bankrupt or lost their properties last year. Many restaurants and stores sank. Despite this year's revival, a lot of others are still in precarious shape.

It's freely admitted by insiders that had this season been another cold one, half the hotels on the beach might have gone under by now! The nearness of catastrophe has torn the rose-tinted glasses off the eyes of shrewd operators and they're determined to use some of the lessons.

"Last year separated the men from the boys here," says Joseph Weintraub, chairman of the American Title & Insurance Co. and the Mercantile National Bank of Miami Beach, "and we're going to keep it that way. We're lending more than ever, but we're much more prudent about to whom and for what. The greatest weather in the world isn't going to solve the problems of shoddy financing, marginal speculation. We want no more of these."

"No amount of filled hotels can justify the mistakes of the past," adds Miami Beach's Mayor, Kenneth Oka. "And hopefully, fly-by-night manufacturers putting out inferior products have been discouraged. For what we want to attract are quality manufacturers who will produce products giving stature to the 'Made In Miami' label."

* * *

"WE WOULD have been able to withstand the blows of a few poor seasons much better if we had developed more convention business and trade shows," emphasizes Saul Cohen, former head of the Miami Beach Hotel Owners' Assn. "Developing these activities is a key objective now."

From last year's shattering shocks, bankruptcies and foul weather, Miamians are recovering. But their returning confidence does appear more sober, more solid.

Regardless, though, with "78" in the shade, the glow now is on the cash registers as well as the tourists. And as I fly home to my "35," I can understand why when even conservatives here are discussing Miami Beach, they point to the stars not just to dramatize the day's beauty, but also their forecast of Florida's future.

New Guide for Selling

Let's Call Halt To Unfair Sales, Chamber Urges

By JAMES RUSSELL
Herald Business Editor

Artificial mark-ups and sales that aren't really sales were attacked by the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce Monday in a new "guide" to fair selling and advertising.

"We are trying to do away with a fringe element among merchants who are tearing down legitimate business with misleading and unfair advertising and retailing practices," said Charles R. Craig, head of the chamber's Better Business Division.

Craig said that if the retailers don't regulate themselves the Federal Trade Commission is likely to step in and do it.

Here are some of the "principles" set forth by the Better Business Division, "based primarily on the FTC guides":

A SAVINGS CLAIM should not be indicated or implied unless there is a reduction in the regular retail price of the item in the trade area where it is publicized.

A PRICE REDUCTION claim should not be indicated or implied if it is based on an artificial mark-up or "infrequent or isolated sales."

SPECIAL SALES should be exactly what they say they are—an offer to sell at a price concession.

TWO FOR ONE SALES should be advertised only when the retailer does not raise the regular selling price and does not reduce the quality, quantity or size of the item.

HALF-PRICE and one-cent sales should disclose exactly and conspicuously the conditions under which the items or services are offered.

'FACTORY OR WHOLESALE' prices should not be offered unless they are, in effect, the actual prices charged at the wholesale level.

A SELLING PRICE should be the full purchase price, including all charges except taxes levied at the consumer level.

"We've had a considerable number of complaints from people who found that the way some products were advertised were not the way they were sold," Craig said. "Extra charges were often tacked on, raising the prices above what they were advertised."

The Better Business Bureau, charging that such practices are "channeling money away from ethical businessmen," said it is trying to clean up unfair selling practices through persuasion.

"But if that doesn't work," said Craig, "we have state and local laws against these things and we will refer violators to the proper authorities."

Truck Rate Hearing Set March 25

The Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission has set a hearing for March 25 at Miami to take additional testimony on a rate increase petition of major Florida trucking lines.

An 8.72 per cent increase granted by the commission in June, 1957, was recently knocked out by the State Supreme Court on grounds the commission had based the hike on testimony it had itself called unreliable.

In setting the date for taking of more testimony, the commission rejected a request by the major truck lines for temporary authority to charge the 8.72 per cent increase kicked out by the court.

The commission's order that granted the rate hike was challenged in court by the Florida Rate Conference, the Traffic and Rate Bureau of St. Petersburg, the Tampa Chamber of Commerce, the Broward County Traffic Assn., the Greater Miami Traffic Assn. and the Jacksonville Traffic Bureau.

NAM Urges Changes In Labor Laws

HOLLYWOOD — A six-point program of "labor reform" legislation was outlined Monday at the National Association of Manufacturers' 31st Institute on industrial relations.

Mrs. Sybyl S. Patterson, director of the institute, told a group of 176 management representatives at the Hollywood Beach Hotel, that the NAM will support legislation with these goals:

HOPE

"RESTORE to the members rightful authority to run their own organizations;

"RESTORE and protect the rights of each individual to decide for himself whether or not he wishes to join a labor organization;

"PROHIBIT organizational picketing to force recognition of a union; forbid violence, coercion, boycotts.

"RESTORE the right of states to act in labor-management matters properly within their jurisdicion.

"RESTORE to local unions their rights in collective bargaining.

"BAN the use of union funds and union staff manpower for political activities in behalf of particular parties or candidates."

Earlier, NAM President Stanley C. Hope, said he hopes "that this can become the 'age of reasonableness' in labormanagement relations and, further, in the conduct of affairs between nations."

Hope, president of Sound-Scriber Corp., said it would be a mistake to assume that the demand for labor reform means that management is anti-union.

"What we need is a reasonable approach to labor law reform. What we need to do is to make sure that no labor leaders, good or bad, and no employer, good or bad, can violate the principles of honest and fair play or the rights of individuals," he declared.

Vaccine Prices Drop

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

A 15 per cent reduction in polio vaccine prices was announced Monday by three leading manufacturers.

However, a spokesman for the Dade County Medical Assn. said it is unlikely the price cuts will have any effect on the $3 fee most local physicians charge for polio shots.

"The present fee is a 'bargain rate' suggested by the American Medical Association. It covers the doctor's time, but not the cost of the injectables," the spokesman explained.

The reductions were made by Parke Davis & Co., Eli Lilly & Co., and Merck & Co. They would bring the wholesale price of a 9 cc. vial of vaccine to about $6.50.

'Down with Funeral Garb'

Suit Yourself Lightly

LONDON —(UPI)— The traditional uniform of the British businessman—striped trousers, heavy waistcoat and jacket—has made the nation's tailors hot under the collar.

"There is really no need for this funeral garb today since quite formal and conservative clothes are available now in lightweight suitings," declared the Wholesale Clothing Manufacturers Federation.

The federation made an optimistic forecast that British men will wear more lightweight two-piece suits this summer and forsake their starched collars.

But it admits those who do will have to be "dignified and strong-willed" to show up for work in anything but the traditional attire.

Brand Names Bring Honors

Two Miami business firms and a new home builder in the area have been given certificates of distinction in the annual competition sponsored by Brand Names Foundation, Inc.

Marco Shoes, 7212 Red Rd.; Creager Pianos, 2264 Coral Way, and Willard Woodrow, Carol City builder, were honored for their effective use of brand name products.

USE YOUR OLD REFRIGERATOR FOR THE DOWN PAYMENT

So Flexible!

No figuring, no fumbling, no forgetting. Ten fabric bars control 10 cycles—give you complete mastery of any washing situation. Simply press the fabric bar, and the washer will automatically change its action to suit your wash. Changes washing action, water temperature. Changes agitator speed. Changes the number and type of rinses, even the spin speed and time.

See how it does wash 'n' wears. Ordinary washers set wrinkles. In the RCA WHIRLPOOL, the water is gradually cooled so that wrinkles can't form. Result: clean clothes—wrinkle-free clothes, and no more drip-drying.

So you want to add rinse conditioner? This RCA WHIRLPOOL does it for you, automatically, during the first deep rinse. Leaves clothes fresher and softer, takes out every trace of detergent, makes clothes easier to iron.

So Many Features!

Built-in lint filter screens as it cleans—automatically. No objectionable lint, not a speck of sand or soap scum will remain on your clothes. Works full-time, even on partial loads.

Famous Surgilator* Agitator gets clothes cleaner with 17 over-and-under currents, has 2 wash speeds, 2 spin speeds for normal or delicate fabrics.

Exclusive Suds-Miser* automatically (and economically) saves clean, filtered suds for another 10-pound load. (Optional, small cost.)

Plus many more great features such as the top-loading door (so much more convenient), the safety spin-stop, fluorescent console lighting, infinite water-level control, Free-Flow* draining and many, many more. Ask your dealer to demonstrate all these great features.

So Much Value!

You get famous RCA WHIRLPOOL quality and exclusive features at no more than the cost of an ordinary washer. And you save more when you get washer and dryer. Matching dryer is self-setting, too—sets its own heat to suit the fabric, cools wrinkles out of wash 'n' wears, shuts itself off at "dry enough." Available in gas, electric, in white, yellow, pink or white porcelain enamel. See the Imperial Mark 12 washer and dryer pair.

Nikita's Sly--And Wary of War

Khrushchev Wears a Jovial Smile
. . . all affability on his visit to Leipzig Fair

BERN, Switzerland — Remember Adolf Hitler's tactics of wrestling one concession after another from Britain and France by presenting them as small sacrifices compared to the price of war?

Nikita S. Khrushchev will follow the same tricky diplomacy at the forthcoming conference on Germany. But unlike Hitler he won't go to war.

This at least is the deduction the Swiss have come up with after perusing the latest reports received here from Moscow.

It is puerile, the Swiss think, to compare Khrushchev with Hitler. The Nazi fuehrer in the days of Munich had an exaggerated opinion of his own might and was ready to use it if he didn't get his way. The Soviet premier is far more subtle and realistic.

Furthermore, Hitler was all powerful and had no public opinion to counter his decisions. There is a public opinion in Russia today and Khrushchev must contend with it.

Swiss observers who attended the 21st congress of the Soviet Communist Party last January reveal that important speakers warned Khrushchev against the dangers and uselessness of a war at this time.

They stressed that Russia is launched on a seven-year-plan that will give its people food and comfort at long last. They insisted the "inevitable" victory of communism over capitalism would in good time be achieved by economic methods and a war would spoil such prospects.

Khrushchev cannot and does not ignore these warnings, the Swiss argue. Thus, he will draw the strings at the forthcoming conference but not so tightly they will snap.

His demand for a summit conference, which presumably he will get in due time, is mostly due to his beliefs he might get more concessions from a private talk with President Eisenhower than he could with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Khrushchev's demand for a change in the status of Berlin, according to Swiss reports, is merely a pretext. He really wants (1) to push through western recognition of an East German government, (2) full demilitarization of Germany.

Khrushchev must pull out of eastern Germany both militarily and politically as soon as possible.

Politically, his interests are elsewhere — in Red China's economic development, and in the rich Middle East oilfields, an essential part of his economi war against the West.

Militarily, he needs his troops elsewhere, and the 400,000-man East German volkspolizei is strong enough to crack down on any rebellion of the Hungarian type.

We Stay in Berlin, De Gaulle Asserts

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

PARIS — Gen. Charles De Gaulle won't budge from his firm stand on Berlin and his opposition to any withdrawal of Atlantic Alliance forces from Europe.

He reiterated those views in a particularly long interview here with Soviet Ambassador Sergei A. Vinogradov.

France's president made it clear that he will attend an East-West summit conference only if it is "previously prepared" by a meeting of big-power foreign ministers.

De Gaulle reportedly did not express opposition to the presence of Czechoslovakia and Poland at a foreign ministers' conference. Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev suggested the inclusion of those two satellites.

But De Gaulle's position is that such a conference must embrace the whole German problem, not merely the status of Berlin.

Vinogradov is an old acquaintance of the general. He was far-sighted enough in previous years to pay De Gaulle regular visits in his country retreat when most of his Western colleagues were convinced the general would never come back to power.

And this time he shrewdly timed his visit to fit in between De Gaulle's interview last week with German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his planned talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan here today.

Vinogradov reportedly tried to change De Gaulle's mind on the results of Macmillan's recent 12-day trip to Russia when he had long conversations with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the Kremlin.

It's known that De Gaulle held a dim view of Macmillan's trip, which he considered ill-timed. Also De Gaulle was even more displeased with some parts of the communique the Briton signed jointly with Khrushchev on the day of his departure from Moscow.

Sleepy Driver Ties Up Traffic

The train cleared the crossing. The line of cars didn't move.

Finally yardmaster Waldo Snyder went to investigate. He found the driver of the first car in line was fast asleep.

Iraqi Rebellion War of Words

Varied Claims Fill Air

Rebel Chieftain Reported Taken

Who Is This Man Abdel Shawaf? Page 7A

BEIRUT, Lebanon —(UPI) — Anti-Communist army rebels and the Leftist Iraqi government both claimed military successes Monday in a spreading civil war.

The government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in Baghdad sent warplanes to bomb the stronghold of Rebel Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf in the northern city of Mosul. But it backed down on repeated claims that Shawaf had been killed and announced without any confirmation, that the 35-year-old rebel leader had been arrested.

The rebel radio continued to broadcast appeals for support and threats to march on Baghdad. It said the rebels had "wiped out" a government ground force sent to smash it.

Shawaf identified himself on the radio as the leader of the rebel forces, denied the claim he was killed, and denounced Kassem as a "Red leader" filling his people with "lies."

Even Moscow picked up the claim that Shawaf had been killed and reported it in Arabic-language broadcasts.

But Baghdad radio Monday night abruptly switched a broadcast a "cable from a number of Mosul personalities" saying pro-government forces had arrested Shawaf. It said "the masses" had the situation under control.

The reversal by Baghdad cast enormous doubts on the government claim that the two-day-old revolt had been smashed. But the only main sources of information were the rival radios.

There were no casualty announcements, although it appeared that the city of Mosul was strafed as well as bombed by government fighter-bombers.

The rebels said they were consolidating their grip on the oil-rich north.

Demonstrations for and against Kassem occurred in the capital of Baghdad where all Westerners, including numerous Americans, were warned to stay off the streets. Diplomatic dispatches said troops ringed the city and took over police functions.

There was danger of fresh East-West involvement in the turbulent Middle East. Moscow Radio charged that the U. S. may have stirred up the revolt by Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, a tough Kurdish tribesman, to bolster the pro-Western nations bordering Iraq. In London there, were fears of Soviet intervention in the country where the Communists gained a strong voice under Kassem. Britain was ready to evacuate its nationals if necessary.

Mosul is a major oil center 220 miles northeast of Baghdad. The Middle East News Agency, semi-official organ of Nasser's government, reported that the rebels had the support of Brig. Nazem Tabakjali, commander of the Iraqi army's 2nd Division at Kirkuk.

'Killer-for-Hire' Arrests Woman

A Miami detective, posing as a killer-for-hire, Monday arrested a 41-year-old mother who, according to police, offered him $1,000 to murder her husband so she could cash in on $30,000 worth of life insurance.

The bizarre plot played out on a downtown street as telescopic cameras and tape recorders covered the transaction.

Arrested and charged with conspiracy to commit first-degree murder was Mrs. Beatrice Burley, 41, of 3702 NW 23rd Ave.

Miami Detective Jack Metcalf, who played the part of the professional killer, described the woman as "cold and calculating."

She was arrested at 3 p.m. as she sat in Metcalf's unmarked car at NW 22nd Ct. and 36th St., moments after she allegedly had given him $100 as down payment to kill her husband, Ernest Gurley, a truck driver for Triangle Electric Manufacturing Co., 2150 NW Miami Ct.

Metcalf said the dramatic case began last Wednesday when a frightened cab driver told police the woman, introduced by a mutual friend, had just offered him $1,000 "to kill a man."

Metcalf, working with Detective Morris Roe as his unseen partner, contacted Mrs. Gurley by phone and arranged, at her suggestion, a noon meeting at Pier Five of Miami's yacht basin Monday.

After making contact with the woman, he led her back to his car, where a tape recorder was planted and discussed the strange business as Roe and other detectives took moving pictures of the whole thing.

It was then, said Metcalf, that he first learned that the man Mrs. Gurley wanted to do away with was her husband.

Asked how she wanted "the job" done, Metcalf said, the woman replied coolly, "I don't care — you can shoot him if you want to."

Metcalf said Mrs. Gurley's explanation for the plan was that, "My husband has been mean to me and my children (by a previous marriage) and I want the insurance money — $30,000 of it."

Contract Hit

Pea Prices Raise Ire Of Royalty

SANDRINGHAM, England — (AP) — It's a rare day indeed when the queen and the mundane matter of money are mentioned in the same breath.

Monday it happened and the cause was the price of peas.

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, who like any other farming couple are trying to make money on their Sandringham Farm, have threatened to cancel a pea growing contract with a frozen food company.

Furthermore, if the frozen food company doesn't change its pea buying policy it can jolly well haul away its $8,400 pea separating machine from the royal farm in Norfolk.

The controversy over money came up when the company decided to pay $126 a ton for peas instead of paying by the acre.

The company said no profit could be made paying by the acre and the royal farm found there was no profit in growing peas for $126 a ton.

The royal couple told farm manager Roger Mutimer that Sandringham Farm "must be made to pay its way."

'Join Us In Berlin' --Nikita

Bid Receives Mixed Reaction

By Herald Wire Services

BERLIN — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev came up with a new plan Monday to make West Berlin a "free city" and insure its status by installing U.S., British, French and Russian troops there.

Some observers interpreted Khrushchev's latest offer as a concession to the Western allies.

Others viewed it more cautiously since it would give Russian troops a toehold in West Berlin, now controlled by the West.

Khrushchev said the Big Four's troops should be kept to a "minimum" and should not interfere in any way with the internal affairs of the city.

But high American officials in Washington made it clear they were not interested in Khrushchev's offer.

They said the Western allies flatly rejected the "free city" demand advanced by Khrushchev last November, and that they have absolutely no intention of changing their stand.

These officials said the U.S. and its allies will continue to insist that the Berlin issue can be settled only as a part of the broader problem of German reunification.

The Allies insist that the four major powers which conquered Nazi Germany have obligations with respect to Berlin wich cannot be canceled by the action of any one of them.

There has been no formal comment by the Foreign Office. This probably will be forthcoming today.

However, the feeling in London is that the Soviet premier is trying, however awkwardly, to take the explosive quality out of the Berlin situation.

It was the first time that Khrushchev had indicated he would be willing for the West to keep troops here to guarantee West Berlin's status as a free city. Earlier, he had insisted that Western allied garrisons must leave Berlin after conclusion of a German peace treaty.

The Kremlin's original proposal would create a completely demilitarized free city, leaving West Berlin defenseless before the 400,000-man Russian garrison in East Germany.

Hoarsely shouting "peace and friendship" in Russian and German, Khrushchev made his new proposals for West Berlin in a 35-minute speech before a cheering mass rally in East Berlin.

The visiting Soviet leader also declared that West Berlin would be guaranteed complete independence if the West accepted the free city proposal. He said also that the East German Communists, who would take over control of lifelines to the isolated city, had agreed to guarantee its connections "with the outside world."

"There would be no objection," Khrushchev declared, "if the U.S., Britain, France, the Soviet Union or neutral states station a minimum of troops in West Berlin to guarantee the maintenance of its status as a free city.

"However," he said, "they should not interfere in any way in its internal affairs."

Senate To Probe Ike's Budgeting Of Defense Cash

Johnson Orders Hearings

Military Gripes Spur Action

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson Monday ordered a full-scale investigation of the administration's defense budget. His action touched off a major debate in which President Eisenhower's military judgment was challenged.

Johnson announced his Senate preparedness subcommittee would open hearings Wednesday to "get the truth" and determine whether the President's 41 billion dollar military budget was adequate in view of the Berlin impasse and other foreign policy rows.

The subcommittee's investigation grew out of reservations expressed to the group by military chiefs of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines. Some were concerned over funds allotted to their forces by the President's fiscal 1959 budget.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph Mccps. Pate, Marine Corps commandant, protested their forces were being cut too deeply. Taylor said he would not have enough men to carry out the Army's assigned missions.

The President has maintained his budget would provide adequate military forces. Republican senators, replying to Democratic critics, cited the President's position and said the Democratic attacks bordered on the political.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee countered that Congress had constitutional responsibility for dealing with military matters and "raising armies."

In an apparent reference to the President, Russell also said he had as much faith in the military judgment of Gens. Taylor and Pate as in "that of any other military man."

The President told a recent news conference that, with all due modesty, he felt his long military experience qualified him better than any single military chief to determine the adequacy of the nation's defenses.

The shadow of the deadlocked Berlin crisis with Russia hung over the sometimes spirited Senate debate. Russell said he was more concerned about the possibility of a limited ground clash in Berlin than the threat of all-out atomic war. Ground fighting would call for Army or Marine troops, the forces cut in the new budget.

Sen. John C. Stennis (D., Miss.) told the Senate that failure to reverse budget cuts trimming the Army and Marines would be a "tragic error" in view of the Berlin situation.

Nightshirted Lincoln Makes Notes for Emancipation Proclamation

Old Abe Unveiled In Nightie

The picture, by New York and Washington artist Jes Schlaikjer, was ceremoniously unveiled in the old Senate Office Building rotunda by Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R., Ky.) and a group of other lawmakers before a somewhat bemused audience of exactly 14.

Cooper, chairman of the Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission, was enthusiastic.

"The painting," he said, "has captured the simple dignity, the solemn earnestness and determination of President Lincoln just before the battle of Antietam."

Some others present were more reserved in their praise for the painting, which depicts the night-robed Lincoln seated beside a four-poster bed scribbling notes for his Emancipation Proclamation in September, 1862.

"What's the night-shirt bit?" inquired one tourist. "They're not trying to make out Lincoln was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, are they?"

An official hastily explained that artist Schlaikjer was only trying to be historically accurate — that, in addition to the nightshirt and brocaded slippers, the pictures includes the stovepipe hat in which Lincoln used to stash notes.

Local Option Integration

'Last Resort' Bill Gets Face-Lifting

More State News, Page 10A, 12A, 1C, 8C

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — Rep. J. W. McAlpin of Hamilton County said Monday he has revised his "last resort" school closing bill to provide for local option and the recall of any school board member who votes to integrate a school.

McAlpin said he already has enough co-introducers to assure passage of the measure over a gubernatorial veto, should the governor turn it down.

"The legislators are standing in line to co-sponsor this bill," he said. McAlpin said he has no fear the measure will die in the Senate.

The Senate passed a similar measure over Gov. LeRoy Collins' veto in 1957. It failed to become law when the vote in the House fell two short of the two-thirds needed to override the veto.

Collins has declined to say what he will do if the bill is tossed back to him this year. But he said he has never regretted killing the 1957 measure and has repeatedly declared he will oppose any bill which would jeopardize the public school system.

McAlpin said the last resort bill will be the first to be offered when the legislature opens this summer. He plans to drop it in the hopper the first day bills can be introduced, probably April 9. The session opens April 7, but it takes two days to get the House organized and ready to receive legislation.

McAlpin, a "no surrender" segregationist, said he is having the attorney general's office revise the bill to include a local option feature.

This will mean that no school can be closed down without an approving vote of the people effected. He said the measure will provide for either county or district elections or both.

Another new feature, he said, will permit the people, by petition, to demand an election to oust any school board member who votes to integrate any school, either white or Negro.

"The bill will put the question squarely in the hands of the people, where it ought to be," he said.

"The people of Florida are demanding an answer to this integration problem, and the 'local option' school closing bill is it."

Despite Herds

Beef Prices To Stay Up

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Agriculture Department indicated Monday that there will be little, if any, decline in retail beef prices in the next year or two.

The department said that the record number of cattle on farms on Jan. 1 is not likely to bring any great changes in cattle prices. This likewise means no significant changes at the butcher counter.

Cattle marketings are not likely to rise because farmers still are building up their herds which were depleted during the drought years, the department said in its publication, "The Livestock and Meat Situation."

City in Running For Legion Meet

Moore said a choice will be made in 10 days from this list: Miami, Indianapolis, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Las Vegas.

Monroney Praises Texan

Johnson Defended As Proxmire Attacks

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire (D., Wis.) fired another critical round at Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas Monday and promptly bumped into a strong defense of Johnson's leadership and policies.

Proxmire accused Johnson of making party policy in the Senate chamber "entirely on an ad lib, off-the-cuff basis." He also charged that Johnson — not the Democratic Policy Committee — actually set party guidelines.

Proxmire was challenged by Democratic Whip Mike Mansfield of Montana, Johnson's right-hand assistant, and Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D., Okla., a co-author of the 1946 reorganization act which resulted in creation of the party policy committees.

As Johnson looked on from his seat, Monroney told Proxmire he had never seen a time when party policy "was so easily identified, so well known to the public, so clearly expressed" as under the present Democratic leader.

Seeks Support on His Cold War Strategy

Macmillan to Confer With De Gaulle

PARIS — (AP) — Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan — fresh from a trip to Moscow — Monday began a tour of major western capitals to win backing for his views on cold war strategy.

Macmillan's primary target was French President Charles de Gaulle. Macmillan began with a long exploratory talk — apparently not without disagreements — with Premier Michel Debre.

Macmillan will meet with De Gaulle today along the diplomatic road that will carry him later to Bonn, Ottawa and Washington. He talked in Moscow last week with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

In Macmillan's brief case was a proposal — apparently only vaguely formulated thus far — for a thinning out of military forces in Germany and her iron curtain neighbors.

A British spokesman, talking to newsmen after Macmillan met Debre, was asked if the subject came up under the topic "disengagement."

"The British are definitely not in favor of disengagement as that term is used in some quarters to mean a complete withdrawal of forces," he said.

The French spokesman said: "This aspect of the problem did not come up today. However, the British are as much opposed to the ideas of disengagement recently raised in the press as are the other allies."

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano said in a speech at Bonn his government rejects any plans for a military disengagement that do not provide for a solution of political problems, such as German unification.

Macmillan himself, speaking at the airport after his arrival, referred to his Moscow trip as a "voyage of discovery" and said he was convinced the Russians "are ready to discuss and negotiate" the German crisis.

"In view of this, it is all the more necessary for the West to take council together," he added. "I hope that our visit to Paris will help to confirm our common policy and purpose."

Strike-Curbing Law Proposed by Mundt

He Assails Kennedy's Labor Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Workers or their union leaders could not rush into a strike under a law proposed Monday by Sen. Karl Mundt (R., S.D.).

Mundt, a member of the Senate Rackets Committee which has looked into various labor-management troubles, proposed that:

Any strike vote would have to be conducted by mail by a committee which would include a representative of the employer.

A strike, even if approved, could not begin for 20 days after approval, to permit additional bargaining.

What if unions didn't want to take these time-consuming steps? Mundt's bill says unions which refused to go along would lose their rights to take complaints to the National Labor Relations Board, and would lose their exemption from federal income tax.

Mundt proposed his strike-delaying plan to a Senate labor subcommittee as part of the moves he wants taken to close what he called gaping holes in the labor control bill presented by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass.) and Sam Ervin Jr. (D., N.C.).

The Kennedy-Ervin bill, in Mundt's opinion, would permit many abuses "by conniving and corrupt union officials."

Another important part of the legislation proposed by Mundt would tighten up procedures for election of union officers.

Mundt said the rackets committee had uncovered some bad union-officering conditions and he seeks to "guarantee to every union member the right of unfettered self-expression in the selection of his leaders and in such vital economic matters as strike determinations."

He proposed that nominating petitions be prepared 120 days before an election and that a special membership committee, representing the candidates, conduct the voting.

This committee would have the sole authority to supervise the election and count the ballots. Contested elections could be taken to the secretary of labor, with decisions to be made by a federal court, which could order a new election.

Skipjack 'Flies' Under the Sea

CROTON, Conn. — (AP) — The atomic submarine Skipjack — supposed to be the world's fastest and most maneuverable — began sea trials Monday.

The skipjack was launched last May 26 and has been at her fitting-outdock here since then.

The Skipjack is fashioned with airplane-type "joy stick" controls rather than old style submarine-type controls. It was built at the General Dynamics Corp. electric boat division here.

Herald Column Tells Why

There's a Right Time In Love or Business

Not only the moon but the stars too, have a relation to man's love life, according to astrologists.

There is a right time to love, they believe, just as there is a right time to go into a business deal or make other important decisions.

Astrology is a controversial subject, but its converts couldn't start a day without checking the stars.

Now Cullen Moore, a young woman as educated as she is pretty, has a new message from the stars to be brought to Herald readers every Sunday, starting March 15.

Her advice column—which will tell you the right time for you to make love or close a business deal—combines modern psychology with ancient Zodiac lore.

For the past 10 years Mrs. Moore has been studying the relationship between the stars and romance. Her research has taken her to many foreign lands, where she acquired much of the information she will pass on to Herald readers.

Her column, Stars and Lovers, will include a Mating Tip of the Week. Also, there will be a zodiac guide for the entire week.

Mrs. Moore feels strongly that astrology should never conflict with religion.

It is in the field of human relations that she believes astrology can help us all.

Louisiana Refineries Target

Oil Union Brass Set To Blunt Hoffa Pitch

BATON ROUGE, LA. —(AP)— Leaders of an independent oil union Monday set up a meeting of 4,000 refinery workers to hear Teamsters President James Hoffa invite them to join him.

While the Hoffa personal appearance was being booked for Thursday, Louisiana's AFL-CIO chief appealed to the workers to stay away from Hoffa.

"Our weapons of battle" against the Hoffa invasion, said Victor Bussie, president of the Louisiana State Labor Council AFL-CIO, "will be public opinion, prayer and an appeal to members of the Independent Industrial Workers Association (IIWA) to remember their responsibility to this community of which they are a part."

President Marvin Holley Jr. of the IIWA, without a contract at the big Esso Standard Oil refinery here since last summer, said Hoffa will speak at the Thursday meeting.

Esso General Manager H. J. Vookries already has indicated he doubted the IIWA members wanted Hoffa as their bargaining agent.

Bussie said: "Thank God that George Meany and other national leaders have spoken out against Hoffa and are doing everything possible to prevent him from making any further inroads in labor."

Hoffa, in Detroit during the weekend, scoffed at Bussie's warnings, and said if Esso wanted to join the Teamsters, "we'll take them in."

Unchanged Draft Law Approved

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee Monday approved a four-year extension of the military draft without change.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.) said that because of the current Berlin crisis the committee decided to defer action on proposed amendments designed to correct what he has termed injustices and inequalities in the military reserve program.

"There is an inequality," he said, "but a time of crisis is not a very good time to deal with this."

Russell said some committee members reserved the right to offer amendments when the measure is called up for Senate consideration, perhaps Wednesday.

"I hope they will decide not to," he added.

He said the vote to approve the House-passed draft extension bill was unanimous, by a count of hands, with only one amendment.

He said this amendment would extend extra incentive pay allowances of $100 to $250 a month for doctors and dentists and $100 a month for veterinarians who enter the armed forces after July 1. Without the amendment the incentives would expire this year.

Vanguard II Spoke With Shaky Voice

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Vanguard II wobbled so much in its whirl around the earth that it is difficult to interpret what it said.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Monday the job of interpreting the decoded signals from the satellite "has become something of a detective story."

As a result, it will take weeks or perhaps months to interpret the picture of the earth's cloud covering — a main objective of the experiment.

The satellite was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Feb. 17. It broadcast information on the earth's cloud cover until 9:37 p.m. last Saturday, when its batteries died.

NASA said the transmitter batteries operated about four days longer than their expected life of two weeks.

The 30-inch satellite was expected to remain in orbit for at least 10 years.

Duncan Defense Rests Case

VENTURA — (AP) — Frank Duncan Monday supported his mother's story that she was being blackmailed by two men who say she hired them to kill her daughter-in-law.

The young attorney's testimony completed the defense case for Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, charged with arranging the murder of Frank's 30-year-old pregnant bride, Olga.

The prosecution says she did it because she was so intensely jealous she couldn't stand seeing her son living with another woman.

Frank finished his testimony as the trial went into its fourth week.

He said his mother first told him of the purported blackmail last Nov. 22. This was five days after the disappearance of Olga, whose body later was found in a roadside grave.

His mother told him the men were blackmailing her, Duncan said, because they were angry about a $500 legal fee they had paid to Duncan.

Frank said his mother told him she had paid $350 in blackmail and they said they would harm her son unless they got $2,000 more.

Frank told the jury:

"I asked her why she hadn't told me this before. She said it was because she didn't want to endanger my life and because Olga had disappeared.

He added:

"I was extremely angry and told my mother I was going down to the bar where she said these men could be found. Mother insisted I go to the police. I did go to the police. I told the police my mother was being blackmailed."

Frank said he later took his mother to the police station to discuss her blackmail story and to look at pictures in the police file.

On another occasion, he said, he viewed a lineup of men and finally identified Luis Moya, 20, as one of the blackmailers.

Moya and Augustine Baldonado, 26, have confessed that they strangled Olga after Mrs. Duncan promised to pay them $6,000.

Defense Attorney S. Ward Sullivan wound up his questioning of Duncan by asking:

"Has your mother at any time said or done anything that would cause you to believe she contemplated harm to Olga?"

"Certainly not," Duncan snapped.

To Speed Development

Rickover Is Proposed For Space Craft Study

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — A Republican congressman urged the government Monday to draft Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, father of the atomic submarine, to rush development of a nuclear-powered space craft.

The lawmaker Rep. James G. Fulton (R., Pa.) told the House Space Committee that a practical nuclear-powered rocket would put the U.S. "a million miles ahead of the Russians."

A number of top scientists have said an atomic rocket is the key to interplanetary travel. Fulton, a top member of the space committee, said work should start at once under Rickover.

Dr. Abe Silverstein, space flight development director of the National Space Administration, agreed "it would help if men of the capability of Rickover" could be brought into the space program.

But he said NASA and the Atomic Energy Commission already have capable people working on a nuclear rocket.

Rickover enjoys widespread popularity in Congress although his stock is considerably lower in the Navy where he frequently has trod on official toes in his zeal for the nuclear submarine program.

Manville's Sister Dies In Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. —(UPI) — Clare Lorraine Manville Baxter, sister of much-married asbestos heir Tommy Manville, died at the Riviera Hotel on the "strip" here Monday, the hotel reported. She was 64.

Hotel manager Richard Chappell said her body was discovered in her room when he went there with one of the hotel's special police officers after she failed to answer a call.

The woman, who last year divorced 33-year-old TV actor Charles Baxter on charges of mental cruelty and desertion, apparently died of natural causes.

Chappell said an autopsy was scheduled.

Cugat Keeps Wolf at Bay

NEW YORK — (UPI) — An overenthusiastic fan called on curvaceous singer Abbe Lane at 4 a.m. Monday and had the door slammed in his face.

The slamming was done by Miss Lane's husband, band leader Xavier Cugat, who then called police. The caller had fled by the time police arrived.

She Gave Him Will To Live Then Lost Own Life Struggle

Herald Staff Writer

Mrs. Ruby Gibson
. . . the secret was out

Mrs. Ruby Gibson, 35, died Monday morning.

She knew she was going to die. She was disturbed about it only because of her husband and three children.

Somehow, in the night as she tossed in pain-wracked sleep, she knew she would die, but she looked death in the face and in the daylight she calmly discussed the details of her funeral service, even the dress which she would wear in death.

For a year, her husband and children and their neighbors and friends and relatives had known that Mrs. Gibson was doomed to die. When the doctors found that she had leukemia, they held no hope for her.

But they did not tell her. Although hundreds of people knew it, her condition was a well-kept secret. It was a conspiracy of mercy in which even children cooperated.

During that final year of her life, Mrs. Gibson was taken to the hospital 10 times, at first only for short visits. She received more than 100 pints of blood, given by the people who knew how she had kept her family together when her husband was crippled by polio.

She was told that she had a blood disease, but not that it was leukemia, a form of cancer, and that it was certain to be fatal.

She went to the hospital for the last time nearly a month ago. As her condition became more painful, she began to suspect that it was critical. She spoke of death fearfully, but was reassured.

On Friday morning, John N. Gibson, Metropolitan development director, was driving to his office when his wife asked another patient to call him and leave a message.

The message was on his desk when he arrived. It read:

"I am dying. Come to the hospital immediately."

When he arrived, his wife had not, as he feared, taken a sudden turn for the worse. Instead, she seemed to be in better spirits than at any time since she entered the hospital. She had been under continual heavy sedation, but now she was bright-eyed, and she spoke clearly.

"Don't feel sorry for me," she told her husband. "I know I am dying. It is beautiful."

She held out an emaciated arm and he clasped her hand. She smiled at him.

"I will miss you and the children," she said.

And then she spoke of what must be done. She debated about whether she should wear the champagne-colored dress with the rhinestone clip she won when they appeared on a TV program in New York a year ago, or whether the brown dress would be better.

"It was almost as if she were making plans for a date," her husband said.

And then Ruby Gibson closed her eyes and slept.

The next morning, in her sleep, she suffered a cerebral hemorrhage, which hastened her death. She never regained consciousness.

When she died, at 8 a.m. Monday, her husband still sat by her bedside. But in this crisis, Ruby Gibson had given him strength, just as she had years before when he was helpless and discouraged.

That was a period that started in July, 1952.

John Gibson, with a bright background in research and engineering for aircraft firms, and Ruby Cox met on a blind date in their home town of Buffalo, N. Y., shortly before he went overseas in World War II.

They were married in 1945 at the Little Church Around the Corner in New York. Later they moved to Florida, and Gibson operated advertising agencies in Jacksonville and Key West before coming to Miami in July, 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson and their three small children moved into a home in Miami Beach on a Wednesday. The next Sunday he was in a hospital with polio. His case was complicated by a simultaneous attack of typhoid fever.

He was in the hospital for five months, and Mrs. Gibson cared for the children and visited him regularly. On his return home, she nursed him and looked after the children and then, when funds were exhausted, she took a job as a waitress.

"She was understanding, but practical," recalled an intimate friend. "She was sympathetic, but cheerful. She never let John feel sorry for himself or for her."

With her encouragement, Gibson, paralyzed from the waist down and confined to a wheelchair, enrolled in business administration classes at the University of Miami. He continued until he earned his degree, but once times got so bad that he advertised he would sell one eye in order to buy a motor for his wheelchair.

His appeal resulted in the donation of a motor scooter. That made going to his classes, to the hospital for therapy, and looking for work much easier. Gibson couldn't become downhearted; his wife wouldn't stand for it.

His big break came in 1955, when he was appointed manager of the economic development and research department of the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce. He had demonstrated that his wife's faith was not misplaced. In July, 1957, he was appointed head of the Dade County Development Department, now under Metro.

Mrs. Gibson was able to devote full time in those years to her duties as mother and housekeeper, wife and active worker in the Bryan Memorial Methodist Church.

Then came the illness and the diagnosis.

During the past month, Gibson has filled the triple role which she once filled. He has worked at his job, visited the hospital, cared for the children.

He has received help from friends and neighbors. For the past week, Mrs. Gibson's sister, Mrs. Gladys Iverson, Buffalo, has been in their home. And the oldest Gibson daughter, 13-year-old Candis, has taken over many of the responsibilities of her mother.

National Summary

An area of high pressure pushing across the lower Mississippi Valley was associated with a broad pattern of fair skies across the south at mid-day. Low pressure over the Ohio Valley supported precipitation across much of the northeast. Temperatures in the 70s warmed Southern Texas and most of Florida and a flow of southwesterly breezes carried readings in the 50s to the mid-Atlantic coast. Patches of rain were scattered near a cold front from Georgia northward across the Ohio Valley with a combination of rain or snow over Pennsylvania. Rain dampened southern New England. Snow prevailed across the colder pattern over the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley eastward across upper New England.

Sunny skies from the central plains across the southwest found temperatures pushing into the mid 50s in Kansas and reaching the 70s in Southern California before noon. Behind a cold front stretching from the Dakotas into central Kansas however, colder northwesterly winds held temperatures below the freezing mark from Wyoming into portions of the northern plains.

Pines Yield to Progress

COCOA BEACH — Stately Australian pines, which arch across the roads, have been one of the city's charms since it was founded in 1928 — but progress is killing them off.

City fathers have ordered them cut down so streets can be widened, and — more important — because the trees' roots can break up the city's new sewer system.

Until the work started, all city streets looked like the one at top.

Then came men to cut off the lower branches and hook on the ropes (right) which would pull on the severed trees until they fell.

And when they were done, the street looked bare.

Municipal Election Today

Cocoa Bureau

COCOA BEACH — Voters will select two city commissioners today from a field of seven candidates.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

In the race are Clifford B. Heaney, the city building inspector; Joseph Luley, operator of a petroleum tank farm; Fred R. Spencer, gasoline station operator; and incumbent commissioner Tom J. O'Connor, a Civil Service employee at Patrick Air Force base.

Also running are three candidates who are pinning their hopes on write-in votes. They are James Clements, Marlin Brubaker, and Harry Offenhauser.

The three write-in candidates became eligible only last Wednesday when the city commission voted to let anyone vote who has lived here for 30 days. The action extended voting rights to areas annexed late last fall when Cocoa Beach doubled its size in two months.

Open in the election are the seats of O'Connor and Commissioner Fred Jaehne, who is not seeking reelection.

Firemen Kept Busy

SALERNO — The Salerno Volunteer Fire Department has had the busiest record of any in the county during the past week.

Early Saturday fire destroyed a home in the Negro section, making it the third house fire within a week, said Fire Chief Jack Saunderson.

The home was owned by D. W. Williams. Cause of the fire is undertermined. Loss was estimated at $3,000.

Thursday night a home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grien was destroyed by fire. It was a total loss, with estimated loss set at $6,000.

The third home, on St. Lucie Boulevard, owned by Mrs. E. O. Plank of Fort Pierce, was partially destroyed by fire with an estimated loss at $3,000.

The department has had 10 brush fire calls since the first of the year.

New Building Needed

Site For Negro School On Board's Agenda Today

Herald Bureau

TITUSVILLE — Brevard's School Board probably will have to face a racial problem today.

During a regular meeting, board members may have to decide how to end overcrowding in the existing schools of the Cocoa Negro section.

They have more than $400,000 for a new school, but no site to build.

And they must find a site "which is convenient to the Negroes," School Superintendent Woodrow Darden says.

If they don't, he explains, they'll leave a door open for integration of Cocoa's white schools because Negro parents could claim their children were being assigned to a distant school instead of more convenient white schools.

Such claims forced the Dade County School Board to integrate the Orchard Villa School in Miami Feb. 18.

School Board plans for building a new Negro school in Rockledge were blocked by the rockledge Council last Thursday. The Rockledge Board repeated its objections to the school Monday night.

Chairman R. L. Murrell said his city is against the school because its site "is in an area which up to now has been white."

The objections are sufficient to kill the school plans, Bob Hudson, School Board chairman, said. He noted "it's against School Board policy to build schools over objections."

But Darden said the Rockledge site — which is on the Rockledge-Cocoa border across a street from Negro homes — is "the only site available for the school."

School officials searched "for months" before buying the Rockledge property, he said.

The only other "possible site" found during the search was a 12-acre one unacceptable to the Florida Education Department because it was "wet," Darden said.

School overcrowding is "serious" in the Cocoa Negro section, the superintendent said. "Elementary children are on double sessions through the fifth grade."

The Wind Does It

Brevard Beach Cool in Summer

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A government survey Sunday picked a stretch of ocean between Daytona Beach and Canova Beach as the coolest for summer swimming on Florida's east coast.

Two oceanographers of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, Charles B. Taylor Jr. and Dr. Harris B. Stewart Jr., said there is a better than 3-1 chance that, in the hottest months, the water temperature there will be a mild 75 degrees.

Most coastal areas between Charleston, S.C. and Key West, Fla., the scientists said in their study, experience water temperatures in the mid-80's during that period.

As to why the 85-mile section should be cooler, they attributed that to the wind. During July and August, they said, the winds sweep the warm surface water to sea and allow cooler water to come to the surface.

Stuart Has 2 In 'Who's Who'

STUART — Two local women educators, Miss Lillian Armstrong and Miss Julia Filmore Harris, are listed in the new edition of "Who's Who of American Women."

Miss Armstrong, a native of Bradenton, is supervisor of education of Martin County schools.

Miss Harris, a native of Detroit, is head of Miss Harris Florida School, formerly located in Miami, which is now in Palm City.

'Harmony' Is Sought In Choice

Melbourne Bureau

SATELLITE BEACH — Mayor Percy L. Hedgecock said Monday that he has asked the Brevard County school board to get together on selection of a junior college site on merits alone.

The mayor of this beach town next door to Patrick Air Force Base appealed to the board, in a letter, to follow the State Department of Education's recommendation of the Eau Gallie site in making its selection Tuesday.

"I'm sure it was an honest decision and no politics were involved," Hedgecock said in speaking about the state survey made on the four sites offered.

"If the team's decision had been for another site, South Brevard would have abided by that decision.

"There has been a lot of bitterness between the different sections of the county in the past," he said. "The mayors of the cities in Brevard and Patrick Air Force Base representatives meet regularly to help heal these wounds and to help each other. The cooperation and the benefits have been wonderful.

"Please don't change the decision of the state team and split your county in half. I beg, before you vote, to consider this and don't open any old wounds." Mayor Hedgecock stated.

Hospital Drive Opens

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — A stepped up drive to collect delinquent pledges to the million dollar Brevard Hospital building fund was launched Monday, according to R. P. (Russ) Sullivan, treasurer of Brevard Hospital Association.

"If pledge payments are brought up to schedule," he said, "the association will be in a far better position to seek federal aid under the Hill-Burton Act this summer."

Payment headquarters have been opened at the Florida Power and Light Co. offices, 19 Waverly Pl. Mrs. Mary Francis Butler will be in charge.

Sebastian Inlet Committee Ends Study of Project

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — If Sebastian Inlet is bridged, Brevard County might have to do it without the help of neighboring Indian River County.

A two-county committee, studying the possibility of moving Indian River's line to the center of the inlet, has been dissolved.

Brevard owns three miles of island between the south side of the inlet and the Indian River line. The committee was investigating the possibility of trading Indian River this land in return for joining this county in creation of a road and bridge tax district to help get the bridge.

Sherman Smith, Indian River County attorney, told Brevard officials that they were "sorry we've muddied up the waters for Brevard."

Smith said his county was not aware that Brevard had made so much progress on setting up the tax district. The neighboring county initiated the land swap idea as a means of helping Brevard with the inlet bridge.

'Cover Girl'

Miss Albritton and her sponsors raked in the greatest number of dollars for the million dollar hospital building fund. Her picture will go on the cover of the Follies program.

This contest, part of the hospital service guild's annual Follies show to raise money, netted $4,669. Miss Patsy Hawks, sponsored by the South Brevard Exchange Club, took second place.

First Report

MELBOURNE — The newly organized South Brevard Youth Recreation Committee will make its first report at 8 p.m. Thursday in city hall on recommendation for immediate steps to save the area recreation program from curtailment this year, Mayor J. J. Spitznogle reported Monday.

20 Acres Is Added To Site

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA — This city made a last-minute jump into the battle for the Brevard Junior College Monday by bringing a school site up to county school board specifications.

The move virtually assured Cocoa of getting the college because a school board majority favors the Cocoa site.

School board members are scheduled to choose a college site today but a source said the last-minute Cocoa action may force them to duck the decision.

"The Cocoa site may have to be restudied," the source said, "to see if it meets all county and state requirements."

An 80-acre tract on Merritt Island and another 80-acre site near Eau Gallie are also college contenders. The Eau Gallie site has the approval of the State education Department which feels the island site is "too low" and that the original Cocoa site is "too small."

In Monday's sudden action, the Cocoa council added 20 acres to its 40-acre college site at city-owned Clear Lake. It also gave the site frontage on the lake and on Clear Lake Road.

Both improvements were requested by the school board two weeks ago, and school board chairman Bob Hudson said the request meant the college would be built in Cocoa if the improvements were made.

Hudson, Mrs. Elsie Laroche, the Merritt Island board member, and Jack Crockett, the Rockledge board member, are all supporters of the Cocoa site. Dale Jacobus of Melbourne and Louis Coleman of Eau Gallie have been backing the Eau Gallie site.

Monday's Cocoa Council action was led by Council Chairman Dr. John Braxton who had the support of Councilmen George Bailey and Almon C. McCormick.

Councilmen James Clendinen and J. L. Smith were opposed to the action and so was Mayor Gary Bennett, who didn't have a vote on it. All three are against giving away city-owned property.

The action ended a council indecision which had caused Dr. Braxton to say last week that he thought "it not very probable" the council would improve the Clear Lake site.

At that time council members would not committ themselves but had agreed to back the privately-owned Merritt Island site in favor of the city land.

Monday's sudden Cocoa Council action also had the backing of the council of nearby Rockledge.

Rockledge councilmen have made $10,000 available in an attempt to attract the junior college to central Brevard

The Rockledge Council indicated it favors the Clear Lake tract but said the money could be used for improving either the Cocoa site or the one on Merritt Island.

Cocoa's Clear Lake tract is about a half mile west of the city limits north of the center of town. It is on an abandoned water reservoir and on recently constructed Clear Lake Road which connects U.S. 1 and the highway to Orlando.

Part of the 130 acres of city-owned land which adjoins the lake is already being used by a gun club, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts and residents of the Clear Lake terrace subdivision who have cleared five acres for a playground.

Dead Ringer

The palms are confusing, but an old seafarer probably would think he was on Chesapeake Bay if he spotted this sight in Cocoa. Anchored off Cocoa's Indian River Dr. is this ketch which is a dead ringer for the fishing boats of Chesapeake yesteryears. Joe Riedel, the craft's owner, isn't sure the boat is true Chesapeake. He points out similar boats were used in Long Island Sound about 100 years ago.

Discovery Aids Infants

Cell Tests Only Sure Way to Tell Sexes Apart

By JOY REESE SHAW
Herald Staff Writer

There's one sure way to tell boys from girls. By a study of cell structure.

The discovery is of monumental importance to a goodly number of women who think they are men.

Couched in medical terminology, it was the subject here Monday of an address entitled "Management of Adrenal Hyperfunction."

It was delivered by Dr. Olof Pearson, associate professor of medicine, Cornell University Medical College, New York, at the 27th Southeastern Surgical Congress which opened a four-day session at the Deauville Hotel.

Male cells are different from female cells. They have a lot of dark pigment in the cell nucleus. The discovery of this by a Canadian doctor has brought dramatic results in recent treatment of infants and confused unhappy adults, the doctor declared.

All of this has nothing to do with homosexuality or the converting of sex to comply with personality.

It is a disorder of the two small adrenal glands above the kidney, the professor explained. In this particular disorder, there is a lack of enzyme which prevents the gland from manufacturing cortisone and an overabundance of the male hormone.

"The disorder should be recognized at birth," the doctor said. If treated with cortisone, the infant will develop properly.

The ailment is often congenital and in the past babies have been mistaken for males when actually they are females.

A cell scraping from the mouth can determine the difference in the nucleus, and corrective treatment administered.

Some patients go through life believing themselves to be male when they are female, he reported. He described one patient, a minister, who believes himself to be male but actually is female, married and living a satisfactory life.

Although cortisone could bring forth feminine characteristics, the shock and pyschological adjustment in this patient's life would be too sever, the doctor said.

He told of another muscular patient, 30, however, who was believed to be a boy as a child, but later was reared as a girl.

"She spent hours upon hours sandpapering her face to eradicate the hair," the speaker reported. The patient was placed on cortisone.

Her hips and bosom rounded out, muscles receded, facial hair diminished and she became a feminine, curvaceous female, who is the mother of two young children, he reported.

Stout Stuff

Lots Needed To Make a Good Doctor

What are basic requirements for the man who elects the medical path? Here are some of them as sized up by the prexy:

Physical dexterity as coupled with an innate fascination for artisanship. A driving force and an investigative bent for resolving obscure pictures. Willingness to assume responsibility for positive action. Compassion — the appeal to succor humanity when in physical and mental distress.

Intellectual curiosity in broadening man's knowledge of human discorders and to discover clues for correcting them. Intellectual honesty — an honest appraisal of mistakes, a willingess to discover one's limitations as well as one's deeper endowments.

"Nothing," said the doctor, "shrivels a man's soul and mind more quickly than creating about one a chilly fog of dishonest representations."

Equanimity — coolness and presence of mind, imperturbability and serenity of demeanor. And faith . . . in God, in oneself, in the best of the past and in hope for the future.

Surgery, summed up the president, is a fascinating profession. But for the men in white, all is not glamor, like in the movies.

DOES MORE THAN JUST "SHRINK" PILE TISSUES!

No Surgery Needed to Stop Pain of Swollen Pile Tissues While They Heal!

Pain, itching of swollen piles are torture. You may think there's no relief without an operation. Yet...thousands have discovered how to stop this nagging discomfort in minutes — and without surgery! A remarkable compound you use at home makes you feel worlds better, right away! Not only reduces swelling but stops pain at once, promotes healing of inflamed tissues too!

Preparations that just act to "shrink" piles can't offer complete symptomatic relief. For real comfort, fast, you need this more complete medication, called Stainless Pazo. In doctors' tests, patients reported immediate relief of discomfort. That's because Stainless Pazo combines the most effective ingredients known for piles. Thus works 3 ways at once: 1. Anesthetic action stops pain, itching in minutes ... puts rectal nerves to sleep, thus relaxing muscle spasms that cause discomfort. 2. Reduces tissue swelling, congestion ... protruding parts shrink. 3. Promotes healing of raw tissues. You get immediate new comfort while Nature's own healing magic goes to work.

Don't suffer needlessly one more day. To sit, stand, walk without pain again, get Stainless Pazo Suppositories or Ointment at druggists. Get glorious relief without surgery or money back!

Club to Hear Author Talk

STUART — Harnett Kane, author, will review his latest novel, "The Golden Coast," at 2 p.m. March 20 at the Stuart Woman's Club building.

Kane's appearance here is sponsored by the Gen. J. E. B. Stuart chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, said Mrs. Ernest Lyons, president.

41 Counts Cited In Bribery Case

BARTOW — (UPI) — Former State Rep. E. B. (Shorty) Jones, convicted last month of trying to bribe Polk County Sheriff Hagan Parrish to overlook a bolita racket, asked for a new trial Monday, listing 41 alleged trial errors.

Polk County Criminal Court Judge Roy H. Amidon set next Monday for arguments on the motion. If he refuses the motion, Amidon will sentence Jones, who could get up to five years in prison.

Jones' attorney, Ellis Rubin of Miami, claimed the Grand Jury which indicted Jones in October included a special deputy sheriff, which, he said, was contrary to Florida law. For this reason, he said the information used in the indictment was unconstitutional.

He also charged he was unable to "thoroughly" cross examine Parrish and two other witnesses and one of the jurors was deaf and could not hear all the testimony.

Tax Plan Overhaul Is Needed

JACKSONVILLE — (AP) — Rep. John E. Mathews of Jacksonville Monday said Florida's entire tax structure needs changing.

He told the annual meeting of county tax collectors the tax laws are a hodge podge, created to fit a need of the moment, in each Legislature.

He said, however, he doubted the legislature would make any major revision.

But, he added "now is the time for local government officials to join state forces so when the revisions are made — perhaps two years from now — you will be left with your fair share of tools with which to cope with local tax problems."

Mathews said that, since homestead exemption went into effect in the 1930s, counties have had no base on which to build a fair tax plan.

Collins Not Satisfied

Constitution Draft Due More Study

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Gov. LeRoy Collins isn't completely satisfied with the proposed new state constitution drafted by his special revision committee.

The governor's legal aide, William Killian, said there was "no substantial disagreement" between Collins and the committee.

But, he added, Collins felt there were some things in the committee draft that required further study. Some of the ideas developed by the revision committee are completely new, Killian said.

The committee's thinking does not dovetail exactly with Collins' own ideas in some areas. The governor also questions the phrasing of some provisions in the committee draft.

Killian said Collins was handed the final draft of the special committee's work late Friday and spent the weekend studying it.

The governor plans to confer with William A. McRae, the Bartow lawyer who heads the revision committee, and Douglas Shivers of Tallahassee, the committee counsel, before he puts the proposed new constitution before legislative leaders, Killian said.

But Collins hopes to have all the bugs worked out in time to sit down late this week with Sen. Pres. Dewey M. Johnson, House speaker Thomas D. Beasley and the chairmen of House and Senate constitutional amendments committees, Rep. Mallory Horne of Leon County and Sen. John Rawls of Marianna.

Collins set up the McRae committee to prepare a new constitution after the Florida Supreme Court threw out the legislative revision program adopted by a special session in October, 1957.

The Supreme Court voided the legislature's program because the revised articles were interlocked into a single package which had to be accepted in its entirety or fail. The court said the daisy chaining of the various articles made the program a general revision, which could be accomplished only by a constitutional convention.

The McRae committee has developed its revision in a series of independent articles which stand by themselves.

In creating the committee, Collins said its proposals would reflect his thinking as to what should be in a new constitution.

The governor is not expected to make public his proposals before he reviews the program with the legislative leaders.

Option School Plan Backed

ST. AUGUSTINE — (AP) — A local option school closing plan appears to be the only way to avoid a statewide shutdown because of integration, says Fred Kent, Jacksonville attorney.

He said the Legislature should pass no bill which would close all schools if one is integrated because "that is exactly the type of law which brought integration to Virginia."

Kent is a former member of the Board of Control which administers policies of state institutions and has been mentioned as a possible candidate for governor.

He told the St. Augustine Rotary Club Monday Floridians should ask the Legislature for three things:

"1. A carefully worked out amendment broadening its pupil assignment law at least to the extent of the Alabama law which the U. S. Supreme Court has held to be constitutuional.

"2. A tuition payment law along the lines suggested by Attorney General Ervin but with every restrictive provision which might affect its constitutionality eliminated. We can't gamble on it being held unconstitutional and our having to live without such a law for two more years.

"3. A local option lay which would put the entire administration of the state's public schools and its anti-integration laws on a county basis and vest in the people the power to guarantee their stringent enforcement by the prompt recall of faithless public servants."

Kent said the local option plan is indicated by the federal court in the Virginia case and that it appears the only way to handle the matter.

He said Florida's constitution says the Legislature must provide a uniform public school system and that the Virginia constitution has substantially the same provision.

Therefore any attempt to enforce a school closing bill in Florida would very probably result in the state courts throwing it out just as the Virginia courts did, he said.

JAMES CROW—Historians credit him as the first man to make a modern bourbon . . . the man who invented the sour mash process, the first to use scientific methods in distilling.

Why Old Crow should be your bourbon

The day James Crow's bourbon appeared, 124 years ago in Kentucky, real bourbon was made for the first time. The people and the leading figures of the era instantly knew it.

HENRY CLAY ordered Old Crow for his home. DANIEL WEBSTER called Old Crow "the finest in the world." It towered over the hit-and-miss bourbons of its day.

Today, although there are now hundreds of other bourbons on the market, Kentucky's Old Crow is still by far America's favorite.

Why? Because this is the perfect formula for bourbon. You can taste its inborn Kentucky mellowness, its surprising lightness, its clean flavor. Others can come close to it, but the inimitable, authentic bourbon stamp of Old Crow makes it the master today as it was the day it first appeared to delight the world. Have you tried it?

New Clock's A Whopper

LONDON — (UPI) — A clock so large that eight men are needed to lift its minute hand is scheduled to go into operation here March 17 at an electrical and engineering exhibition.

The manufacturer, the Synchrome Co. at Wembley, claims it is the biggest timepiece in the world. The face measures 60 feet across and its minute hand is 35 feet long. The minute hands on four-faced Big Ben, Britain's most famous clock, are only 14 feet long.

Freshmen House Members Attend Class

The two-day school, sponsored by the Legislative Council, is designed to help prepare the new lawmakers on the session opening April 7.

The school, which got under way in the house chamber at the capitol Monday afternoon, had an all-star faculty headed by Gov. LeRoy Collins and House Speaker Designate Thomas D. Beasley.

Other professors were: Rep. Cliff Herrell of Dade, chairman of the Legislative Council, and Reps. John E. Mathews Jr., of Duval, Doyle E. Conner of Bradford, William E. Chappell Jr., of Marion and Mallory E. Horne of Leon.

Aspirin Kills 74

JACKSONVILLE —(AP)— Aspirin caused the greatest number of poisoning in children under 5 during 1958, the State Board of Health said Monday.

The board said a large number of children apparently got the aspirin in trash heaps or from rubbish containers. There were 74 aspirin cases out of a total of 574 poisonings which included those caused by insecticides, petroleum products and cleaning agents.

The board said poison control centers in 17 hospitals throughout the state helped save many children's lives.

300 Expected

GAINESVILLE — (UPI) — More than 300 persons are expected to be on hand for the first annual Florida Industrial Conference in Tampa Thursday and Friday.

The State General Extension Division, sponsor of the meeting, said advanced registrations had been received from Texas, California, Illinois and Washington, D.C.

Every major group interested, including private enterprise, higher educational institutions, public utilities, financial institutions and federal, state and local governments.

Board to Meet

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The State Board of Forestry has scheduled a meeting in Tampa March 13 to adopt its legislative program.

President Frank Parker, Panama City, said proposals to be discussed include a model county forest fire protection bill, a request for a two-year appropriation of $5,704,000, and a provision for a working capital fund. The board also will talk over a proposed revision of the law governing timber sales and leases on state forests.

Prowler Slain

JACKSONVILLE —(UPI)— A 26-year-old truck driver whose fingerprints were on police file was shot to death while prowling around a home Sunday.

Officers said Jake Fred Scheiber, alias Fred O'Brine, was shot while caught prowling outside the home of Tillman Aiken Simmons.

Simmons said he saw a figure fumbling with the screen door of his home and ordered the man to "stand where you are."

Simmons said the victim ducked and ran toward the side of the house and Simmons fired three shots, one of them hitting Scheiber in the head.

Governor Is 50

Collins said, however, it will be just like any other work day. Today is also the regualr cabinet session day and a meeting of the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund will take up most of the 12 hours.

There will be a family party at the governor's mansion, he said, with the traditional birthday cake.

Crane Kills Man

JACKSONVILLE —(UPI)— A veteran State Road Department employe was killed Monday when a huge crane buckled under the weight of a piledriver and toppled on the victim.

Police Sgt. R. K. Matthew said Lyle E. McGhin, 39, was at a construction job on the Jacksonville Expressway when the accident occurred.

But One Dies in Blaze

Coughing Tot Saves Four

JACKSONVILLE — (AP) — A coughing baby saved four persons early Monday in a rooming house fire which took one life.

Douglas H. McAllister, 43, burned to death on the second floor of the two-story frame structure, which was badly damaged.

Fire Marshal O. A. Byrd said first investigation indicated an overturned oil stove in McAllister's room caused the blaze.

McAllister's body was found in a position which indicated he had been trying to crawl from the room.

Barbara Kay, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pitts, began coughing and awoke her parents and two-year-old brother, Rickey. They were also on the second floor.

Mrs. Pitts, 18, and pregnant, said she smelled smoke when me got out of bed to give Barbara some cough medicine.

Pitts picked up Rickey and called for his wife to grab the baby and follow. But smoke and flames barred her way. She rushed back to her room and escaped through a window, down a ladder which roofers had left.

The house's owner Mrs. Emma Grimms was asleep on the first floor but escaped without trouble.

Judgment Issued On City Pension

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — What could have been the final echo of Lake Worth's 1953 "missing bond scandal" was heard in circuit court here Monday.

It consisted of a final judgment by Judge Joseph S. White directing disposition of a municipal pension for Edwin C. Ewing who was city clerk when the bond scandal rocked that city.

Ewing was suspended, fired charged with bribery, tried and convicted and was then granted a full pardon. He sued for his municipal pension and the court held he was entitled to it.

In the latest — and possibly the final order in the case— Judge White held the city could apply the pension due Ewing to a $206,947 judgment it won against the former clerk and several other persons.

The bond scandal came to light when a Palm Beach broker from whom the city had been purchasing bonds died unexpectedly. The city claimed he never delivered any of the bonds for which payment had been made. Niether the bonds or the money were ever located.

To Free Sonali, Says Das Gupta

CALCUTTA, India — (AP) — Hari Das Gupta, 36-year-old Indian film producer, says he will allow his wife, Sonali, to divorce him when she wants to. Under Hindu law she needs his consent.

Sonali's name has been romantically linked with Italian Movie Producer Roberto Rossellini. Both are now living in Paris.

Hari said that his wife had sent word through a mutual friend that she hoped he would give her a divorce.

"I am now fed up with the entire affair and don't want to stand in her way," he declared.

NBC Seeking Fabray For a Long Contract

The New York Times News Service

NEW YORK—The National Broadcasting Co. has started negotiations with Nanette Fabray in the hope of concluding a long-term contract.

NANETTE

Miss Fabray, who once portrayed the wife of Sid Caesar on the comedian's television show, has not appeared regularly on television since she left that series.

On several occasions she and NBC have entered contract discussions but without result.

One source indicated that the new discussions between the network and the actress may lead to a contract.

How NBC would utilize her services has not been determined, but at least she would appear in special shows several times a year.

A SENATE committee's investigation of the juke box industry has inspired a drama idea for a television program.

"Armstrong Circle Theater" is preparing a play titled "The Sound of Violence," which will relate to the inquiry into coin-machine operations being conducted by the Senate committee on improper activities in the labor or management field.

Art Wallace has been assigned to write a script. "The Sound of Violence" will be televised over the Columbia Broadcasting system on April 29 from 10 to 11 p.m. The play has not been cast.

IT APPEARS that Arthur Godfrey's Tuesday evening television program on CBS will be discontinued after he completes his season the latter part of May. Next fall he will become the host on "Person to Person."

One Man Eliminated

'Naked City' Gets New Cop

NEW YORK —(AP)— Horace McMahon, a character actor who can play anything, enjoys the game of cops and robbers.

Horace McMahon

Sometimes a cop, sometimes a thug, he joins the forces of law and order in "Naked City" (ABC-TV, next Tuesday, 9:30 p.m.,) as Lt. Mike Parker of the New York city police department.

This comes about because Lt. Muldoon is bumped off, rubbed out — in short, eliminated — in a show appropriately called "The Bumper."

A hired killer rams his car into Muldoon, knocking him onto an oil truck which bursts into flames. Which is one way to remove a character from a television series.

Muldoon was eliminated because John McIntire, who has played the role since the series' inception, wanted to withdraw and spend full time working his Montana ranch.

McMahon, taking over as a new character, Parker, expects to be a less paternal type of policeman than McIntire was. "I expect I'll act a little tougher — at least tough on the outside," says McMahon.

McMahon's extensive experience in the theater, television and movies has not been confined to cops and robbers.

But for one six-year stretch in Hollywood he played nothing but heavies, killers and stooges. Then he switched from lawbreaker to lawman in "Detective Story" on Broadway.

What, from an actor's viewpoint, is the difference between playing a lawbreaker and a lawman?

"The difference is mainly in furtiveness," says McMahon. "The hoodlum is trying to be obscure. The peace officer, who is entitled to carry the gun, is not trying to be obscure. He is frankly what he is."

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 NT.	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Two of ♠.

Failure to pay attention to the spots in the heart suit proved very costly to declarer today.

The bidding was fairly normal, although North's raise to three hearts was somewhat aggressive inasmuch as South's response to the no trump opening showed an unbalanced hand with less than eight points.

West chose the two of spades as an opening lead. While the opening underlead of an ace at a suit contract is irregular, North's strong bidding very likely marks him with the king of spades. If declarer is lacking the queen he will almost surely misguess the holding. Declarer played low from the dummy, and East played the nine. Technically, this is the sound play, but practically, East should realize that unless West has chosen this moment to underlead the ace there is no spade trick for the defense, since the club suit will provide discard. South won with the ten and returned the jack of clubs. West lost no time in winning the trick and again underled the ace of spades. The jack was played from dummy, lost to the queen, and a spade came back to the ace. With book in, West then led a diamond and it went queen, king, ace.

Declarer led the three of hearts to dummy, a choice which in a monent he was to regret. On the second lead the queen fell, and dummy proceeded to lead clubs, declarer discarding two diamonds. On the next club East ruffed in with the ten of hearts, and South over-ruffed. Now, had declarer access to dummy, he could discard the remaining diamond on dummy's good club. Retention of the three of hearts would have permitted him to enter dummy at this time by means of the five.

Persons And Programs

Chances are that Rin Tin Tin won't return to ABC-TV next season in a nighttime spot.

The CBS-TV Ray Milland series, Markham, has had its debut postponed from April 25 to May 2.

Frank Busseri, one of the Four Lads singing group, has bought the Leonia, N.J., home of Pat Boone. Boone has moved his family to a larger house in Teaneck, N.J.

April 5 is the date of the last CBS-TV Small World show this season.

Helen Hayes has joined Lloyd Nolan as co-star of "Ah Wilderness" to be seen on NBC-TV's Hallmark Hall of Fame April 28.

Seven - year - old David Francis got the nod for the role of "Ulysses" in William Saroyan's "The Human Comedy," set for CBS-TV's Du Pont Show of the Month March 28.

Last Word

By DR. BERGEN EVANS

QUESTION: Is there such a word as hist, meaning to steal?—L. A. S.

ANSWER: Yes. It is merely an archaic or dialectal pronunciation of hoist, to lift.

The sound oi was frequently pronounced like the i in line. When Alexander Pope wrote (in 1711):

> Good nature and good sense must ever join;
> To err is human, to forgive divine

—his rime made it plain that "jine" was then the pronunciation of join. And this was the pronunciation heard in rural America up until fifty years ago.

So also with hoist. Mark Twain's famous jumping frog Dan'l "hysted up his shoulders" (1865). Cows were ordered to "hist," meaning to lift their hind leg out of the milker's way. A hip-hist was a throw in wrestling. In central Pennsylvania a heister is a jack for lifting wagons. And in the deep South to "hist the rhyme" is, or until recently was, to lead the singing.

To lift (or hoist or hist) is a common term for stealing. One has only to think of shoplifting.

Fun at P.O. Left With Stub Pens

By ROSE ALLEGATO
Herald Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — Alas, progress.

The ballpoint pen has replaced the scratchy stub pen, and all the fun has gone out of a visit to the postoffice.

These stub pens were handy things, you remember. You could use them to cut the cord on the package you just picked up. Course, this didn't make the postmaster happy. But it was handy, indeed. There you stood hacking relentlessly at the heavy string, not having to wait till you got home to a scissors or knife.

Then if you felt inclined, the stub pens were fine little darts. At least, many a postoffice goer aimed the pens point forward at walls and floors in an impromptu game of darts.

They were probably irate because the stubs wouldn't write. But after all they'd been cutting string. What would you expect. The pen was really hopeless after a bulls-eye — the point spreading out like two fingers.

West Palm Beach postmaster R. L. McLester for one is glad to be rid of the scratchy stub pens. You had to keep wells full or some crusty citizen would swoop down on you in bitter complaint. And the pens — much abused as described above — very often wouldn't write, which brought some more complaints.

Also, the old pens had to be replaced constantly.

The ball points may have foiled the fun, but they have eliminated the complaints. McLester says the problem with postoffice pens is obsolete. The ballpointers are attached to the postoffice counters by a long silver chain just like pens found on bank counters. The stub pens were loose — prime targets for theft.

Course, the ballpointers had a way of disappearing at first too.

The first 72 hours the pens were put into use, McLester said, three disappeared. But the novelty has worn off. The ballpointers stay put now.

The postoffice simply doesn't have a pen problem at all these days. Alas, progress. The ballpointers just won't cut water—much less string.

Collins' Race Unit To Report

TALLAHASSEE — (AP) — The Fabisinski Race Relations Committee, studying whether new racial legislation is needed in Florida, is putting finishing touches on its report to Gov. LeRoy Collins, a committee aide said Monday.

The committee met in closed session a week ago to discuss its recommendations, now being prepared

William Killian, of the governor's staff, said the committee would not make its report public before submitting it to Collins.

He said he did not know whether Collins would meet personally with the committee before the Legislature opens April 7.

DOCKET NOS. 5003-CCT, 5004-CCT
FLORIDA RAILROAD AND PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION
-to-
FLORIDA INTRASTATE RATE BUREAU
and
ALL OTHER INTERESTED PARTIES

NOTICE is hereby given that the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, a Commission Member appointed by said Commission, or an Examiner designated by said Commission, will hold a further public hearing at 9:30 A.M. Wednesday, March 25, 1959, in the Commission's Hearing Room at 2526 West Flagler Street, Miami, Florida, for the purpose of receiving additional testimony:

DOCKET NO. 5003-CCT

On Application No. 888 of Florida Intrastate Rate Bureau, on behalf of all common carrier motor freight lines participating in Motor Freight Tariff FR&PUC MF No. 7, for authority to increase by 10% all Class and Commodity Rates and Charges (except the charges on collect on delivery shipments, Item 360, and the minimum charges, Item 390) in Tariff 7 and effective supplements thereto.

It is proposed to publish a special-conversion table of rates and charges supplement to Tariff No. 7, disposing of Freight Classification No. A-3.

DOCKET NO. 5004-CCT

On Application No. 889 of Florida Intrastate Rate Bureau, on behalf of all common carrier motor freight lines participating in Motor Freight Tariff FR&PUC MF-No. 7, to increase the minimum charge (Item 390 in Supplement 23 to Tariff No. 7) to a flat $3.00 for a single shipment, to apply regardless of the Rate Basis Numbers, subject to a Note provision therein that the present published minimum charge will apply for account of Burgess and Cook, Inc., on shipments handled direct.

At said time and place all interested parties will be given an opportunity to be fully heard.

WITNESS the hand of the Executive Secretary of the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission this 6th day of March, 1959.

Monroe Courthouse Damage Set at $40,000

Officials Salvage Records

Damage Closes County 4 Days

By HARRY CAICEDO
Key West Bureau Chief

KEY WEST – Repairs on the fire and water damaged County Courthouse should begin within three or four days, County Commissioner Clarence Higgs estimated Monday.

Work on the building will get underway after contractors fully survey the damaged areas and submit estimates to county authorities, said Higgs, who is also chairman of the buildings and grounds committee.

Higgs and other members of the county commission joined with insurance adjusters and Ray Knopp, city building inspector, to inspect damages caused to the structure by the Sunday morning fire.

Although the fire was confined to the clock tower and cupola of the building, water poured in by the firefighters did considerable damage to the second and first floors.

Higgs said the city fire inspector estimated the damage at approximately $40,000. The inspector thought the fire began in faulty electrical equipment located in the cupola to light neon tubing around the clock faces, Higgs said.

Firemen fought the blaze for two hours and 20 minutes before completely dousing it. Courthouse personnel, deputies from the adjoining sheriff's office, prisoners and other volunteers labored till dawn sweeping out the water.

Many county officials rushed to the building when informed of the fire to put away exposed documents or salvage them if necessary. No records have been reported damaged.

Newcomer Took Gems, Police Hint

KEY WEST — Police and sheriff's investigators Monday checked into the theft of approximate $1,200 worth of jewelry from a guest at the Casa Marina Hotel here.

The Sheriff's department said it was looking for a "suspect who had recently come into town."

The jewelry — rings, necklaces, a watch, earrings—were taken from a suitcase in the room of Dr. and Mrs. Moeses R. Hoffman of Long Island, N.Y., sometime Sunday afternoon, authorities reported.

The suitcase, of fabric construction, was locked. It was cut open with a knife. There was no evidence of forced entry into the room, which the Hoffmans also reported as being locked, investigators said.

All of the jewelry stolen was insured, the victims told officers. The theft is the third one involving gems to occur at the Casa Marina this season.

Mallory Docks Show Sad Signs of Decay
. . . but lease may revitalise facilities for Key West

Key West's 'White Elephant' Docks Lease Could be Tonic

By HARRY CAICEDO
Key West Bureau Chief

KEY WEST — City officials Monday completed details necessary to execute the 75-year lease on the Mallory docks granted to financial interests from Miami and New York.

City Attorney Hilary Albury said the contract was being signed by Mayor Delio Cobo, notorized and mailed to the lessees for proper execution on their part.

Once these formalities are completed, the agreement becomes final. A check for $12,000, representing the first year's rental on the city property, will then be turned over to the city, Albury said. He is holding it in escrow until that time.

In return for their payments over the next 75 years, the Intermediate Factors Corp. of New York is getting four acres of waterfront property which has, with some reason, been called the city's "white elephant."

Potentially, the area is anything but a white elephant.

Located at the west end of the island, it stretches 464 feet along the water's edge from the Aquarium to the Gulf docks. The water depth alongside the pier is a good 35 feet.

Reaching back from the water is an area 318 feet wide on which stand several buildings, now mostly in deplorable condition.

The area was first developed at the turn of the century by Clyde Mallory, a promoter who used the docks for ships of his steamship line when Key West was a port of call on the New York to Galveston, Texas, run.

Many years later, after that activity declined, the docks and adjacent property was bought by the Gulf Atlantic Transportation Co. They planned to use it as a Havana Ferry landing slip.

But the plan never materialized. In 1952 the city picked up the area for what was considered a bargain price: $150,000.

The city still owes $50,000 on its 10-year-mortgage on the deal, City Manager Dave King says. Annual payments run about $12,500 on the principal and $2,500 on interests.

From time to time, plans were formulated to have something done with the docks. But nothing ever happened. The property sat there, the buildings deteriorated and part of the rotting pier collapsed into the ocean. Only shrimpboats use it for dockage.

Assorted tenants have taken up residence in the area at the "sufferance" of the city. Joe Fernandez, a produce wholesaler and city commissioner, has had a lease on a warehouse since 1954, before his election. It expires in July 1960. Victor Lange also leases a parking area adjacent to the Aquarium.

Revenue from these assorted sources have just about amounted to the annual payments the city makes on its mortgage. But the potential of the area has been lying idle.

The outfit which got a lease on the land Saturday from the City Commission has promised great things for the Mallory Docks. They see it as a center of small industry and shipping.

Talent Depends on Sales

Community Concert Soliciting Started

By VALERIE M. DEAL
Herald Correspondent

Around The Keys

MARATHON — This is Community Concert week in Marathon and the surrounding areas. Purpose of this year's drive, as in the past two seasons, is to accept renewal memberships from past subscribers and to enroll new members for a series of concerts to be given in early 1960.

Such memorable concerts as Marina Svetlova's ballet troupe; Mary MacMurray, mezzo-soprano; Bill and Pat Medley, a piano duo, and Robert Goss and Louise Whetsel's "Make A Show" concert have been presented in the past two years. Plans for next winter season call for the same top quality of music and entertainment.

Attendance at the concerts is by membership only. While a canvass will be made, a campaign headquarters will be open each day at the Keynoter bulding to accept memberships.

Mrs. Sigmund Stocki, secretary, made a special point of the fact that no box-office admissions to any of the concerts will be sold, since artists who appear in the series are selected according to the number of memberships obtained during the one-week drive.

Interest in the concerts has been widespread throughout the Keys. The drive is being launched with an opening dinner to which volunteer workers are invited. The dinner Monday night will have as guest speaker Miss Camelia Campbell, representative of Community Concerts, Inc., New York.

Teen Trio Captured

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — A trio of teenagers, including a 15-year-old girl, picked up here in connection with a Key Largo burglary, will be turned over to juvenile authorities in Tampa where they are also wanted.

Juvenile Judge Eva Gibson Warner said Monday a probation officer from the Tampa court will come to take the runaway teenagers back. Besides the girl, there are two boys, 14 and 16 years old.

They were caught Sunday by a Florida Highway Patrolmen from descriptions supplied by witnesses who say the youngsters leaving James Arnold's hardware store at Key Largo.

Money and goods amounting to approximately $40 were recovered and identified by the owner of the store.

Judge Gibson said the boys have run away from home before and are scheduled to appear in Juvenile Court in Tampa later this week.

Anti-Sub Experts Analyzing Threat

Anderson Cleared by State Board

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — A one-hour hearing at Orlando Monday morning cleared Clifford R. Anderson, Naples and Miami area acreage broker of an accusation he failed to share a commission with broker Ellen Custer of West Hollywood.

ANDERSON

The four-and-a-half-year old charge held Anderson owed Mrs. Custer $11,200 commission on a sale he said was made a month after they ended a co-operating agreement. Mrs Custer had asked payment of the commission and revocation of Anderson's license.

"The Real Estate Commission took what they told me was a very unusual action," said Anderson. "They said the case was so clear they made the decision without leaving the room."

The hearing was conducted by Chairman Henry M. Jernigan, R. T. Brinkley and J. R. Boring.

Navy Host To Canada, U.K. Parley

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST The growing threat of Russian submarines brought together here Monday top military and civilian advisors from the U. S. and two of her top allies to discuss what they term "Operations Research."

The research they are doing is into the operations of anti-submarine warfare as practiced by this country, the United Kingdom and Canada.

The five-day conclave, joined in by some 40 high military planners, warfare analysts and civilian scientists, is sponsored by Admiral Arleigh Burke, Chief of Naval Operations.

His personal representative, Rear Adm. W. D. Irvin, also commander of the Operation Development Force, is here to participate in the meeting, labeled a "tripartite symposium."

Dr. Jacinto Steinhardt, a physical chemist who heads the Navy's operations evaluation group and Naval warfare analysis group, leads the U.S. delegation to the symposium.

Without hesitation, Dr. Steinhardt told a group of newsmen Monday that the Russian submarine threat," which didn't exist six or seven years ago, is increasing."

British and Canadian officials agreed that the threat is also felt in their waters.

Dr. Steinhardt added that the problem of defending the U.S. from all-out nuclear attack is "becoming very serious."

Asked if he thought the Russians have an atomic submarine, the scientist answered:

"I know of no reason to assume that they do not have one."

But Dr. Steinhardt conceded that with present-day anti-submarine warfare methods, taking into account continuing developments, "we can cope with the situations."

At the symposium here with Steinhardt are his British and Canadian counterparts, H. C. Calpine and Dr. H. H. Watson. Senior military representatives from the two countries are Capt. B. S. Pemberton, Royal Navy, and Commodore O.C.S. Robertson, Royal Canadian Air-Force.

Adm. Irvin and Dr. Steinhardt explained that the symposium, the first naval one related to submarine warfare, hopes to bring out through informal discussion a clarification of concepts of submarine warfare at the operational tactical and technical levels.

Sessions are being held at the Fleet Sonar School here, a critical cog in the free world's anti-submarine warfare training program.

"Our present-day tactics are based on experiences of the past" Steinhardt explained. He added that their research today may produce the tactics of tomorrow.

"We have our feet in the past and our heads in the future," Steinhardt said.

Conclusions to come from the symposium would be passed in the form of information or recommendations to decision-making authorities, the scientist declared.

NAPLES — Advertising for a proposed pay increase for the for the school superintendent has been carried out although five other Collier County officers for whom the pay raise was suggested have not yet placed their ads.

W. D. Reynolds, school superintendent, Sunday placed the legal notice required by law in the Collier County News. He did not specify the amount of increase asked and in his absence from the county to attend a state meeting his office was unable to say anything about the advertisement.

The Reynolds ad was run separately, said Mrs. Margaret T. Scott, clerk of court, because his post is not a fee office as are the others, including the clerk, sheriff, judge and tax assessor and collector.

The sheriff is understood to have a pay raise already assured under a 1957 legislative act effective next year. He is now on a $7,500 fixed salary under a budget.

The county officials had first proposed a raise from the $7,500 constitutional limit to $10,000 but later apparently compromised at $9,000.

Opposition to the increase unless it at least meets a referendum requirement was given at the last County Commission meeting by Dick Goodlette. Other commissioners said little about the matter.

Pilings Piled

One Foul-Up After Another U.S. Delay

NAPLES — One Federal project has fallen afoul of another here.

Piling for the Gordon River Bridge, a federal aid project for four-laning the Tamiami Trail, went aground late Sunday when the barge bringing them from West Palm Beach touched on a rock in the Naples Bay channel.

Deepening of the Naples Bay channel is a project being favorably considered by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

It was proposed about four years ago and is expected to be authorized and financed, Congress willing, within three more years.

The barge bringing in supplies for Cleary Bros. Contracting Co. won't have to wait that long. It's expected to come free at the next high tide.

Mackeral's Making Skipper Mad

By DUANE JONES
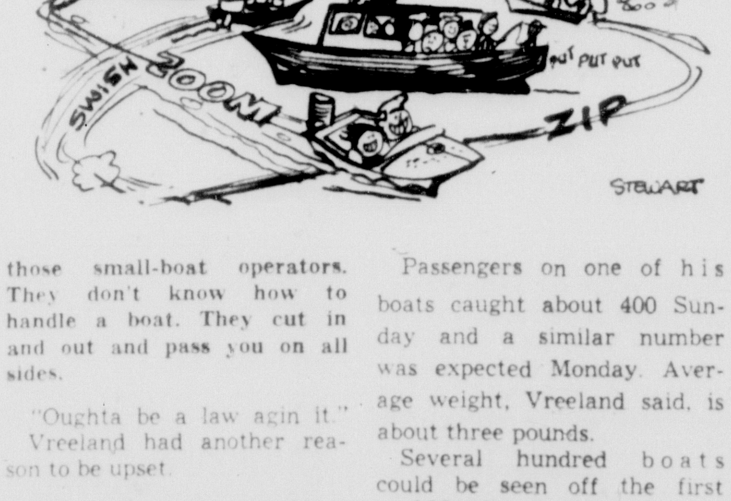
Herald Staff Writer



FORT LAUDERDALE — Grab your rod and reel, Dad, those Spanish mackerel are running again.

Thousands of pounds — maybe a million — have been snagged off Fort Lauderdale's beach the past few days.

And they're apt to be around for several weeks.

"Gawan nawth," drawls Veteran Charter Boat Capt. Bill Vreeland to the mackerel.

"They do it every spring. Come down in the fall and go nawth in the spring. Millions of them," he says wearily.

"Too many boats," he complained. "More boats out there than fish. Ain't safe to be out there will all those outboards churning about.

"People get drowned every time those mackerel run. It's those small-boat operators. They don't know how to handle a boat. They cut in and out and pass you on all sides.

"Oughta be a law agin it."

Vreeland had another reason to be upset.

The large number of fish being caught has cut their retail value.

"We ain't supposed to sell them but we do," Vreeland lamented. "Sort of a courtesy. We make a couple bucks, sure, but not much."

Vreeland said the fish are en route to waters off the Carolinas. "Be running for another month," he added.

Passengers on one of his boats caught about 400 Sunday and a similar number was expected Monday. Average weight, Vreeland said, is about three pounds.

More were expected today.

KEY WEST — A shrimper has added a refinement to the dark art of pocket picking.

Big Comeback for Miami Beach

'They're Sleeping in the Cabanas' Again

By SYLVIA PORTER

SYLVIA

In these typical statistics of winter, 1959, lies the reason why the Gold Coast of Florida has come back from the most calamitous tourist season in memory to one of the "best years ever."

For in contrast to the chills and freezes, the rains and winds of 1958, week after week so far this year, Florida has had superb WEATHER. And as the reports of an almost uninterrupted string of warm, sunny, dry days have flashed across the nation, once again the tourists have been pouring into this most fabulous beach resort in the world by the hundreds of thousands.

Once again the show hotels are jammed and, "They're sleeping in the cabanas." Once again, during the evenings, you can see the incredible spectacle of mink-clothed women and money-loaded men standing in line to eat, drink, dance. Once again the supper clubs are jumping, racetrack intake is on the rise.

* * *

GARBAGE COLLECTIONS—a provocatively dependable barometer of economic conditions in a resort city — are running 10 to 15 per cent above this time a year ago.

FIRST AID treatments on the beaches — another fascinating indicator of tourism in an ocean resort — are ranging over 150 a week against less than 50 a week in the 1958 season.

PARKING METER revenues are up 10 to 13 per cent. Water and electricity consumption is higher.

And although the big-time spenders who made worldwide Miami Beach seasons appear less conspicuous, it is only because they are obscured by the increasing multitudes of middle-income vacationers.

OKA

MEYER

WEINTRAUB

In the colorful words of Hank Meyer, dubbed "Mr. Miami Beach" in the last issue of "Newsweek" and head of a nationwide industrial public relations firm bearing his name headquartered here, "The big spenders in Miami today are like a pitcher of cream poured into a bottle of milk. The same amount of cream is in the bottle but it doesn't taste as rich because it has been diluted. The cream is there, though, and the big spenders are here."

* * *

BUT GLITTERING as it all appears, the memory of the devastating 1958 season remains. Operators of at least a dozen hotels went bankrupt or lost their properties last year. Many restaurants and stores sank. Despite this year's revival, a lot of others are still in precarious shape.

It's freely admitted by insiders that had this season been another cold one, half the hotels on the beach might have gone under by now! The nearness of catastrophe has torn the rose-tinted glasses off the eyes of shrewd operators and they're determined to use some of the lessons.

"Last year separated the men from the boys here," says Joseph Weintraub, chairman of the American Title & Insurance Co. and the Mercantile National Bank of Miami Beach, "and we're going to keep it that way. We're lending more than ever, but we're much more prudent about to whom and for what. The greatest weather in the world isn't going to solve the problems of shoddy financing, marginal speculation. We want no more of these."

"No amount of filled hotels can justify the mistakes of the past," adds Miami Beach's Mayor, Kenneth Oka. "And hopefully, fly-by-night manufacturers putting out inferior products have been discouraged. For what we want to attract are quality manufacturers who will produce products giving stature to the 'Made In Miami' label."

* * *

"WE WOULD have been able to withstand the blows of a few poor seasons much better if we had developed more convention business and trade shows," emphasizes Saul Cohen, former head of the Miami Beach Hotel Owners' Assn. "Developing these activities is a key objective now."

From last year's shattering shocks, bankruptcies and foul weather, Miamians are recovering. But their returning confidence does appear more sober, more solid.

Regardless, though, with "78" in the shade, the glow now is on the cash registers as well as the tourists. And as I fly home to my "35," I can understand why when even conservatives here are discussing Miami Beach, they point to the stars not just to dramatize the day's beauty, but also their forecast of Florida's future.

New Guide for Selling

Let's Call Halt To Unfair Sales, Chamber Urges

By JAMES RUSSELL
Herald Business Editor

Artificial mark-ups and sales that aren't really sales were attacked by the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce Monday in a new "guide" to fair selling and advertising.

"We are trying to do away with a fringe element among merchants who are tearing down legitimate business with misleading and unfair advertising and retailing practices," said Charles R. Craig, head of the chamber's Better Business Division.

Craig said that if the retailers don't regulate themselves the Federal Trade Commission is likely to step in and do it.

Here are some of the "principles" set forth by the Better Business Division, "based primarily on the FTC guides":

A SAVINGS CLAIM should not be indicated or implied unless there is a reduction in the regular retail price of the item in the trade area where it is publicized.

A PRICE REDUCTION claim should not be indicated or implied if it is based on an artificial mark-up or "infrequent or isolated sales."

SPECIAL SALES should be exactly what they say they are—an offer to sell at a price concession.

TWO FOR ONE SALES should be advertised only when the retailer does not raise the regular selling price and does not reduce the quality, quantity or size of the item.

HALF-PRICE and one-cent sales should disclose exactly and conspicuously the conditions under which the items or services are offered.

'FACTORY OR WHOLESALE' prices should not be offered unless they are, in effect, the actual prices charged at the wholesale level.

A SELLING PRICE should be the full purchase price, including all charges except taxes levied at the consumer level.

"We've had a considerable number of complaints from people who found that the way some products were advertised were not the way they were sold," Craig said. "Extra charges were often tacked on, raising the prices above what they were advertised."

The Better Business Bureau, charging that such practices are "channeling money away from ethical businessmen," said it is trying to clean up unfair selling practices through persuasion.

"But if that doesn't work," said Craig, "we have state and local laws against these things and we will refer violators to the proper authorities."

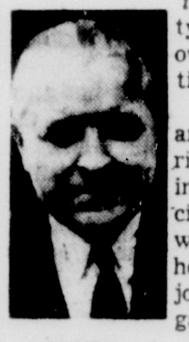
NAM Urges Changes In Labor Laws

HOLLYWOOD — A six-point program of "labor reform" legislation was outlined Monday at the National Association of Manufacturers' 31st Institute on industrial relations.

Mrs. Sybyl S. Patterson, director of the institute, told a group of 176 management representatives at the Hollywood Beach Hotel, that the NAM will support legislation with these goals:



HOPE

to the members rightful authority to run their own organizations;

"RESTORE and protect the rights of each individual to decide for himself whether or not he wishes to join a labor organization;

"PROHIBIT organizational picketing to force recognition of a union; forbid violence, coercion, boycotts.

"RESTORE the right of states to act in labor-management matters properly within their jurisdicion.

"RESTORE to local unions their rights in collective bargaining.

"BAN the use of union funds and union staff manpower for political activities in behalf of particular parties or candidates."

Earlier, NAM President Stanley C. Hope, said he hopes "that this can become the 'age of reasonableness' in labormanagement relations and, further, in the conduct of affairs between nations."

Hope, president of Sound-Scriber Corp., said it would be a mistake to assume that the demand for labor reform means that management is anti-union.

"What we need is a reasonable approach to labor law reform. What we need to do is to make sure that no labor leaders, good or bad, and no employer, good or bad, can violate the principles of honest and fair play or the rights of individuals," he declared.

Truck Rate Hearing Set March 25

The Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission has set a hearing for March 25 at Miami to take additional testimony on a rate increase petition of major Florida trucking lines.

An 8.72 per cent increase granted by the commission in June, 1957, was recently knocked out by the State Supreme Court on grounds the commission had based the hike on testimony it had itself called unreliable.

In setting the date for taking of more testimony, the commission rejected a request by the major truck lines for temporary authority to charge the 8.72 per cent increase kicked out by the court.

The commission's order that granted the rate hike was challenged in court by the Florida Rate Conference, the Traffic and Rate Bureau of St. Petersburg, the Tampa Chamber of Commerce, the Broward County Traffic Assn., the Greater Miami Traffic Assn. and the Jacksonville Traffic Bureau.

Vaccine Prices Drop

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

A 15 per cent reduction in polio vaccine prices was announced Monday by three leading manufacturers.

However, a spokesman for the Dade County Medical Assn. said it is unlikely the price cuts will have any effect on the $3 fee most local physicians charge for polio shots.

"The present fee is a 'bargain rate' suggested by the American Medical Association. It covers the doctor's time, but not the cost of the injectables," the spokesman explained.

The reductions were made by Parke Davis & Co., Eli Lilly & Co., and Merck & Co. They would bring the wholesale price of a 9 cc. vial of vaccine to about $6.50.

LONDON —(UPI)— The traditional uniform of the British businessman—striped trousers, heavy waistcoat and jacket—has made the nation's tailors hot under the collar.

"There is really no need for this funeral garb today since quite formal and conservative clothes are available now in lightweight suitings," declared the Wholesale Clothing Manufacturers Federation.

But it admits those who do will have to be "dignified and strong-willed" to show up for work in anything but the traditional attire.

A Long Wait For Action

OCCASIONALLY ONE WONDERS how long local problems must remain unsolved and how bad they must get before truly determined action on them begins to develop. Dr. Paul Hughes, the county health officer, has been warning us in unequivocal terms about the menace of septic tanks to our water supplies at least since 1953, and possibly before that.

The situation has grown increasingly critical year by year. It must be at least a little gratifying to Dr. Hughes now to see that the people themselves are awakening. The pity of it is that even after the awakening, elimination of the problem is still years away. Action in the fields of legislation and financing moves so slowly . . .

THE ARGUMENT BETWEEN ARTHUR GODFREY and the American Feline Society over whether cats kill birds has brought forth support for Arthur from Mrs. W. J. Walsh of NE 17th Ave.

Just about the same time the story appeared in print, with the Feline Society arguing that cats don't kill birds, she personally tried to rescue a bird that had been captured by a neighborhood cat. It was too late; the bird was dead. Previously, though, she had rescued a butterfly from another cat.

"There are not many days go by that I don't see one of these cats trying to hypnotize and catch a bird," she writes. "I like cats and also birds. Wish we could teach them to be friends." . . .

Chapel Fund Has a Start

THERE'S SOME MONEY AVAILABLE to help build the chapel which was supposed to have been established in the War Memorial Auditorium but never was. It isn't enough to do the whole job, but it would go a long way if the veterans or the city could scrape up the rest.

Some of the old-timers who helped collect the original building fund still feel quite strongly that the chapel should be added. They contend that one of the city administrations of that period, which was approximately 1947 to 1950, knocked out the chapel.

First plans provided that it should be built as a southward extension of the existing lobby, and on the night the auditorium was dedicated, in January, 1950, Mr. and Mrs. Tolly Vinik gave $6,000 specifically earmarked for it.

This money apparently was put into the general fund and at least part of it used for other things. Probably it wasn't right, but the building fund collector had to perform a lot of sleight-of-hand tricks, that must be forgiven now, in order to make the building possible at all. Even financial institutions put up money on the flimsiest security, and City Hall did some things that maybe were just not according to Hoyle and the municipal charter.

One of the leaders of the building committee, who contributed several thousand dollars himself, stood on the auditorium stage on dedication night and remarked:

"We could all go to jail for some of the things we've done to get this building, but we got 'er." . . .

Big Car Owners Worst Offenders?

IS IT ACTUALLY TRUE that people in Cadillacs drive with more disregard for safety than people in other kinds of cars, or is that just an illusion?

In the mail recently was a note from a long-time Fort Lauderdale reader commenting on a prominent attorney who "burns up the road between here and home," and went on to remark that the new Traffic Safety Committee "will accomplish nothing as long as we have no laws for nice guys driving Cadillacs."

Probably we're just more critical of Cadillac drivers, the way we are of women drivers. If a woman or a Cadillac owner disregards the traffic laws we take special note of it, but we forget the violations by men in less fancy cars . . .

1st Jet Helicopter Whirls In

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — It had to happen.

Passenger planes are supersonic.

Rockets buzz the moon.

Now the pokey whirlybird, of TV rescue fame, is jet propelled.

Plumping down on air-filled feet, she twirled to a stop wth a roaring blast from her turbine-engine.

Alouette 2, the first jet helicopter, was designed in France. It is the latest product of Republic Aviation Corp., makers of supersonic military craft.

The landing at North Perry marked the firsst appearance in South Florida of a jet whirlybird.

However, three such craft are already in operations in the Louisiana oil sections.

"It gives a smooth ride, minus the usual vibration," said Charles Cover, technical advisor to Trans Helicopter Corp., which will introduce the 'copter to Miami this week.

He also said that she is easy to operate.

"Push those three buttons, grab the lever, pull the stick — watch out."

Principal uses of the slim airship are much the same as her old-fashioned non-jet sisters — crop dusting, rescue, fire fighting and transport.

But her flying time doesn't live up to all the word jet might imply — it took three days to make the trip from New York.

However in her field, Cover says, "I think jet powered helicopters will in time, completely replace other types."

Listed among her attributes:

1—Quick warm-up (within 90 seconds, even on cold days).

2—Remains aloft up to 3½ hours

3—Uses inexpensive jet fuel. Want to buy one?

She can be all yours — for $90,000.

New Bid Made On Code

Would Save City $500

By RICK TUTTLE
Hollywood Bureau Chief

HOLLYWOOD — The city might get its codification work done for $11,500 — five hundred dollars less than the 1954 contract price with City Codes, Inc., City Attorney August Paoli said Monday.

Paoli said he received an oral proposal from George R. Langford, president of Municipal Code Corp., of Tallahassee. Two other firms also have been contacted about codifying city ordinances.

Langford also said he had made a similar proposal in April 1954, five months before the city awarded the $12,000 contract to City Codes, Inc., Paoli said.

In another development, Mrs. Virginia Barr, president of City Codes, appeared here to see Paoli.

Last week city commissioners canceled the City Codes contract after Paoli said the work was still not complete after almost five years. He said the code now on hand is inaccurate and not up to date.

The city paid $8,150 of the bill.

Paoli will report to commissioners at today's meeting.

"I'm just going to tell them that Mrs. Barr was in to see me and said she had the index of the code with her but wouldn't let me see it," Paoli said. "She said she did not want to release it until she found out whether she will be paid the balance of the contract price."

Paoli said Mrs. Barr contended she had lived up to her agreement with the city.

She could not be reached later for comment.

She was believed en route back to her home in Valparaiso.

Former City Attorney Judson Samuels, who has figured in the controversy from the outset, said he did not recall an $11,500 offer.

"Any other offers would have been brought to the attention of the City Commission," Samuels said.

"I've done nothing wrong; I'd just as soon be left out of it," he added. "I have no ill-will toward anyone."

Paoli claims the codification contract should have been handled on a competitive bid basis, rather than awarded as a professional service for a fee.

Last Wednesday he revealed letters between Mrs. Barr and Samuels. They dealt with the code work.

He claims they illustrate the "unbusinesslike" atmosphere of the transactions.

Samuels terms the assertion "ridiculous."

Legislators To Get Track Proposal

HALLANDALE — The State Racing Commission advised city officials Monday to approach Broward legislators on their request for a benefit "Hallandale Day" at Gulfstretm Race Track and Hollywood Kennel Club.

The racing commissioners, who heard the city proposal Monday in Miami, said they had no objections, but raised the question of whether precedent would be set for other Florida cities with racing facilities.

"We're going right ahead with our plans to get more track revenues," said Vice Mayor Russell Wilson.

State Sen. George Tedder said it would take a general state law, "with possible local application," to authorize the "Hallandale Days."

Lower Tax Fight Lost by Farmers

Key Ruling To Be Appealed

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — County farmers Monday lost the first round of their legal fight for lower assessments and taxes on agricultural land.

In a precedent-setting decision, Circuit Judge Lamar Warren ruled that disputed 1957 statute does not entitle farmers to special appraisal of their holdings.

The original action was filed by Commissioner Bruce Blount, of Pompano Beach, and 79 other farmers.

"We have every intention of appealing to the Supreme Court," Blount said Monday. "If necessary I will do so alone."

Many state agencies and organizations want to obtain a high court ruling, he added, and are ready — if unsuccessful — to seek legislative action.

The farmers' attorney, A. J. Musselman Jr., has been advised that a time-saving appeal can be made directly to the Supreme Court, Blount said.

The farmers contend that the 1957 law has enacted to afford them tax relief. Musselman, a state representative at the time, supports the argument. The law reads:

"All lands being used for agricultural purposes shall be assessed as agricultural lands upon an acreage basis, regardless of the fact that any or all of said lands are embraced in a plat of a subdivision or other real estate development."

This means, Judge Warren ruled, that:

" . . . the tax assessor shall assess all lands used for agricultural purposes as acreage and not assess each lot separately, regardless of the fact that such lands are or were embraced in a plat of a subdivision or other real estate development, and shall assess such lands at their "full cash value."

Two years ago farm taxes jumped so sharply that growers complained their profit margin was vanishing. The rise was attributted to the spiraling pressure of speculative land buying.

Farmers also charge other inequities — that their unused land is rated as valuable as growing land; that farmland on a highway is assessed many times higher than similar acreage away from it; and that land in Broward County is appraised at much more than contiguous land north of the county line.

"Farmers are forced to put land for sale on the market where it remains idle," Blount said.

For two years Dade and other counties have interpreted the 1957 law in favor of farmers, he added.

. . . 'let 'em alone'

. . . 'Why have laws?'

By ERWIN POTTS
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD—What does the man-on-the-street think about bookmaking operations in South Broward?

"The laws ought to be enforced," some said.

"What harm can it do," said others, illustrating statements made last week by Assistant Chief W. W. Malphurs of Hollywood, who said a basic problem in stamping out bookmaking is overcoming public sympathy.

Articles Sunday in The Herald revealed open bookmaking in South Broward.

"Let 'em alone, said Fran Court, Hallandale.

"It saves me the trouble of walking to the track," she added.

"The law should be upheld. I think the police should do something about it," said Benjamin Young, 307 N. 11th Ave., Hollywood.

"There's no sense having laws if they aren't going to be enforced," said Hotel Doorman George Harte, 1536 Polk St., Hollywood.

Barber Sam Bagano, whose shop is just around the corner from Gulfstream Race Track, complained of the hardship being worked on him because bookies have scurried into hiding.

"Now I can't place a bet. I gotta take the afternoon off to go to the tracks."

"I don't like bookies, period," said Waitress Eleanor Manning of Hollywood. "My husband was a gambler for 18 years and I got enough of it."

"I'll have to say I'm against it," said Earl Mitchell of 2245 Garfield St., Hollywood.

"I'm a police detective," he added. "We're working on it."

"People know what they're getting into when they bet with a bookie," said a red-haired Hallandale barmaid who wished to remain anonymous.

"I don't think bookmaking is really as bad as these B-girls. Why doesn't somebody do something about them?"

"I think the police are pretty alert to the bookies," said Painting Contractor Lowell Worland of 1737 Plunkett St., Hollywood.

"Things aren't nearly as bad now as they were back in the wide-open days," he said.

"What's the harm in a couple bucks here and there?" said A. N. Shaw of 1611 Fletcher St., Hollywood.

"I say let 'em alone."

A pretty brunette dentist's assistant, Bernice Shultz of 2012 Plunkett St., Hollywood, said she didn't know what it was all about.

"Could I make more money doing that than being a dental assistant?" she asked.

Toll Free Span Urged

Herald Bureau

POMPANO BEACH — A member poll conducted by the Pompano Beach Chamber of Commerce disclosed that 77 per cent of those replying favor a high-level bridge at the Hillsboro Inlet, and 76.5 per cent want every effort made to provide a toll-free bridge.

Only 21 per cent favored a toll bridge, and 3.9 per cent favored creation of a bridge tax district to build the new facility.

Only 16.5 per cent said they favored a low-level bridge over the inlet.

'Go Nawth! You Snowfish'

Mackeral's Making Skipper Mad

By DUANE JONES
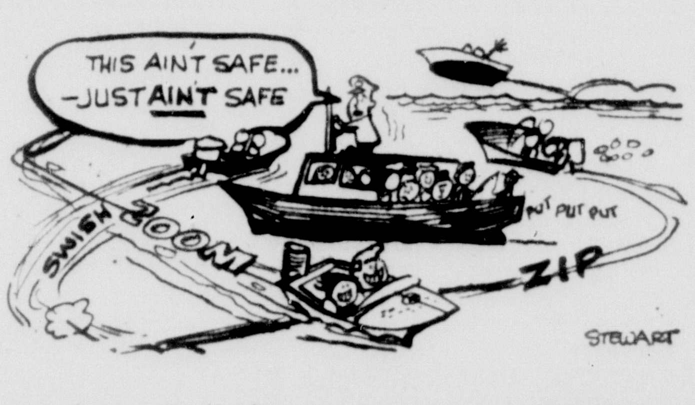
Herald Staff Writer



FORT LAUDERDALE — Grab your rod and reel, Dad, those Spanish mackerel are running again.

Thousands of pounds — maybe a million — have been snagged off Fort Lauderdale's beach the past few days.

And they're apt to be around for several weeks.

"Gawan nawth," drawls Veteran Charter Boat Capt. Bill Vreeland to the mackerel.

"They do it every spring. Come down in the fall and go nawth in the spring. Millions of them," he says wearily.

"Too many boats," he complained. "More boats out there than fish. Ain't safe to be out there with all those outboards churning about.

"People get drowned every time those mackerel run. It's those small-boat operators. They don't know how to handle a boat. They cut in and out and pass you on all sides.

"Oughta be a law agin it."

Vreeland had another reason to be upset.

The large number of fish being caught has cut their retail value.

"We ain't supposed to sell them but we do," Vreeland lamented. "Sort of a courtesy. We make a couple bucks, sure, but not much."

Vreeland said the fish are en route to waters off the Carolinas. "Be running for another month," he added.

Passengers on one of his boats caught about 400 Sunday and a similar number was expected Monday. Average weight, Vreeland said, is about three pounds.

More were expected today.

Nine Seek Office Today

Herald Bureau

MARGATE — Nine men and women, including two incumbents, are seeking six offices in this town's municipal election today.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the town hall on State Rd. 7.

Mayor Victor Semet, a realtor, is opposed by retired paratrooper John C. Lentz for the two-year term of mayor.

Advertising Executive William Roll Jr. is the only incumbent councilman seeking another term. He's in a four-way race for three four-year council seats.

Competing with Roll are Louis B. Scheller, retired; Gilbert C. Wyland, a lawn maintenance man; and Herbert Jacques, a painter.

The three-way contest for two two-year terms includes the only woman contender, Mrs. Ray Giroux, former town clerk, Max Market, a retired insurance executive and James McLean, a plumber, are also seeking two-year seats.

Discovery Aids Infants

Cell Tests Only Sure Way to Tell Sexes Apart

By JOY REESE SHAW
Herald Staff Writer

There's one sure way to tell boys from girls. By a study of cell structure.

The discovery is of monumental importance to a goodly number of women who think they are men.

Couched in medical terminology, it was the subject here Monday of an address entitled "Management of Adrenal Hyperfunction."

It was delivered by Dr. Olof Pearson, associate professor of medicine, Cornell University Medical College, New York, at the 27th Southeastern Surgical Congress which opened a four-day session at the Deauville Hotel.

Male cells are different from female cells. They have a lot of dark pigment in the cell nucleus. The discovery of this by a Canadian doctor has brought dramatic results in recent treatment of infants and confused unhappy adults, the doctor declared.

All of this has nothing to do with homosexuality or the converting of sex to comply with personality.

It is a disorder of the two small adrenal glands above the kidney, the professor explained. In this particular disorder, there is a lack of enzyme which prevents the gland from manufacturing cortisone and an overabundance of the male hormone.

"The disorder should be recognized at birth," the doctor said. If treated with cortisone, the infant will develop properly.

The ailment is often congenital and in the past babies have been mistaken for males when actually they are females.

A cell scraping from the mouth can determine the difference in the nucleus, and corrective treatment administered.

Some patients go through life believing themselves to be male when they are female, he reported. He described one patient, a minister, who believes himself to be male but actually is female, married and living a satisfactory life.

Although cortisone could bring forth feminine characteristics, the shock and pyschological adjustment in this patient's life would be too sever, the doctor said.

He told of another muscular patient, 30, however, who was believed to be a boy as a child, but later was reared as a girl.

"She spent hours upon hours sandpapering her face to eradicate the hair," the speaker reported. The patient was placed on cortisone.

Her hips and bosom rounded out, muscles receded, facial hair diminished and she became a feminine, curvaceous female, who is the mother of two young children, he reported.

Stout Stuff

Lots Needed To Make a Good Doctor

It takes stout stuff to build a doctor.

What are basic requirements for the man who elects the medical path? Here are some of them as sized up by the prexy:

Physical dexterity as coupled with an innate fascination for artisanship: A driving force and an investigative bent for resolving obscure pictures. Willingness to assume responsibility for positive action. Compassion — the appeal to succor humanity when in physical and mental distress.

Intellectual curiosity in broadening man's knowledge of human discorders and to discover clues for correcting them. Intellectual honesty — an honest appraisal of mistakes, a willingess to discover one's limitations as well as one's deeper endowments.

"Nothing," said the doctor, "shrivels a man's soul and mind more quickly than creating about one a chilly fog of dishonest representations."

Equanimity — coolness and presence of mind, imperturbability and serenity of demeanor. And faith . . . in God, in oneself, in the best of the past and in hope for the future.

Surgery, summed up the president, is a fascinating profession. But for the men in white, all is not glamor, like in the movies.

DOES MORE THAN JUST "SHRINK" PILE TISSUES!

No Surgery Needed to Stop Pain of Swollen Pile Tissues While They Heal!

Pain, itching of swollen piles are torture. You may think there's no relief without an operation. Yet...thousands have discovered how to stop this nagging discomfort in minutes — and without surgery! A remarkable compound you use at home makes you feel worlds better, right away! Not only reduces swelling but stops pain at once, promotes healing of inflamed tissues too!

Preparations that just act to "shrink" piles can't offer complete symptomatic relief. For real comfort, fast, you need this more complete medication, called Stainless Pazo. In doctors' tests, patients reported immediate relief of discomfort. That's because Stainless Pazo combines the most effective ingredients known for piles. Thus works 3 ways at once: 1. Anesthetic action stops pain, itching in minutes ... puts rectal nerves to sleep, thus relaxing muscle spasms that cause discomfort. 2. Reduces tissue swelling, congestion ... protruding parts shrink. 3. Promotes healing of raw tissues. You get immediate new comfort while Nature's own healing magic goes to work.

Don't suffer needlessly one more day. To sit, stand, walk without pain again, get Stainless Pazo Suppositories or Ointment at druggists. Get glorious relief without surgery or money back!

Heart Victim Seeking Job Finds Fear in Way

By PAT MANGAN
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Fear is the major problem in employing cardiac patients, Dr. Arthur C. Kerkhof told Medi-clinics doctors Monday.

The coronary patient fears he will injure himself or precipitate another attack by working; industry fears compensation losses, and labor fears physical disabilities cause unemployment for an individual.

However, Dr. Kerkhoff said recent figures show that each year 750,000 new cased of coronary thrombosis recover sufficiently to go back into industry.

Dr. Herman Ehrlich, New York, found in a poll of cardiologists that 94 per cent of them believe work does not product heart disease.

The poll showed 93.4 per cent of doctors consulted believe some form of coronary disease must have pre-existed.

An individual who suffers a coronary attack can go back to the same type of moderately heavy work without injurious effect, 88.6 per cent of doctors believe.

They feel emotional factors are slightly more important than strenuous physical factors in producing a disturbance on the heart.

"The constantly increasing average age of our population, together with better diagnosis and improved care of the patient with coronary disease, has steadily increased the number of such patients in the employable age group," Dr. Kerkhof said.

"Employment of them is a major industrial and medical problem," he said.

In order to solve it, Dr. Kerkhof suggests:

Changing the interpretation of the compensation law, taking into consideration that coronary disease is a degenerative disease and doesn't belong in the same category with a broken leg;

Avoid "contests" between doctors' testimony before compensation boards and substitute judgments by panels of doctors which hear evidence and make medical recommendations to compensation boards;

Establish work classification units attached to hospitals to work toward placing the cardiac in a job he can handle;

Better inform industrial physicians about requirements of positions in their industries;

Relax union rules on seniority to enable a cardiac victim to accept a job without proper seniority for it if the job will keep him off a welfare roll.

Had Bitten Tot

Child's Pet Shot For Rabies Study

A four-year-old's pet dog was shot by FORT LAUDERDALE police Monday and its brain sent to the State Health Department laboratory to determine if the animal had rabies.

AROUND BROWARD

Mrs. Beatrice Dyer, 10½ S Sixth Ave., said the dog bit her son Gary, 4, about two weeks ago, but the bite didn't break the skin. Monday the dog began acting peculiarly and frothing at the mouth.

Patrolman Robert Lutes shot the animal in the chest. Richard Almeida, Health Department sanitarian, said it is likely the dog was suffering from distemper instead of rabies. He said there hasn't been any rabies discovered here since the spring of 1954.

Mrs. Dyer told police she bought the animal three weeks ago from the Humane Society of Broward County and that a verterinarian had pronounced him normal and healthy.

Boating Rule

If you have a boat and have an accident in federal waters, failing to report it may cost you a $200 fine.

Coast Guard officials here announced the new policy Monday as a means of compiling safety statistics. Anyone in an accident involving a death, an injury causing incapacitation for more than 72 hours, or property damage exceeding $100, must report the mishap to officials here.

Threat Mailed

The president of Florida Extrusions, Inc., 1200 N. Dixie Hys., Hollywood, told police he received a threatening letter, ordering him to close down his manufacturing company.

Scott J. Drummon, of 107 N. 31st Ave., was acquitted last week in Municipal Court of violating the city's new anti-noise ordinance. Residents complained of noise from his plant at night.

The anonymous note said he would be a "dead pigeon" unless the plant was closed. The letter, mailed from Cleveland, O., was referred to the FBI.

Bus Project

An inter-community bus service for WEST HOLLYWOOD will be the first project of the newly formed merchants division of the West Hollywood Chamber of Commerce. A local bus company, with a West Hollywood-Miami non-stop route, already has applied for extension of its services.

The 21-member chamber affiliated unit voted to fight for speedy installation of the plan at an organizational meeting Monday. A report will be given March 25.

Miramar Water Rate Beefs Heard

Herald Bureau

MIRAMAR—Angry Miramar residents jammed the community center Monday night and raked the Miramar Utilities Corp. over the coals, while arguing whether to fight an impending water rate increase with a court suit or submit to arbitration.

Residents claim the rate hike, due to go into effect next month, would double water bills in some cases.

P. D. Kennedy, councilman and attorney, advised more than 300 residents at the session, to "take the arbitration route."

Kennedy said he didn't think the courts would consider a petition for injunction until arbitration, as provided in the company franchise, had been tried.

'Now the Hambone Connekit to the . . .'

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Robert Youngblood sat in the county jail Monday wondering how a hambone got connected between his anklebone and thighbone.

The anatomical peculiarity led to his arrest Sunday after a six-pound ham — value $2.95 — disappeared from the counter of Duke's Little Farms, 2690 W. Broward Blvd.

Manager Glen Duke found the 39-year-old Negro sitting in his car outside apparently suffering from acute swelling of his left leg. The trouser cuff was tied with cord.

The limb regained normal contours when the ham was yanked out of Youngblood's pants.

"I don't know how it got there. I was high at the time," Youngblood, who lives at 1137 NW 30th Ave., told Deputy Joseph DeBlois.

Charged with petty larceny and held on $500 bond, he searched his memory Monday for an answer to give the judge.

Zoning Unit Eases Laundry Rules

WILTON MANORS — Zoning board members unanimously recommended Monday night that coin-operated laundries be permitted to operate in first class business areas.

The board's recommendation is to be acted upon by the City Council next Tuesday night.

The only objection raised by spectators came from a resident who asked that such operations be restricted to hours starting at 7 a.m. and ending at 10 p.m. The board accepted the request.

In the past coin-operated laundries have been restricted to B-2 areas. One firm, however, was granted a B-1 variance by the adjustment board several months ago.

Zoning board members pointed out that neighboring cities allow coin-operated launderies in B-1 areas.

City's Ads Hit by Hotelman

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — A downtown hotel owner protested to the city Monday against the mention of budget package vacations in city tourist advertising, contending that it favors a few hotels which are participating in the package plan.

Earl J. Stein, managing director of the Gulfstream Hotel, called the ads "glaring favoritism" in a letter to City Manager William J. Veeder.

Veeder said the advertising committee of the city will consider Stein's protest, but added that to his knowledge no other hotel owner has objected. In this he was supported by Jack Seymour, president of the Fort Lauderdale Hotel Association, and Forrest B. Crane, city publicity-advertising director.

Seymour said the city is only "trying to cooperate with the airlines, tying in with the thousands of dollars the airlines are spending to advertise Fort Lauderdale." Any qualified hotel may participate in the plan, he added, or develop its own package. Stein is not a member of the association.

Sheriff Seeks Prisoner Who Bolted Hospital

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE—The sheriff's office was looking Monday for a prisoner who "got well" shortly after being admitted to a local hospital.

Criminal Investigator Ben Grigsby said James Currie, 19, was carried into Provident Hospital Sunday afternoon and walked out a few hours later.

Charged with breaking and entering, Currie was arrested in Hallandale several weeks ago. Police there said he was accused of breaking into a women's clothing store.

Referring to the prisoner's escape, Grigsby said:

"I don't think he's gone far, he was semi-conscious when admitted to the hospital."

Grigsby said Currie "hadn't been feeling well," and had been in the hospital before.

Pilots Due

An estimated 1,200 pilots from all over the country are expected here for the annual Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association convention at the Galt Ocean Mile Oct. 19-25. William D. Mason, an AOPA director, said most of the delegates will fly their own planes here.

JAMES CROW—Historians credit him as the first man to make a modern bourbon . . . the man who invented the sour mash process, the first to use scientific methods in distilling.

Why Old Crow should be your bourbon

The day James Crow's bourbon appeared, 124 years ago in Kentucky, real bourbon was made for the first time. The people and the leading figures of the era instantly knew it.

HENRY CLAY ordered Old Crow for his home. DANIEL WEBSTER called Old Crow "the finest in the world." It towered over the hit-and-miss bourbons of its day.

Today, although there are now hundreds of other bourbons on the market, Kentucky's Old Crow is still by far America's favorite.

Why? Because this is the perfect formula for bourbon. You can taste its inborn Kentucky mellowness, its surprising lightness, its clean flavor. Others can come close to it, but the inimitable, authentic bourbon stamp of Old Crow makes it the master today as it was the day it first appeared to delight the world. Have you tried it?

Solutions to Water Menace Are Offered, Not Pressed

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Good water — like money — isn't missed until you are without it.

And for many of Broward County's private-well users, their water is like a counterfeit dollar — it looks all right but isn't.

To still more, it doesn't even look good.

Methods of assuring protection have been proposed by health authorities, civic leaders and county officials.

Since the overflow of population in mushrooming unincorporated areas is largely responsible for the dilemma, many spokesmen see a solution in incorporation.

"Municipalities are better equipped, to enforce strict health laws governing drinking water than state officials," said Sid Paetro, inspector for the Broward County Health Department.

Suggestions for individual well users have included:

1—Private chlorinating systems to purify home wells.

2—A nonprofit, county controlled water system, to be financed by bonds.

3—Prohibiting use of septic tanks and wells in new developments. "We are extremely aware of the dangers from well water and septic tanks in crowded sections," said County Commissioner J. Herbert Burke. "From a health point of view, it is very acute."

Burke recommended a county water plan, now under study, as the most "practical way" to bring the situation under control.

Under this plan, water districts set up without levying county taxes could be expanded as the need arises, he said.

Areas which later decided to incorporate could take over operation of the plant from the county.

"During the past year, the Health Department has reported to us many cases of sewage overflow into wells," Burke said.

Health officials insist that the dangers can be eliminated only through installation of water and sewage lines.

Regis Reasbeck, president of the West Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, agreed that it is a "steadily increasing problem."

In that mushrooming area, around 10,000 homes are supplied by well-water.

West Hollywood, now contemplating incorporation, could end the problem by creating a city, Reasbeck said.

"One of the first projects would be to set up a water works," he said. "Since water is the one commodity people can't do without, financing of the program is easy."

But many smaller developments are not in the position to install private plants or to incorporate.

In these areas, use of untreated water is allowed to run its hazardous cycle from the well to the dinner table.

Health inspectors can check for contamination (on request), warn and advise — but they have no power to condemn wells or to order restaurant owners to serve treated water.

For the thousands of residents caught in this situation, the only answer — at present — is to install individual chlorinating systems.

Ultimately, Burke said, the solution lies in the hands of the well users and their interest in adopting a safer code.

Until a step is taken, countless men, women and babies flirt with hepatitis, typhoid and the myriad other ailments that contaminated water can produce.

"Sometimes it takes a serious situation to arouse people — I hope that doesn't have to happen in Broward County," Burke said.

$6,000 Gem Theft Reported

Ben Grigsby, chief criminal investigator, said theives forced entry Sunday while Mrs. Weir was seeing her husband off at Miami Airport. Tentative estimates of the value of the stolen items run around $6,000, he said.

Pompano May Purchase Landlocked Utility

POMPANO BEACH — Broward Utilities Inc., after a two-year battle with municipal governments to find a waterway in which to run an outfall line from its landlocked sewerage plant in Collier Manor, is trying to sell the plant to Pompano Beach.

City commissioners are expected to consider the offer today at a regularly scheduled meeting.

Broward Utilities, through an intermediary, has questioned if the city would be interested in the purchase.

City Manager James Hughes, in a report to the commission, said "my immediate reaction is, no."

This has been the first outward move by BUI since the city refused it permission to run the line into the Intracoastal Waterway in the northeast part of town.

Since that time, the firm, attorneys, and health officials, have explored possible legal maneuvers to push through the outfall line, but none have yet been attempted.

Where Do We Go From Here?

Delray Beach Council Vague on Annexation

By BILL BECK
Delray Bureau Chief

DELRAY BEACH — "I honestly don't know" was Mayor George Talbot's answer Monday when asked if the City Commission would go ahead with annexation plans that would nearly triple the size of Delray Beach.

Talbot's fellow commissioners were equally as vague.

However, there were indications the commission would proceed along the lines of the admiral who said "Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead."

The commission plans to ask the legislature to re-define they city limits to provide for annexation of about two square miles without a referendum were dealt a body blow Friday by State Rep. Ralph Blank Jr.

Blank flatly refused to deviate from the legislative delegation's "hard and fast policy" to deny annexation of areas "where a substantial number of the residents are opposed."

The lawmaker said he was already aware a "substantial number" of the residents of the Lake Ida area were opposed to annexation. The lake area represents the biggest part of the land the city is attempting to add.

Blank said he was "sure" his two co-legislators would go along with him.

State Sen. Fred O. (Bud) Dickenson said earlier this month the delegation has a policy that it will not introduce any local legislation unless all three are unanimous in support.

Although city commissioners were aware of Blank's statement, they took no steps Monday to apply brakes to a plan to have local civic clubs circulate petitions in support of annexation.

This fact, coupled with Talbot's statement Monday that he does not rule out the possibility of circulating petitions among the estimated 1,500 "countians" to see how they feel about annexation, led to speculation the commission would continue its fight for annexation by "legislative acclamation."

Talbot had said earlier the city would make no attempt to sample the feelings of the "countians."

It appeared, in light of these developments, the commission would attempt a fast selling job to convince local residents, countians, and legislators of the wisdom of an immediate and referendum-less annexation program.

If nothing else, it must be fast. The delegation has set March 20 as the deadline for accepting local legislative proposals.

TOP HONORS in the girls' extemporaneous speech event at the Florida Forensic tournament went to Betty McIntosh, Palm Beach High School. The scholastic talk contest was held at the University of Florida this weekend.

'Threats,' Says Pratt To Council

DELRAY BEACH — Noted Author Ted Pratt Monday begged the City Commission not to drive him out of Florida by "crazy and unnecessary expansion."

Speaking for himself and "some neighbors in Kingsland," Pratt said "we like Delray, but we don't like Delray making like Khrushchev."

Pratt and his neighbors live in a subdivision several miles west of here which would become part of Delray Beach if the city commission is successful in its proposed westward expansion program.

The outspoken author, best known for his book "The Barefoot Mailman," said Delray Beach provides his area with no municipal services.

"Yet the city, knowing very well we would never vote to be included in its boundaries, now threatens to include us by act of the State Legisalture. We don't like to be threatened in such a manner and we can do a little threatening ourselves.

"By Military Trail, other towns are very little farther away from us than Delray, and if Delray persists in taking us over in spite of our wishes, we could take our business elsewhere. You might ask your merchants how they feel about that."

Pratt said that twice before he had been "driven away from Florida by such crazy and unnecessary expansion. "It is exactly the thing I depict in my new book," he added.

"You mind your business and we'll mind ours," was his advice to the board.

Two Qualify Early In Municipal Vote

Herald Bureau

LAKE WORTH — The race for three municipal posts officially opened Monday with two candidates filing for office.

Carl Leverenz, hardware man appointed to replace Mayor Robert O'Connor, who resigned in February due to ill health, will seek election to that post.

Cornelius Dillingham, insurance man, also tossed his hat in the municipal race Monday, by filing for the district 3 commission seat, now held by Zell Altman.

Altman announced Monday he would not seek reelection. Altman said the "tremendous time demand," made his entry in the race impossible.

But he isn't bowing out of politics. In his announcement he said "the time will come again" when he will ask the voters for "another vote of confidence."

Commissioner James Stafford's district 1 seat is also at stake in the April 7 municipal election. Stafford has not yet declared himself.

The qualifying deadline for candidates is March 17.

N.Y. Man Appointed To Post

Herald Bureau

DELRAY BEACH — The appointment of Thomas C. Gray of Kenmore, N.Y., to fill the long-vacant position of director of recreation was announced Monday by city manager William E. Lawson Jr.

Gray, who is scheduled to start work here March 16, is presently assistant to the manager of industrial relations for Bell Aircraft Corp. in Buffalo, N.Y.

Prior to his present job, he served for four years as supervisor of recreation for Bell Aircraft, a position entailing direction of a recreation program for 13,000 employes.

Gray, who is 32 and has a degree in physicial education and recreation, also served as playground director for the Buffalo Recreation Department, adult recreation supervisor for the Kenmore Recreation Department, and director of recreation for the Buffalo YMCA.

The new appointee will replace Tom Boyce, who was fired last summer on charges that included "lack of proper attitude."

Latham Rites Not Complete

LAKE WORTH — Archibald A. Latham, 72, of 3220 French Ave., Englewood Manor, died Monday at a hospital here. He came here 10 years ago from Nutley, N.J. Survivors include his wife, Esther; two sons, including Robert of Hypoluxo; and two daughters, including Mrs. Betty Good, of West Palm Beach. E. Earl Smith and Son will announce arrangements.

Board Asks Probe

Fragrant Sewers Arrouse Temper

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — There's a scent in the air, and it has nothing to do with spring and flowers.

City commissioners Monday heard complaints about the "quite strong odors" emananting from sewage pumping stations, particularly at Currie Park and 45th St. Park.

"They shouldn't smell anywhere," Commissioner L. W. Kelloway declared. "They told us you could drink it (the sewage.)"

The board ordered an overall report on the odors from the pumping stations, part of the recently completed two million dollar sanitary sewerage system.

Roberts & Co., consulting engineers for the new system, also came in for criticism Monday.

Kelloway, terming it his prediction of "the ninth of March," claimed that in eight to 10 years 80 per cent of the new sewer lines would have to be replaced. He called it "the sloppiest job I've ever seen in my life."

City Attorney Egbert Beall claimed the consulting engineers would argue, in their defense, the city refused to pay for more inspectors during construction.

Former Mayor Jack Faircloth brought out that the engineers never actually recommended the extra inspectors.

Earlier, Commissioner Sylvan Burdick asked for an audit on projects included in the sewerage program. The request came after a report on water and sewer line extensions to a bowling alley on Belvedere Rd.

It was never learned, or reported, who authorized the extensions. Commissioners asked for the probe after they learned of the extensions — extensions which had formerly been refused.

Burdick claimed these should have been authorized by the City Commission, and was not an administrative matter.

Trash Firm Rate Hike Is Refused

By NORVAN ROGGEN
Herald Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — A request of Suburban Water Co. to increase garbage collection rates in a sub-division was denied by Palm Beach County commissioners Monday.

The company holds the franchise for garbage collection in Golf View Heights, north of Palm Beach Air Force Base.

Mrs. Alice Skaggs, representing citizens of the area, told commissioners the company, at a meeting with her group, did not present facts and figures to support an increase.

She proposed a 90-day waiting period to enable the company to improve service. After that, she suggested the request be reconsidered.

"The franchise has not been complied with and I recommend the increase be denied until the franchise can be lived up to," Commissioner Roy E. Michael Jr. said:

Renovation of the old county children's home to handle convalescent patients, instead of building a porch addition to the county hospital, was debated by commissioners.

If the commission decided to go ahead with the project, it would take the place of an $8,000 porch, included in the present hospital budget.

To handle an overflow of convalescent patients, the commission proposes to provide the facilities at the old children's home, which they believe can be remodeled for $8,000.

The commission asked County Engineer S. R. Middleton to check the home to determine if it can be remodeled.

The two-story building has been vacant for about a year, Michael said.

In other action, the commission:

CALLED for bids to remove timber from Lantana park pits.

DECIDED to attend a public hearing by U.S. Army Engineers April 9 in Palm Beach and make proposals on measures to prevent hurricane damage.

APPOINTED County Engineer S. R. Middleton to investigate a complaint about a delay in opening the drawspan of a Boca Raton bridge.

Parking Garage Land OKd

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH—The City Parking Commission Monday reversed itself and approved land largely used as a parking lot between Narcissus St. and N. Olive Ave. and First and Second Sts. as the site for a municipal parking garage.

Last week the Parking Commission had turned down that location in favor of a site on the south side of First St. between Olive Ave. and Dixie Hwy.

The switch was made when representatives of property on the south side of First St. appeared before the board and said they would fight any efforts to take over their locations.

The threat of court action confirmed disclosures in The Herald last week that owner's of First St. properties were prepared to fight any inroads on their property" all the way to the state supreme court."

Keith R. Chinn
... dismissal has been expected

Chinn Dismissal 'Star Chamber?'

By ED PFISTER
WPB Bureau Chief

WEST PALM BEACH — The City Commission ouster of Finance Director Keith R. Chinn Monday was not an abrupt move, nor was it the only one.

Background story is that the commissioners decided on the removal of Chinn at a secret meeting at City Hall Friday night, after a traffic commission meeting.

The dismissal procedure failed to win unanimous approval.

When the question of firing Chinn came up, Commissioner L. W. Kelloway protested that if Chinn was to be removed it was the city manager's job to do it — not the commission's.

When the majority disregarded Kelloway, he raised another question:

"Why don't you also fire John H. Klinck?"

The suggestion about the city engineer was ignored. Kelloway has frequently criticized Klinck.

What happened thereafter put Kelloway "on the spot."

The board had apparently left it up to City Manager James J. Mott to ask for Chinn's resignation with their approval, and to make it public only when Chinn had resigned or was fired, in case he refused.

Kelloway "let the cat out of the bag" Monday. He commented "I am sick and tired of all this undercover stuff in the city."

He added, "Now they are going to try and censure me because I won't censor the news. Well, let them try and keep me from telling about city affairs. It is the business of the people to know what is going on."

The removal of Chinn had another aspect.

It was accomplished only because of a "change of heart" on the part of three members of the commission. Vice-Mayor W. P. Holland once helped restore Chinn to the city manager's job. Mayor Horace S. Miller and Perry McCampbell last year refused to listen to any move to take Chinn off the city payroll.

While the commission ignored Kelloway so far as firing Klinck was concerned, they did take some action about the city engineer.

Klinck hereafter is to attend City Commission meetings only when he is requested to do so by the board.

That was confirmed at the Monday meeting. City Manager Mott occupied the chair usually used by Klinck. When Mott was asked regarding the whereabouts of the eingineer, he said pointedly:

"He is working."

Meantime, a question has been raised a about a certain letter that purportedly existed at the time Mott took the city manager's post in December.

Kelloway claims the letter contained a stipulation that Mott would get the city manager appointment only if he agreed to keep Chinn on the city payroll.

Kelloway said, "I can't find the letter."

Flames In Trailer Kill Wife

Herald Service

CANAL POINT — Mrs. Barbara Hewell, 42, received fatal burns Monday in a fire which destroyed her trailer home. Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Mrs. John Stidham, a neighbor, saw smoke coming from the Hewell trailer about 2 p.m. Monday. She found the trailer door locked and called a nearby group of workmen for help.

They broke open the door to find the interior of the trailer a mass of flames. The rescuers used a stream from a garden hose to fight the fire and were able to drag Mrs. Hewell from the blazing trailer.

She was taken to the Everglades Memorial hospital, suffering from third degree burns over most of her body, and died four hours later. She is survived by her husband, C. J. Hewell, also of Canal Point, and a son, Budd Hewell, of West Palm Beach.

Judge Rules He's Citizen

Count Is Still an 'American'

By ARTHUR JOHNSEY
Herald Staff Writer

A white-Russian socialite nobleman, who spent so much time sojourning in Europe that his U.S. citizenship was threatened, won assurance Monday he still has the right to call himself an American.

A federal judge in Miami said Maximilien Vladimir de Pulaski of Palm Beach never had lost his citizenship. The U.S. Embassy at Paris had pronounced him an expatriate because he stayed so long abroad.

Prior to his naturalization at Miami in 1950, he was Count Maximilien de Pulaski, but he gave up the title then.

Attorneys for Pulaski, the Immigration Service and the State Department agreed Pulaski stayed abroad for four and a half years between 1950 and 1955, came back for three months and was off to France again.

A U.S. attorney argued Pulaski came back in 1955 only to break the continuity of his absence from the country and to renew his passport so he could return to France.

Pulaski denied it. He had wanted to stay here six months or a year. But his son in France was not well, he told Federal Judge Robert N. Wilkins.

He rushed back to visit the son before his old passport expired because the State Department had told him his travel would be restricted for three years, he said.

When he finally was readmitted to this country in 1957, it was as an immigrant and alien. But Judge Wilkin decreed his return in 1955 was sufficient to maintain his citizenship.

Pulaski has twice married the former Mrs. Woods Plankinton, wealthy Palm Beach socialite, first in 1948, then in 1957 after she had divorced him, he testified.

12 Years Service Is Ended

Present Job Is 'Unneeded'

By ROSE ALLEGATO
Herald Staff Writer

WEST PALM BEACH — Keith R. Chinn was fired Monday for the second time in his stormy 12-year career with the city of West Palm Beach.

His dismissal as finance director — a post created for him after he agreed to step down as city manager last year—was forecast in The Sunday Herald's "Inside Palm Beach" column. The City Commission, in dismissing Chinn, claimed a finance director is not needed.

A memorandum on Chinn's dismissal and procedure to be followed in firing him was handed to city commissioners at the meeting Monday by City Manager James J. Mott. All commissioners except L. W. Kelloway signed the memo. The matter however, was not discussed publicly.

Chinn was fired as city manager in 1949, but was reinstated later Commissioner W. P. Holland, who Monday signed Chinn's walking papers, along with Mayor Horace E. Miller and Commissioners Sylvan Burdick and Perry McCampbell, helped Chinn gain reinstatement the first time he was given the boot.

In his memo, Mott revealed the commission recently unanimously agreed on, or approved, Chinn's dismissal.

He said he was going to allow Chinn to "resign," effective March 22, and to begin a two-week vacation immediately.

Mott also asked the commission give Chinn a month's salary as severance pay. Kelloway refused to sign, because he opposed giving Chinn severance pay.

In the memo Mott said if Chinn refused to resign he would write a memorandum of dismissal, effective immediately.

The memo would inform Chinn his services were terminated immediately.

According to a copy submitted to the commission, Mott would also write Chinn: "I feel that, for the time being, the city does not require either a director of finance, or a director of public works, and there is, therefore, no position for you."

Chinn, who has been frequently on and off the pan in his 12 years with the city, last summer agreed to step down as city manager, provided he be given the post as director of a reorganized bureau of public works.

After Mott was hired and arrived in mid-December, the public works post for Chinn was scrapped and the finance job created.

It was reputed at the time the City Commission wanted Chinn fired, but Mott induced commissioners to keep him as finance director.

The Herald forecast then that the finance appointment was only a prelude to the removal of Chinn "in two or three months." It actually took almost four.

Lake Worth Gets Fiesta Under Way

Iraqi Rebellion War of Words

Varied Claims Fill Air

Rebel Chieftain Reported Taken

Who Is This Man Abdel Shawaf? Page 7A

BEIRUT, Lebanon —(UPI) — Anti-Communist army rebels and the Leftist Iraqi government both claimed military successes Monday in a spreading civil war.

The government of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in Baghdad sent warplanes to bomb the stronghold of Rebel Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf in the northern city of Mosul. But it backed down on repeated claims that Shawaf had been killed and announced without any confirmation, that the 35-year-old rebel leader had been arrested.

The rebel radio continued to broadcast appeals for support and threats to march on Baghdad. It said the rebels had "wiped out" a government ground force sent to smash it.

Shawaf identified himself on the radio as the leader of the rebel forces, denied the claim he was killed, and denounced Kassem as a "Red leader" filling his people with "lies."

Even Moscow picked up the claim that Shawaf had been killed and reported it in Arabic-language broadcasts.

But Baghdad radio Monday night abruptly switched a broadcast a "cable from a number of Mosul personalities" saying pro-government forces had arrested Shawaf. It said "the masses" had the situation under control.

The reversal by Baghdad cast enormous doubts on the government claim that the two-day-old revolt had been smashed. But the only main sources of information were the rival radios.

There were no casualty announcements, although it appeared that the city of Mosul was strafed as well as bombed by government fighter-bombers.

The rebels said they were consolidating their grip on the oil-rich north.

Demonstrations for and against Kassem occurred in the capital of Baghdad where all Westerners, including numerous Americans, were warned to stay off the streets. Diplomatic dispatches said troops ringed the city and took over police functions.

There was danger of fresh East-West involvement in the turbulent Middle East. Moscow Radio charged that the U. S. may have stirred up the revolt by Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, a tough Kurdish tribesman, to bolster the pro-Western nations bordering Iraq. In London there, were fears of Soviet intervention in the country where the Communists gained a strong voice under Kassem. Britain was ready to evacuate its nationals if necessary.

Mosul is a major oil center 220 miles northeast of Baghdad. The Middle East News Agency, semi-official organ of Nasser's government, reported that the rebels had the support of Brig. Nazem Tabakjali, commander of the Iraqi army's 2nd Division at Kirkuk.

'Killer-for-Hire' Arrests Woman

A Miami detective, posing as a killer-for-hire, Monday arrested a 41-year-old mother who, according to police, offered him $1,000 to murder her husband so she could cash in on $30,000 worth of life insurance.

The bizarre plot played out on a downtown street as telescopic cameras and tape recorders covered the transaction.

Arrested and charged with conspiracy to commit first-degree murder was Mrs. Beatrice Burley, 41, of 3702 NW 23rd Ave.

Miami Detective Jack Metcalf, who played the part of the professional killer, described the woman as "cold and calculating."

She was arrested at 3 p.m. as she sat in Metcalf's unmarked car at NW 22nd Ct. and 36th St., moments after she allegedly had given him $100 as down payment to kill her husband, Ernest Gurley, a truck driver for Triangle Electric Manufacturing Co., 2150 NW Miami Ct.

Metcalf said the dramatic case began last Wednesday when a frightened cab driver told police the woman, introduced by a mutual friend, had just offered him $1,000 "to kill a man."

Metcalf, working with Detective Morris Roe as his unseen partner, contacted Mrs. Gurley by phone and arranged, at her suggestion, a noon meeting at Pier Five of Miami's yacht basin Monday.

After making contact with the woman, he led her back to his car, where a tape recorder was planted and discussed the strange business as Roe and other detectives took moving pictures of the whole thing.

It was then, said Metcalf, that he first learned that the man Mrs. Gurley wanted to do away with was her husband.

Asked how she wanted "the job" done, Metcalf said, the woman replied coolly, "I don't care — you can shoot him if you want to."

Metcalf said Mrs. Gurley's explanation for the plan was that, "My husband has been mean to me and my children (by a previous marriage) and I want the insurance money — $30,000 of it."

Contract Hit

Pea Prices Raise Ire Of Royalty

SANDRINGHAM, England — (AP) — It's a rare day indeed when the queen and the mundane matter of money are mentioned in the same breath.

Monday it happened and the cause was the price of peas.

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, who like any other farming couple are trying to make money on their Sandringham Farm, have threatened to cancel a pea growing contract with a frozen food company.

Furthermore, if the frozen food company doesn't change its pea buying policy it can jolly well haul away its $8,400 pea separating machine from the royal farm in Norfolk.

The controversy over money came up when the company decided to pay $126 a ton for peas instead of paying by the acre.

The company said no profit could be made paying by the acre and the royal farm found there was no profit in growing peas for $126 a ton.

The royal couple told farm manager Roger Mutimer that Sandringham Farm "must be made to pay its way."

'Join Us In Berlin' --Nikita

Bid Receives Mixed Reaction

By Herald Wire Services

BERLIN — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev came up with a new plan Monday to make West Berlin a "free city" and insure its status by installing U.S., British, French and Russian troops there.

Some observers interpreted Khrushchev's latest offer as a concession to the Western allies.

Others viewed it more cautiously since it would give Russian troops a toehold in West Berlin, now controlled by the West.

Khrushchev said the Big Four's troops should be kept to a "minimum" and should not interfere in any way with the internal affairs of the city.

But high American officials in Washington made it clear they were not interested in Khrushchev's offer.

They said the Western allies flatly rejected the "free city" demand advanced by Khrushchev last November, and that they have absolutely no intention of changing their stand.

These officials said the U.S. and its allies will continue to insist that the Berlin issue can be settled only as a part of the broader problem of German reunification.

The Allies insist that the four major powers which conquered Nazi Germany have obligations with respect to Berlin wich cannot be canceled by the action of any one of them.

There has been no formal comment by the Foreign Office. This probably will be forthcoming today.

However, the feeling in London is that the Soviet premier is trying, however awkwardly, to take the explosive quality out of the Berlin situation.

It was the first time that Khrushchev had indicated he would be willing for the West to keep troops here to guarantee West Berlin's status as a free city. Earlier, he had insisted that Western allied garrisons must leave Berlin after conclusion of a German peace treaty.

The Kremlin's original proposal would create a completely demilitarized free city, leaving West Berlin defenseless before the 400,000-man Russian garrison in East Germany.

Hoarsely shouting "peace and friendship" in Russian and German, Khrushchev made his new proposals for West Berlin in a 35-minute speech before a cheering mass rally in East Berlin.

The visiting Soviet leader also declared that West Berlin would be guaranteed complete independence if the West accepted the free city proposal. He said also that the East German Communists, who would take over control of lifelines to the isolated city, had agreed to guarantee its connections "with the outside world."

"There would be no objection," Khrushchev declared, "if the U.S., Britain, France, the Soviet Union or neutral states station a minimum of troops in West Berlin to guarantee the maintenance of its status as a free city.

"However," he said, "they should not interfere in any way in its internal affairs."

Senate To Probe Ike's Budgeting Of Defense Cash

Johnson Orders Hearings

Military Gripes Spur Action

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson Monday ordered a full-scale investigation of the administration's defense budget. His action touched off a major debate in which President Eisenhower's military judgment was challenged.

Johnson announced his Senate preparedness subcommittee would open hearings Wednesday to "get the truth" and determine whether the President's 41 billion dollar military budget was adequate in view of the Berlin impasse and other foreign policy rows.

The subcommittee's investiagtion grew out of reservations expressed to the group by military chiefs of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines. Some were concerned over funds allotted to their forces by the President's fiscal 1959 budget.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph Mccps. Pate, Marine Corps commandant, protested their forces were being cut too deeply. Taylor said he would not have enough men to carry out the Army's assigned missions.

The President has maintained his budget would provide adequate military forces. Republican senators, replying to Democratic critics, cited the President's position and said the Democratic attacks bordered on the political.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee countered that Congress had constitutional responsibility for dealing with military matters and "raising armies."

In an apparent reference to the President, Russell also said he had as much faith in the military judgment of Gens. Taylor and Pate as in "that of any other military man."

The President told a recent news conference that, with all due modesty, he felt his long military experience qualified him better than any single military chief to determine the adequacy of the nation's defenses.

The shadow of the deadlocked Berlin crisis with Russia hung over the sometimes spirited Senate debate. Russell said he was more concerned about the possibility of a limited ground clash in Berlin than the threat of all-out atomic war. Ground fighting would call for Army or Marine troops, the forces cut in the new budget.

Sen. John C. Stennis (D., Miss.) told the Senate that failure to reverse budget cuts trimming the Army and Marines would be a "tragic error" in view of the Berlin situation.

Local Option Integration

'Last Resort' Bill Gets Face-Lifting

More State News, Page 10A, 12A, 1C, 8C

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — Rep. J. W. McAlpin of Hamilton County said Monday he has revised his "last resort" school closing bill to provide for local option and the recall of any school board member who votes to integrate a school.

McAlpin said he already has enough co-introducers to assure passage of the measure over a gubernatorial veto, should the governor turn it down.

"The legislators are standing in line to co-sponsor this bill," he said. McAlpin said he has no fear the measure will die in the Senate.

The Senate passed a similar measure over Gov. LeRoy Collins' veto in 1957. It failed to become law when the vote in the House fell two short of the two-thirds needed to override the veto.

Collins has declined to say what he will do if the bill is tossed back to him this year. But he said he has never regretted killing the 1957 measure and has repeatedly declared he will oppose any bill which would jeopardize the public school system.

McAlpin said the last resort bill will be the first to be offered when the legislature opens this summer. He plans to drop it in the hopper the first day bills can be introduced, probably April 9. The session opens April 7, but it takes two days to get the House organized and ready to receive legislation.

McAlpin, a "no surrender" segregationist, said he is having the attorney general's office revise the bill to include a local option feature.

This will mean that no school can be closed down without an approving vote of the people effected. He said the measure will provide for either county or district elections or both.

Another new feature, he said, will permit the people, by petition, to demand an election to oust any school board member who votes to integrate any school, either white or Negro.

"The bill will put the question squarely in the hands of the people, where it ought to be," he said.

"The people of Florida are demanding an answer to this integration problem, and the 'local option' school closing bill is it."

Despite Herds

Beef Prices To Stay Up

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Agriculture Department indicated Monday that there will be little, if any, decline in retail beef prices in the next year or two.

The department said that the record number of cattle on farms on Jan. 1 is not likely to bring any great changes in cattle prices. This likewise means no significant changes at the butcher counter.

Cattle marketings are not likely to rise because farmers still are building up their herds which were depleted during the drought years, the department said in its publication, "The Livestock and Meat Situation."

Moore said a choice will be made in 10 days from this list: Miami, Indianapolis, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Las Vegas.

Old Abe Unveiled In Nightie

The picture, by New York and Washington artist Jes Schlaikjer, was ceremoniously unveiled in the old Senate Office Building rotunda by Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R., Ky.) and a group of other lawmakers before a somewhat bemused audience of exactly 14.

Cooper, chairman of the Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission, was enthusiastic.

"The painting," he said, "has captured the simple dignity, the solemn earnestness and determination of President Lincoln just before the battle of Antietam."

Some others present were more reserved in their praise for the painting, which depicts the night-robed Lincoln seated beside a four-poster bed scribbling notes for his Emancipation Proclamation in September, 1862.

"What's the night-shirt bit?" inquired one tourist. "They're not trying to make out Lincoln was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, are they?"

An official hastily explained that artist Schlaikjer was only trying to be historically accurate — that, in addition to the nightshirt and brocaded slippers, the pictures includes the stovepipe hat in which Lincoln used to stash notes.

Johnson Defended As Proxmire Attacks

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire (D., Wis.) fired another critical round at Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas Monday and promptly bumped into a strong defense of Johnson's leadership and policies.

Proxmire accused Johnson of making party policy in the Senate chamber "entirely on an ad lib, off-the-cuff basis." He also charged that Johnson — not the Democratic Policy Committee — actually set party guidelines.

Proxmire was challenged by Democratic Whip Mike Mansfield of Montana, Johnson's right - hand assistant, and Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D., Okla. a co-author of the 1946 reorganization act which resulted in creation of the party policy committees.

As Johnson looked on from his seat, Monroney told Proxmire he had never seen a time when party policy "was so easily identified, so well known to the public, so clearly expressed" as under the present Democratic leader.

Seeks Support on His Cold War Strategy

Macmillan to Confer With De Gaulle

PARIS — (AP) — Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan — fresh from a trip to Moscow — Monday began a tour of major western capitals to win backing for his views on cold war strategy.

Macmillan's primary target was French President Charles de Gaulle. Macmillan began with a long exploratory talk — apparently not without disagreements — with Premier Michel Debre.

Macmillan will meet with De Gaulle today along the diplomatic road that will carry him later to Bonn, Ottawa an Washington. He talked in Moscow last week with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

In Macmillan's brief case was a proposal — apparently only vaguely formulated thus far — for a thinning out of military forces in Germany and her iron curtain neighbors.

A British spokesman, talking to newsmen after Macmillan met Debre, was asked if the subject came up under the topic "disengagement."

"The British are definitely not in favor of disengagement as that term is used in some quarters to mean a complete withdrawal of forces," he said.

The French spokesman said: "This aspect of the problem did not come up today. However, the British are as much opposed to the ideas of disengagement recently raised in the press as are the other allies."

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano said in a speech at Bonn his government rejects any plans for a military disengagement that do not provide for a solution of political problems, such as German unification.

Macmillan himself, speaking at the airport after his arrival, referred to his Moscow trip as a "voyage of discovery" and said he was convinced the Russians "are ready to discuss and negotiate" the German crisis.

"In view of this, it is all the more necessary for the West to take council together," he added. "I hope that our visit to Paris will help to confirm our common policy and purpose."

Newcomers Change Ft. Pierce Economy

A few weeks ago The Herald published a series of articles showing how newcomers—especially mail order Floridians—are getting along here and how they're adjusting to their new lives.

Beginning today, in the first of a two-part series, The Herald takes a look at the opposite side of the picture—to see what effect these newcomers are having on the Sunshine State and its way of life.

By DOUG SILVER
Herald Correspondent

FORT PIERCE — "There'll be some changes made . . ."

The old song referred to love but if it were written today and sung around this rapidly growing part of the Indian River Area — it could easily refer to money.

A more genteel way to put it would be to say that there have been big economic changes and even bigger economic problems as the result of the influx of new residents during the last few years.

That's not only a gentle way of putting it but it probably reaches a new high in understatement.

The Northern transplant (not the rare luxuriant variety in the big home but I mean the common back garden type) is a boon to some and a pain in the neck to others.

He is loved by his grocer, his savings and loan association, his department store and by many other tradesmen; he is unloved by many local government officials and that goes double for the school board.

The reason is simple. It's only money. Where he spends money he's as welcome as flowers that bloom in the spring — and where he costs money, that's a horse of another color — mostly red ink.

The average subdivision resident costs the county he lives in much more in services rendered than he ever pays back in taxes. As a taxpayer he's practically nil — and if he has children in school he's even more of a tax liability.

All this of course is due to the homestead exemption system for which the new resident can't be blamed. All he did was take advantage of it — just as have most of the old residents too. It was put in the state constitution many years ago to attract people to Florida — and nobody can deny that it sure has done that.

And who is to say that the money the new resident spends in the stores (which helps the merchants pay THEIR taxes) doesn't more than compensate for the fact that taxwise he is a leaner?

It would take six tax economists working together a week to figure that one out — but in the meantime here is some solid testimony from merchants and business men on the subject.

J. K. Walker Jr. manager of one of Fort Pierce's biggest chain grocery stores, the Kwik-Chek, has nothing but good to say about the people who live in subdivisions.

He pointed out that during each of the last three years since his store opened it has averaged a 35-38 per cent business increase over the preceding year. "Most of this new business could only have come from one source," said Walker, "those new subdivisions that are springing up around here . . . It's the only new money we get — because we don't have any year round industry to speak of."

Walker added he knew that the home-owned independent groceries were also feeling the new business — along with building supply outfits, drug and hardware stores, and help-yourself laundries which have sprung up all over the county recently.

Another hearty boost for the subdivision dollar comes from Clifford Scott, secretary and treasurer of the local First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

His company is getting plenty of new business from the newcomers. "Lots of them come in here," said Scott, "and not only arrange for a small mortgage on their homes — but they'll open a three or five thousand dollar savings account at the same time. They'll pay their pension checks into the savings account. I think one reason for this type of customer is that we're not getting what you might call the tin can subdivisions around here."

Two more Fort Pierce businessmen who endorsed the idea that good subdivisions are good business for a community were former mayor Bernard Rubin, of Rubin's Department Store and Howard Horton, owner of the Sunrise Lumber Company and Horton's Book Store.

Rubin said that a hefty part of his store's business was definitely attributable to people who had moved here recently — and were living in real estate developments.

"In the last couple of days we've had six applications for charge accounts," he said, "and all of them are from people in the subdivisions."

Howard Horton reported that even though his lumber company sold very little to the big subdivisions such as Mackles — who supplied their own lumber — he was strongly in favor of this type of new resident.

"In spite of the tax situation," he said, "I think the general effect of these newcomers is good. There isn't a line of business around here that isn't helped in some way or another. It just stands to reason that the more people you have around, the more business is going to be generated. You can put me down as saying that I'm darn glad to have 'em."

Erosion Control Plan Is Pushed

Permits OKd for 99 Houses

FORT PIERCE — With countywide zoning in effect since Jan. 1, St. Lucie County has an accurate record of building activity in unincorporated areas for the first time.

In the past the only accurate building records were those of Fort Pierce. Now people can know just how many homes are being added in the burgeoning subdivision developments in the county.

And through March 5, a total of 99 residence permits had been issued by the county zoning and building office.

In January, the county office reported total permits of $228,427, including 23 new homes. In February, the permit total was $264,590, including 23 new homes.

Last week the total got a big boost when permits were issued for 52 homes in the River Park section of Port St. Lucie, at a cost of $512,340.

This brings the residence total for the county to 99. The city had issued 77 permits through March 1.

In general, homes erected within the city were more expensive than those built in the county. Total year's building permits, for both residential and commercial, issued by the city through last week were $1,230,724.

The county permits issued by the county since Jan. 1 total $1,048,267.

Work Starts at Once

St. Lucie School Contract Signed

FORT PIERCE — The St. Lucie County school board signed a contract with the John V. Barger Construction Co. of Delray Beach Monday for five building projects. Work is scheduled to start this week.

The contract with Barger, on a low base bid of $357,600, was authorized by the school board last week. Barger said Monday work will be carried on concurrently on the five projects. They include a first unit of a new Negro elementary school on N. 29th St., to include 12 classrooms.

The work also includes additions at the Dan McCarty High, White City and Fairlawn Elementary schools, and the St. Lucie County Junior High.

The school additions will take care of the 1959-1960 school population, according to School Superintendent Ben L. Bryan.

Hearing Scheduled March 30

By ANNE WILDER
Herald Correspondent

FORT PIERCE — Supervisors of the Fort Pierce Beach Erosion District got the wheels moving Monday on what, they hope, will be erosion control for the disintegrating south beach.

A public hearing is scheduled at 2 p.m. March 30 at the Shamrock Village Convention Hall on a temporary measure of pumping 200,000 cubic yards of sand onto the beach as an emergency safeguard.

In addition to the temporary measure, the supervisors will start work on enlarging the present erosion district, so a pumping station, for permanent control, can be financed.

The temporary and permanent measures had been recommended by the coastal engineering laboratory and Alton E. Register and Associates.

However a report from Turner Wallis of Tallahassee received two weeks ago pointed out that the present small taxing district on the beach cannot carry the cost of the pumping station.

No one believes that getting district enlarged is going to be any quick job. And officials feel that the interim measure of depositing sand on the beach is necessary.

The supervisors feel that the cost of the job, estimated to run between $80,000 and $100,000, could be carried by the present district.

Following public hearings, a referendum will be held in which beach freeholders will approve or disapprove a bond issue to finance the temporary measure.

At the public hearing, Wallis will tell the property owners just how much the taxes would be to carry the cost of the temporary sand pumping program.

Committee Ends Study of Project

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — If Sebastian Inlet is bridged, Brevard County might have to do it without the help of neighboring Indian River County.

A two-county committee, studying the possibility of moving Indian River's line to the center of the inlet, has been dissolved.

Brevard owns three miles of island between the south side of the inlet and the Indian River line. The committee was investigating the possibility of trading Indian River this land in return for joining this county in creation of a road and bridge tax district to help get the bridge.

Sherman Smith, Indian River County attorney, told Brevard officials that they were "sorry we've muddied up the waters for Brevard."

Smith said his county was not aware that Brevard had made so much progress on setting up the tax district. The neighboring county initiated the land swap idea as a means of helping Brevard with the inlet bridge.

Firemen Kept Busy

SALERNO — The Salerno Volunteer Fire Department has had the busiest record of any in the county during the past week.

Early Saturday fire destroyed a home in the Negro section, making it the third house fire within a week, said Fire Chief Jack Saunderson.

The home was owned by D. W. Williams. Cause of the fire is undertermined. Loss was estimated at $3,000.

Thursday night a home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grien was destroyed by fire. It was a total loss, with estimated loss set at $6,000.

The third home, on St. Lucie Boulevard, owned by Mrs. E. O. Plank of Fort Pierce, was partially destroyed by fire with an estimated loss at $3,000.

The department has had 10 brush fire calls since the first of the year.

Florida's Economy Is Clicking

TALLAHASSEE — (AP) — The State Industrial Commission reported Monday Florida's economy took a giant stride toward normalcy in January, with employment hitting a record high and unemployment dropping off.

Employment soared to 1,262,100 in January with the winter tourist rush and manufacturing sparking the increase. The January figure was 8,100 over December and 65,800 above January, 1958.

A drop of 1,300 in the number of jobless from December to January, reversed the usual seasonal trend, when unemployment and employment rise together. Unemployment, however, remained at 83,200 which was 15,300 more than January, 1958.

VERO BEACH — Names of television shows will set the themes for floral arrangements at the flower show being given by the Indian River Garden Clubs March 21-22 in the Community Building.

"Flowervision in Living Color" will include artistic arrangements by garden club members interpreting the titles of 15 different network TV shows.

Exhibition in the horticultural division will be open to the general public except to professional growers. There will be classes for potted plants, orchids, a variety of cut flowers, both perennials and annuals, roses, hibiscus and plant collections.

There will be a division for the junior garden club. The conservation and education division will feature a study of Florida native wildlife and plants.

Mrs. Hubert Graves is general chairman of the flower show. Information on the show schedule may be obtained from her or from Mrs. Holden L. Glenn, schedule chairman.

Other committee chairmen are Mrs. David P. Sawyer, horticulture staging; Mrs. E. D. Harbaugh and Mrs. J. Harrell Knight, artistic staging; Mrs. R. W. Graves, properties; Mrs. Stanley Buss, entries; Mrs. Dudley Clyatt, horticulture classification; Mrs. Joe S. Earman, artistic classification; and Mrs. F. B. Olentine, awards.

Mrs. John Tripson is chairman of the judges committee; Mrs. A. F. Snyder, hospitality; Mrs. William H. Glenn, junior garden club; Mrs. Leonard H. Muller, publicity; Mrs. J. R. Jamison, conservation; Mrs. Dan K. Richardson, special projects; Mrs. Anne Keen, tickets; and Mrs. W. E. Orth, dismantling.

The "Flowervision" classification "Wide, Wide World" will be carried out by the six circles of the Indian River County Garden Club, a country assigned to each circle.

Still-life compositions including flowers will be exhibited in lighted boxes. Hawaii (Hawaiian fantasy) is the theme for the Hibiscus Circle; Africa (the darkest continent), Amaryllis Circle; Mexico (Fiesta), Bouganvillea Circle; Japan (Oriental Spring), Allamanda Circle; India (palace jewels), Camellia Circle; and Holland (land of tulips) will be the theme for the Poinsettia Circle.

Exhibits will be entered between 8 and 11 a.m. Saturday, March 21. The exhibits will be judged before the flower show is opened to the public from 3 to 9 p.m. March 21 and from 1 to 9 p.m. March 22.

STUART — State Rep. William R. Scott is busily preparing some 13 local bills which he will introduce next month in Tallahassee.

The freshman member of the state legislature from Martin County said, "none, apparently, are of a controversial nature which might require a referendum."

Scott, who is also attorney for the county commission, requested that Attorney Robert McRoberts Jr., replace him during his absence.

A possible bill, still in the talking stage, is a "fire control" bill which would, with a small investment by the county, bring in matching state and federal funds for forest fire control.

"No official bodies are requesting this proposed [illegible] said Scott. Requests [illegible] been made by the Stuar [illegible] Jensen Beach Garden clubs.

The county commission presented requests for four bills to Scott.

One bill would give the county power to set up water districts and is primarily designed to furnish Hutchinson Island with water.

A second bill is designed to give the county authority to construct ditches or canals in "land locked areas," at the cost of the petitioner-owner of the area.

The county commission also will tighten up its existing plat law act with strict road and street specifications.

A fourth bill, requested by the county, is for an act to ratify and confirm county deeds given in exchange for road rights-of way.

The Martin county school [illegible] has asked for just one [illegible] was requested to [illegible] act which would [illegible] the superintendent of public instruction's annual salary to $7,200.

The Stuart city commission has requested three pieces of legislation.

A general plat law act, authorizing subdivisions and regulating various phases such as streets, parks will be introduced.

The city's third act will ratify the tax roll.

The Town of Sewall's Point has asked for three bills.

One bill is to amend the boundaries of the municipality on the east and west to extend to the channels of the Indian and the St. Lucie Rivers, instead of to the shore line.

A second bill will give the town the right to borrow up to $15,000. Borrowing power is now limited to $5,000.

The third bill requested by the Town of Sewall's Point is to ratify its 1958 tax roll.

The Town of Jupiter Island will request a bill whcih would give the town additional powers for beach and land protection.

Martin County Prosecutor T. T. Oughterson has requested two pieces of legislation.

One bill would set a salary of $800 a year, and five dollars for each conviction, plus 10 per cent of all bonds estreated or collected in his court.

The second bill would ratify and approve fees previously paid to the county prosecutor in connection with estreatures of surety and cash bonds in the county court.

Although there have been rumors that Jensen Beach-Rio as well as the Indiantown area are considering incorporating, Scott said that no definite request has been made to date.
